

Apothecary Store.

DR. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also, various Articles for Invalids, Perfumery and prepared Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broom, &c. Seltzer, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.

Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tails, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Syringes, Red-rubber, Horse-hair Mitts, Brushes, &c. &c.

With European Leeches always on hand, and Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and speed.

is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other papers, No. 1.

Washington street, near Stone Temple.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

W. STONE'S VEGETABLE LIQUID CATHARTIC AND FAMILY PHYSIC

THE most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of pure and potent ingredients, which, when taken, immediately operates on the system, and at the same time, is perfectly safe and agreeable, being perfectly free from all the deleterious effects of the usual cathartics, leaving the bowels soft and regular. It expels all humors from the system, and is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the stomach from acidity, and the whole system, and removes the cause of all local pains such as hemorrhoids, Neuralgia, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, Pain in the Head, Stomach, &c. &c.

may also be relied upon in all diseases of the bowels, such as DYSENTERY, DIARRHOEA and COLIC MORBIDUS, yield at once to its influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it is no other recommendation. As families will find it after they have properly tested it. Reader, if you have tried other remedies without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering from Sciatica, six hot bottles of this Cathartic will cure you. Would you be free from habitual constiveness, three will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other pains, two bottles will free you from them. If you are afflicted with Hemorrhoids, one bottle will cure you. In short, if you are afflicted with any ailment, this is the most reliable, safe, and agreeable to the taste that has been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.

Principal Depot at No 28 Central St., Lowell, Mass.

Prepared by DR. E. HAYDEN.

For Sale by

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. E. HAYDEN.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1856.

NUMBER XXVII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the ordinary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive paper and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE D. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVERLY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
New York City, FREEMAN HUNT.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Hundred Dollar Bill.

Mr. John Somers was a merchant, doing business in a thriving country village. He had two clerks in his employ, but with some differences in minor points of character. Peter White was twenty-one years of age, the child of a now widowed mother, and in his choice of profession he had only been governed by the desire to yield to his mother and sell the nearest means of honest support.

Walter Sturgis was of the same age, and equally honest, but he paid more attention to outward appearance of things, than did his companion. For instance, it galled him to put on his frock and overalls, and help pack up pork, potatoes and so on; while Peter cared not what he did, so long as his master required it, and it was honest.

One day Mr. Somers called the two young men into his counting-room and closed the door after them. His countenance looked troubled, and it was some moments before he spoke.

"Boys," he said at length, "I have been doing a very foolish thing. I have lent my name to those I thought my friends, and they have ruined me. I gave them accommodation notes, and they promised solemnly that those notes should not pass their hands save to such men as I might except. Of course I took their notes in exchange. They have now failed and cleared out, and have left my paper in the market to the amount of seven or eight thousand dollars. I may arise again, but I must give up my business. Everything in the store is attached, and I am left utterly powerless to do business now. I have looked over your accounts, and I find that I owe you about a hundred dollars each. Now, I have just a hundred dollars in money, and the small piece of land on the side of the hill just back of the town house. There are four acres of the land, and I have been offered a hundred dollars for it, by those who have lands adjoining. I feared this blow, which has come upon me, and I conveyed this land to my brother; so now he can convey it to whom he pleases. Now I wish you would make your choice. If I could pay you both money I would, but as I cannot, one of you must take the land. What say you? You Walter, have been with me the longest, and you shall say first."

Walter Sturgis hesitated some moments, and he said:

"I am sure I don't want the land, unless I could sell it right off."

"Ah, but that won't do," returned Mr. Somers. "If you take the land you must keep it. Were you to sell it, my creditors would say at once that you did it for me, and that I pocketed the money."

"Then I am willing to divide the hundred dollars with Peter, for if I had the land I should do nothing with it."

"You need not divide the money, for I can easily raise the hundred dollars on the land. My brother will do that. But I imagined that you would prefer the land, for I knew the soil was good, though quite rocky. However what say you Peter?"

"Why, I will take the land," returned Peter, "or I will divide equally with Walter—each of us to take half the money and half the land."

"But what should I want with the land?" said Walter. "I could not work it, I—I should hardly like to descend from a clerkship to digging and delving in blue frocks and cowhide boots."

"Then it is easily settled," rejoined Peter, "for I should prefer the land."

Walter was pleased with this, and before night he had the hundred dollar bill in his pocket, and Peter had the warrant deed of the four acres of land upon the hill side.

Both of the young men belonged to the village, and had always lived there. It was only five miles from the city, and of course many city fashions were prevalent there. It was under the influence of this fashion that Walter Sturgis refused to have anything to do with the land.

Times were dull, and business slack, even though it was early spring. Peter White's first object after having got the deed of this land, was to hunt up some kind of work. Had he had been a mechanic he might have found some place, but he knew no trade except that of salesman and book-keeping. A whole week he searched in vain for employment, but at the end of that time he found an old farmer who wanted a hand, though he could not afford to pay much. But Peter finally, and with the advice of Mr. Somers, made an arrangement of this kind: He would work for the old farmer (Mr. Stevens) steadily until the ground was open, and then he should have half the time to devote upon his own land, and in part payment for his services, Stevens was to help about the work that the youth might need. Next Peter went to a hotel, where there was quite a stable, and engaged a hundred loads of manure, the landlord promising to take his pay in produce when harvest time came. So Peter White put on a blue frock and cowhide boots and went to work for farmer Stevens.

In the meantime, Walter Sturgis had been to the city to try to find a situation in some store, bootless. He was surprised when he met Peter driving an ox team through the village. At first he could hardly believe his own eyes. Could it be possible that was Peter White, in that blue frock and those coarse boots?

On the next day a relation from the city came to visit Walter. The two walked out, and during the day Walter saw Peter coming towards them with a team. He was hauling lumber which Mr. Stevens had been getting out during the winter. Walter saw how coarse and humble his quondam clerk-mate looked, and he knew that Peter would hail him if they met; so he caught his companion by the arm and dogged into a by-lane. Peter saw this movement and understood it, but he only smiled.

By-and-bye the snow was all gone from the hill-side. The wintry garb was removed from that spot sometime before it left other places, for Peter's lot lay on the southern slope of the hill, and thus had all the advantages of the warm sun all day, without any of the cold north and east winds. The youth found his land very rocky, but none of them was permanent; so his first move was to remove those obstructions; and as Mr. Stevens' land was not yet clear from snow, he was able to give his young workman considerable assistance. They took two yokes of oxen and two drags, and went at it, and in just five days every rock was at the foot of the slope, and made into a good stone wall. Peter then hauled his hundred loads of manure which he had bought for seventy-five dollars, had part of it plowed in, and part he saved for the top-dressing.

Peter now worked early and late, and much of the time he had help.

Mr. Stevens was surprised at the richness of the soil, but there was a reason for it. At the top of the hill there was a huge ledge, and the rocks which had encumbered the hill side must at some former period, have come tumbling down from the ledge; and these rocks, lying there for ages, perhaps, and covering nearly half the surface of the ground, had served to keep the soil moist and mellow.

The first thing Peter planted was about a quarter of an acre of water-melons. He then got in some early garden sauce, such as potatoes, sweet corn, peas, beans, radishes, cucumbers, tomatoes, and so on. And he got his whole piece worked up and planted before Stevens' farm was free from snow.

People stopped in the road and gazed up on the hill-side in wonder. Why had that spot never been used before? For forty years it had been used as a sheep pasture, the rocks having forbidden all thoughts of cultivating it. But how admirable it was situated for early tillage; and how rich the soil must have been, with sheep running over it so long! An adjoining hill shut off the east winds, and the hill itself gave its back to the chill north.

Peter had planted an acre of corn, an acre of potatoes, and the rest he had divided among all sorts of produce. Then he went to work for Stevens again, and in a few weeks he had more than paid for all the labor he had been obliged to hire on his own land.

In the meantime, again, Walter Sturgis had been looking after employment. His hundred dollars were used up to the last penny, and just then he accepted a place in one of the stores in the village, at a salary of three hundred dollars a year. He still wondered how Peter White could content himself in such business. Peter used to be invited to all the parties when he was a clerk, but he was not invited now. Walter Sturgis went to these parties, and was highly edified by them. Also, when Peter was a clerk, there were several young and handsome damsels who loved to bask in the sunlight of his smiles, and one of them he fancied he loved.

After he had got his hill-side planted, he went to see Cordelia Henderson, and he asked her if she would become his wife at some future period, when he was prepared to take such an article to his home. She told him she would think of it and let him know by a letter.

Three days afterwards he received a letter from her, in which she stated that she could not think of uniting her destinies with a man who could only delve in the earth for a livelihood. Peter shed a few tears over the unexpected note, and then he reasoned on the subject, and finally blessed his fate, for he was sure that such a girl was not what he needed for a wife.

When the first day of July came, Peter reckoned up his accounts, and he found that Mr. Stevens was owing him just two dollars and all he owed in the world was seventy-five dollars for manure.

On the third day of July he carried to the hotel ten dollars' worth of green peas, beans, and radishes; and in three days afterwards he carried to the city twenty-eight dollars' worth. Toward the end of the month he had sold one hundred and thirty dollars' worth of early potatoes, beans, etc. Then he had early corn enough to bring him fifteen dollars more. Ere long his melons were ripe, and a dealer in the city had engaged them all. He had six hundred fair melons, for which he received fourteen cents a piece by the lot, making eighty-four dollars for the whole.

During the whole summer Peter was kept busy in attending to his gathering and selling of the products of his hill-side. He helped Mr. Stevens in haying, and about some other matters—enough so that he could have some help when he wanted it.

When the last harvesting came, he gathered in seventy-eight bushels of corn and four hundred bushels of potatoes, besides turnips, squashes, pumpkins, etc., and eighteen bushels of white beans.

On the first day of November, Peter White sat down and reckoned up the proceeds of his land, and he found that the piece had yielded him five hundred and five dollars, and besides this he had corn, potatoes, beans and vegetables enough for his own consumption. That winter he worked for Mr. Stevens at getting out lumber for twenty-five dollars per month; and when spring came, he was ready to go to his land again. In the meantime, Walter Sturgis had worked a year at a fashionable calling for three hundred dollars, and at the end of that term he was the absolute owner of just two dollars.

"Say, Peter, you aren't going to work on that land of yours another season, are you?" asked Walter as the two met in the street one evening.

"To be sure I am," was the response.

"But here's Simons wants a clerk, and I told him I guessed you would be glad to come."

"What will he pay?"

"Three hundred."

"Ah, Walter, I can make more than that from my land."

Sturgis opened his eyes in astonishment.

"You're joking," he said.

"No, sir. I received five hundred and five dollars in money last season. Seventy-five of that went for manure; but some of that manure is now on hand, as I found the land so rich last year as not to need much more than half of it. This season I shall have two hundred dollars' worth of strawberries, if nothing happens unusual."

"And you don't have to work any winters to do this?"

"No; four months' labor is about all I can lay out to advantage on it."

Walter went to his store, and during the rest of the evening he wondered how it was that some folks had so much luck.

During the second season Peter had experienced for his guide, and he filled up many gaps that was left open the year before. His strawberries turned out better than he had anticipated, and he made a better arrangement for his melons. And then from all that land whereon he planted his early peas, etc., he obtained a second crop of much value. It was but one hour's drive into the city, and he always obtained the highest prices, for he brought the earliest vegetables into the market.

On the first of the next November he had cleared seven hundred dollars for the season over and above the expenses.

One morning, after the crops were all in, Peter found a man walking about over the land, and as the young man came up the stranger asked him who owned the hill-side.

"It is mine, sir," replied Peter.

The man looked about, and then went away, and on the following day he came again with two others. They looked over the place, and they seemed to be dividing it off into small lots. They remained about an hour, and then went away. Peter suspected the land was wanted for something. That evening he stepped in at the post office, and there he heard that a railroad was going to be put through the village as soon as the workmen could be set at it.

On the next morning Peter went upon his land, and as he reached the upper boundary and turned and looked down the truth flashed upon him. His hill-side had a gentle, easy slope, and the view from any part of it was delightful. A brook ran down through it from an exhaustless spring up in the ledge, and the locality would be cool and agreeable in summer and warm in winter. At the foot of the hill, on the left, lay a small lake, while the river ran in sight for several miles.

"Of course," soliloquised Peter, "they think this would make beautiful lots. And wouldn't it? Curious that I never thought of it before."

And then when the railroad comes here, people from the city will want their dwellings here. But this land is valuable. It is worth—let me see—say six hundred dollars a year. I can easily get eight or nine hundred for what I can raise here, and I know two hundred dollars will pay me a good round price for all the labor I perform on it. And then my peach trees grow up, and my strawberry beds increase—Ho—it's more valuable to me then it could be to any one else."

When Peter went home, he could not resist the temptation to sit down and calculate how many house-lots his land would make; and he found that his hill-side would afford thirty building spots with a good garden to each one. But he didn't think of selling.

Two days afterwards, six men came to look at the land, and after travelling over it, and sticking up some stakes, they went away. That evening Peter went down to the hotel, and the first thing he heard was,

"Ah, Pete, you've missed it."

"How so?" asked Peter.

"Why, how much did you get for your hill-side?"

"What do you mean?"

"Haven't you sold it?"

"No sir."

"Why, there was a man here looking at it a week or two ago, and to-day he came and brought five city merchants with him, and I can take my oath, that each one of them engaged a building lot of him. One of them spoke to me about what a lovely spot it was; and I told him nobody would have thought of building there till you got the rocks off. But haven't you sold it, though?"

"Not an inch of it."

"Why, that man told me he had engaged to pay four hundred dollars for a choice lot of twelve square rods."

"Then he will find his lot somewhere else, I guess, till I sell out."

Some more conversation was held, and then Peter went home. On the following forenoon, the very man who had been the first to come and look at the hill-side, called to see Peter, introducing himself as Mr. Anderson.

"Let's see—I believe you own some two or three acres of land, up here on the hill-side," he said very carelessly.

"I own four acres there," replied Peter, "well exactly."

"Ah,—yes well; it doesn't make much difference. I didn't notice particularly how much there was. I thought I should like to build there; if you would sell the land reasonable, I might like to purchase. It would be enough to afford me quite a garden; tho' I suppose it would cost about as much to till such land as the produce would be worth."

"That would depend upon how you worked it," said Peter drily.

"O, yes, I suppose so. But you are willing to sell out, I suppose?"

"Certainly."

The man's eyes began to brighten.

"How much should you want for it?" he asked.

"Well I don't know. What could you afford to pay?"

"Why, I suppose I could afford to pay a great deal more than it is worth. Rather than not have it I would pay—well, say—two hundred dollars, or two hundred and fifty at the outside."

"I don't think there is much use of our talking, sir."

"But—you paid one hundred, only, if I mistake not."

"I had my choice between one hundred dollars and the land, and I choose the latter. But as you seem to labor in the dark, I will explain to you. In the first place, there is no other spot of land in this section of the country that possess the natural advantages which this one does. I can have my early peas and vines up and hoed before my neighbors get their ground plowed; so I have my early sauce in the market ahead of all others, save a few hot-house owners, whose plants cannot compare with mine for strength and size. My soil is very rich, and yields fifty per cent. more than most other land. Now look at this:—

"During the last season I have realized over eight hundred dollars from the land, and next season I can get much more than that, for my strawberry vines are flourishing finely. There are not any two farms in this town that can possibly be made to realize so much money as my hill-side, for you see it is the time of my produce, and not the quantity, that does the business. A bushel of my early peas on the twenty-second of May, are worth ten times as much as my neighbor's bushel on the first of July and August. Two hundred dollars will more than pay me for my time and trouble in attending my land; so you see I have this year six hundred dollars interest."

"Then you wouldn't sell for less than six hundred, I suppose?" said Mr. Anderson, carelessly.

"Would you sell out a concern that was yielding you a net profit of six hundred dollars a year, for that sum, sir?" asked Peter.

"A-hem—well—ah—you put it rather curiously."

"Then I'll put it plainly. You may have the hill-side for ten thousand dollars."

Mr. Anderson laughed; but he found that Peter was in earnest, and he commenced to curse and swear. At this, Peter simply turned and left his customer to himself, and he saw nothing more of the speculator.

Two days afterwards, however, three of the merchants came to see our hero, and when they had heard his simple story, they were ready to do justly by him. They went up and examined the spring which they found to be pure as crystal, and as it was then a dry season they saw that the supply of water could never fail, and all the houses that might be built on Peter's land could be supplied with running water, even in the very attics of the upper ones.

The merchants went to the man who owned the land above Peter's, including the ledge and the spring, and he agreed to sell for two hundred dollars. This to builders, was a great bargain, for the stone of the ledge was excellent granite. Then they called a surveyor and made a plot of the hill-side, whereby they found that they could have forty building lots, worth from two hundred and fifty to four hundred dollars each. They hesitated not a moment after the plot was made, but paid Peter his ten thousand dollars cheerfully.

Ere many days after this transaction, Peter White received a very polite note from Cordelia Henderson, asking him to call and see her; but he did not call. He hunted up Mr. Somers, and went into business with him, and this very day Somers & White do business in that town, and Walter Sturgis is their book-keeper. And in all the country there is not a prettier spot than the old hill-side. The railroad depot is near its foot, and it is occupied by sumptuous dwellings in which five merchants who do business in the adjacent city.

One thing Peter missed—that he did not reserve a building lot for himself. But his usual good fortune attended him, even here. A wealthy banker had occasion to move to another section of the country, and sold out his house and garden to Peter, for just one half what the building cost him. So Peter took a wife who loved him when he dug in the earth, and found a home for her and himself upon the old hill-side.

And now, reader, where do you think the hill-side is? Perhaps you know: for it is a veritable history I have been writing, and the place I have told you about is now one of the most select suburban villages.

Beautiful description of the Body.

Look at the elements wrought into this animal economy: at its structure and functions! What variety of parts! How unlike! How singular its structure! How diverse its functions! Here, are bones and blood; solids and fluids; here, the opaque muscle and the transparent humor; the brilliant, adorning regulating hair; the keenly, sensitive nerve, the more than curious digestive apparatus; the breathing lungs and beating heart. How various the organ designed for multifarious uses! In health, they discharge all their functions well.

Here are gathered into one frame, "compacted by that which every joint supplieth," harmonized, and stowed side by side, the most different, contrary, and conflicting elements; oil and water, acid and alkali, solid and fluid, vegetable and animal, iron and oxygen. In this organism, all these, and more, not only tolerate each other, but harmonize and co-operate together for the general good. Each is indispensable to its fellow, and "one cannot say to the other, I have no need of thee." Such are the elements, not heterogeneously commingled, but wisely arranged in this body.—Dr. W. M. Cornell in the Congregationalist.

Weight of Great Characters.

August 19, 1783.

Weighed at the Scales at West Point.

General Washington,	200 lbs.
General Lincoln,	224 "
General Knox,	280 "
General Huntington,	132 "
General Grant,	166 "
Colonel Swift,	219 "
Col. Michael Jackson,	252 "
Col. Henry Jackson,	238 "
Lt. Col. Huntington,	232 "
L

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, July 5th, 1856.

BORN TO MASTER, OF NO SERVANT.

JUDGES OF INSOLVENCY. Gov. Gardner, with the advice and consent of the Council, has appointed the following Judges of Insolvency under the law of this State passed at the recent session of the Legislature, which goes into operation on the 6th of July ensuing, viz:

Norfolk County—Francis Hillard of Roxbury.
Worcester—A. H. Bullard of Worcester.
Hampshire—H. J. Hodges of Northampton.
Franklin—H. G. Newcomb of Greenfield.
Hampden—John M. Stebbins of Springfield.
Berkshire—Henry S. Briggs of Pittsfield.
Plymouth—Jesse Perkins of Bridgewater.
Bristol—Joshua C. Stone of New Bedford.
Barnstable—Wm. Small of Barnstable.
Suffolk—Isaac Ames of Boston.
Middlesex—Luther J. Fletcher of Lowell.
Nantucket—Ed. M. Goodwin of Nantucket.
Essex—Henry B. Fernald of Newburyport.
Dukes—No appointment.

HIGH PRICE OF SUGAR. It is reported that the Rothschilds of London and Paris, have entered the sugar market. By purchasing supplies when everything could be had cheapest, whether in Havana, Brazil, East Indies, or elsewhere, they would be enabled, on an advance in prices, to realize large profits.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION. The day fixed for the election of electors to elect a President and Vice President of the United States is the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in all the States. It will fall this year upon the fourth day of the month.

CUCUMBERS. The Maine Cultivator says: "When a cucumber is taken from the vines, let it be cut with a knife, leaving about the eighth of an inch of the cucumber on the stem, then slit the stem with a knife, from its end to the vine, leaving a small portion of the cucumber on each division, and on each separate slit there will be a new cucumber as large as the first. Those wishing to raise large quantities of this article for pickles, will do well to try the experiment."

BRUSH HILL TURNPIKE. It appears that this "Ancient Pike" was incorporated in March, 1803, by the Legislature, upon the petition of Isaac Davenport, Joseph Billings, Jeremiah Smith Boies, and others, who for nearly fifty years enjoyed a large income from tolls, &c. Latterly, in consequence of railroads running parallel with it, and as the tolls have ceased, the corporation for some time past has not produced income enough to keep it in repair; the stockholders a short time since abandoned it, and it is now fast going to ruin.

Nahum Ward and others, of Dorchester, have petitioned the County Commissioners to locate a road from a point in Roxbury, to intersect the old turnpike, and will probably assume the turnpike as a county road.

The Board of Commissioners will meet on the 29th of July to consider the subject.

FLATTERING NOTICE.—We extract the following "editorial" from a late number of the Wionia (M.T.) Argus, as it will be read with pleasure by the numerous friends of the gentleman in this place. The ladies here will all peruse it with much interest.

James White, Esq.—good looking young gentleman and useful citizen—stepped into our den, yesterday; fresh from St. Louis. The course of popularity attends this unfortunate young man wherever he goes, and as an illustration of the truth of this observation, it is our duty to say that when he left the fine steamer Metropolitan, at the Winona Levee, the entire human freight on the boat turned out to shake hands with him. Even this exhibition of friendly feeling couldn't satisfy the gentleman in the crowd, and so the ladies followed him down to his place of business, insisting upon it that the young martyr should give them a speech and one of his "D'Oreays bows." He yielded, and if all the bows ever made by Beau Nash, Beau Fielding, the Prince de Ligne, George Chesterfield and D'Oreay, were gathered together, one could not pick out a nearer piece of head-bobbing and back-bending, than Jim White executed yesterday morning on his front door-step.

RAILROAD DIVIDEND. A dividend of three dollars per share is payable to holders of stock in the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad on the 23d ult.

VIOLENT STORMS. The storm of Monday night last, was very severe in its passage over the western part of the State. In Chelmsford, and the neighboring vicinity, hail stones as large as robin's eggs fell, doing considerable damage.

A terrific tornado, which raged in the town of Chateaugay, Franklin county, (N. Y.) last Sunday afternoon, destroyed a large number of buildings. Between eighty and one hundred houses were blown down, about forty of which were entirely ruined.

APPOINTMENT. David Allen, of Greenfield, has been appointed by Gov. Gardner, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, in place of Judge Byington, deceased.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. Harper's New Monthly for July has come to hand, with its full list of original and selected contributions, that cannot fail to interest and improve the mind. Subjoined will be found the table of contents: The Hasty Pudding, with illustrations; The Great Seal of the United States, with illustrations; My Legacies; Passages of Eastern Travel; Maria, a Lost Queen of England; The Great Epidemics; The Plague in London and Marseilles; A Queer Case; Daniel Webster's Social Hours; Lion Slayers and Man Eaters; What Mr. Trevanion saw; The Value of a Pin; three chapters of Little Dorrit; Monthly Record of Current Events; Literary Notices; Editor's Table; Editor's Easy Chair; Editor's Drawer; Hints for Celebrating the Fourth of July, illustrated; Fashions for July, illustrated, &c.

It is to be obtained at the Quincy Bookstore.

THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST.—An inspired saying, fulfilled in G. W. Stone's Cough, Consumption and Bronchitis Elixir, the best known remedy for coughs, colds, sore throats, &c. Whatever has been done can be done again—so the afflicted need not sink in spirit, but try at once this simple remedy, which has wrought prodigies of wonder.

For the Patriot.
Indignation vs. Indignation.

Ma. Editor:—I perceived in the last issue of your paper, an article expressing a singular view concerning the "Indignation meeting" held in this town, in which, I think but very few of our citizens will concur. Ideas appear to float about in your correspondent's brain in a perfect chaos. He seems to have a kind of ominous dread lest some one or some party, will do a fatal injury to the great Slavery. That your correspondent would wish to have the "Indignation meeting" "hushed up"; there is no doubt but that the participants should desire anything of the kind is absolutely absurd. When we see an aged man, whose head is silvered by the frost of more than fourscore years, whose memory extends back to the days of Washington, who has performed great services to his country—and his age, whose motive save a sense of duty, could influence—when he comes forth and warns us that we are in danger of losing our liberties, it is time to consider what really is our situation. We rejoiced to hear words of wisdom from such a source advocating reform by no unconstitutional measure, but by the ballot box. The cases cited in the articles bear no analogy to the assault on Mr. Sumner. The former were condemned by every sensible man; the latter were approved by the dominant party. When a Senator is assaulted in the Senate Chamber, heretofore considered almost sacred—when fellow Senators stand by and approve, when a great party adopt as their course an appeal from words to the bludgeons, when members of Congress must stand upon the floor of Congress with a speech in one hand and a revolver in the other, when armed assassins fell with coward blow a member whom they dare not openly attack, it is time not only for indignation but for action. Men whose human property may be advanced in value in a five fold ratio, by the success of a party who uphold such transactions, bigots, whose only God is party, may approve but no true liberty-loving son of Massachusetts will allow such indignities to pass without some hearty expression of his indignation. The main reliance of Slavery for success seems to be to choke off all agitation. No matter how sectional their measures, how violent or revolutionary their movements, you offer an objection, they set up the howl of no "agitation." It may be policy for a party whose every object is to advance the interests of one section of our Union to the destruction of the other, whose whole life and being is in the rankest sectionalism, whose only aim is to sacrifice the North to the South, who when they cannot accomplish their ends by sophistry resort to violence. It may be policy for such a party to stand behind a covert and cry "no agitation, no agitation." Was it to prevent free discussion and the freedom of the press that our liberties were secured? Was it that a party might have slavery upon the whole Union as well as on the territories, that we should be made slave-hunters and do the bidding of Southern task-masters that our institutions were formed? Such are the principles of the party who would prevent agitation. They would adopt a most anti-American course to force upon us most anti-American measures. Certainly we must all agree that the proceedings of the Cincinnati Convention were of the most harmonious and quiet order. The hard and the soft; the Pierce men, the Douglass men, the Buchanan men, all fighting together, the busses on either side, the Benton Democrats knocking down the door-keepers, and forcing entrance, together with the presence of a murderer, and a bully, presented a mode for all succeeding conventions.—JUNES.

SAILOR'S SNOO HARBOR. On Wednesday next the corner stone of this edifice will be laid at Germantown, with proper ceremonies. Mr. Forbes of Milton, Father Taylor of Boston, and gentlemen of Quincy, will speak on that occasion. It will be an interesting event, and truly refreshing in these times of cant and hypocritical pretensions to philanthropy. We will on a future occasion speak more at large on this subject. We are not apprised of the fact that this celebration was to take place 'till too late for an extended notice in this week's paper.

THE TABLEAU Exhibition which came off at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening last, was full of interest, and received the hearty plaudits of a large and interested audience.

The Tableau scene, descriptive of that domestic drama, recorded in Sacred Writ, of Joseph and his brethren, was, to our comprehension, happily conceived, and the characters of the principal actors so truthfully personated, that without any other key than that with which our memory served us, we were able to trace the incidents as they arose with perfect clearness.

The musical entertainment, sustained by a band of juvenile performers, under the direction of their leader, was another novelty in the exhibition which elicited rounds of applause for their well-executed performances. On the whole, we were much pleased with the evening's entertainment, which we should like to see repeated.

THE FOURTH from some unprecedented freak of nature—with but a short interval—was one of the most gloomy on account of the weather, within our recollection. The rain at times poured down in torrents, with but little sunshine to enliven the occasion. We were sorry for this, particularly on account of our young friends, who had made somewhat extensive preparations for a "good time" and to render suitable honors to the day. Yet notwithstanding, their spirit and perseverance conquered all difficulties, and the occasion was closed in joy and mirthfulness. We shall give the particulars in our next.

AYER'S PILLS. We are happy to know that Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills are good medicines, and shall proclaim it because we know it. We confidently believe there is a vast amount of relief from suffering for our afflicted fellow men wrapped up in these skillful preparations and we shall freely use our little influence to make them known to those who need them.—Philadelphia Sunday Times.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Hon. Luther S. Cushing died recently in Boston, on his fifty-third birthday. He was well known from his services as Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives from 1822 to 1841, as a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Reporter of the Decisions of the Supreme Court, and author of two valuable works on the Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies.

The population of the United States is now over 25,000,000, making nearly 6,000,000 families; of these, it is believed more than one million are without the Bible.

France produces 70,000 tons of paper annually; England, 66,000 tons; and the United States as much as England and France together.

Col. Thomas H. Benton commenced the campaign as candidate for Governor of Missouri, by a speech at Jackson, on the 16th ult. He goes for Buchanan as a safer head for the Union than his son-in-law, John C. Fremont.

Catharine Douglas, only eleven years old was found in Boston, the other day, looking for a tenement, which she proposed to occupy as a house of ill fame!

During the session of the Democratic convention in Cincinnati, there were consumed every day at the Burnet House thirty bushels of strawberries.

In five years 262 persons have been killed in the United States, while gunning for little birds, and 77 wounded.

An old cattle dealer who has just returned from an extensive trip to the West, says there is any quantity of good fat cattle now on hand, and plenty more growing. Beef must fall, and what is more, lamb and mutton must keep it company.

A woman in Chicago, (Ill.) drowned herself a few days ago, in a fit of admirum femens, by ducking her head in a bucket of water and keeping it there till life was extinct.

The steamer Isaac Newton, now running on the Hudson River, has lately been lengthened fifty feet. She is now more than four hundred feet in length, more than twenty feet longer than the New World, and probably longer than any other inland steamer now afloat. She has received a third deck.

In giving evidence in a case of burglary, which recently came before a magistrate at Ashton-under-Lyne, a pawnbroker, who is also a blacksmith, said that a door-lock would be much more easily picked with the key in the lock than without. He could pick any lock with a piece of wire, if the key was left in the lock; and knowing that, he always took the key out of the doors.

Preston S. Brooks has been indicted for assault and battery upon the Hon. Charles Sumner, by the Grand Jury, of the City of Washington, (D. C.) Mr. Sumner was able to testify before the Jury.

Lines on the death of Henry A. French, who died June 3th, aged 28 years.

He is gone; but Oh, why should we mourn or weep.

For the friend that in Jesus has fallen asleep?
He has gone to a world to partake of that bliss,
And to share in those joys that he knew not in this

He has gone; and as gently his spirit took flight,
As the soft shades of evening that melt into night,
As the breeze wafted music we hear in dream,
On the mist that at twilight sails down the stream.

He is gone; and Oh bright be the tears that are shed,

For the form that now sleeps in the grave's narrow bed,

In each tear as it falls, let a radiance dawn,
Like the sunbeam that smiles in the dewdrop at morn.

He is gone; but the fragrance of roses when fled
Is still left, though the leaves are all withered and dead;

Then why like a flower that droops on its stem,
Should we mourn, when Heaven robs earth of its gem.

G. L. B.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be an adjourned meeting of the Adams Literary Association at the Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on MONDAY EVENING next, at 7 1/2 o'clock, precisely.

A full attendance is requested as the choice of the semi-annual Officers will take place on that evening.

Per order.

HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.

Quincy, July 5.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.

E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.

EDWARD AVERY, Secretary.

Geo. W. Bentley, Boston, July 5.

All who love the truth and believe the Bible should attend.

FREE LECTURES ON SPIRITUALISM.

There came in two men, a wise man and a fool. The wise man heard, investigated and DECIDED. The fool decided.—Ancient Proverb.

The well known Spiritual Lecturer, DOCTOR MAYHEW, of New York, will deliver his Popular Course of Lectures on the SPIRITUAL PHILOSOPHY, in the Town Hall, Quincy, on SUNDAY, (to-morrow afternoon, July 6th,) at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

Subjects:—The Spirit of Man; its progressive unfoldings, varied powers, individuality, immortality and Eternal Mission. Spiritual Intercourse: its facts and phenomena, Naturally Scientifically and Scripturally considered.

Spiritual Mediumship: its universality, and vast importance to the human family.

The Popular Doctrines of the Churches, viewed in the light of the Attributes of Deity.

Do not fail to hear the First Lecture, as it is fundamental to the whole course.

SHAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, June 7.

Executor's Notice.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. Weymouth, June 26th, 1856

WILLIAM L. WALKER, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

EDWARD F. JONES,

of Foxborough in the County of Norfolk, Carpenter, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any Property, by him are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the office of George White, Esq., in Quincy, in said County, on the nineteenth day of July next, at two o'clock, in the afternoon, for the purpose of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

J. B. INGALLS, Deputy Sheriff.

July 5.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. Weymouth, June 13th, 1856.

TAKEN on Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 21st day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at my office in Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which Fisher A. Kingsbury, Esq., of said Weymouth, had on the fourteenth day of April last, at forty minutes past eleven o'clock, in the forenoon, being the time when the same was attached on mesne process of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate to wit:—

One piece or parcel of Land in Weymouth with a building thereon, and bounded as follows: East by Spring Street, South by land of Samuel Peabody, or however otherwise said property may be bounded, being the same premises mortgaged to Bedlam Savings Bank, on the 16th day of February, 1843, to secure six hundred dollars and interest.

ALSO—Five acres of Meadow, in said Braintree, bounded Easterly by land of Jonathan Wild's heirs, Southerly by land of Levi Will, Westerly by Spring Street, Northerly by land of Samuel Peabody, or however otherwise said property may be bounded, being the same premises mortgaged to Bedlam Savings Bank, on the 16th day of February, 1843, to secure six hundred dollars and interest.

SILAS BINNEY, Dep. Sheriff.

July 5.

Refrigerators!

UPRIGHT and Box Refrigerators for sale by

LEBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 31.

Dissolution.

THE FIRM heretofore existing under the name of C. L. & L. C. Badger, is this day by mutual consent dissolved. Charles L. Badger will continue the business as heretofore, and is authorized to settle all bills in any way concerning the Company.

C. L. BADGER.

Quincy, June 28th, 1856.

To Let,

A PLEASANT and convenient

HOUSE on Maple Place—for particulars inquire at this Office or of the Subscriber on the premises.

LEVI A. SLEEPER.

Quincy, July 5.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute something to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening

(Sundays excepted)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

J. MARDEN.

Quincy, June 21.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills of no value except to the owner—whenever he has found the same, will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL.

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASURE Boat, copper fastened, 26 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, masts, &c., all in good order and for sale by

A. A. MILARS.

Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES.

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, all belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of DR. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises.

Quincy, May 24.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK ss. Weymouth, May 31st, 1856.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 7th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the premises in South Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which Ebenezer Northey, of said South Weymouth had on the twelfth day of November, 1853, being the time when the same was attached in mesne process of redeeming the following described mortgaged Real Estate, to wit:—

Three and one half acres of Land with the Buildings thereon, and bounded as follows: North and Northerly by Mill River, East by land of Ebenezer Joy, South by Randolph Street, and West by said River or thereabouts. Also—one other piece of Land containing two and one quarter acres, with the Buildings thereon, and bounded as follows: viz: Northwesterly by said River, South by land of John Hollbrook, East by Randolph Street, or however otherwise bounded, being the same property described in said Ebenezer Northey to Jno. W. Kelley, and recorded in Norfolk Records, Lib. 219—Folio 261.

SHAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, June 7.

Executor's Notice.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. Probate Office, June 11, A. D. 1856.

EMUEL HUMPHREY, Executor of the Will of BETSEY BLANCHARD, late of Weymouth, in said County, Widow, deceased, having presented his account in his said capacity for allowance.

Ordered—That the said HUMPHREY, notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twelfth day of July, A. D. 1856, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by publishing this Order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy.

W. S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, June 21.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK ss. Probate Office, June 21, A. D. 1856.

AMANDA PACKARD, Administratrix of the Estate of

HENRY F. PACKARD,

late of Dorchester, in said County, Piano-forte maker deceased, having presented her account in her said capacity for allowance.

Ordered—That the said ADMINISTRATRIX notify all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twelfth day of July, A. D. 1856, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by publishing this Order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy.

W. S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

June 28.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the last Will and Testament of late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Dealer in Granite, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

SAMUEL NEWCOMB,

And all persons having demands against the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

LEVI WHITE, Executor.

Quincy, June 28.

3w*

Executors' Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been duly appointed Executors of the last Will of late of Randolph, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and have accepted said trust.

BENJAMIN MANN,

And all persons having demands against the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ELIZA MANN, THOMAS HOWARD, } Executors.

June 28.

3w*

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD,

(OFFICE OVER MR. DINEGAN'S STORE.)

W. C. B. FIFIELD of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, has, owing to the numerous calls on his services by the inhabitants of Quincy, opened an Office for the reception of such patients as may be able to attend, over the Store lately occupied by Mr. John Dinegan on the Brantree and Weymouth Turnpike.

The Office will be open Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M. Special attention given to Surgical complaints and diseases of the Eye.

Quincy, June 7.

Parasols.

SUN Closures Parasols, of the most desirable Styles and Colors; just received and for sale at very low prices by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 3.

Delight's Spanish Lustrale.

TO prevent baldness, and to give softness, gloss, vigor and beauty, to the hair, use

Delight's Spanish Lustrale.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 29.

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c. for sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.</

Poetry.

Do-Right.

Awake my soul, thy hours are fleeting,
Thy life is rapidly completing,
Time with eternity is meeting,
Soon comes the night,
Thy tribulation will come,
According to thy state, thy doom.
Do right, do right.

Though clouds thy firmament o'erspread,
And tempest burst above thy head,
Though life its greenest foliage shed,
In sorrow's blight;
And though thy holy hopes and fears
Lie buried 'neath the gathering years—
Do right, do right.

The warring elements' worst wrath,
The earthquake and the whirlwind's breath,
The valley and the shade of death,
Need not affright;
For duty's calm commanding form,
With rainbow arms shall clasp the storm.
Do right, do right.

Faint not in all the weary strife,
Though every day with toil be rife,
Work is the element of life,
Action is light;
For man is made to toil and strive,
And only those who labor live.
Do right, do right.

Life is not all a fleeting dream,
A meteor flash, a rainbow gleam,
A bubble on the floating stream,
Soon lost to sight;
For there's a work for every hour—
In every passing word a power—
Do right, do right.

O! life is full of solemn thought,
And noble deeds if nobly wrought;
With fearful consequences fraught;
And there is much to be gained,
If gathered in each passing hour,
That gives the soul unceasing power,
Do right, do right.

Hymn of Nature.

God of the earth's extended plains!
The dark green fields contended he;
The mountains rise like holy towers,
Where man might commune with the sky;
The tall cliff challenges the storm,
That lowers upon the vale below,
Where shaded fountains send their streams,
With joyous music in their flow.

God of the dark and heavy deep!
The waves lie sleeping on the sands,
The fierce trumpet of the storm
Hath summoned up their thundering bands.
Then the white sails are dashed in foam,
Or hurrying, trembling, o'er the seas,
Till calmed by the sun's smiling gaze
Serenely breathe, Depart in peace.

God of the forest's solemn shade!
The grandeur of the lonely tree,
That wrestles singly with the gale,
Lifts up adorning eyes to Thee.
But more majestic far they stand,
When, side by side, their ranks they form,
To wave on high their plumes of grace,
And fight their battles with the storm.

God of the light and voiceless air!
When summer breezes sweetly flow,
Or, gathering in their angry might,
The fierce and angry tempests blow.
All—from the evening's plaintive sigh,
That softly lifts the drooping flower,
To the wild whirlwind's midnight cry—
Breathe forth the language of thy power.

God of the fair and open sky!
How gloriously above us springs,
The tented dome of heavenly blue,
Suspended on the rainbow's wings.
Each brilliant star that sparkles through,
Each guided cloud that wanders free,
In evening's purple radiance gives
The beauty of its praise to Thee.

God of the rolling orbits above!
Thy name is written clearly bright
In the warm day's unvarying blaze,
Or evening's golden shower of light.
For every fire that founts the sun,
And every spark that walks alone
Around the utmost verge of heaven,
Were kindled at thy burning throne.

God of the world! the hour must come,
And Nature's self to dust return;
Her crumbling altars must decay,
Her incense fires shall cease to burn;
But still her grand and lovely scenes
Have made man's warmest praise flow;
For hearts grow holier as the trace
The beauty of the word below.

Anecdotes.

So you are ashamed of me, are you? said a poorly dressed man to an old acquaintance who had refused to return his salutation:—Well I don't know but you are right after all—for the time has been when I was ashamed of you!

I am monarch of all I survey, exclaimed the rumrunner over the dumb body of the drunkard in the ditch—then continued on his way.
Hold! said a school-boy passing, finish that quotation, sir!
And lord of the foul and the brute.
The young Samaritan then went and fell among thieves.

I say, friend, is there anything to shoot about here? asked a Kentucky sportsman of a little boy.
Wall, nothing just about here, stranger; but the schoolmaster is down the hill yonder—you can pop him over.

An old clergyman one Sunday, at the close of the sermon, gave notice to the congregation that in the course of the week he expected to go on a mission to the Heathens. One of the deacons, in great agitation, exclaimed, Why my dear sir, you have never told us a word of this before; what shall we do?
Oh, brother, said the parson, I don't expect to go out of town.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 1.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignments, 3, 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " " 3 " " " " " " " " 1.50
" " " " 3 " " " " " " " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " " half " " " " " " " " 7.00
" " " " 3 months " " " " " " " " 4.00

To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not otherwise, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & LESTER, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PIERCE, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HEDDERLEY, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colonial Memorial.
GEORGE POINSEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BUNN, Massachusetts Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.

Per order,
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.

Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimp Bands and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' AND BOYS' Ready Made Clothing,

AND FURNISHING GOODS! BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CATS, &c., &c.

FUR FUTURE,

of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS, of every style and quality: Crochery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Quincy, Dec. 3d.

McC. Eckron's

CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!

AS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine.

Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites, dislocations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 29. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,

AUCTIONEER,

RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.

Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF

Job Printing,

SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY

PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

--- HAS FOR SALE ---

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

--- DEALER IN ---

LUMBER;

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

--- ALSO ---

Lime, Sand, Bricks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.

--- Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.

Quincy, June 12. if

FOR SALE CHEAP!

AT THE

New Builders' Depot,

WEYMOUTH LANDING,

1,000 DOORS,

ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,

GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.

1200 Window Blinds,

PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.

Also, a large assortment of

NEW HARDWARE,

COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,

Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools, Window Glass,

Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c.,

And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention.

FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.

JOHN O. FOYE.

Weymouth, May 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,

GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point)

HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash

EGG, STOVE AND LUMP COAL.

Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.

Orders left at D. Baxter & Co's Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.

Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR

--- AT ---

WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West,

through

Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.

HOWARD VINAL.

Quincy, Nov. 19. if

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

Brackett's Wharf.

Quincy, August 12. if

For the Teeth.

HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings' Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and Tischer's Tooth Soaps; Dentalalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by

Quincy, June 3. if

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Doors.

Sashes,

Blinds,

Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,

HAVING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere. Also

Window Glass and Hardware,

SUCH AS

RIM LOCKS,

MORTICE LOCKS,

THUMB LATCHES,

MORICE LATCHES,

GLASS KNOBS,

MINERAL KNOBS,

AXLE PULLEYS,

WROUGHT HINGES,

BUTTS,

NAILS, &c.,

Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock, before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

A few rods west of the Old Stone School House on School Street in Quincy.

Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine

INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000, CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!

INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on

THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, or

Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple, or at the office of the Agency in Boston,

No. 12 Bowser's Building.

PRESIDENT:

GIDEON F. THAYER,

VICE PRESIDENT:

STEPHEN BATES,

SECRETARY:

FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS:

STEPHEN BATES, AGENT FOR THE

LOUIS CONNORS, WM. S. THAYER,

WILLIAM P. DRAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,

FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,

WILLIAM D. THORNTON,

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.

Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not excluded, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON;

--- TREASURER ---

ISRAEL W. MUNROE;

--- SECRETARY ---

STEPHEN BATES;

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton,

William S. Morton, George Thompson,

Israel W. Munroe, Charles Brock,

Gideon F. Thayer, H. W. Blanchard,

Thomas C. Welch, Cohasset,

Albert Thompson, South Hingham,

Whitcomb Porter, Stephen Bates,

William B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,

Thomas Curtis, North Bridgewater,

Randolph, Sumner A. Hayward,

Royal W. Turner, Barnstable,

South Braintree, George Marston,

Apollon Randall.

References, by permission:

HON. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,

HON. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,

HON. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,

HON. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,

HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq.,

OFFICE,

100

There is no fear about finding a ready market for any quantity of willow. It can be used for such a great variety of purposes that there is no calculating the amount that will be used in the country when it is obtained. It can be peeled by machinery at a cost not exceeding ten dollars a ton, and the whole cost of raising and peeling a ton not exceeding twenty dollars; it will sell for one hundred and fifty dollars, and will be a long time before the market can be supplied, so as to reduce the price, and will never be reduced so that it will not pay better, perhaps, than any other farm crop. The amount annually imported into the country from France and Germany is variously stated to be from five to six million dollars worth. At present New York monopolizes the whole willow trade; but they will find a ready market when offered in any city in the Union. In St. Louis and all the Western cities they are worth three cents a pound more than in the Eastern cities. Two or three tons may be considered a fair average age yield per acre, in good situations and with proper cultivation. Willows can be cut any time after the leaves fall, before the buds begin to swell in the spring. The bark makes good mulching for fruit trees. It contains a large amount of potash.—Tribune.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, July 5th, 1856.

BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

Celebration of the 4th in this Town.

Seldom if ever has the celebration of our independence occurred upon so unpropitious a day as upon the Fourth of July last. And this was peculiarly unfortunate for the celebration in this town; the rain in the morning deranging many of the plans of the Committee, compelling them to delay the forming of the procession for some time, and to abandon the tent for the Town Hall. As one of the speakers well remarked, "the rain was not in the programme." But notwithstanding all delays the Celebration passed off to the credit of the town, and as far as we could ascertain, to the satisfaction of all. The procession, consisting of the East Weymouth Band, the Hancock Light Guards, the children of the several schools, being formed in front of the Hancock House, by Thomas C. Webb, Chief Marshal, marched to the residence of Rev. Dr. Lunt, thence having received the orator of the day, the reader of the Declaration of Independence, the School Committee, and invited guests, they marched by the house of Hon. C. F. Adams to the Stone Church. Here after prayer, singing, the reading of the Declaration of Independence, by J. Q. Adams, Esq., the Hon. Charles F. Adams proceeded to deliver the oration, which was the most important feature of the celebration. It was quite lengthy, occupying nearly two hours in delivery, and was pronounced on all sides, "worthy of the Adamses." The procession then marched into the Town Hall, where the tables literally staggered under the weight of good things. At the conclusion of the repast, which was so bountifully provided, the following sentiments were elicited:

1. The day we celebrate: With all the glorious memories it brings from the Past; with all the grave and fearful duties it devolves upon the Present; and with all the anxious and confiding hopes which it inspires for the Future.

2. The Schools of the Town of Quincy: May the maxim of the scholars be—study in the School Room—and fun in the fields, and plenty of both.

May the aim of the Teachers be—The maintenance of authority by a wise, mild, steady course, as much as possible, without resort to corporal punishment.

With parents may it be a principle to encourage and uphold the Teachers in all reasonable ways;

And with the Town, may the Rule be—Liberal Expenditures, and First Rate Instruction.

Responded to by Mr. Wm. Baxter, Mr. Forbush of the North District School, Rev. Mr. Clark, and Maj. Webb.

3. Health and the continuance of every earthly blessing to Josiah Quincy, Senior.

It was hoped we might be favored with the presence of our venerated fellow citizen and with a few words from his lips; but the state of his health would not permit.

4. Some remarks were next made by the Chairman relative to the destruction of the Tea in Boston Harbor, on the 16th day of December, in the year 1773; and a phial was exhibited containing a small quantity of tea taken from Major Thomas Melville's shoes, on the morning after the occurrence.

Major Melville was a respected and respectable inhabitant of the old town of Boston, and has always had the credit of being one of the disguised savages that marched in a body to the wharf where the tea ships lay, and emptied their cargoes in the water. And the precious relic of that patriotic service, which has been preserved and handed down in the Major's family, shows with what zeal and efficiency he did his part in the famous Tea Party.

After introducing these facts, the Chairman went on to remark:

We have all heard, fellow-citizens, of a "Tempest in a Tea Pot;" and the phrase is commonly used to express "Much Ado about Nothing."

But I think you will agree with me that the fire which was kindled on Bunker Hill, to boil a cup of tea in Boston Harbor Tea Pot, for King George the Third and his Ministers, although a "Tempest in a Tea Pot," was not "Much Ado about Nothing."

I give you as the next sentiment:

5. Young America: May they walk, if need be, in Major Melville's shoes, and be ready to throw overboard every thing that has the flavor of tyranny.

Mr. Henry Walker responded.

6. Our Country: With every one of the Thirty-nine Jewels that shine in her broad girdle, may they reflect but the light of Christian Truth and Christian Freedom.

Rev. Mr. Rice responded.

7. The Orator of the day: His life keeps step to the old music of ADAMS and LIBERTY.

Hon. Mr. Adams had left the Hall before this sentiment was offered.

8. The Homes of the People: If these are Christian the Republic will be safe.

Rev. Mr. Bradley who was expected to respond, had been obliged to leave without favoring the Company with any remarks.

The Chairman then said: Fellow citizens, among the safe guards of freedom, is an enlightened, impartial, independent JUDICIARY. Freedom would be no blessing, if the violent and fraudulent were free to do us wrong. I give you therefore,

9. The Supreme Bench of Massachusetts: And those who wear so deservedly its honors, and dispense so impartially its benefits.

Mr. Justice Bigelow of the Supreme Court responded.

10. There seems to be a natural connexion between PIETY and PATRIOTISM.

Without religion, we know that our country would not have been settled.

Without religion the independence of these States would not have been secured.

And without the temper, habits and principles which religion fosters, the fabric erected by our Fathers cannot be upheld.

Rev. Mr. Paulson responded.

11. It is a happy thing with us, fellow townsmen, that some families do not run out. The old blood flows in fresh veins; and honored names are borne by children's children.

The day on which we meet very naturally suggests to us the wish:

May there never fail out of the land a JOSIAH QUINCY, JUNIOR.

Hon. Josiah Quincy, Jr. whom we expected to greet and welcome home on this occasion was engaged elsewhere, and we did not enjoy his genial influence.

12. The Ladies.

Mr. G. F. Thayer, formerly of Quincy, responded.

13. We have with us to-day one who served faithfully in our schools of former years. We are glad to see Mr. George Newcomb, now of Chelsea, and shall be pleased to hear from him.

Mr. Newcomb responded.

14. Among the names we rejoice to keep in familiar use among the living, is John Quincy Adams.

An honorable and successful career, we trust, is waiting for him who bears that honored name.

Mr. J. Q. Adams responded.

The Chairman then offered the following remarks, and pronounced the Festival concluded.

Every thing, fellow citizens, however pleasant, must have an end.

And, therefore, with thanks to the families in town, whose bounty has spread so liberally for us these tables, to those Teachers and Scholars who have co-operated with the Committee in preparing for this Celebration; to the Orator and others who have spoke to us pleasant and instructive words; to the Organist and Choir who volunteered their valuable aid; to the Hancock Light Guard for furnishing us so handsome an escort; to the Chief Marshal and his Assistants; and last but not least, to the Ladies, — without whose favor nothing goes well — or rather nothing goes at all, I pronounce this pleasant Festival at an end.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. The favor of our correspondent who so promptly furnished us with a reply to "Junior," should have appeared in our paper of to-day; but so much of our columns is occupied with the article on the celebration of the Fourth, that we are reluctantly compelled to lay it over until our next issue.

A NEW HOTEL IN QUINCY. By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Gough has opened a new Boarding-house or Hotel on Washington street, in this place. His accommodations are commodious, convenient and central; with a promise of good fare and moderate charges. We wish him success. We could write a long chapter from our experience of modern boarding houses; but will leave it to Mr. G. to apply the necessary reform, with the assurance that he will receive the countenance and support of the community in his laudable enterprise.

GOOD CHANCE. We would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of D. Baxter & Co., who are about to sell out their whole stock at unprecedented low prices, in order to close up the establishment as quick as possible. They have every variety of goods and we would advise all who are in want of any article usually found in a Dry Goods or grocery store to give them a call. The goods must be sold as the junior partner is determined to retire from business.

SAILORS' HARBOR. The corner stone of the Sailors' Snug Harbor at Germantown will be laid on Monday next, at 4 o'clock P. M. Mr. Washington French will have carriages at the Hancock House to convey such persons as may wish to be present at the ceremony. A large number of persons will be there from Boston.

For the Patriot.

The Fall Election.

The Democrats are entering upon the Presidential canvass with confidence and hope. All signs are favorable. The disruption of the American party; the rashness, and violence, and imprudence of the Republican leaders, and the dissensions and bickerings among the different bands of their followers, and their want of unity of design on any tangible and practicable principle of government that can enlist the hearts and satisfy the judgment of practical men, who make up the vast majority of the people,—all join to cast doubt upon and render impracticable the success of any opposition to the Democratic party.

Commerce is flourishing—so is trade in all its parts; so are the manufacturing arts, and indeed all branches of human industry. We are at peace with all the world: even our troubles with Great Britain,—that little cloud, no larger than a man's hand, which oftentimes portends the storm, is passing away, radiated with the light of peace and the splendid prospect of the morrow.

Besides, the perplexing and complicated matters touching Kansas, are on the point of a satisfactory solution and settlement by the passage of the Douglas Bill, whereby the whole subject is left to the settlers and inhabitants of Kansas to determine for themselves.

In James Buchanan, the Democrats have an upright, able, calm, dignified, patriotic statesman; a man whom the people can vote for without apprehension that he will from weakness or passion, or ambition, involve the country in an unnecessary war with any foreign power, or fan the passions of any portions of the people at home into the flames of civil war.

Out of the bickerings, conflicting interests and ambitions of the several States of the old Confederation, Washington, as President of the new government, educed order, peace, and harmony. Such happy results will follow we hope and believe the election of Mr. Buchanan. He is already in the sear and yellow leaf of life; the vulgar objects of ambition can have but little attraction to him—while the thought of reconciling the inhabitants of the various sections of the country to each other—State to State—and all the States to the General Government—of reviving the affections, and love, and loyalty, and patriotism, which once characterized our people, as the friendship of Jefferson and Adams revived; when the passions were stilled will exert a controlling influence in his administration of the affairs of the country. He will, we verily believe, if elected, "restore the faded glories of the Republic."

THE NEW RESTAURANT. We would again call attention to this fashionable summer resort of Mrs. French, on Washington street. It is now under prosperous way,—and is a most charming, select and desirable retreat, in this excruciating weather, to wile away a pleasant hour, while regaling ourselves upon the delicacies of the season. Make a visit.

Late foreign papers state that a complete restaurant on wheels, comprising kitchen, eating rooms, &c., is now to be seen daily circulating about the streets of Lyons, France. At regular hours the establishment pulls up in front of the silk and other manufacturers, employing a large number of hands, and the enterprising proprietor, it is said, is rapidly making a fortune.

During the last year, New York consumed from 47,000 to 50,000 bushels of strawberries.

The great central park in New York City will be finished in five years, and will contain seven hundred and seventy-five acres.

THIRD AND FOURTH SERIES OF FREE LECTURES ON SPIRITUALISM.

All who love the truth and believe the Bible should attend.

There came in two men,—a wise man and fool. The wiseman heard, investigated and DECIDED. The fool decided,—Ancient Proverb.

The well known Spiritualist Lecturer,—DOCTOR MAYHEW, of New York, will deliver his Popular Course of Lectures on the SPIRITUAL PHILOSOPHY, in the Town Hall, Quincy, on SUNDAY, (to-morrow afternoon, July 12th,) at 2-4 o'clock, P. M.

Subjects:—The Spirit of Man: Its progressive unfoldments, varied powers, Individuality, Immortality and Eternal Mission. Spiritual Intercourse: Its facts and Phenomena, Naturally Scientifically and Scripturally considered.

Spiritual Mediumship: Its universality, and vast importance to the human family.

The Popular Doctrines of the Churches, viewed in the light of the Attributes of Deity

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, ss. Weymouth, June 14th, 1856.

TAKEN in execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 25th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at my Office, in Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which James T. Cleverly of Quincy had on the eighteenth day of January last, being the time when the same was attached on mesne process of redeeming, the following described mortgaged Real Estate, to wit:

One piece or parcel of Land in Quincy with the buildings thereon—standing, and bounded as follows, viz:—Easterly on a Street, Southerly on land of E. S. Chapman and others, Westerly on land of James Newcomb, and Northerly on land of Ezra Damon—or however otherwise bounded, being the same premises he now occupies, and subject to a Mortgage to the Quincy Savings Bank.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, July 12.

Marriages.

In this town, on the 9th inst., by Rev. N. Clark, Mr. George H. Cook to Miss Margaret E. Pantou.

In South Braintree, on the 4th inst., by Rev. Aaron D. Haynes, Mr. ISAAC BASS of Quincy to Miss GEORGINA HAYDEN of the former place.

Our esteemed friends have imposed upon us a very pleasant duty. We have had a pre-sentiment that something of the kind would take place ere long; but we were not aware that it was so soon to be consummated. If this progressive spirit continues we shall soon annex the fairest portions of Braintree.

It will be perceived that the nuptial ceremonies were solemnized on the eve of our nation's birth day. We congratulate our young friends upon this auspicious event. May the return of each anniversary find them surrounded by the bounties of a kind Providence, and with "new pledges" to sustain our national independence, and strengthen the bonds of the Union.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The Court of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk will hold its first session in the Court House at Dedham, on TUESDAY, the 5th day of August next, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Gratus F. Jones, Esq., has been appointed temporary Register of said Court.

FRANCIS HILLARD, Judge of the Court of Insolvency.

FREE SPEECH—FREE PRESS—FREE MEN—FREE MONY. Friends of Freedom in Quincy are requested to meet at the Lyceum Room, on MONDAY evening, July 14th, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of taking into consideration the subject of organizing a Fremont Club. A CITIZEN.

NOTICE. There will be an adjourned meeting of the Adams Literary Association at the Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on MONDAY EVENING next, at 7-1-2 o'clock, precisely.

Per order, HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee, E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.

EDWARD AVERY, } Secretary.

GEO. W. BENTLEY, } Boston, July 5.

Great Bargains.

ONE of the firm of D. BAXTER & Co., being about to retire from business, on account of ill health, they will sell their whole stock, consisting of:

Dry Goods and Groceries!

LESS THAN COST!

Muslin De Laines now selling 20 to 25 cts will be sold 10 to 15

Prints " 10 to 18 " 6 1/2 to 10

Blue Cotton Cloths 10 to 15 " 6 to 11

Unbleached " 9 to 14 " 6 1/2 to 9

Ladies' Dresses Muslin 12 to 15 " 7 to 10

Alpacas " 16 to 25 " 10 to 15

Fabric Patch " 8 to 12 " 4 to 9

Flannels, all colors 17 to 25 " 14 to 20

Oil Cloth Carpets 50 to 85 " 40 to 70

Also, many other articles usually kept in a Dry Goods Store, as Hosiery, Gloves, Table Covers &c.

GROCERIES.

Hyson Teas, selling 25 to 60 cts will be sold 16 to 40

Black " 25 to 48 " 20 to 40

Coffee " 10 to 16 " 6 to 14

Sugar " 10 to 12 1/2 " 9 to 11

Molasses " 45 to 55 " 35 to 45

Beans per bu. " 2.50 to $3 " 175 to 225

Raisins " 8 to 16 " 3 to 10

Ladies' Shoes " 82 to 120 " 44 to 92

Children's " 37 1/2 to 75 " 25 to 60

Salt Pork " 10 to 14 " 8 to 11 1/2

Bacon " 13 " 12

Corned Shoulders Pork 10 " 8

Pigs' Heads, selling, 6 " 4

Corned Beef " 17 to 24 " 12 1/2 to 20

Butter " 10 to 12 1/2 " 4 to 10

Cheese " 10 to 12 1/2 " 4 to 10

Nails, all kinds " 4 1/2 to 5 " 3 1/2 to 4

Also, a good supply of Crockery Ware, Essences, Spices of all kinds, Soda, &c.

The Traders in this Town will do well to call and examine a stock of Articles, consisting of 6 boxes of Sugar, 7 or 8 Hogheads of Molasses, 7 or 8 tierces of first rate Lard, 35 or 40 barrels of extra Pork packed in the Store, all of which will be sold less than the present wholesale price—being bought in the early part of the season when good for 18 cents per pound.

A few tubs of Dairy Butter will be sold by the tub for 18 cents per pound.

THE WHOLE STOCK

Connected with the Store,

Will be Sold for Cash only.

Sale to commence next Monday.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Good Chance

TO ENTER INTO BUSINESS.

THE Subscriber being compelled, on account of ill health, to retire from business, offers for sale his whole right and interest in the stand and custom now occupied by D. Baxter & Co.

This offers a fine chance for a young man or any other person wishing to enter into the retail business, being an old stand and having a very large and first rate run of custom.

GEORGE I. BAXTER.

Quincy, July 12.

Wanted.

75 GIRLS to do kitchen and chamber work. Apply at the Intelligence Office on Washington Street of Quincy, July 12.

Cottage Bedsteads. JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES at low prices on Washington Street by N. B. FURNALD.

Quincy, July 12.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty Sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

Poetry.

Little Dick Snappy.

Little Dick Snappy
Was always unhappy—
Because he did nothing but fret;
And when he once cried,
'Twas in vain that you tried
To make him his troubles forget.

His mother once brought him
A drum, which she bought him
Hard by a neighboring fair;
And give such another
To Edward, his brother,
And left them their pleasures to share.

Little Edward began,
Like a new little man,
To play with his new little drum;
But Dick with a pout
Only turned his about
In his hands, and looked sulky and grim.

'What's the matter, dear Dick,
You look sad; are you sick?
Come, march like a soldier with me,—
The enemy comes.
Let us beat up our drums,
And mamma will our merriest see.'

'No, I don't like my toy,'
Said the ill-humored boy;
'And yours is the best and most new.
Then I'll give me yours,
But if not, I'll kick mine in too.'

'O! no, brother, no—
Pray do not say so—
Of a trifle in anger and haste;
Though they're equally new,
My drum I'd give you,
But I've tied it in knots round my waist.'

Then quarrelsome Dick
Gave his brother a kick;
But he did not give him another,
But saying no more,
Edward walked to the door,
Only giving one look at his brother.

Then, bursting with spite,
With his utmost of might,
Master Dick trod his drum on the floor;
The parchment did crack,
When lo! Edward comes back,
And his drum in his hands then he bore.

'The string is untied,
Dearest brother,' he cried,—
'So now I with pleasure will change;
But when Dick's drum he found
Lying broke on the ground,
O! how did his countenance change!

'I am really ashamed,'
Dick, sobbing, exclaimed,
'At the difference between you and me;
But continue my friend,
And I'll try to amend,
And a good tempered fellow to be.'

A Trifling Gift.

A trifling gift—one little rose,
Just bursting into bloom;
For such the little stranger was,
Which came with sweet perfume,
To cheer me in my loneliness,
And drive sad thoughts away;
A foretaste of those gardens fair,
Where flow'rs tell me of decay.

One little rose! and yet how much
'Tis welcome gift I prize!
No golden treasure ever seemed
So beautiful in my eyes.
The kindly tone and look it bore,
To other charms gave birth,
Enhancing as they clustered there,
Its own intrinsic worth.

How oft one kind and gentle word,
Will peace and joy impart,
And make the warmest sunshine glow
Upon the saddest heart.
How oft one trifling gift will speak,
Where words are heeded not!
The heart soon learns the thought to read
That seeks to soothe its lot.

Sweet memories linger round each flower,
Which friendship ever gave;
A holy incense floating o'er,
Each little perfume gave.
From every withered leaf and bud,
Flows forth a soothing strain,
'Till voice and lead in memory's ear,
Echo the soft refrain.

I dearly love such chosen gifts,
For in them all I find,
A welcome balm most sweet and pure,
To cheer the lonely mind.
And nothing 'mid the velvet leaves
There seems some fairy fair,
In perfumed whispers breathing forth,
The kind thought written there.

Still come to me in all your pride,
Ye blushing roses bright!
Each petal can a page unfold,
My spirit to delight.
I joy to feel your presence near,
Surrounding me with love,
Like holy angels freely sent,
With blessings from above.

Anecdotes.

Really, ladies and gentlemen, says the auctioneer, I'm giving these things away. Are you? said an honest old lady, well I'll thank you for that silver pitcher that you have in your hand.

An orator holding forth in favor of women, concludes thus: Oh, my hearers, depend upon it, nothing beats a good wife. I beg your pardon, replied one of the female auditors, a drunken husband does.

A camp follower, at a late regimental parade, excused the irregularity of his gait by saying that he was trying to march after two tunes!

At the breaking up of a dinner party, two of the company fell down stairs: one stumbled on the first landing, the other rolled to the bottom. It was observed that the first was dead drunk. Yes, but he is not so far gone as the gentleman below, answered a wag.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 2 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.50
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.50
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " 3 " " " " " " " 1.50
" " " 1 " " " " " " " " 1.00
" " " 1 " " " " " " " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " half " " " " " " " " 7.00
" " " 3 months " " " " " " " " 4.00

To be charged at the option of the Advertiser, not oftener, however, than once a month. All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & EASTBROOK, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PARKES, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PHINNEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BENNE, Mississippi Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.

Per order,
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.

Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' and BOYS' Ready Made Clothing,
AND
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality; Crochery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Quincy, Dec. 3d.

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

TRIUMPHANT

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed over all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Barr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 8

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.

HENRY A. RANSOM, AUCTIONEER, RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage. Quincy, April 8.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office with CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE, HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER, Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, DEALER IN—

LUMBER; OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Also—Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice. Purchasers will find it to their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.

Quincy, June 12.

FOR SALE CHEAP! AT THE New Builders' Depot,

WEYMOUTH LANDING, 1,000 DOORS,

ALL SIZES. 1500 Window Sashes,

GLAZED AND UNGLAZED. 1200 Window Blinds.

PAINTED AND UNPAINTED. NEW HARDWARE, COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS, Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools, Window Glass, Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c., And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention, FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.

JOHN O. FOYE, Weymouth, May, 17.

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY, GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).

Have just received two cargoes of Red Ash, EGG, STOVE and NUT COAL. Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD. Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.

Quincy, Sept. 30.

FLOUR

WHOLESALE PRICES. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West, through Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.

Quincy, Nov. 10.

Paper Hangings. JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 24.

Eastern Brick. JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, Brackett's Wharf. Quincy, August 12.

For the Teeth. HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis' and Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, June 3.

Doors, Sashes, Blinds,

Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co, CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,

HAVING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also

Window Glass and Hardware, SUCH AS RIM LOCKS, MORTICE LOCKS, THUMB LATCHES, MORRICE LATCHES, GLASS KNOBS, MINERAL KNOBS, AXLE PULLEYS, WROUGHT HINGES, BUTTS, NAILS, &c., on hand for Cash.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO., A few rods west of the Old Stone School House on School Street in Quincy.

Quincy, Jan 5.

Quincy Fire and Marine INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000, CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!

INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property, against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple, or at the office of the Agency in Boston, No. 12 Bracer's Building.

PRESIDENT: GIDEON F. THAYER.

VICE PRESIDENT: STEPHEN BATES.

SECRETARY: FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS: STEPHEN BATES, AGUSTUS W. PERRIN, LOUIS CONDON, WA. S. THAYER, WILLIAM P. DRAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER, FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON, WILLIAM D. TICKNOR.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON;

TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE;

SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES;

DIRECTORS, Milton, George Thompson, Charles Brock, Dorchester, H. W. Blanchard, Cohasset, Solomon J. Beal, South Hingham, Alfred Loring, North Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward, Randolph, Royal W. Turner, Barnstable, George Marston, Apollon Randall.

References, by permission:

Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston, Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston, Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield, Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph, Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham, Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy, JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., "

OFFICE, Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, April 1.

FAIRBANKS' CELEBRATED SCALES, of every variety, 31 Kilby Street, --- Boston.

GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in any part of the country.

Boston, Feb. 2

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure. For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and they will clear the bowels, and soothe the system. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a Full Stomach, or Morbid Action of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

For SCURFIA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all the other diseases of the skin, because "the system wants cleansing."

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

For CONSTIPATION, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion of the Liver, because it is the seat of bile, is a disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom of obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach, causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood, and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DYSENTERY PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effective to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS.,

AND SOLD BY Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT, Quincy, Oct. 28.

Rats and Mice.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without poison.

Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINATOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Sept. 30.

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM. Quincy, May 6.

COAL! COAL! RED ASH, STOVE, NUT and EGG COAL for sale at $8 00 per ton. Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, Brackett's Wharf. Quincy, Feb. 9.

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Hayes' Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup. Fitch's Heart Corrector.

Just received and for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Feb. 17.

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 25.

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache.

D. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills. DR. EASTMAN'S Celebrated SICK HEADACHE REMEDY. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Jan. 28.

Tooth Ache!

TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an article at DR. MARDEN'S which will effect an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.

Quincy, Dec. 21.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearls and prepared Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Brown, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.

Shallard's Pains and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1.

Try it! Try it! Try it!!!

G. W. STONE'S VEGETABLE LIQUID CATHARTIC AND FAMILY PHYSIC!

THE most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots which form the most powerful, safe, and agreeable physic ever offered to the public.

The necessity of such a medicine has long been felt both by the friends of families and physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectively upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely habituates costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the system from scum, invigorates the whole system, and removes the cause of all head pains such as

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, TIC DOULOUREUX, GOUT, Pain in the Head, Side, Stomach, &c., &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels—DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA and CHOLERA MORBUS, yield at once to its magical influence. Agents we expect, TRY IT! It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering from Scrophula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual costiveness, three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from as will be settled some way, without the people being called upon to decide. Perhaps it may be like the "Gold and Silver Shield," they may be both right, but it may be as well for the people to ask themselves before November what kind of principles they are that require such advocates? And, what kind of men they are who advocate such principles.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, July 19th, 1856.

BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

Sailors' Snug Harbor.

The corner stone of the Sailors' Snug Harbor, an institution founded by the liberality of merchants and citizens, was laid in the village of "Germantown," in this town, on Monday afternoon last. A large party of ladies and gentlemen from Boston were present at the ceremonies. We glean the following particulars from the Boston Daily Herald:

The foundation of the building, which is to be of brick, two stories in height, fifty-three feet square, and twenty-eight high, has been laid. In the lower story, one room is assigned for a chapel, one for the Superintendent, and there will be two wards for the inmates. The second story will also contain four wards. A basement with an entrance from the rear, will contain the kitchen and other convenient rooms.

The building will accommodate about seventy sailors, but it is hoped that future subscriptions and endowments will enable the trustees so to enlarge it as to accommodate a larger number.

The ceremonies on the occasion were of a very interesting character. After a prayer by Father Taylor, Robert B. Forbes, Esq., gave in brief the history of the institution. The first donation, the sum of one thousand dollars, was made by Capt. Bacon, Steward of the Marine Hospital at Chelsea, an old soldier under General Harrison. Mr. Bacon, at his death, left the remainder of his fortune, six or seven thousand dollars to the institution. Josiah Bradlee, Esq., then gave a donation of ten thousand dollars, on condition that an equal sum should be raised within one month. With this incentive, thirteen thousand dollars was soon subscribed. Mr. Forbes himself gave five thousand dollars. The name of Mr. Bacon has been inscribed on a marble, to be placed within the "Harbor." The trustees have now a fund of thirty thousand dollars, and the Harbor is to furnish a refuge to aged seamen from any of our Massachusetts ports.

Rev. Dr. Lathrop, Hon. Josiah Quincy, Jr., Hon. Charles Francis Adams, Father Taylor and other gentlemen, offered eloquent and appropriate remarks. Rev. Dr. Wm. P. Lunt of Quincy, recited some beautiful lines of his own composition, which we shall publish next week.

At the conclusion of the speeches, the corner stone was laid by R. B. Forbes, Esq. A box was deposited in the cavity, containing the date of the institution, the daily newspapers of Boston, of July 10th, pamphlets upon philanthropic subjects, and American coins. This stone forms the north-eastern corner of the edifice.

A repast, provided in a tent upon the grounds, was partaken of by the invited guests present, at the conclusion of the ceremonies. Toasts complimentary to Mr. Forbes and Father Taylor, were offered by the venerable Josiah Quincy, Josiah Bradlee, and other gentlemen. Mr. Forbes and Mr. Bradlee were cheered, and the assembly broke up, and the Boston party left for home, where they arrived after a beautiful sail up the harbor, at about half-past seven o'clock.

ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION. At the semi-annual meeting of the Adams Literary Association, which was held on the 7th inst., the following persons were chosen officers.

President—Henry Barker.
Vice President—Charles Marsh.
Secretary—Henry F. Barker.
Treasurer—Jonathan Jameson.
Librarian—H. G. Wildman.

Trustees—Henry G. Wildman, Horace B. Spear, Edmund Marsh, Albert Thompson, and Joseph G. Brackett.

DIRECTORS—Charles Marsh, Francis M. Johnson, George Cahill, Charles White, and Edward Brackett.

THE DORCHESTER HORSE RAILROAD.—Ground at Cook's Hill, near Mt. Washington Village, has been broken for the Worcester Horse Railroad, and it is intended to have the cars running as far as Washington Village about the first of September next. Both the rails and cars are to be of different pattern from any now in use.

THE EDITOR, we are happy to state is fast recovering from his late severe illness.—Like a sensible man, he has "thrown physic to the dogs," and taken to those substantial which his system imperatively demanded. There is now every prospect, with prudent care, that, in a few days he will be upon his legs again.

THE alarm of fire on Thursday evening last, arose from the burning of Hon. B. V. French's Grain Mills, at Braintree. Mr. French, we learn, had lately made large additions to his stock of grain, which was entirely consumed. His loss must be serious. What part, if any, of the property was covered by insurance, we have not heard. It is thought to be the work of some evil-disposed person, as there are certain circumstances which lead to that conclusion, and which seemed to point out the offender.

TRIAL OF HIBBERD. P. T. Herbert, the California member of Congress who murdered the Irish waiter at Washington, has been tried, and the jury failing to agree, they were discharged, and a new trial ordered, which will take place immediately.

IMPORTANT DECISION. The Springfield Republican states that the Supreme Court of this State has sustained the constitutionality of the existing liquor law, in cases brought up to it from several of the eastern counties.

THOSE ICE CREAMS. In company with one of the government officials, (who are generally admitted as excellent judges in such matters) we made a call, a few evenings since, at French's fashionable refreshment room, at Washington street, and must say, that we were amply paid for our trouble, at the evident gusto with which our friend appeared to enjoy the visit. While the savory morsel was fast disappearing, we could perceive by the twinkling of his eye, that the most pleasant sensations were taking possession of him, and from frequent exclamations, of excellent, delicious, etc., that the cares of office did not prevent his enjoying luxuries of this kind, in common with his more plebeian neighbors.

HEAVY LOSS. Mr. N. E. Farnald, of this town, lost on Thursday last, between the Quincy Depot and the city of Boston, a roll of bank bills, secured in a wallet, rising of two hundred dollars. He has offered a reward of twenty-five dollars for its recovery. We sincerely regret his loss. Mr. F. is a hard working man and worthy citizen; we hope, therefore, that it has fallen into honest hands, and that he will be made to rejoice in its speedy restitution.

OFFICIAL IMPERTINENCE. We had an illustration of this in a 7 by 9 two-penny advertisement, received from a certain quarter, for insertion. The favor was accompanied with a demand for its immediate appearance. We could not comply with the request as under matter, equally important, required our attention. For we always make it a rule in such cases, to serve the public first—or to be governed by the golden maxim—first come first served. Really, one would suppose by the proud, arrogant bearing of some of these dignitaries, and the self-conceit of which they strut this little world of ours, that they were modern Atlases, who bore the responsibilities of a universe upon their shoulders.

ANOTHER ICE CREAM SALOON. It will be seen by reference to another column, that the Misses Townsends, are prepared to accommodate their friends with these delicacies at their residence, corner of Hancock and Sea Streets. We think there is ample room for another, notwithstanding those old and experienced caterers, Marden and French, are in the field. They have our best wishes.

THE WEATHER is not only warm but exultingly hot. With the thermometer at blood-heat we have but little inclination to dwell long on the subject. Let us be prudent, and we shall pass through the ordeal with not only health, but with pleasure and profit.

FROM CHICAGO, (ILL.) We had the pleasure of an interview with Mr. E. Underwood, who is recently from that place. He gives a good account of our friends in that quarter. The Wheat crop along the great Mississippi valley, has been principally gathered, in fine order and with an abundant yield. How much more profitable is this subject for our contemplation, than the crude notions of fanaticism.

ANOTHER FUGITIVE SLAVE RESCUED.—The Barque Growler, which arrived in Boston one day last week from Mobile, brought out a fugitive slave, which was rescued by the friends of freedom, and sent on his way rejoicing to that land of paradise for the run-away negroes from this country, the British Provinces.

That Indignation Meeting.

Mr. Editor: I am at a loss to understand the meaning of "Junior's" communication in your last paper. Who was he hitting? friends or foes? He says he rejoiced to hear words of wisdom from such a source advocating reform by no unconstitutional measures, but by the ballot box. By this I understand him to condemn those speakers who were about to purchase pistols and "Sharpe's Rifles," and vent their indignation on a wider field; yet these were the sentiments of the majority of the speakers at that meeting. In this I agree with Junior. I do not think that civil war is a remedy for the troubles in Kansas, nor the assault on Mr. Sumner; neither do I believe in the "Let the Union slide," doctrine. Junior thinks that "when we see an aged man whose head is silvered by the frost of more than four-score years, whose memory extends back to the days of Washington, who has performed great services to his country and his age, whom no motive save a sense of duty could influence, when he comes forth and warns us that we are in danger of losing our liberties, it is time to consider what really is our situation." In this I also agree with Junior. The venerable gentleman has seen this Republic grow up in the midst of dangers, and his memory extends back to many a trying time. He could tell us about the "Alien and Sedition Laws," the war of 1812, the Hartford Convention, and other great dangers, which were met, and overcome by the first generation of American statesmen, and I hope he will live to see the country saved from its present dangers by the men of to-day. Junior forgets that Mr. Quincy attributes the present troubles, to principles initiated under what he called the reign of Thomas Jefferson. Perhaps he is one of those Jeffersonian Democrats, who quote Jefferson as a Freesoiler to excuse them for joining the mobs.

That the liberties of America are in danger, no one who reads the newspapers can doubt. In danger from within, and in danger from without. Within, she has a party numerous, well-organized, and under bold unscrupulous leaders, who proclaim their intention to trample the Constitution under foot at the ballot box, or dye it in the blood of its supporters in the field. To this end they write, they speak, they subscribe money, and purchase arms. In Maine, they raised their flag with sixteen stars. Does Junior think for a moment that Washington, Jefferson, or Jackson, would countenance such political doctrines!

Prom without, there is danger of European interference in American affairs. The Central American question will be settled without going to war. England dare not go to war with America. There is one word which she never forgets, it is a spell to curb her in her haughtiest hour—it is Fenomeno. One McMahon captured the Malakoff, she fears that another may be found dating his despatches from Quebec, or Kinsale. But when she sees she cannot play the bully, she will try the part of intriguante. To this end she will send her emissaries into this Presidential contest, and already she sees some hopes of success. Mr. Dallas is not to be sent home, on the contrary, treated with all kindness until the next election is over, when a man of "very different principles from those of Mr. Pierce will occupy the Presidential chair." This is the language of the London Times. Does Junior know which of the candidates for that office will suit the English? Mr. Buchanan avows the same opinions on these questions that are held by the President, so that he will not do for John Bull. Who will?

In the Sumner assault case, Junia and the speakers at the meeting, seem much more indignant than Mr. Sumner does. He did not think fit to appear in Court against Brooks, who expressed anxiety to have Mr. Sumner examined. What was the reason? Can it be that he wanted back bone. Junior will see by thinking very little, that the indignation meeting may as well be forgotten. Mr. Sumner does not wish to follow the matter up; he is unwell on the day of trial, and the crime against free speech which moved some men to the depth of their souls, is disposed of as a common assault, or a drunken street brawl. The arms, &c., for Kansas, had better be kept at home—it seems that they find their way, in one way or another into the hands instead of the hearts, of the "Border ruffians," and the men with back bone seem to have just enough to stand straight and extend their arms very quietly to the first person who demands them. If there is to be a war it is bad policy to provide good arms for your enemies.

It is said that a Yankee baby will crawl out of his cradle, take a survey of it, invent an improvement and apply for a patent before he is six months old.

The length of the new cable for a telegraph across the Atlantic Ocean will be two thousand four hundred miles, and two steamers, each with one thousand and two hundred miles of cable, will meet midway between Ireland and Newfoundland, unite the cables, and proceed in opposite directions to land.

Recently a thief was placed in the pillory at Key West, Florida, and for one hour exposed to the public gaze, and showers of rotten eggs, fruit, &c., thrown by boys.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 14th inst., Emma J., daughter of Mr. James L. and Mrs. Christiana E. Wilson, aged 9 months.

On the 14th inst., Clara M., daughter of Mr. A. W. and Mrs. E. O. Russell, aged 5 years and 8 months.

On the 15th inst., Mr. Thomas Page, aged 70 years and 8 months.

On the 15th inst., Mr. James B. Reed, aged 48 years.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The Court of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk will hold its first session in the Court House at Dedham, on TUESDAY, the fifth day of August next, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Erasmus Foote, Jr., Esq., has been appointed temporary Registrar of said Court.

FRANCIS HILLARD, Judge of the Court of Insolvency.

NOTICE. There will be an adjourned meeting of the Adams Literary Association at the Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on MONDAY EVENING next, at 7 1/2 o'clock, precisely.

For order, HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee, E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.

EDWARD AVERY, GEORGE W. BENTLEY, Secretaries.

List of Letters,

Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, July 1st, 1856.

Allen John T	Jones John D
Atkinson Binny	Kennedy John
Brickborough John	Littlefield Addison
Brickborough William	Murray Ellen
Brackett W. Caravan	Murray Garrett
Byrne Thomas—2	McClintock George
Byrne John	McClintock Duncan
Banks Samuel	Murray Patrick
Beck Lydia	Murray J. H.
Banks Augustus	Murray John
Briggs William O	Murray John
Burns Thelma	Murray John
Byrne Rose Ann	Murray John
Byrne Mary	Murray John
Cushing S P	Nightingale Ann
Cook C Melissa	Nearne John
Carry Sarah E T	Paine Susan
Chase Moses R	Pollock T L
Cross W N, or any heir	Pike Andrew J
Chase Alexander J	Perkins Enoch
Denny James	Patteman Matthew Mrs
Doherty Michael	Ryan Mary
Dani Anthony	Reardon J G
Dargin Thomas S—2	Reid A S & A
Dunham Thomas	Roidan Cornelius
Diamond James	Reed W C
Dougherty John	Reid A
Dunham George C	Reardon Dennis
D A F	Reilly James
Driscoll Alexander	Reynolds Patrick
Emery A F	Savill Catherine M—2
Franck William	Stevens Levi F
Flint Margaret	Snooks Henry
Franck Joseph W	Sexton Jeremiah
Fauche Theodore	Stephens J
Gallagher Charles	Swaine N
Gordon Margaret	Sweeney Samuel
Gale C C	Vinson Charles
Galvin Patrick	Wise Daniel Rev
Harding W B	Wright John
Hilman A	Wright Richard
Hee J Smith	Wiley A L
	Wiley Lewis

JOHN A GREEN, Postmaster.

TO THE HONORABLE THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS FOR THE COUNTY OF NORFOLK.

WE the subscribers, citizens of the Towns of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, respectfully pray that your Honorable Board will lay out before the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Road lying in said Quincy, as a public highway, according to the statutes in the case made and provided. And also to widen and straighten Hayward Street, in Quincy.

JOSEPH H. WHITE, and 120 others.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners of the County of Norfolk, held at the Court House in Weymouth, on the 18th day of July, A. D. 1856, by adjournment of the June Meeting next preceding:

On the petition addressed, Ordered, that the County Commissioners lay out before the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Road lying in said Quincy, as a public highway, according to the statutes in the case made and provided. And also to widen and straighten Hayward Street, in Quincy.

JOSEPH H. WHITE, and 120 others.

It is said that a Yankee baby will crawl out of his cradle, take a survey of it, invent an improvement and apply for a patent before he is six months old.

Recently a thief was placed in the pillory at Key West, Florida, and for one hour exposed to the public gaze, and showers of rotten eggs, fruit, &c., thrown by boys.

Stone Quarry to Let.

THE Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Curtis. Enquire at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street.

Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19.

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. S. Fitch's celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor.

Quincy, July 19.

The Misses Townsends.

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake, for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK and SEA STREETS, where they will be prepared to wait on those who may favor them with a call.

ON AND AFTER TO-DAY, (Sundays excepted.)

Quincy, July 19.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE copartnership heretofore existing under the firm of C. L. & C. B. Baker, is this day mutually dissolved. Charles L. Baker will continue the business as heretofore, and is authorized to settle all bills in any way concerning the Company.

C. L. BAKER, C. B. BAKER.

Weymouth, July 19.

To Let.

A NEW HOUSE. Enquire of S. R. EDWARDS.

Quincy July 12.

Dissolution.

THE firm heretofore existing under the name of C. L. & C. B. Baker, is this day mutually dissolved. Charles L. Baker will continue the business as heretofore, and is authorized to settle all bills in any way concerning the Company.

C. L. BAKER, C. B. BAKER.

Quincy, June 28th, 1856.

To Let.

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place—for particulars inquire at this Office or of the Subscriber on the premises.

LEVI A. SLEPER.

Quincy, July 5.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insufferable heat of summer.

Every Afternoon and Evening.

(Sundays excepted.)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

Quincy, June 21.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVILL.

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, masts, &c., all in good order and for sale by A. A. MEARS.

Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of Dr. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises.

Quincy, May 24.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS. Weymouth, June 14th, 1856.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY the 28th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at my Office, in Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which James T. Cleverly of Quincy had in and to the eighth day of January last, being the time when the same was attached in means process of redeeming, the following described mortgaged Real Estate, to wit:

One piece or parcel of land in Quincy with the buildings thereon—standing, and bounded as follows, viz:—Easterly on a Street, Southerly on land of E. S. Chapin and others, Westerly on land of Ezra Dan on—or however otherwise bounded, being the same premises heretofore owned, occupied, and subject to a Mortgage to the Quincy Savings Bank.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, July 12.

Kallistons, or Orient Water.

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also always a tendency to inflammation from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season,) and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared only by Joseph Burnett, whose name is sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 21.

Refrigerators!

UPRIGHT and Box Refrigerators for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 31.

Wanted.

75 GIRLS to do kitchen and chamber work. Apply at the Intelligence Office on Washington Street of Quincy, July 12.

N. B. FURNALD.

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Mattings and Window Shades, selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES

at low prices on Washington Street by N. B. FURNALD.

Quincy, July 12.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot and contains twelve Sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $3.25 washing included when not exceeding four pieces. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.

Quincy, July 12.

To the Honorable County Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN:—

THE undersigned Citizen of Milton respectfully represent that the public convenience and necessity require that the public road and town way leading from the road known as the Turnpike Road to said County on Thursday, the 10th day of August next, at 1 o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon.

And that an attached copy of said petition with this order thereon be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Milton, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and like copies be posted up in two or more public places, in said Milton town, days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

SAMUEL ADAMS.

Milton, June 22, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS.

AT a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for the County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of June, A. D. 1856, on the Petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Town House in said County on Thursday, the seventh day of August next, at 1 o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon.

And that an attached copy of said petition with this order thereon be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Milton, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and like copies be posted up in two or more public places, in said Milton town, days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

ELIZA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true Copy of the original Petition on file and order thereon. Attest.

ELIZA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

July 12.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

LEWIS JOSEPH GLOVER.

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Physician, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

JOHN J. GLOVER, Administrator.

Quincy, July 12.

Messenger's Notice.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. Weymouth, June 26th, 1856.

WILLIAM L. WALKER, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

EDWARD F. JONES,

of Foxborough in the County of Norfolk, Carpenter, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any Debts, and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for him, and the transfer of any Property, by him or for him, is forbidden by law.

A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the office of General Wm. E. Quincy, in Quincy, in said County, on the nineteenth day of July next, at two o'clock, in the afternoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

J. B. INGALLS, Deputy Sheriff.

July 5.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. Weymouth, June 13th, 1856.

TAKEN on Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY the 21st day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at my office in Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which Fisher A. Kingsley, Esq., of said Weymouth, had on the fourth day of April last, at forty minutes past one o'clock, in the forenoon, being the time when the same was attached on mesne process of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate to wit:—

One piece or parcel of land in Weymouth, containing about ten acres of Woodland, (excepting the Wood on Maple Swamp,) in Braintree, and bounded Southerly by Randolph line, Westerly by land of Calvin Wild, Northerly by land of Samuel Currier's heirs, Easterly by land of Sylvanus Thayer and others.

ALSO—Five acres of Meadow, in said Braintree, bounded Easterly by land of Jonathan Wild's heirs, Southerly by land of Levi Wild, Westerly by Spring Ditch, Northerly by land of Samuel Currier's heirs, or however otherwise said property may be bounded, being the same premises mortgaged to Dedham Savings Bank, on the 16th day of February, 1843, to secure six hundred dollars and interest.

SILAS BINNEY, Dep. Sheriff.

July 5.

Important Notice to Pure

CLOTHING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully call attention to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity who have given up the Millinery business, fitted up that department for

READY MADE CLOTH

which will consist in

MEN'S, YOUTH'S and CHILDREN'S

Particular attention will be paid

CHILDREN'S CLOTH

I will assure the Public that if they

me a call, they will find GOODS at pr will ensure their sale.

Persons in want of CLOTHING, sh

no time in examining my Stock, whic of a good assortment of every descrip

CALEB PACK

Quincy, March 8.

New Tailoring Good

J. A. HOLDEN

WOULD inform the inhabitants of

Just replenished his Stock

with a choice selection of Goods, and

SPRING and SUMM

He invites the attention of such as ex

quality and good work

Poetry.

The Valley of Shadow.

Down the shining track of memory—
Sleeps a vale where shadows teem—
Sleeps beneath the chequered sunlight,
Like some fairy land of dream—
Fairy land of ancient legend—
Indian tales of war and crime—
Crime that floated on for ages
Down the ghostly stream of time!

Now and then come gloomy shadows
Sweeping o'er it through the gloom,
And, like phantoms, pass before me,
Through the dimly lighted room.
Then, too there are angel shadows,
Clad in robes of gold and white;
Beautiful they seem and lovely,
Through the gauzy veil of night.

There are dear ones in the shadows—
Sons are living—some are dead;
Some like angels—some are earthly;
Some are loved, and some were wed;
And they pass before my vision
As they did in better days,
And it may be some are angels,
Come to censure or to praise!

Over graves are drooping willows;
Poplars, too, are waving by—
Mournful willows bending earthward;
Hopeful poplars pointing high,
Teaching man to trust in heaven,
Though his lot be sad or gay—
Learning from the God of Nature
How to pass his life to-day!

Ah! the graves within whose crevices
Lie the playmates of my youth—
Graves beneath the shade and sunshine—
Graves that speak the solemn truth;
Truth! that teacheth me this lesson—
"Tis the good are first to die—
While the cold and stubborn minded
Linger till the heart is dry!

Mournful shadows of the church yard
Are not always sad to me—
When the heart is full of murmurs,
They are guests I love to see—
When the wrongs mankind inflicts—
When relentless fate doth press
Down my soul, my life, my being,
Then it seems as they could bless.

Yet, I may not blame the thoughtless—
Time shall teach them they are vain;
Time!—the monitor of folly—
Conquers though he sears the brain!
Envy I the unforgiving?
No! I would I were more kind—
It were Godlike—were I mainly,
To forgive the erring mind.

Fall ye shadows, o'er my pathway,
Fill the mind in every part;
But I pray—oh, softly lightly,
Fall the shadows o'er the heart!
Well I know that ye are fallen
O'er my boyhood's mossy vale,
And to manhood now are stretching
In a solemn, mystic trail.

Few there are but some sweet valley
Sleeps within the thoughtless mind—
Fleckered here and there with shadows
Resting o'er the true and kind—
Some old valley by the mountain,
Where their lives flowed gayly on,
As the murmuring of streams
Softly nunging into one!

[From San Francisco (Cal.) Bulletin.]
"In Memoriam"
Of our Beloved Citizen, James King

As dies the Christian warrior,
In the cause of Truth, he fell;
Crowned with unfaded laurels,
He hath gone home to dwell.
His mission here hath ended,
How nobly we may tell,
Who in a nation's heart of hearts
Have cherished him so well.

He was our honest champion—
Our leader in the fight—
Whose clear voice, like a trumpet call,
Rang forth—God speed the right!
But the dim of death
A messenger had come Saying—"The Master calls thee, Soldier of God! come home."

Oh! who shall say how radiantly
The City of our Lord
Dawns on the "just made perfect,"
As they journey heavenward?
Perchance the angel sentinels
On the glorious ramparts high—
"Come up hither," said they, "enter:
Truth is the watchword of the sky."

Oh! could we hear him welcomed
To the kingdom of our Lord—
"Well done! thou faithful servant,
Receive thy just reward!"
Could we know God called the talents
To a more extended sphere,
A broader field of usefulness—
Could we then wish him here?

Call him not dead, who loved, while here,
To do the Father's will;
He hath joined the angel army,
Who camp about us still:
He hath gone where to immortal sense
Life's mysteries are made clear,
While we "may keep his memory green"
In every good work here.

Anecdotes.

"What is your income?" asked a tax assessor of a red-nosed citizen, with a ponderous paunch.

"About a hoghead a year," was the answer.

"Sonny dear," said a fond mother, "you have a duty face."

"Can't help it mam, dad's a Black Republican."

Rules and Rates of Advertising
In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 2 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 1.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 2 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " 3 " " " 1.00
" " " 1 " " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " half " 7.00
" " " 3 months " 4.00
To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not often, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Manion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

JOHN A. GREEN, QuinCY Patriot.
Blossom & Lasterbrook, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. Westcott, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PUNNEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM DENISE, Massachusetts Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.
Per order,
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.
DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloth Trimmings, Gimpes, Braces, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and soliciting call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.
Quincy, Dec. 3d.

Mc. Eckron's
CELEBRATED LINIMENT.
EQUALLY GOOD FOR MAN OR BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; its judiciously having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.
Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.
Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.
March 8

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

HENRY A. RANSOM,
AUCTIONEER.
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8.

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

HENRY A. RANSOM,
AUCTIONEER.
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8.

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
--- HAS FOR SALE ---
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
--- DEALER IN ---
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.
Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12.

FOR SALE CHEAP!
AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.
1200 Window Blinds,
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.

NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass,
Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention.
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17.

Coal and Wood.
ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).
HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash
EGG, STOVE AND SPLIT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30.

FLOUR
--- AT ---
WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30.

Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,
on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat,
HOWARD VINAL.
Quincy, Nov. 10.

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24.

Eastern Brick.
JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12.

For the Teeth.
HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls, Comminings
Premium Dentifrice; Orange and Citric Acid
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and
Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

PURCHASERS will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5

Quincy Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY.
$50,000. CAPITAL.
ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD
FURNITURE, and other Personal Property
against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on
THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the
Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,
or at the office of the Agency in Boston,
No. 12 Brazer's Building.
PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER,
VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.
DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERIN,
LOUIS CONDON, Wm. S. THAYER,
WILLIAM P. DEAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,
NO MORE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 10.

DOORS,
Sashes,
Blinds,
Hardware.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

PURCHASERS will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5

Quincy Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY.
$50,000. CAPITAL.
ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD
FURNITURE, and other Personal Property
against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on
THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the
Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,
or at the office of the Agency in Boston,
No. 12 Brazer's Building.
PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER,
VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.
DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERIN,
LOUIS CONDON, Wm. S. THAYER,
WILLIAM P. DEAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,
NO MORE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 10.

Insurance against Fire.
THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF MASSACHUSETTS, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.
Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.
PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Breck,
Gideon F. Thayer, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Albert Thompson, Solomon J. Beal,
Whitecomb Porter, South Hingham,
Stephen Bates, Alfred Loring,
William B. Duggan, North Bridgewater,
Thomas Curtis, Sumner A. Hayward,
Royal W. Turner, Barnstable,
Apollo Randall, George Marston.

References, by permission:
Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., Cohasset.

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1.

FAIRBANKS'
CELEBRATED
S CALES,
of every variety,
34 Kilby Street, --- Boston.
GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2

AYER'S
CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
For Constipation.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For Dyspepsia, which is sometimes the cause
of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourness of dyspepsia
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a Full Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they
do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently.
The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate
the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.
Patients' your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because "it
system wants cleansing."

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion take the life and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom of obstruction of the liver, which causes the bile into the stomach, causes the bile to overflow
into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils, or, alternately,
constitutes costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails,
feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness,
restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness;
sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin
and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow;
the stomach acid; the bowels sore to touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever,
which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood, and the stimulants which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.
As a DYSENTERY, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effective for
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
MRS. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT
Quincy, Oct. 28.

Rats and Mice.
LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and
other Vermin, without poison.
Parson's and Verrill's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6.

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—200 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9.

New Medicines.
DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.
Parson's Astringent and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17.

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
by DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache
DR. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills.
DR. BOOFLAND'S German Bitters.
DR. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE
REMEDY. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28.

Tooth Ache!
TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find article at DR. MARDEN'S which will effect an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold water or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24.

AYER'S
CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the
internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such
derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
For Constipation.—Take one or two Pills, or
such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure
of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For Dyspepsia, which is sometimes the cause
of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourness of dyspepsia
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a Full Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the
spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they
do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently.
The eruptions will generally
soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by
the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and
some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.
Patients' your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because "it
system wants cleansing."

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely
and frequently, and the impurities which sow the
seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion take the life and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom of obstruction of the liver, which causes the bile into the stomach, causes the bile to overflow
into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils, or, alternately,
constitutes costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails,
feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness,
restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes in-
ability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness;
sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin
and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow;
the stomach acid; the bowels sore to touch; the
whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever,
which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove
the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer
such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood, and the stimulants which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.
As a DYSENTERY, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effective for
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
MRS. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT
Quincy, Oct. 28.

Rats and Mice.
LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and
other Vermin, without poison.
Parson's and Verrill's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 29.

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6.

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—

were in softer material than marble. Sir Thomas Lawrence was the son of an inn-keeper and wholly self taught. John Opie was found by Dr. Walcott working in a saw pit. William Hogarth, the greatest master and delineator of character that ever developed his ideas by means of the pencil, served his apprenticeship to an engraving silversmith, and commenced his professional career by engraving coats of arms and shop bills. Then in poetry: Gifford, the first editor of the Quarterly, began life as a poor sailor.

boy, and afterwards served an apprenticeship to a shoemaker. Bloomfield—pardon me for calling him the English Burns—wrote his best poem, "The Farmer's Boy," while he, too, worked in a garret as a shoemaker.

Ben Johnson, says Fuller, in his English Worthies, worked for some time as a bricklayer and mason. He helped in building the new structure of Lincoln's Inn, when, having a trowel in his hand, he had a book in his pocket. Shakespeare, your own Will Shakespeare, was a poor man's son; his father could not write his name, and his cross or mark still exists in the record of Stratford-on-Avon to attest the fact. The poet's own education seems to have been very limited, and tradition describes him as having lived for a time by very humble employments. Then turn we to theology, the highest range, The two Millers, Dr. Isaac, Dean of Carlisle, and his brother Joseph, author of the well-known History of the Church, began life as weavers. Dr. Prichard, of the Connection, and Bishop of Worcester, got his education by entering Oxford as a kitchen boy. John Bunyan, the greatest master of allegory, and author of the second best book in all the world, was a self-taught tinker. These be some of England's best working-men who have thought, and thought to some purpose. These be some of your hostiers, and linen-drappers, and mill-wrights, and masons, and sawyers, and shoemakers, and barbers, and tinkers. Is England proud of them? Well she may be. Does she want more of them? She needs them all. Then let England give her working men time to think; for the man's sake, for the master's sake, for England's sake—for God's sake.—London Lecturer.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, July 26th, 1856.

BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

FIRE IN THIS TOWN. About 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening last, a fire was discovered in the second story of the building occupied by Mr. D. D. Ring, as a tailor's shop. The Engines with their usual alacrity were soon upon the spot, and the ravages of the element quickly subdued. The Weymouth Engine and one Milton Company came to our assistance and rendered valuable services. The fire was caused by a defect in a flue, in the room occupied by Mr. R.'s operatives. Mr. Ring had sufficient time to save the principal part of his property upon the first floor, but in a somewhat damaged state; he was insured at the office in this town for fifteen hundred dollars, which it is thought will amply cover his loss. The building was owned by Mr. John Brummett, and was entirely consumed; he had an insurance upon it in Dedham, for two hundred and fifty dollars,—not more than half its value. The adjoining building, owned by Mr. Plummer, and occupied by Marsh, Spear & Co., Leather Dressers was considerably charred by the fire, on the roof. This fire removed a great portion of their materials, which was quite large, but not without some injury and loss. Their stock, which was valued at over four thousand dollars, was insured for fifteen hundred dollars.

Our Fire Department, on this, as well as on former occasions, are deserving of all praise, for their promptness, energy and skill. The neighborhood being composed entirely of frame buildings, and at this season of the year in a highly combustible state, at one time threatened a serious conflagration; but as soon as the machines were brought into working order, such fears were speedily removed.

GRAND UNION TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. A Grand Union Temperance Convention will be held at the beautiful Grove in Abington, on Tuesday, July 29th, at 9 1/2 o'clock, A. M. The County Temperance Societies of Plymouth and Norfolk Counties, and the different Societies in Suffolk County will unite in this meeting.

Hon. Neal Dow, Judge Marshal of Nova Scotia, Deacon Grant, "Father" Allen, Rev. J. H. Twombly, John H. W. Hawkins, and other popular speakers will address the meeting. A band of music has been engaged.

Tickets over the Old Colony Railroad at less than half price.

An invitation is extended to the Friends of Temperance in Bristol, Essex and Middlesex Counties, and to all others in the State, to unite in this great gathering of the Friends of Temperance.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for August has been received from C. Gill & Co., agent of A. Williams & Co., Boston. The leading paper is on the Valley of the Connecticut, where Travel, and Wonders of Vegetable Life, comes Virginia Illustrated, Passages of East with many engravings for each article.—There is something further about Daniel Webster's Social Hours. Of Little Dorrit, four chapters are given. American Inventions are treated of by the editor, whose Easy Chair and Drawer are as inviting as heretofore. Experiments in Photography will be found rather amusing.

BOSTON MILITARY. Brigadier General Andrews, of Boston, has issued orders for the encampment of the First Brigade, First Division of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, in Quincy, near Mount Wollaston, on the 6th, 7th, and 8th of August next. The place selected does not give general satisfaction. The officers of the Second Regiment, as also many of the First Regiment, have been in favor of encampment at Long Island.

PASSED OVER THE VETO. Congress has passed the bills for the improvement of St. Mary's River and St. Clair Flats, and for the improvement of the navigation of the mouth of the Mississippi, by a two-thirds vote, the President's veto notwithstanding.

REFRESHMENT ROOMS. The Misses Townsends, as we had occasion to mention last week, have opened at their residence, corner of Hancock and Sea streets, refreshment rooms for the delicacies of the season, which from evidence made demonstrable, we are able to say, are every way worthy the patronage of our citizens. Their Ice Creams, etc., are not to be outdone; and their accommodations as pleasant and agreeable as any one need desire. See for yourselves.

Our only regret in such visits, is, that our worthy Editor (who is still confined to his couch by sickness) is not with us to enjoy them. We have always had a strong abhorrence for Ipecac and Jalap, and can sympathize with the poor fellow whose infirmities make it necessary for him to swallow them; but have full faith in the simple restoratives with which nature has so abundantly provided us, and therefore ardently wish that John was well and in a condition to give them a trial.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for August, contains two steel engravings—one a colored fashion plate. There are one hundred pages, forty-seven illustrations, and sixty-four contributions. Four pages of this number are devoted to receipts for preserving fruits. Now is an excellent time to commence a subscription to the Lady's Book, as July introduced the 53rd volume, and a great variety of illustrated articles will appear in the succeeding numbers.

By reference to another column, it will be seen that the political elements of our community are again in commotion. The meetings called are both important, and we hope to hear of their being well attended.

For the Patriot.

That Picture.

We received one day last week through the politeness of one of the Conductors of the Old Colony Depot, a picture which he said was intended for us, although we had no recollection of ever sitting for such a design, and requested us to receive it as the property of one of the government officials of this place. We turned it over and over, gave it a close examination, but must say that we were not much flattered with its appearance, for we could not discover a single feature which we could recognize. It is no more like the original, than chalk is like cheese. We consider it rather a feeble attempt at something witty, but which falls widely short of the mark. The artist did not prefix his name, which is to be regretted, as we are fearful his modesty may be a bar to his future advancement.

Many of the embellishments to the figure, we think he must have borrowed from the reflection of some one of his particular associates; some political donkey, with all the instincts of the animal, who, while feeding at the public crib, brags at those who furnish the wherewithal: who call themselves Democrats, but whose back is ever ready, at the chirrup of a Federal leader, to receive any burden which promises a reward; the miserable drivellers of "Old Hartford Convention Federalists; followers of men, who in the war of 1812, declared that, "It was unbefitting a moral and religious people to rejoice at victories gained over our enemies;" and who made the welkin ring with rejoicings when the news was received that the English had taken possession of the capital of their country, and that a brutal soldiery were despoiling its public works, and defiling the sacredness of the family altar; and latterly, in the enthusiasm which they exhibit in the late ebullition of the Old Federal instinct in furnishing means for carrying on a war of rebellion against the General Government on the fields of Kansas. Out upon such hypocrites—whom do they expect to deceive? They are known by the company they keep. Their labors will be duly appreciated hereafter by the people, in their futile attempt to raise to the ground a Democratic administration, to install in power such a vile band of conspirators; the defamers of the memory of Jefferson, Madison and Jackson, and the uncompromising opponents of their principles.

The worthy Conductor will please accept our thanks for his favor; the public official, our admiration for his happy effort in charcoal sketches, and the government, our congratulations on the acquisition of a public servant, whose genius reflects so much honor on his office.

EBENEZER W. HUNT, of Weymouth, in said County, Boat and Shoe Manufacturers, Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed Assignees in said case, and that the second meeting of the said Insolvent Debtor will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Office of John W. May, Esq., in Roxbury, in said County, on the fourth day of August next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. C. CONVERSE, Assignee.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

THE KNOW-NOTHING CONVENTION which met in Boston this week for the purpose of nominating State Officers appear to have had quite a stormy time of it. Governor Gardner was re-nominated as a candidate for the office of Governorship for 1857, but which wing of the party, the Republicans or Americans claim him,—we don't know, and further, we don't care.

Lord Brougham is now nearly eighty years of age, but his mind is clear and vigorous, and he is still taking an active part in the law reform.

A decision has recently been made by the Supreme Court of Alabama, by which every railroad, steamboat, or stage, is liable to the owner, of any slave absenting himself from his owner, who may be found travelling with them under any disguise or concealment.

The homestead of Hon. Samuel A. Turner, in South Scituate, (Mass.) has been occupied by six generations of the same family, from the first settlement of the town, in 1625.

A call has been issued for a Republican State Convention to nominate State officers, to meet in Faneuil Hall, in Boston, on the 27th August.—The American State Convention, it will be recollected, was held on the 24th of this month, in the same place.

Ex-President Martin Van Buren has written a strong letter in favor of Mr. Buchanan's election to the Presidency.

Minnesota has now one hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants, and intends to apply for admission into the Union at the next session of Congress.

It is said that the steamboat Lexington, which was burned in the Sound in 1837, had $100,000 on board, which has never been recovered. An effort is to be made to raise the treasure, if possible. The wreck lies in ninety feet of water, and the specie is in an accessible place.

The New York Independent, with which Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is connected, has come out for Freeman for President.

The Newburyport (Mass.) Herald says:—"Three quarters of all the mechanics in America are working themselves to death to pay for the follies of fashion for themselves and families."

Five thousand eight hundred and ninety-three persons visited the cupola of the State House, in Boston, between the 13th of June and the 14th of the present month, inclusive.

The New York Home Journal says:—Another bubble has broken by the recent development of the fact that the costly display of the Great Exhibition at London, for a few years back, has been hired from extensive jewellers for a reasonable amount.

The word "beech-nut" is a corruption of the word "beech-nut," the name formerly given to this grain from the resemblance of its kernel to the beech-nut. It is supposed to have originated in Asia, though this is uncertain. It is used for bread in China, and the East, but in Great Britain its main consumption has been in feeding horses and poultry.

Steamer Northern Indiana, from Buffalo for Toledo, was burnt on the 17th, and thirty or lives were lost. The fire originated in the wood work around one of the chimneys.

Martin Bryant, Esq., of Pembroke, (Mass.) is said to be the proprietor of fourteen cats, and spreads a table especially for their benefit.

Hon. Francis Hillard, Commissioner of Insolvency for Norfolk County, has appointed Erastus Worthington, Esq., of Dedham, Register of the Court, Mr. Foote, the gentleman first appointed by Mr. Hillard, having declined the appointment.

Marrriages.

In South Boston, on the 24th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Dean, Mr. CHARLES L. BOWERS of New York, to Miss LUCY PEELER of S. Boston.

The hymenial god has again invoked our service, to record his imperial edict, in the union of two, whom he had willed should no longer live asunder.

In discharging this duty, we congratulate our friends upon this happy event, and assure them they have our best wishes for innumerable blessings. That without a very great stretch of the imagination, we can picture to them a "Bower" of bliss, filled with innocent pledges of affection and love—the joy and solace of married life.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 19th inst., Miss Maria A. P. Boels, aged 53 years—after an illness of 10 years.

On the 24th inst., Capt. Elihu Thayer, aged 72 years.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss.

In Insolvency.

BEFORE Charles Endicott, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for said County of Norfolk.

In the matter of

EBENEZER W. HUNT,

of Weymouth, in said County, Boat and Shoe Manufacturers, Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed Assignees in said case, and that the second meeting of the said Insolvent Debtor will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Office of John W. May, Esq., in Roxbury, in said County, on the fourth day of August next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. C. CONVERSE, Assignee.

DAVID HUNT, Assignee.

Special Notices.

COME AND HEAR. The Rev. John H. W. Hawkins of Baltimore, an earnest and eloquent advocate of Temperance,—one of the earliest reformers—will address the Quincy Temperance Union, at the Town Hall, on FRIDAY EVENING next, commencing at 8 o'clock, precisely.

Per order,
LYSANDER S. RICHARDS, Secretary.
Quincy, July 26.

NOTICE. Americans that are in favor of Filmore and Donelson will meet at the Lyceum Room on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, at 8 o'clock, to choose delegates to attend a Convention to be held in Boston, on the 12th of August.

Come one, come all, as business of importance will come before the meeting.

Per order,
COMMITTEE.
Quincy, July 26.

NOTICE. Democrats and all others who may be in favor of forming a Keystone Club in this place, are respectfully invited to meet at the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, July 26th, at 8 o'clock. Let there be a general rally. Remember that an important crisis has arrived in our public affairs which requires the united council and action of all true friends of their country.

Per order,
Quincy, July 26.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.
E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.
EDWARD AVERY, Secretary.
Geo. W. BENTLEY, Secretary.
Boston, July 26.

A CARD.

The undersigned takes this public opportunity of tendering his most hearty thanks to the Fire Companies of Quincy, Weymouth and Weymouth and Braintree Squares for their noble exertions in saving their property from destruction by fire on the night of the 23d inst.

Though their efforts were in a great measure unsuccessful they are none the less appreciated.

To his neighbors and fellow-townsmen who were present and rendered substantial aid he desires also to express his obligations.

BENJ. V. FRENCH.
Braintree, July 26.

A CARD.

The subscribers take this opportunity to express their thanks to the Firemen and Citizens for their noble exertions in saving their property from destruction by fire on the night of the 23d inst.

THOMAS H. PLUMER,
MARSH, SPEAR & Co.
Quincy, July 26.

Wanted.

A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a North of Ireland Protestant—who can make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a Shop.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring.
Quincy, July 26.

List of Letters,

Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, July 1st, 1856.

Allen John T. Jones John D.
Adams J. H. Kennedy John
Atkinson Biny.

Brickborough Josiah
Blackborough William
Brackett W. Carawan
Byrne Thomas—2

Byrne Samuel
Benson Samuel
Beath Lydia
Banks Augustus
Briggs William O.
Bisner Theobald
Byrne Rose Ann
Bracken Mary

Cushing S. P.
Cook C. Melissa
Carr Sarah E. T.
Chase Moses R.
Crosby W. N. or any heir of the Estate
Chase Alexander J.

Denny James
Dehery Michael
Dana Albert
Dough Thomas S—2
Donahoe Thomas
Dimond James
Doughty John
Dunham George C.
D. A. F.
Driscoll Alexander

Emery A. F.

Frean William
Flint Margaret
French Joseph W.
Faulche Theodore

Gallagher Charles
Gordon Margaret
Gale C. C.
Galvin Patrick

Harding W. B.
Hudson A.
Hee J. Smith

Nightingale Ann
Neare John

Paine Susan
Pelleo T. L.
Pike Andrew J.
Perkins Enoch
Patterson Matthew Mrs.

Ryan Mary
Rardon J. G.
Ragen Edward
Read A. S. & A.
Roudan Cornelius
Reed W. C.
Read A.
Reardon Dennis
Reilly James
Reynolds Patrick

Savill Catherine M—2
Stevens Levi F.
Snooks Henry
Seaton Jeremiah
Stephens J.
Shaw N.
Sweetey Samuel

Wild Edward
Wise Daniel Rev.
Weston John
Welch Richard
Wiley A. L.
Wiley Lewlyn

JOHN A. GREEN, Postmaster.
Quincy, July 19.

Hats and Caps.

JUST received a few cases Molekin and Kos-suth Hats of the latest styles and of superior quality and finish.

Also—Men's, Boys' and Infants' Caps in great variety, and for sale very low by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, April 26.

Refrigerators!

Upright and Box Refrigerators for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, May 31.

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.
Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.
HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.
Quincy, July 26.

Wanted.

73 GIRLS to do kitchen and chamber work. Apply at the Intelligence Office on Washington Street of N. B. FURNALD.
Quincy, July 12.

Stone Quarry to Let.

The Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Curtis. Enquire at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street.
Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.
Quincy, July 19.

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. S. French's celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor.
Quincy, July 19.

The Misses Townsends

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake,

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK and SEA STREETS, where they will be prepared

ON AND AFTER TO-DAY,

(Sundays excepted),

to wait on those who may favor them with a call.

Quincy, July 19.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE copartnership heretofore existing under the firm of W. T. Burrell & Co., is this day, July 12th, 1856, dissolved by mutual consent. All persons indebted to the firm will make payment to Sargent L. Stoddard, who will pay all liabilities thereof presentment of claim.

SAERGENT L. STODDARD,
WATERMAN T. BURRELL.
Weymouth, July 19.

To Let.

Enquire of S. R. EDWARDS.
Quincy, July 12.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening,
(Sundays excepted)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

J. MARDEN.
Quincy, June 21.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whose loss he found the same and will have them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL.
Quincy, June 22.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by

Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three Ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. Joseph Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Enquire of DR. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of WM. G. APPLETON, near said premises.
Quincy, May 24.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, ss. Weymouth, June 14th, 1856. TAKEN on execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 28th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at my Office, in Weymouth, in said County, all the right in Equity which James T. Cleverly of Quincy had on the eighteenth day of January last, being the time when the same were taken, in means of process of redeeming, the following described mortgaged Real Estate, to wit:

One piece or parcel of Land in Quincy with the buildings thereon—standing, and bounded as follows, viz:—Easterly on a Street, Southerly on land of E. S. Chapin and others, Westerly on land of James Newcomb, and Northerly on land being the same premises he now occupies, and subject to a Mortgage to the Quincy Savings Bank.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff.
Quincy, July 12.

Kallistons, or Orient Water,

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also allays all tendency to inflammation from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season,) and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared only by Joseph Burnett, whose name is sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 21.

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3 50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES

at low prices on Washington Street by N. B. FURNALD.
Quincy, July 12.

To Let,

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place—for particulars inquire at this Office or of the Subscriber on the premises.
LEVI A. SLEEPER.
Quincy, July 5.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot (containing 75 sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable).

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.
 ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.
 ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES
 low prices on Washington Street by
 N. B. FURNALD.
 Quincy, July 12.

To Let,

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place—for permanent or temporary residence. The Subscribers on the premises.
 LEVI A. SLEPER,
 Quincy, July 5.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has erected above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.
 The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot and containing twenty, thirty and forty Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.
 There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.
 The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.
 Terms of Board—Fifty cents per day, including breakfast, and for the week, $3.25, washing included when not exceeding six pieces. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.
 Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded at the work or day.
 Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel in Washington Street, Quincy.
 JOHN T. GOUGH,
 Quincy, July 12.

To the Honorable County Commissioners.

THE undersigned Citizen of Milton respectfully represent that the public convenience and necessity require that the public road and way leading from the road known as the "Milton Meeting House" should be straightened and widened at the corner of land of Jason and Charlotte Wadsworth, and also that a nuisance should be abated, and the water should be directed by the water to the other, as it was wont to flow as your petitioners allege and respectfully request immediate examination of the same.
 And in duty bound will ever pray.
 SAMUEL ADAMS.
 Milton, June 23, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of June, A. D. 1856, on the Petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners meet at the Town House in said County of Norfolk, on the second day of August next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and there proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon.

And that on every day of said Petition with its order thereon be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Milton, three days at least before the day appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and like copies be posted up in some public place in said Quincy, at least three days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

Attest.
 EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
 July 12.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

WE, the subscribers, citizens of the Towns of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, respectfully petition your Honorable Board, by and on behalf of the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Road lying in said Quincy, as a public highway, according to the statutes in that behalf made and provided. And also to widen and straighten Hayward Street, in Quincy.
 JOSEPH H. WHITE, and 120 others.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners begun and held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the eighth day of July, A. D. 1856, by adjournment of the June Meeting next preceding.
 On the petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on TUESDAY, the twenty sixth day of August next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and there proceed to view the Road described in said petition, and hear and act thereon. And that an attested copy of said petition, with its order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Towns of Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree, and Weymouth Turnpike Corporation, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view. And also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view; and that like copies be posted up in some public place in said Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree, fourteen days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations, interested for or against said petition, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

Attest.
 EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
 July 19.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of
 LEWIS JOSEPH GLOVER,
 late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Physician, deceased, and has accepted said trust.
 And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to
 JOHN J. GLOVER, Administrator.
 Quincy, July 12.

Flower Seeds.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has just received a large assortment of Flower seeds warranted of last year's growth, some new and fine varieties, and also garden seeds, from different seed men.
 Quincy, April 12.

Parasols.

SIX Cartons Parasols, of the most desirable Styles and Colors, just received and for sale at very low prices by
 ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
 Quincy, May 2.

GREAT BARGAINS!

CLOTHING AND PIECE GOODS

Men's and Boys' Wear

—FOR—
 Town Hall Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that they have already on hand the largest and best assorted Stock of

READY MADE CLOTHING

ever opened in this county. Consisting of every kind of Garment made from goods of latest importation. To those who buy for cash, this presents a rare opportunity, as he intends to dispose of his entire stock within ninety days.
 Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods ever on hand.
 TERMS CASH AND CASH ONLY.
 Quincy, April 19.

Important Notice to Purchasers

CLOTHING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has given up the Millinery business, and has fitted up that department for

READY MADE CLOTHING,

which will consist in

MEN'S, YOUTH'S AND CHILDREN'S WEAR.

Particular attention will be paid to

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

I will assure the Public that if they will give me a call, they will find GOODS at prices which will ensure their sale.

Persons in want of CLOTHING, should lose no time in examining my Stock, which consists of a good assortment of every description.

Quincy, March 8.

New Tailoring Goods.

J. A. HOLDEN,

WOULD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has

Just replenished his Stock,

with a choice selection of Goods, suitable for

SPRING AND SUMMER

He invites the attention of such as expect punctuality and good workmanship, for cash only, such being his rule of business, and the reduced rates at which he sells, rendering any other mode of doing business of no advantage.

His clothes will always be made with his own skill, and which he boasts not of; leaving the garments made by his hands to ADVERTISE THE MISCELLANEOUS. Those standards to combine elegance with economy, will do well and wisely to favor him with a call.

Remember he is not to be undersold by any other establishment, style, quality and finish considered.
 Quincy, April 21.

LOOK OUT

Slop Clothing.

DO not lay sleep when you can get Custom Made Clothing at about the same price; how much nearer a suit of Clothes look when made to order; and what is more agreeable and beautiful than

A WELL FITTING GARMENT.

The undersigned would give notice to his friends and the public that he is now ready to introduce the

FASHIONS FOR GENTLEMEN'S DRESS

FOR THE

Spring and Summer of 1856

No pains has been spared to procure the best novelties in Fashion, Vest and Coat Stuffs, from the most celebrated fabricators of Gentlemen's Dress Goods in Europe and America.

It gives me pleasure to say that the styles for the coming season are more in accordance with good taste, than any goods which have been presented for several years.

Also a good assortment of

Youths' and Children's Garments,

a large variety of

HATS AND CAPS

and

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS

FOR SALE CHEAP.

Giving personal attention to the cutting department, garments will be warranted to give general satisfaction.

All who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call, and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere.
 D. D. RING,
 Opposite the Orthodox Church,
 Quincy, April 26.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!!

THE Subscriber having disposed of his entire stock of Dry Goods is now prepared to offer the BEST STOCK of

READY MADE CLOTHING!!

—FOR—

Gents' and Boys' Wear,

Ever offered in this vicinity, consisting in part of

FINE CLOTH FROCKS AND SACKS,

of the Latest Styles.

BUSINESS FROCKS AND SACKS;

PANTS, in great variety.

VESTS, in Silk, Satin, Cloth, Cashmere, Marcellines, &c.

BOYS' JACKETS AND PANTS,

together with

Overalls, Frocks, Striped Shirts,

&c. &c. &c.

FURNISHING GOODS,

in great variety, viz:

Shirts, Dickies, Cravats, Socks, Ties, Hosiery and Gloves.

—ALSO—

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS,UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, BOOTS, SHOES, ETC. ETC.

Custom Work.

The Custom Department (Joseph W. Lombard Cutter) is now complete in Broad Cloths, Black and Fancy Dressings, Cassimeres, Coating Cloths and Vestings, which will be made into Garments, at short notice, and Style, Fit and Workmanship guaranteed.

I would most respectfully invite my Friends and Customers to call and examine my stock of Goods to which I shall offer at the lowest possible prices for Cash.

GEORGE SAILL,
 Goodnow's Building,
 Cor. Hancock and Granite sts.
 Quincy, May 17.

Old Stand Opened Again!!

JOHN DINEGAN

WOULD respectfully return his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Quincy for the liberal patronage he has received for the last thirteen years, and at the same time would respectfully inform them that he

Has commenced business again at the Old Stand, where he has just received a

CHOICE SELECTION OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS,

which he will make up into Garments in the

Very latest style,

for all who may be disposed to favor him with their patronage.

Quincy, June 21.

T. Dodds,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

BEGS leave Respectfully to invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to an inspection of his

Stock of Goods,

which he will make to measure in the most approved manner and

Warrant them in Every Respect

SATISFACTORY.

Having had long experience in the Business, he feels assured of being able to suit the most fastidious.

He also keeps on hand an assortment of

READY MADE

CLOTHING,

made from the best material and in the best manner, which he will sell at a small advance over cost.

Clothing a little out of style sold very cheap, on Hancock street, opposite the Post Office.

Quincy, June 7.

Provision Store.

THE subscribers have just opened the stand, for many years occupied by the late Samuel Copeland, where they will endeavor to furnish customers with the best and rarest the markets afford.

The different kinds of

MEATS, POULTRY, VEGETABLES,

etc., on hand or promptly furnished to order.

Strict attention to business and a desire to merit and honestly deal with patrons will always claim our undivided attention, and we therefore respectfully solicit patronage.

Quincy, April 12.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he has established himself in business, on

Washington Street,

IN REAR OF STONE TEMPLE,

where he intends keeping a good supply of

Cook, Parlor and Office Stoves,

together with a general assortment of

TIN, BRITANNIA AND JAPANNED WARE.

All kinds of Job Work done with neatness and dispatch.

Old Iron, Copper, Brass, Lead, and Rags taken in exchange for ware.

He hopes by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage.

CHARLES F. PIERCE.
 Quincy, April 19.

Removal.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public that they have removed to the

SPACIOUS WAREHOUSE,

Nos. 283 and 285 Washington Street.

Where they offer

A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

OF

ENGLISH CARPETING,

To which they are constantly receiving additions by Steamers and Packets;

COMPRISING:

MEDALLIONS,

TOURNAIS,

RICH VELVETS,

AND TAPESTRY.

Three and five and six frame BRUSSELS &c.

Together with a large variety of

Medium and Low-Priced Goods.

—ALSO—

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN

Painted Floor Cloths!!

In every variety of widths, patterns and qualities.

JOHN H. PRAY, SONS & CO.,

Nos. 283 & 285 WASHINGTON ST.,
 A few doors south of Winter st.
 Boston, March 15

WM. P. TENNY & CO.,

Railroad Hall, Haymarket Square,
 BOSTON.

HAVE now in store, and will be constantly receiving throughout the season, from the principal and best manufacturers in England and America, EVERY

DESCRIPTION OF

CARPETS,

Desirable for furnishing

HOTELS, DWELLINGS AND SHIPS,

embracing

VELVET & BRUSSELS TAPESTRY,

BRUSSELS,

Three-Ply and Kidderminster,

Painted Carpets, Bookings, Matting, Rugs, &c.

Comprising

A very large assortment, all of which will be sold at the lowest market prices.

Boston, April 26.

Carpetings!

NOW is the time to make your selection of Carpets, as the subscriber has just received a large assortment which he will sell at very low prices.

Quincy, April 5.

CALEB PACKARD.

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE lot of Paper Hanging, Also—BORDERINGS, FIRE SCREENS and WINDOW SHADES just received by

CALEB PACKARD.
 Quincy, April 12.

REMOVAL

THE subscriber would respectfully inform her patrons, and the public generally, that she has removed her large assortment of

MILLINERY GOODS

from the room over John Briesler's store to

THE HOUSE OF CHARLES HALL,

ON HANCOCK STREET,

(THIRD DOOR FROM GEORGE SAILL'S STORE), where she will take pleasure in supplying the public with the latest styles of

SPRING AND SUMMER

GOODS

which consist in part of

COLLARS,

GLOVES,

HOSIERY,

MILKINS,

LAWNS, DRESS TRIMMINGS, &c.

Also—an extensive assortment of Mourning Articles kept constantly on hand.
 Bonnets bleached, colored and Altered in the best manner, by
 MRS. L. CLAPP,
 Quincy, April 5.

Not Removed!

BUT TAKEN

ADDITIONAL ROOMS

252 WASHINGTON ST.,
 BOSTON.

MRS. A. J. KENISON,

WOULD inform her friends and the public that she still continues the

MILLINERY BUSINESS.

Next Door to Union Store No. 179.

Where she will keep constantly on hand a good selection of Millinery Goods such as

BONNETS, FLOWERS, RIBBONS, &c.

of the latest styles at reasonable prices.

Particular attention devoted to

Grave Clothes and Mourning Goods.

Grave Clothes made from Flannel, Muslin, Lawn, &c., constantly on hand.

BONNETS

Colored, Cleaned and Pressed.

At 252 Washington street, upstairs, (Boston,) will be kept and made to order, a choice selection of

STRAW AND DRESS HATS.

Patterns for which will be received direct from New York. At which place they will be happy to receive a call from their friends.

The facilities of a shop in the City will give better advantages to customers at the Old Stand in Quincy, where orders are respectfully solicited.

A. J. KENISON.
 Quincy, April 19.

BOOTS AND SHOES!

AT THE Store of the subscriber, corner of Hancock and School streets may be found Boots and Shoes for

Ladies, Gents and Children,

IN GREAT VARIETY.

Also—Boot and Shoe Makers' FINDINGS, constantly on hand, together with various other kinds of

GOODS, BOTH FANCY AND USEFUL,

all of which will

BE SOLD LOW FOR CASH.

A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

A. E. Particular attention given to repairing Boots and Shoes, with Good Stock, and Fair Prices.

Quincy, May 21.

THOMAS REED.

BOOTS & SHOES.

New Arrangement—Cash Sales.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his patrons and the public that he is convinced that the time for large profits has passed, and that the only way to succeed is to sell at

Large Quantity of Goods

—AT A

VERY SMALL ADVANCE FOR CASH,

AND CASH ONLY.

I have now adopted this principle, by which I am enabled to increase my sales so that a small percentage makes

Poetry.

The Sailors' Saug Harbor.

The following poem was delivered by the Rev. Wm. P. Lunt, D. D., at the ceremonies attendant upon laying the corner stone of "The Sailors' Saug Harbor," in this town.

On this green headland, where in summer pride
Waits for her ocean lord his lovely bride,
And stretches far his neck, with amorous reach,
To invoke caresses on the lonely beach;
Fair commerce builds a home for those whose Hes fetched the golden fleece from foreign soil.

The neighboring mart, whose white-winged navies sweep
Through every zone that belts the boundless deep,
Divides a portion of her well-used gain
With those who reap the harvest on the main.

Here may the veteran mariner repose
When on his craft the late storm fiercely blows.
Here let him turn a port, and, furling sail,
Run for a harbor through the driving gale;
Here, rounding to, drop anchor near the shore,
And ride in safety till life's voyage is o'er.

From cape to cape search round our noble bay,
No lovelier sight than here can eye survey;
From yonder hill, when sunset's blazing sheen
Set in a golden frame the pictured scene,
Let the eye wander freely as it will,
Landward or seaward, all is beauty still.

The sachen of the bay, by Squamot's shore,
Held o'er his feathered warriors sway of yore
There stood his wigwam in the hammock's shade,
There the maize tassels with the breezes played;
There the red hunter chased his antlered game,
Thence Massachusetts took her honored name.

To fancy's eye these verdant tracks of land
Seem as the fingers of an outstretched hand;
The genius of the place here seems to greet
The sailor's sea wanderer to the coast retreat.
Here let them watch as on the neighboring strand
The brave ship grows beneath the builder's hand
Till all complete, she cleaves the yielding tide,
And walks the water with a graceful pride.
Here let them follow to the gates of day,
The trade fleets speeding on their outward way.

Or, in the offing, spy the distant sail,
Nearing the haven with propitious gale;
The clipper—white-robed lady of the main—
The sea-horse, sporting o'er the liquid plain;
The mighty Admiral, equipped for war,
Her hundred voices thundering ocean's law;
Or, better far, some Jamestown outward bound,
On cruise of mercy to a foreign ground;
Unshipped her battle-gear, with warm hearts manned,
Freighted with plenty for a starving land.

Such sights relieve the woe that shapes that lie
Crowded within the sailor's memory.
The mingled aspects of his life are here,
"The dreful spectacle of a wreck," the cry
Of the spent swimmer in his agony.

And when the ancient mariner shall see
The gloomy waters of eternity,
And in his mind, despairing leap below,
Call for a Pilot; shall he cheer him through—
Then may that form benign, whose power to save
Held trembling Peter steady in the wave,
Conduct the trusting soul in safety o'er,
To a "Saug Harbor" on the Heavenly Shore.

The New-Mown Hay.

Talk not to me of the southern bower,
Of odors breathed from tropic flowers,
Of spice trees after rain;
But of these sweets that freely flow
When June's fond breezes stir the low
Grass, heaped along the plain.

This morning stood the verdant spears,
All wet with diamond dew—the tears
By night serenely shed;
This evening, like an army slain,
They number the pacific plain
With their last fading dead.

And when they fall, and all around
Such perfumes in the air abound
As if long hidden hoards
Of sudden richness were unsealed,
When on the freshly trodden field
They yielded up their lives.

In idle mood I love to pass
These ruins of the crowded grass,
Or listlessly to lie,
Inhaling the delicious scents
Crushed from these downcast verdant tents,
Beneath the sunset sky.

It is pure delight, which they
Who dwell in cities, far away
From rural scenes so far,
Can never know, its lighted rooms,
Provided by exotic bloom—
This state of natural air!

This air, so softened by the breath
Exhaled and wafted from the death
Of herbs that simply bloom—
And scarcely noted, like the best
Dear friends with whom the world is blest,
Awaits the common doom—

And leave behind each sweet regret
And in our heart is living yet;
Though heroes pass away—
Talk not to me of southern bower,
Of odors breathed from tropic flowers,
But of the new-mown hay!

Anecdotes.

There was a ball at which one of the company danced till he was "blin' in." When in the early morning, he went to saddle his nag for home, he knew not what to make of a horse's head over which the bride would go; and when the tail-band came to be adjusted, he roared out to one of his cronies, "Loosh, Jack! this is no my powny, or the hair's 'fack' all her tail and yestern!" Jack, not quite so far gone as Wully, went to his assistance, and found him saddling a cow!

A runaway thief having applied to a blacksmith for work, the latter showed him a pair of handcuffs, and desired to know if he had such kind of work.

"Why, yes sir," said the fellow, scratching his head; "I have had a hand in them."

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50

Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.50
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.50
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " 3 " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " 1 " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " half " 7.00
" " 3 months " 4.00

TO BE CHARGED AT THE OPTION OF THE ADVERTISER, NOT OFFERED, HOWEVER, THAN ONCE A MONTH.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable, or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
Blossom & Easterner, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. L. Weston, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACOS, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PACKARD, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PRINSEY, N. Bridge Water Gazette.
WILLIAM BENT, Massachusetts Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.

Per order,
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACOS, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.
DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS,
Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.

Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' AND BOYS' Ready Made Clothing, AND FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would respectfully invite the attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality; Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicited call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Quincy, Dec. 3d.

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unpaired cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuritis—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c., and a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy, Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 8

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

HENRY A. RANSOM,
AUCTIONEER,
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.

Quincy, April 8.

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
--- HAS FOR SALE ---
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

--- ALSO ---
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
--- DEALER IN ---
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

--- ALSO ---
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short Notice.
(3) Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.

FOR SALE CHEAP!
AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.

1200 Window Blinds,
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.

Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, and CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass.

Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.

JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17.

Coal and Wood.
ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).

WE HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash EGG, STOVE AND NO. COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.

Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
Quincy, Nov. 10.

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24.

Eastern Brick.
JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAST-ERN BRICK.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12.

For the Teeth.
HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cammings' Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis' and Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3.

Doors.

Sashes,
Blinds,
Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also

Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,

Chap for Cash.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.

Quincy, Jan 5

Quincy Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000, CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, or at the office of the Agency in Boston, No. 12 Broker's Building.

PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER.

VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES.

SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERRIN,
LOUISA CONNOR, WM. S. THAYER,
WILLIAM P. DRAKE, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 19

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

PREPARED BY
Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;

TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;

SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;

DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Breck,
Gideon F. Thayer, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, Cohasset,
Albert Thompson, Solomon J. Beal,
Whitecomb Porter, South Hingham,
Stephen Bates, Alfred Loring,
William B. Duggan, North Bridgewater,
Thomas Curtis, Sumner A. Hayward,
Royal W. Turner, Barnstable,
South Braintree, Apollon Randall.

References, by permission:
HON. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
HON. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
HON. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
HON. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1.

FAIRBANKS'
CELEBRATED
S C A L E S ,
of every variety,
31 Kilby Street, --- Boston.

GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.
A full assortment of all kinds of weighing apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in any part of the country.

Boston, Feb. 2

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease.

An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of fraud. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of the one complaint will cure the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourburn of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

FOR A FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is so weak.

FOR SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will naturally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients' duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all of the unclean diseases of the skin, because it is a system wants cleansing.

TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which are the seeds of innumerable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is the cause of indigestion, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom of obstruction of the liver, and the bile is forced into the stomach, causing the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or inability to sleep, and sometimes great distress, sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, bilious diarrhea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them in 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DYSURIC PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
MRS. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 28.

Rats and Mice.
LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER.—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without poison.

Parson's and Warner's CAT EXTERMINATOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 20.

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6.

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, STOVE, Nut and Egg COAL for sale at $8.00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9.

New Medicines.
DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup. Hayes's Heart Corrector.

Just received and for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17.

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache
DR. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills.
DR. HOOFLAND'S German Balm Pills.
DR. EASTMAN'S Celebrated SICK HEADACHE REMEDY. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28.

Tooth Ache!
TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an instantaneous and permanent cure without the use of steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.

Quincy, Dec. 24.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Grits, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broom, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Bells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington at rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1.

For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat and Lungs; such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, &c. It is also an invaluable remedy for Children suffering with the Whooping Cough or Croup. For all the above complaints this remedy stands unequalled. It is purely a Vegetable Compound, perfectly safe, and not unpleasant to the taste. No family will be without it after having tested its merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. STONE & Co., No. 28 Cornhill Street, Lowell, Mass. Sold Wholesale and Retail by BURN & PERRY, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Dec 15.

Toys and Fancy Articles.
BY calling at Dr. MARDEN'S, corner of HANCOCK and GRANT STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES.

Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, Sleighs—Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, Nine Pins, Top, Rattles, Whistles, Fireworks, Christmas Toys, &c. &c. &c. Fancy Baskets, Kaleidoscopes, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c., &c., and all reduced to prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Election.

Quincy, Nov. 18.

DR. LAROCK, a celebrated Indian, has discovered a combination of four kinds of common Roots and Herbs, a remedy

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1856.

NUMBER XXXI.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSEPH H. BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
New York City, FREEMAN HUNT.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

From Sharpe's London Magazine.

All for the Best.

I do not think there could be found in the three kingdoms a blither old maid than Miss Millicent Ome, otherwise aunt Milly, for so she was universally called by her nephews and nieces, first, second and third cousins—ay, even by many who could not boast the smallest tie of consanguinity. But this sort of universal auntship to the whole neighborhood was by no means disagreeable to Miss Milly, for a very little body she had a large heart, of a most India-rubber nature; not indeed as the simile is used, in speaking of female hearts, that "power break—but always stretch." But Miss Milly's heart possessed elastic nature in the best sense—namely, that it ever found room for new occupants; and, moreover, it was remarkable for its quality of effacing all unkindness or injuries as easily as India-rubber removes pencil-marks from paper.

Aunt Milly—I have some right to call her so, being her very own nephew, Godfrey Estcourt—was an extremely little woman. She had pretty little features, pretty little hands and feet, a pretty little figure, and always carried with her a little work bag, in whose mysterious recesses all the children of the neighborhood loved to dive, seldom returning to the surface without some pearl of price, in the shape of a lozenge or a sugar plum. Her dress was always neat, rather old-fashioned perhaps, but invariably becoming; her soft, brown hair—it really was brown still—lay smoothly braided under a tiny cap; her white collar was very snowy; indeed aunt Milly's whole attire seemed to have the amazing quality of never being worn, soiled, or dusty, but always fresh and new. Yet she was not rich, as every one knew; but her little income was just enough to suffice for herself. She lived in a nut-shell of a house, with the smallest of small hand-maidens; indeed every thing about aunt Milly was on the diminutive scale. She did not abide much at home, for she was everywhere in request—at weddings, christenings, &c. And to her credit be it spoken, aunt Milly did not turn her feet from the house of mourning—She would weep with those that wept, yet somehow or other she contrived to infuse hope amidst despair. And in general her blithe nature converted all life's minor evils into things not worth lamenting about.

Every one felt that aunt Milly's entrance into their doors brought sunshine. She was a sunbeam in herself; there was cheerfulness in her light step, her merry laugh; the jingling of the keys in her pocket, dear little soul! was musical. She had a word of encouragement for all, and had an inclination to look on the sunny side of every thing and every body. No one was more welcome in mirthful days, no one more sought for in adversity, for she had the quality of making the heaviest trouble seem lighter; and her un-failing motto was, "All happens for the best."

All my schoolboy disasters were deposited in aunt Milly's sympathizing ear; and when I grew up I still kept to the old habit. I came to her one day with what I considered my first real sorrow; it was the loss, by a sudden failure of a country bank of nearly all of the few hundreds my poor father had laid up for me. My sad news had travelled before me, and I was not surprised to see aunt Milly's cheerful face really grave as she met me with, "My dear boy, I am very sorry for you. It is the greatest misfortune I should have," I cried. "I wish that wretched Charles—"

"Don't wish him anything worse than he has to bear already, poor man, with his large family," said aunt Milly, gently. "But do you know all I have lost. That—Laura—"

"And I stopped, looking I doubt not, very miserable, and possibly very silly. 'You mean to say, Godfrey, that since, instead of having a little fortune to begin the world with, you have hardly anything at all, Miss Laura Ashton will not consider that her engagement holds. I expected it.'"

"Oh, aunt Milly, she is not so mean as that, but we were to have been married in two years and I could have got a share in Motlake's office, and we should have been so happy! All that is over now. Her father says we must wait, and Laura is to be considered free. Life is nothing to me! I will go to America—or shoot myself."

"How old are you Godfrey?" asked aunt Milly, with a quiet smile that rather annoyed me.

"I will be twenty next June," I said. Young people always put their age in the future tense: it sounds better.

"It is now July, so that I can call you nineteen and a month. My dear boy, the world must be a horrible place indeed, for you to grow tired of it so soon. I would advise you to wait a little while before you get so very desperate."

"Aunt Milly," I said, turning away, "it is easy for you to talk—you were never in love."

A shadow passed over her bright face, but aunt Milly did not answer my allusion.

"I do not think any boy of nineteen is doomed to be a victim to loss of fortune or hopeless love," she said after a pause. "My dear Godfrey, this will be a trial of your Laura's constancy, and your own patience and industry. Depend upon it, all will turn out for the best."

"Oh!" I sighed, "you talk very well, aunt Milly; but what can I do?"

"I will tell you. You are young, clever, and have been for two years in a good profession. It will be your own fault if you do not rise in the world. Every man is in a great measure, the architect of his own fortunes; and where, as in your case, the foundation of a good education is laid, so much the easier is it to raise the superstructure."

"You may yet be a rich man by your own exertions, the best of fortunes is self-earned."

This was the longest and greatest speech I had ever heard from Aunt Milly's lips. Its truth struck me forcibly, and I felt ashamed of having so soon succumbed to the disaster; it seemed cowardly, and unworthy the manly dignity of nearly twenty years. Aunt Milly with true feminine tact, saw her advantage, and follow it up.

"Now as to your heart troubles, my dear nephew. To tell the truth, I hardly believe in boyish love; it is often so much of dream, and so little of reality. Do not be vexed, Godfrey, but I should not be surprised if, five years hence you tell me how fortunate it was that this trial came. Men rarely see with the same eyes at nineteen and twenty-five."

"Doubt that the stars are fire,
Doubt that the sun doth move,
Doubt truth to be a liar,
But never doubt I love."

"Ah, aunt Milly, what a cheerful heart you have! But trouble never comes to you, as it does to other people."

"You are a little mistaken for once, Godfrey. By Sharpe's failure I have lost every farthing I had in the world."

I was struck dumb with surprise and regret. Poor, dear aunt Milly! when she was listening to my lamentations, and consoling me, how little did I know that she was more unfortunate than myself! And yet she never complained nor desponded, but smiled—a little sadly, perhaps—and said she knew even this disaster was all for the best, though she could not see it at the time. She calmly made preparations for quitting her pretty home, confided her little handmaid to one cousin, in whose kitchen the tidy Rachel was gladly admitted, gave her few household pets to another, and prepared to brave the wide world. Some unfeeling people forgot aunt Milly in her trouble; but the greater part of her family circle proved how much they esteemed and valued her. Some asked her to visit them for a month, three months, a year,—indeed, had she chosen, aunt Milly might have spent her life as a passing guest among her friends; but she was too proud to do any such thing.

At last a third or fourth cousin—a widower of large fortune—invited Miss Milly to reside at his house as chaperon to his two daughters, young girls just growing up into womanhood. This proposal, kindly meant, was accepted.

Aunt Milly set forward on her long journey, for Elphinstone Hall was some hundred miles off—a formidable distance to one who had never been a day's journey from her own home; now, alas, hers no more! Still neither despondency nor fear troubled her blithe spirit, as little Miss Milly set out with her valorous nephew; for I had pleaded so earnestly my right to be her squire to Mr. Elphinstone's door, that the concession was yielded at last.

Of the gloomy-looking old avenue that ever led to baronial hall, the one we passed being pretty in May, but on a wet day in October it was most melancholy. Poor aunt Milly shivered as the wind rustled in the trees, and the dead leaves fell in clouds on the top of the postchaise. We alighted, and entered a hall equally as lugubrious, and not much warmer than the avenue. The solemn old porter was warming his chilled hands at the tiny fire; he and the house were in perfect keeping—dreary, dull and melancholy. The master was much in the same style; a tall black figure, with a long face and neckcloth, was the personified idea left behind by Mr. Elphinstone. When he was gone, I earnestly entreated aunt Milly to return with me, and not stay in this desolate place but she refused.

"My cousin seems kind," she said: "he looked and spoke as though he was glad to see me." (I was too cold to hear or see much certainly, but I declare I did not notice this very friendly reception.) "My dear Godfrey," aunt Milly continued, "I will stay and try to make a home here; the two girls may be amiable, and then I shall soon love them at all events, let us hope for the best."

My hopes for poor aunt Milly all vanished into thin air when, at the frigid dinner-table, where the very estates seemed made of stone, I saw two young ladies of fifteen or thereabouts; one, the wildest and rudest hoyden that ever disgraced female habits; the other, a pale stooping girl, with sleepy blue eyes, and lank, fair hair, who never uttered a word, nor once lifted her eyes from the table cloth.

"What will become of poor aunt Milly?" I thought internally. Yet there she was, as cheerful as ever, talking to that solemn old kinsman, Mr. Elphinstone; listening patiently to the lava flood of Miss Louisa's tongue; and now and then speaking to Miss Euphemia, whose only answer was a nod of the head, or a stare from her immense blue eyes. Well! I mentally ejaculated, aunt Milly's talent for making the best of everything will be called into requisition here, I suspect."

Nevertheless, when we parted, she assured me that she was quite content; that she would no doubt be comfortable at the hall.

"But those two dreadful girls, how will you manage them, aunt Milly?" and a faint vision of a tall, stout Louisa going in a passion and knocking my poor little aunt off her chair, came across my mind's eye.

"Poor things! they have no mother to teach them better. I am sorry for them; I was a motherless child myself," said aunt Milly, softly. "They will improve by-and-by; depend upon it Godfrey, all will turn out well for both you and me."

"Amen!" said I, in my heart; for I thought of my own Laura. How different she was from the Misses Elphinstones! And the image of my beloved eclipsed that of desolate aunt Milly, I fear before I had travelled many miles from the Hall.

Aunt Milly's epistles were not very frequent; for, like many excellent people, she disliked letter-writing, and only indulged her very particular friends with a few lines now and then, in which she fully acted up to the golden rule, "If you have anything to say, say it; if nothing—why, say it too!" Thus my information how matters were going on at Elphinstone Hall was of very slender nature. After several months had rolled by, chance led me into the neighborhood, and I surprised aunt Milly with a visit from her loving nephew.

It was early spring and a few peeping primroses brightened the old avenue. Underneath the dining-room windows was a gay bed of purple and yellow crocuses, which I thought bore tokens of aunt Milly's care; she was always so fond of flowers. I fancied the Hall did not look quite so cheerful as before; the bright March sunbeams enlivened though they could not warm it. In a few moments appeared aunt Milly herself, not the least altered, but as lively and active as ever.

She took me into her little sitting-room, and told me how the winter had passed with her. It had been rather a gloomy one, she acknowledged; the girls were accustomed to run wild; Louisa would have her own way; but then she was easily led by her own, and her nature frank and warm. Phenice, the pale girl, who had been delicate from the cradle, but—(oh, what a blessing these but are sometimes!)—but then she was so sweet and gentle. I own when I again saw the young damsel, thus leniently described by aunt Milly, I did not perceive the marvellous change: Louisa seemed nearly as talkative, and her sister as nearly insipid, as ever; still there was a slight improvement even to my eyes, and I gladly allowed aunt Milly the full benefit of that loving glamour which was cast by her hopeful creed and sweet disposition.

"But now, Godfrey, how fares it with you?" said my good aunt. "How is Laura? and how are you getting on in the world?"

I could give but a melancholy answer to these questions; for I had to work hard, and law was a very dry study. Besides, many people looked coldly on me after they knew I was poorer than I had been; and even Laura herself was not so frank and kind. Vague jealousies were springing up in my heart for every smile she bestowed elsewhere; and the smiles were not a few. I was, in truth, far from happy; and so I told aunt Milly, adding, "If Laura does not love me, I don't care what becomes of me."

Aunt Milly smiled, and then looked grave. "My dear Godfrey, if Laura married to-morrow, you would recover in time."

"No, never! to lose the girl I love, is to lose everything in the world."

"It may be you do not know what real love is, my dear nephew. The strength and duration of a man's attachment depends chiefly upon the character and disposition of the woman he loves. For your Laura—but we shall see. Once more, have a good courage; work hard at your profession and grieve as little about Laura as you can. If she ever did love you, she does so still, and will as long as you keep constant to her, otherwise she is not worth the winning."

I did not see aunt Milly's theory; but I said no more; my heart was too sore. She took me over the house and grounds; both looked cheerful under the influence of soft spring; and then she told me how kind Mr. Elphinstone was, and how he had gradually weaned from his solitary life to take pleasure in the society of his daughters.

"And I hope he is grateful to you, who have made it all endurable?" I said.

Aunt Milly smiled, "Yes I believe he is, but I have only done what I ought; the girls both love me dearly, and it is sufficient regard to see them improved."

I did not see Mr. Elphinstone, but I earnestly hoped the solemn, coldly polite, middle-aged gentleman had shared in the general amelioration and reform effected by the cheerful hearted Miss Milly.

Months had glided into years ere I again saw aunt Milly. Everything had changed with me; from a boy I had grown a man, from trying to struggling with the world. I had followed aunt Milly's advice, and had begun to reap the fruit of it, in the good opinion of those whose opinion was worth having. I had proved also the truth of her old saying, "How sweet the bread of one's own earning!"

Another of her prophecies, alas! had come but too true. Laura Ashton had married; but I was not her husband—a richer man stole the jewel of my boyhood's fancy; but—and this was the saddest to bear—not before I had found it to be a false pearl, unworthy my manhood's wearing. But I will not speak of this; in spite of aunt Milly's sage speeches, no one can quite forget his first love.

When I next visited Elphinstone Hall, it was in the golden days of midsummer. I thought I had never beheld a more lovely place. The old trees were so bowerly and full of leaves; the grassy lawn so very green; the flower-garden so bright with blossoms. Age and youth were not more different than the ancient cheerless Hall of former times and the beautiful spot I now looked upon. Even aunt seemed to share the general rejuvenescence. The two years which had changed me so much, had not made her look a day older. She had the same clear, fresh, cheerful face and neat little figure; but perhaps a little rounder, the result of a happy life and few cares. Her dress was as tasteful as ever, but not quite so precise and it was of richer materials. She wore, too, various handsome articles of jewelry; remarkable circumstance for unpretending aunt Milly. I thought her pupils must be very generous in presents.

We had not sat talking long when a very graceful girl crossed the lawn to the French window of aunt's room.

"I will come soon; go and take your walk, Phenice dear," said my aunt.

Wonder of wonders! I could that beautiful fair face and golden ringlets which I saw through the open window belong to the lackadaisical Miss Euphemia of old? I absolutely started from my chair.

"You don't mean to say, aunt, that that lovely girl is Miss Elphinstone?"

"Most certainly," said aunt laughing heartily—her own musical laugh.

"Well, if I ever saw such a transformation! You are as much a fairy as Cinderella's godmother."

"Not at all; I only did as a gardener does with half cultivated ground; I pulled up the weeds, and nurtured the flowers. As for Phenice's beauty, I never thought her ugly, though you were too much occupied with your disgust at the place to perceive that she had a fair skin and pretty features. I have only made the best of what I found."

"And how has Miss Louisa turned out in your hands?" I asked, smiling.

"Look at her; she is coming up the avenue on horseback."

And a very graceful, fearless horsewoman

the quendam hoyden seemed; her wildness was subdued into sprightliness; and not unladylike manners; in short, Louisa had become what many men would admire, a fine, lively girl.

"Why, aunt," I said, "you must have grown quite attached to these girls; it will be really painful for you to leave them."

"I do not think of leaving them very soon," said aunt Milly, casting down her eyes, and playing with her gold watch chain, while a faint rosy blush, deepening on her still fair cheeks, and a scarcely perceptible smile hovering round her mouth was distinctly visible.

"Indeed!" said I, inquiringly.

"Yes; Mr. Elphinstone is very kind; he does not wish me to go; the girls love me very much; and my cousin—"

"Follows his daughters' good example!" I cried at last arriving at the truth. "Well, I don't see how he could possibly help it; and so aunt, I wish you joy."

Aunt mattered something in return, blushed as prettily as a girl of fifteen, and at last fairly ran out of the room.

"After all, everything was for the best!" thought I as I attended the quiet wedding of Mr. E. and his second wife—loved and loving sincerely; though to both the affection was but the Indian summer of their lives. He did not look half so grave and austere as I fancied, and really was a very noble looking man, in spite of his half century; and if his winning little wife trod only ten years behind in the road of life, why, I have seen many older looking birds who were not thirty by the church register. After all, what matter years when the heart is still young? They both died right in marrying, and the Indian summer shined peacefully on them still.

I have nothing more to add, except that I have been for these two years a married man myself; and therefore fully sympathized with aunt Milly's keeping of her seventh wedding anniversary last week.

I may just mention, en passant, that I really call her aunt now, happening to be her son-in-law as well as nephew. Perhaps, to clear all mysteries, I had better confess that my wife has fair hair, sweet blue eyes, and that her name is Euphemia.

Patience with Children.

One of the great prerequisites for the successful training of children, at home or in the school-room, is Patience. Every teacher, whether the mother or an hireling, will find her labors made easy by the constant exercise of this cardinal virtue. If they let patience have its perfect work in their own hearts, it will be visible in all their conduct, and exert a salutary influence upon the minds of the young, in whose future well being they feel a deep interest.

There may be hours when, perplexed with care and worn out with undeliberate mother may feel the risings of impatience in her heart; but let her not give to this baneful emotion, but nip it in the bud before its fruits become visible in acts of which she may afterwards bitterly repent. Let no unkind word or hasty blow be given in anger, lest the remembrance of it should prove a poisoned arrow to their bleeding heart, when those loving eyes are closed in death, and the head which nestles on her bosom is pillow in the grave.

Children are won by kinds words; cross looks and harsh tones deter them from seeking our sympathy or giving us their confidence. The mother or teacher should regard the sports of childhood as a blessing, join in their innocent amusements, and draw from thence some useful lesson for their future consideration. They should learn to look up to her as a friend in whom they can confide, who will bear patiently with their childish follies, and in kindness seek to improve whatever may be amiss in their manners or morals.

But should they turn a deaf ear to her teachings, and scorn her instructions, seeming inclined to follow the evil prompting of a sinful and perverse heart she has then need of a double portion of patience to support her in this great trial, and enable her at last to overcome evil with good, and bring them, by the force of precept and example, to walk in wisdom's pleasant ways. Be kind, be firm and patient, and hope on till the desired result is obtained.

Reanimation of Drowned Persons.

D. Hall, an eminent physician of London, has just given to the world the results of a series of investigations on Asphyxia, or the suspended animation resulting from immersion in water, which are interesting in the highest degree, and if in the hands of others, found to be effectual, will revolutionize the entire method of treating persons found drowned. He objects to the practice of seeking to restore animation by elevating the temperature of the body by hot blankets and hot appliances. The suspended animation in the case of drowning arises from two distinct causes: first, a want of the air usually received in the process of respiration; and second, a retention of carbonic acid gas in the lungs, and its final permeation in the blood vessels. This permeation produces a poison capable of disorganizing the blood, and producing death from this cause alone, and is increased by heat and heated applications.

Dr. Hall has pointed out one impediment to the restoration of this function, which has heretofore escaped notice. This is the falling back of the tongue across the top of the glottis, or entrance into the wind-pipe. The first step in Dr. Hall's process is to remove this difficulty by placing the patient upon his face and breast, instead of his back as is usually done. The body is then turned slowly upon its side, and returned as slowly to its first position upon its breast and face. This motion, whose effects is to cause a considerable amount of air in the lungs to be expelled and re-inspired, is to be kept up until breathing is restored or all hopes of resuscitation from this source are abandoned.

"Nothing," says Dr. Hall, "can exceed the beauty of this life giving, (if life can be given) this breathing process."

Cousin James and Cousin Thomas.

James Brown was born at a farm-house. He had not seen a town or a city when he was ten years old.

James Brown rose from his bed at six in the morning during the summer. The men and boys of a farm-house rise much sooner than that hour, and go to their daily work. Some yoke the oxen to the plough, some bring the horses in from the field, some mend the hedges, some manure the land, some sow seed in the ground, and some plant young trees. Those who have the care of the sheep, and who are called shepherds take their flocks from the fold, and lead them to their pastures on the hills, or in the green meadows by the running brook. The maids meanwhile haste to milk the cows, then churn the butter, put the cheese into the cheese-press, clean their dairy, and feed the pigs, geese, turkeys, ducks, and chickens.

James Brown did not work in the fields, so when he rose from his bed, his care was to wash his face and hands, to comb and brush his hair; and when these things were done, and he had said his morning prayers, he went with his father about the farm, or weeded the garden.—Garden-work was very proper for a boy of his age and size.

James had a cousin named Thomas, and Thomas Brown once came to pay James a visit. The two boys were very glad to see each other, and Thomas told James of the famous city of London, where he lived. He spoke of the spacious paved streets, crowded all day by throngs of people, and lighted at night by rows, on each side of the way, of glass lamps. He told him of the fine toy shops, where all kinds of playthings for children are sold: such as bats, balls, kites, marbles, tops, drums, trumpets, ships, wheelbarrows, shuttles, dolls, and baby-houses. And of other great shops, where linens, muslins, silks, laces, and ribbons fill the windows, and make quite a gay picture to attract the passers by.

He described also the noble buildings, and the great river, with its fine arched bridges, built of stone. He spoke of the immense number of boats, barges and vessels that sail and row upon the Thames, and of the great stores of goods at anchor there, which bring ships that lie at anchor at all parts of the world. He told him of the King's palace, and the Queen's palace, of the park, and the al, with the stately swans that are seen swimming on it.

Nor did he forget to describe St. Paul's Church with its fine choir, its lofty dome and cupola, and its curious whispering gallery, where a whisper, breathed to the wall on one side, is carried round by the echo, and the words are heard distinctly on the opposite side of the gallery. He spoke also of Westminster Abbey, that fine old Gothic building, which contains a great number of monuments erected there to keep alive the remembrance of the acts of great and wise men.

He likewise told James of the Tower of London, which is always guarded by soldiers, and in one part of which he had seen lions, tigers, a wolf, a spotted panther, a white Greenland bear, and other wild beasts, with many sorts of monkeys.

Thomas talked very fast on these subjects, and as James, who had never seen any thing of the kind was quite silent, and seemed as much surprised as pleased with all that he heard, Thomas began to think his cousin was but a dull, stupid sort of a boy. But the next morning, when they went out into the fields, he found that James had as much knowledge as himself, though not of the same kind. Thomas knew not what from barley, nor oats from rye; nor did he know the oak tree from the elm, nor the ash from the willow. He had heard bread was made

Apothecary Store.

MR. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and Prepared Barley, Farina, Grounds, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Belles, Patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitts, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Larders always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

He is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other cities. Washington at, rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1. 45¢

BRING RELIEF
G. W. STONE'S
COUGH ELIXIR.

For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, such as Croup, Hoarseness, Consumption, Whooping Cough, Asthma. It is also an invaluable remedy for Children and the aged. It is a purely Vegetable Compound, perfectly safe, and not injurious to the Stomach. No family will be without it after having tested the merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. Stone & Co., No. 28 Corn Street, Lowell, Mass. Sold Wholesale and Retail by DURR & FERRY, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Dec 15 45¢

Toys and Fancy Articles.

BY calling at DR. MAIDEN'S, corner of Hancock and Green Streets, you will find a splendid assortment of TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES, such as Balls, Horrors, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Waggons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, Sleighs—Villages, Military Companies, Dining Saloons, Tea Sets, New Toys, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Clarinets, Trumptets, Harmoniums, Harmonicas—Fairy Glass Boxes, Fancy Baskets, Rabbit-cages, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Trampolines, &c., &c., &c., and a splendid variety of a natural as well as the most artistic and elegant.

Quincy, Nov. 18 45¢

DR. LAROCK'S, a celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of four kinds of common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that will cure the most obstinate cases of CROUP, ASTHMA, and all cases where the lungs are inflamed, swollen, and effused with mucus, and sufficient to suffocate the life, and even destroy the system, by a natural as well as the most artistic and elegant.

Quincy, Nov. 18 45¢

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap by DANIEL RANTER & Co.
Quincy, March 23 45¢

For the Complexion.

FORBES'S Orange Flower Lotion, For the Face, and a Thousand Disorders, Milk and Rose, Ammoniac for Tan and Sunburn, &c., &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 7 45¢

Fruits.

FRESH Lemons, Oranges and Figs; also Dates, Figs, Tamarinds, Etc's Apples, &c., &c. For sale by DR. MARDEN'S.
Quincy, Feb. 10 45¢

Just Received.

MR. BARNES'S Cream of Beauty, for the complexion. It gives softness and hue of gold to the skin, radically cures freckles, pimples, tan, sunburn and all cutaneous affections. At one-half price, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Oct. 27 45¢

Soaps and Perfumes.

CHOCOLATE Soaps and Perfumes, and various other articles for the Toilette.
Glenn's Pearl Powder; Harrison's Magnolia Balls; Shond's Lily White; Scott's Gray and Black Ball; Chumey's Soap; in neat cases for carrying, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, March 11 45¢

House Paper.

NOW is the time for PAPERING all those who want well do well to call at the Store corner of Hancock and Granite streets, where they will find a good assortment of House Paper, which is selling much below the usual prices, by
GEO. SAVILL, Goodnow's Building.
Quincy, April 26 45¢

China Vases.

A fine assortment of new and desirable patterns of China Vases, just received by
Quincy, March 15 45¢

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 12 45¢

Butter! Butter!!

30 TO 40 tubs of first rate DAIRY BUTTER, for sale cheap or cash by
D. RANTER & Co.
Quincy, Oct. 29 45¢

Delight's Spanish Larders.

corn, but he had never seen it threshed in a barn from the stalks, nor had he ever seen a mill grinding it into flour. He knew nothing of the manner of making and baking bread, of brewing malt and hops into beer, or of the churning of butter. Nor did he even know that the skins of cows, calves, bulls, horses, sheep and goats were made into leather. James perfectly knew these and many other things of the same nature; and he willingly taught his cousin to understand some of the arts that belong to the practice of husbandry.

These friendly and observing boys, after this time, met always once a year, and they were eager in their separate stations to acquire knowledge, that they might impart it to each other at the end of the twelvemonth. So that Thomas, while living in a crowded city, gained a knowledge of farming and all that relates to a country life; and James, though dwelling a hundred miles from London, knew all the curious things that it contained.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, August 2d, 1856.

HOUSTON MASTER, OF NO SECRET ARE WE.

MEETING. It seems Quincy is again to be deluged with seagoing gales, barrels, black-legs, thieves, and scoundrels, of every degree. No one would deny an obituary to the soldiers—they need it. But why consult the convenience of the base mob that accompany them on the days of their display? They are as bad as the sailor rabble that keep company with hostile armies. Why should the sewers of moral corruption in Boston be poured out upon Quincy year after year? Why not turn the filthy tide upon Dorchester and Weymouth? We have had enough—more than our share. It is no use to talk, however, we suppose. The command has been given and we must obey. Let every one look up his lock and key; make fast his hen coops, and gather his unripe potatoes and corn, and take home his loose rats and geese.

While we thus speak of the abuses of military parades and encampments, perhaps inseparable from them, we desire to express our high admiration for the citizen soldiers of Massachusetts and the spirit de corps that distinguishes them. No state in the Union has such a force of well disciplined soldiers. We take pride in them. "The true grandeur of nations," is all a humbug. We rejoice that our neighbor and friend Packard has been promoted to the privilege and honor of a Colonel—the former being full equal to the latter. We know Col. Packard and have known him from his boyhood. He is a gallant man and a man of "fight" should the country require his services.

Mr. Glover, who succeeds the Colonel as Captain of the Guards, was born for the place. His father was long the Commander of the Quincy Infantry, and still cherishes a martial spirit. The Guards were well spoken of last year, and they will never otherwise be mentioned we hope.

FREEMONT CLUB OF QUINCY. A meeting of the citizens of Quincy favorable to the election of John C. Fremont to the Presidency of the United States, was held in the Town Hall, Monday evening, July 28, 1856, for the purpose of forming a Fremont Club, which was done by the adoption and signing a Constitution, prepared and presented by a Committee chosen at a previous meeting, and by the election of the following persons as officers of the Club.

President: George L. Gill.
Vice Presidents: Francis M. Johnson, Wymann Abernethy, William S. Morton.
Recording Secretary: Edwin W. Marsh.
Corresponding Secretary: Henry Walker.
Treasurer: Louis Congdon.
Finance Committee: John Quincy Adams, Samuel Thomas, Jr., Leonard Baxter, William W. Baxter, Francis C. Badger, James Bradford.

Adjourned to Tuesday Evening August 12.

LIGHTNING. Several small clouds passed over Quincy on Tuesday, emitting lightning with a perfect looseness. Less lightning and more rain, if you please, when you return, measure clouds. The electric fluid ran over the telegraph wires, on Washington street, the distance of thirty rods, hitting the heads of some twenty posts, after the manner of Brooks. It also struck the dwelling house of Mr. Levi B. Joseph and shivered the frame timbers and did other damage.

POLITICAL. The preparations for the approaching Presidential campaign, it will be seen are fast being consummated. The Fremont party, the first in the field, have formed a Club and perfected their organization; next follows the friends of Fillmore, who have also organized, and are arranging the preliminaries for a fair and honorable fight; and last, though not least, the old time-honored Democratic party, whose heavy and measured tread is heard in the distance, approaching the field of contest. She has gallantly thrown her flag to the breeze, with the thirty-one stars emblazoned thereon, ready to give and receive hard blows in defence of the Constitution and the Union. See in another column their notice for a meeting.

CHARLES SCHNER. This distinguished gentleman has not yet recovered from the effects of the assault inflicted by Col. Brooks. His friends apprehend he will never recover and become himself again. He has left the seaside and gone to the mountains that he may inhale its refreshing and bracing air. We do not believe there is a man in the country who does not wish his speedy restoration to health and strength and to his place in the Senate.

DROWNED yesterday forenoon, in the canal near Mr. White's Lumber yard, a son of Mr. Charles Gallagher, between four and five years of age. He was on a stick of timber, which lay in the water, from which he slipped and was unable to recover himself. Unfortunately no one was present when the accident happened, and it was some fifteen minutes before his situation was discovered, and then nearly an hour before the body was recovered on account of the tide carrying it in a different direction from the one in which the search was at first made.

Mr. Gallagher is an industrious and worthy citizen, and we sincerely sympathize with him in his bereavement.

FOR GOVERNOR.—H. J. Gardner has been re-nominated again for Governor. As he has got all the honors in his own hand the probability is, he will win. We were never great admirers of Gardner, but he must be allowed considerable credit for his tact and boldness. Besides all that, in his appointment to offices he has in many instances, within our knowledge, appointed men of capacity and honesty; and his judicial appointments have commanded general respect and approbation.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST is waxing hot; Buchanan is far ahead; Fremont second, and Fillmore kindliest. The latter however is making feintful strides and gaining very rapidly on the others. It is idle to predict the final result.

FILLMORE CLUB. A meeting of the citizens of Quincy favorable to the election of Mr. Fillmore to the Presidency was held at the Lyceum Room on Wednesday evening last, for the purpose of forming a Fillmore Club, and choose delegates to meet at a convention to be held at the Music Hall in Boston August 20, was accomplished in the adoption of a Constitution, and in the election of the following persons as officers of the Club.

President: Thomas Curtis.
Vice Presidents: B. C. C. Whit, Franklin Curtis, Frederick A. Lapham.
Recording Secretary: Col. A. B. Peckard.
Treasurer: Henry Curtis.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the same place, on Tuesday evening next, Aug. 5.

ACCIDENT TO THE EMPIRE STATE.—This boat when off Point Judith, on her passage from Fall River to New York, collapsed over her steam chimneys, forcing the steam down the flues, into the fireroom, and upon the main deck, scalding twenty-five persons, fourteen of whom have since died.

For the Patriot.
Our Schools.

Mr. EDITOR:—Having spent a few weeks in your beautiful town, and feeling an interest in the cause of education, I have taken the liberty, although a stranger, of spending my leisure hours in your schools; and suffice it to say, that knowing from reputation the high position that your citizens take in the cause of education and reform, I was led to suppose that I should in visiting your schools witness some of the model schools of the State, and I would say here, that in this I was not disappointed. I have had the pleasure of visiting some hundreds of schools annually for some twelve years in different portions of the Commonwealth, and I know not when I have been better pleased, or spent my leisure hours more pleasantly or profitably than I have here. When I have entered the steps of your school houses, and looked upon your noble edifices, I have been led to believe that the people have cared for the "outer as well as the inner man;" and when I have entered the rooms of your High School, and also your Coddington, Grammar, Intermediate Schools or the Adams' District, and witnessed the good order that seemed to characterize the Schools,—the interest manifested by the Scholars,—and the indefatigable perseverance and energy of the Teachers, I have been led to believe that the Town is proud of her schools, and of her common school education. Having received an invitation from one of the Teachers to accompany him and his School on an excursion of pleasure a few days hence, I readily accepted, and on the morning of Thursday, of last week, at the South School Room, we met some sixty masters and mistresses, with their rose faces,—with their bright blue ribbons,—and waving kerchiefs, bidding their "Teachers welcome." Every thing being arranged, the horses were reigned, and passing through some of the main streets, the children gave vent to their feelings of joy, by giving cheer upon cheer to those who came upon the sidewalk to bid them "good morning." Our faces were set towards Nantasket, and in a little while in looking off to the left we espied a cluster of buildings, and we asked our friends what part of Quincy that was, and was answered that it was "Snug Harbor," and the words of the poet came vividly to our mind when he said,

"From cape to cape search round our noble city,
No lovelier sight than here can eye survey."
And again:

"To Fancy's eye these verdant necks of land,
Seem as the fingers of an outstretched hand."

And so thought the writer. The next place of interest that met our gaze, was the beautiful village of Hingham; and as the children thought it was about time to "take some thing," they alighted from the carriage and surrounded a pump, and it may be imagined what their surprise and disappointments were, when they found that the pump had no handle, but by the kindness of a neighboring blacksmith, (whether it was the blacksmith that we read of or not, we cannot tell, but presume he knew our wants) we were supplied with a handle and our thirst quenched. Again in our carriages we soon found ourselves nearing Nantasket Beach. Arriving and looking out upon the broad blue ocean, the following places, were pointed out to the children—viz: Boston Light, Little Brewster, Great Brewster, Governor's Island, Hull, &c., and after spending a little while upon the Beach, the company was dismissed to meet on Strawberry Hill at 1 o'clock, and after waiting away an hour or two, the cry was heard, "Dinner is ready," and sure enough, upon the table was spread a "Chowder," ample for all—perfect in all its parts, prepared by Mrs. Benjamin Curtis, the caterer of caterers it is said on all such occasions, assisted by the Teacher, Mrs. Lady, Mr. J. S. Baxter and others,—every one being satisfied that the Chowder was good enough, and "more left of the same sort," we found that there was bread and butter, pies and cake to be eaten, tea and cocoa to be drunk; while Leonidas flowed in profusion. After the dinner was amply satisfied, a few sentences were given, after which some of the children sang.

"The Sea! the sea! is the life for me!"
While others sang:

"The Farmer's life," &c. &c. &c.
After which the children found pleasure in their favorite sports, till 3 o'clock, when the cry went out, "All ready for Quincy." Before leaving, however, the children gave three hearty cheers, to their Teacher and his Lady, to Mrs. Curtis, to Mr. Baxter, and to the Writing Master who was present; and in return, the recipients gave three rousing three cheers to the children under Mr. Morse's charge. After which the horses were again reigned, and after coming slowly over the beautiful Beach, the attention of some of the company was turned towards the well-known Rockland House. We were not here by the over-obliging and popular landlord, Mr. J. D. Howe, who bid us welcome to refresh ourselves with some ice-water and iced. After viewing the premises awhile, we left with a regret that we could not stay longer, and turned our faces homeward, the children singing,

"Home, Sweet, sweet, home."

Arriving at the Old Colony House, we made a stop to ascertain, if possible, who would be our next President. The whole number of votes cast, were—

Fillmore - - - - - 37
Fremont - - - - - 17
Buchanan - - - - - 2

Again in our carriage we soon found ourselves in sight of Snug Harbor, and a little onward, the children espied one of the gentlemen of the School Committee riding out in his carriage and gave him three cheers. After passing through some of the principal streets cheering their friends as they passed, we arrived at the Adams' School House, at half past 7 o'clock. All, without exception, seemed highly delighted with the exercises of the day, and the writer has no doubt, but that these children in after years as they become men and women will look back upon the past and point with pleasure, and with pride, to this day, as one of the "happiest of their lives."

Mr. Editor, excuse me for writing so lengthily an article. If was my intention when I sat down to write but a few lines in reference to your schools. If you think it worthy a place in your valuable journal you can give it room.

Yours truly, O. S. M.
Quincy, July 29th.

Notice to Students.

WHEREAS two Vacancies have occurred in the class of Students admitted to College in 1855, upon the foundation provided by the State, notice is therefore given under that application for the vacant scholarships, will be received by the Board of Education until the 6th of September next, and the preference will be given to the 21 section of Norfolk and the 6th section of Middlesex, said sections having originally been entitled to the Scholarships. The provisions of law concerning the annual appointments will be observed so far as they are applicable to the existing vacancies.

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL.
Secretary of the Board of Selectmen.
Boston, Aug. 2.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

A farmer of Andover, (Mass.) has a dog, which seeing a shovel full of unboiled corn, watched over it for twenty-four hours till his owner, missing him, made search and recovered dog and shovel.

The People's murder will it be estimated, cost New York City something like $100,000. The cost of summoning extra jurors on the attempt to bring on the second trial $2,000.

In the region of Wheeling, (Va.) the farmers hardly know how to get in the immense quantity of hay which lies before them, and much will be left uncut for want of laborers.

It seems the ninety-one counties in Indiana, the inhabitants of eighty can leave home in the morning, go to Indianapolis, the capital, by railroad, attend to business there from two to eight hours, and return home the same evening.

The resignations of Messrs. Brooks and Hunt have reached Gov. Adams of South Carolina, and he has ordered a new election on the 28th. The Columbia Times says both these heroes will be sent back without opposition, and with a large complimentary vote.

A Boston Hackman has been sentenced to four months imprisonment for running over a foot passenger. The Court stated the rule of law in such cases to be that carriages had no paramount right of way in the streets, and that drivers were bound at all times to heed the rights of those on foot to exercise due care for their safety.

Special Notices.

A CARD.
John Brunton & Wife, take this opportunity to express their thanks to God and the Fire Department of Quincy, for their kindly endeavors to save their property on Wednesday evening, of last week, and of the timely rescue of the "New Fence," which the Lord enabled them to build one year ago, from the jaws of the devouring element. Also for the shield of protection which they threw around brother Plumer's property, by which he escaped almost unharmed—effectually checking with so little injury the progress of the fire, and preventing a serious conflagration. "God is Love."

JOHN BRUMMETT.
Quincy, August 2.

A CARD.
THE DEMOCRATIC MEETING. The Democrats of Quincy are earnestly requested to attend in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, at 8 o'clock, to organize a "Keystone Club," and take such other steps as may seem best to promote the "Good Old Democratic Cause of Union and Liberty."

Per order of the TOWN DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.
Quincy, Aug. 2.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five citizens. The delegates for every town will be elected by a vote cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.
E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.
EDWARD AVERY,
GEO. W. BENTLEY,
Boston, July 5.

List of Letters,

Remainder in the Quincy Post Office, July 1st, 1856.

Allen John T. Jones John D.
Adams J. H. Kennedy John
Atkinson Binney

Brickingham Josiah
Blakeborough William
Brackett W. Carawan
Byrne Thomas—2

Brothers John
Buckingham Samuel
Beall Lydia
Banks Augustus
Briggs William O.

Business Thelma
Byrne Rose Ann
Bracken Mary

Cushing S. P.
Cook C. Melissa
Cory Sarah E. T.
Cline Moses K.

Cline W. N. or by his wife
Cline Alexander J.
Cline Alexander J.

Denny James
Duffy Michael
Dean Anthony
Doran Thomas—2

Donahe Thomas
Dismond James
Duffy John
Dunham George C.

Duffy John
Driscoll Alexander
Emery A. F.

Fenn William
Flint Margaret
French Joseph W.
Fauche Theodore

Gallagher Charles
Gordon Margaret
Gale C. G.
Galvin Patrick

Harding W. B.
Hillman A.
Hee J. Smith

Johnson Charles
Wise Daniel Rev.
Weston John
Welch Richard
Wiley A. L.

Wiley Edwin
Wiley Edwin
JOHN A. GREEN, Postmaster,
Quincy, July 19.

At Auction.

IN accordance with a vote of the Town, passed at the last annual March Meeting, the subscribers will sell at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 11th day of August, inst. at three o'clock in the afternoon, from one to twenty Family Lots in the New Cemetery.

E. S. FELLOWS,
EBEN ADAMS,
WM. W. BAXTER, } Selection of Quincy.

Quincy, Aug. 2.

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

THE regular Monthly Meeting will be held at the Lyceum Room on WEDNESDAY EVENING next (Aug. 6th), at 8 o'clock.

LOUIS CONGION, Secretary.

Quincy, Aug. 2.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss.

In Insolvency.

BEFORE Charles Endicott, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for said County of Norfolk.

In the matter of

EBENEZER W. HUNT,

Manufacturer, Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed Assignees in said case, and that the second meeting of the said Insolvent Debtor will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Office of John W. May, Esq., in Roxbury, in said County, on the fourth day of August next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. C. CONVERSE, Assignees.

DAVID HUNT, }
July 26. 2w

Wanted.

A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a North of Ireland Protestant—who can make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a Store.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring.

Quincy, July 26.

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.

Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, July 26.

Wanted.

75 APPLS to do kitchen and chamber work.

Apply at the Intelligence Office on Washington Street.

Quincy, July 12.

Stone Quarry to Let.

THE Stone Quarry, lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Congdon & Sons, Esquire, at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street.

Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. C. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19.

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. S. French's celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor.

Quincy, July 19.

The Misses Townsends.

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake,

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK and SEA STREETS,

where they will be prepared

ON AND AFTER TO-DAY,

(Sundays excepted.)

to wait on those who may favor them with a call.

Quincy, July 19.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE copartnership heretofore existing under the firm of W. T. Burrell & Co., is this day, July 12th, 1856, dissolved by mutual consent. All persons indebted to the firm will make payment to Sargent L. Stoddard, who will pay all liabilities thereof presentment of claim.

SARGENT L. STODDARD,

WATERMAN T. BURRELL,

Weymouth, July 19.

To Let.

A NEW HOUSE.

Enquire of S. R. EDWARDS.

Quincy July 12.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department requires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening,

(Sundays excepted.)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

J. MAIDEN.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by

A. A. MEARS.

Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES.

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three Ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of Dr. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. C. APPLETON, near said premises, Quincy, May 24.

Calliston, or Orient Water.

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also allays all tendency to inflame from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season,) and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared only by Joseph Barnett, whose name is sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 21.

Refrigerators!

UPRIGHT and Box Refrigerators for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 31.

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES

at low prices on Washington Street by

N. B. FURNALD.

Quincy, July 12.

To Let.

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place for a person desiring to reside in the City or of the Subscriber on the premises.

Apply to LEVI A. SLEEPER.

Quincy, July 5.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty Sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $3.25 washing included when not exceeding four weeks.

For transient Gentlemen or Families, by the day, $1.25 per day.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.

Quincy, July 12.

To the Honorable County Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN:—

THE undersigned Citizen of Milton respectfully and fully repeats that the public convenience and necessity require that the public road and town way leading from the road known as the Turnpike thence by the house of the petitioner, to the Milton Mill House, be widened, straightened, and widened at the corner of land of John and Charlotte Wadsworth, and also that a drainage should be abated, and improvement should be made, by directing the water from one side of the way across the road to the other, as it was wont to flow as your petitioner alleges and respectfully requests immediate examination of the same.

And in duty bound will ever remain, your obedient servant,

SAMUEL ADAMS.

Milton, June 23, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss.

AT a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for said County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of June, A. D. 1856, the Petition aforesaid, ordered that the County Commissioners will meet at the Town House in said County on Thursday, the seventh day of August next, at 1 o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view the estate described in said petition and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition with this order thereon be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Milton, thirty days, least before the true appointed for said

Poetry.

What is Noble?

What is noble? To inherit
Wealth, estate, and proud degree?
There must be some other merit
Higher yet than these for me!
Something greater far must enter
Into life's majestic span;
Fitted to create and centre
True nobility in man!

What is noble? 'Tis the finer
Portion of our mind and heart;
Link'd to something still diviner
Than mere language can impart:
Ever prompting—ever seeing
Some improvement yet to plan;
To uplift our fellow-being,
And, like man, to feel for man!

What is noble? Is the subtle
Nobler than the humble spade?
There's a dignity in labor
Truer than e'er pomp arrayed!
He who seeks the Mind's improvement
Aids the world in aiding Mind;
Every great commanding movement
Serves not one—but all mankind.

O'er the forge's heat and ashes,
O'er the engine's iron head,
Where the rapid spindles flash
And the rapid wheels are tread:
There is labor's lowly toiling
Each requirement of the hour,
There is genius still extending
Science—and its world of power!

Mid the dust and speed, and clamor
Of the loom shed and the mill;
Mid the clank of wheel and hammer
Great results are growing still!
Though too oft by Fashion's creatures,
Work and workers may be blamed,
Commerce need not hide its features!
Industry is not ashamed.

What is noble? That which places
Truth in its exalted throne;
Leaving steps, like angel-traces,
That mankind may follow on!
Even though scorn's malignant glances
Prove him fool's errand in his clan,
He's the noble—who advances
Freedom, and the cause of Man!

Bonnets and Skirts.

Little head and little bonnet!
Little pate with nothing on it!
(One might say "with nothing in it,"
But that you charm me every minute.)
Little lady, how I know
For maidens let their ringlets grow;
For why—these bonnets go!
Their heads would freeze, and that is so!

Little waist and monstrous flounces!
How the silk and waves and boucles!
How the looping billows quiver,
Like a heavy, trailing river!
Oh, wondrous water'd silken sea,
What a splendour in your depths must be!
What hoards of gold—oh wondrously
Squandered on your—bright silken sea.

The Ground-Swell.

How soft the shades of evening creep
O'er yonder dewy sea,
Whose balmy mist has lulled to sleep
The tenants of the tree!
No wadling breeze is here to sweep
In shadowy ripple o'er the deep,
Yet swirls the leaving sea.

How calm the sky!—Rest, Ocean! Rest,
From storms and rattle free;
Calm as the image, on thy breast,
Of her that governs thee!
And yet beneath the moon's mild reign,
Thy broad breast heaves as one in pain,
Thou dark and silent sea!

Our Whole Country.

Who would sever Freedom's shrine?
Who would draw the inviolable line?
Though by birth one spot be mine,
Dear is all the rest.

Dear to me the South's fair land—
Dear the central mountain band—
Dear New England's rocky strand,
Dear the glorious West!

By our altars, pure and free;
By our law's deep rooted tree;
By the past's dread memory;
By our Washington!

By our common parent tongue,
By our hopes—bright, bright, young,
By the tie of country strong—
We will still be one!

Anecdotes.

Are those pure canaries? asked a young gentleman of a bird fancier, with whom he was negotiating.
Yes sir, said the dealer, I can take my oath of that; I raised them here birds from Canary seed myself.

I don't care so much about the bugs, said
Mr. Wormly to the head of the genteel private family in which he resides, but the fact is, marm, I can't get the blood to spare; you see that yourself.

Jimmy, said a father to his son, what is longitude?
A clothes line, daddy.
How do you make that out?
Because it stretches from pole to pole.

You want a flogging, that's what you do,
said a parent to his unruly son.
I know it, dad, but I'll try to get along without it, replied the boy.

Rules and Rates of Advertising
In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth
Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors
and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian,
3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator,
3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3
weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25
COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads,
&c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and
other Legal Notices not embraced above,
3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or
less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " 3 " 1.50
" " 3 " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " 1 " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10
YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " half " 7.00
" " 3 months " 4.00
To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not oftener, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square,
one year, not less than 5.00
ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously
for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts
to be charged at full prices.
ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & E. H. BROWN,ingham Journal.
L. R. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PHINNEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BENSE, Missisquoi Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers
published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.

Per order, JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS,
Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak
Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroiderings, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENT'S AND BOY'S
Ready Made Clothing,
AND
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES,
CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS,
HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.
Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS
of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality; Crockery, China,
Glass and Brimware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of Housekeeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making additions, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.
Quincy, Dec. 2d. tf

Mc. Eckron's
CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world,
and its use is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine.
Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their praises having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c.,
and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds, of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.
Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the
U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy, Barr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.
March 8 tf

For the Teeth.
HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth-
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and
Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale
by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3. tf

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,

AUCTIONEER,
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. tf

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852. tf

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26. tf

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

—DEALER IN—
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

—ALSO—
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.
Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12. ly

FOR SALE CHEAP!

AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.

1200 Window Blinds.

PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.
Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass,
Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too
numerous to mention.
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point.)
HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash
EGG-STONE AND BIT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30. tf

FLOUR

WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,
on the same terms which they receive it, thereby enabling me to sell at Boston wholesale prices.
All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
ALSO—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings,
and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24. tf

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAST-ERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12. tf

For the Teeth.

HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth-
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and
Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale
by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3. tf

Scales.

of every variety,
31 Kilby Street, --- Boston.
GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.
A full assortment of all kinds of weighing
apparatus and store furniture for sale at low price. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in
any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2 ly

Doors,
Sashes,
Blinds,

Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000, CAPITAL.
ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD
FURNITURE, and other Personal Property
against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on
THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on
Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,
or at the office of the Agency in Boston,
No. 12 Brazer's Building.

STEPHEN F. THAYER,

VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.
DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERRIN,
LOUIS CONGDON, WM. S. THAYER,
WILLIAM P. DRAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,
J. NO. J. RISKIN, T. K. KEN.
Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.
Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;

TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Brock,
Gideon F. Thayer, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Albert Thompson, Cohasset,
Whitcomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, Alfred Loring,
William B. Duggan, North Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Sumner A. Hayward,
Royal W. Turner, Barnstable,
South Braintree, George Marston,
Apollon Randall.

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAQUIRE of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., " "

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1. ly

FAIRBANKS'

CELEBRATED
S C A L E S ,
of every variety,
31 Kilby Street, --- Boston.
GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.
A full assortment of all kinds of weighing
apparatus and store furniture for sale at low price. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in
any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2 ly

AYER'S
CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the
internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such
derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not attested by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
For CONSTIPATION. Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure
of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause
of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—(to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action). They will do it, and the heartburn, dyspepsia, and sourness of dyspepsia
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the
spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do.
These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and
some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.
Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because "it
system wants cleansing."

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken daily, and frequently, and the impurities which sow the
seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion, dyspepsia, diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. are all the result of a derangement of the liver. The bile is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties this bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow
into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails.
Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness,
restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes in-
ability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness;
sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin
and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow;
the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch;
the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever,
which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, and diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is as agreeable as such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the climate of the liver.
They afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.
As a Diuretic, this is both agreeable and useful.
No pill can be made more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a diuretic pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
MRS. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 28. ly

Rats and Mice.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and
other Vermin, without Poison.
Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. tf

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. tf

COAL! COAL!

RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8.00 per ton.
Also—300 Cords of ROCKLAND LIME
by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. tf

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Scurvy Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. tf

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS of sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. tf

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache.

D. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills.
HOOFLAND'S German Bitters.
Dr. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE
REMEDY. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28. tf

Tooth Ache!

TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24. tf

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared
Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked
Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broma, &c.
Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.
Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum
Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass
Pipes and Bells, patent Nostrils, Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mattresses, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand.
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.
She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Nov. 1. 4m

G. W. STONE'S
COUGH ELIXIR,

For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat
and Lungs; such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Asthma. It is also an invaluable remedy for Children suffering with the Whooping Cough or Croup. For all the above complaints this remedy has been found to be the most effective and Compound, perfectly safe, and not unpleasant to the taste. No family will be without it after having tested its merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. Stone & Co., No. 28 Cornhill-street, Lowell, Mass. Sold Wholesale and Retail
by
BURR & PERRY, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Dec. 15. ly

Toys and Fancy Articles.

BY calling at DR. MARDEN'S, corner of HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of
TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES,
Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs,
Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.
Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs,
Sleighs—Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, Nine Pins, Tops, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Clarionets, Trampets, Harmoni-
cas, Harmoniums—Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy
Baskets, Kaleidoscopes, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c. &c., and at reduced prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Elections.
Quincy

much better than mats to take the dust from the shoes. Get a large pattern, so as to have some left to repair with. Much can be done by turning and mending carpets to keep them looking almost as well as new.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, August 9th 1856.

BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

OUR MUSTER. The Fourth Regiment of Infantry, commanded by Col. Charles H. French of Canton, will muster on the 20th, 21st and 22d inst. It is expected that the regiment will encamp in North Easton, but it is not yet fully determined.

THE NEW CENT. The director of the mint proposes that the new cent shall be 88 parts copper and 12 parts nickel. This will make a coin of a dark reddish color. It is to weigh 72 grains, less than half of the present coin.

NEW WORK. T. B. Peterson, 103 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, has in press, and will have ready for sale on Saturday, August 16, a tale from that most gifted author, Mrs. E. D. N. Southworth, entitled "Retribution; or, a Tale of Passion." Mrs. S. is considered one of the best, if not the best female writer in America. Some may employ a more flowing style, but for boldness, vigor, and graphic force, and in the use of gentle tones and tender accents, Mrs. Southworth has no equal. Mrs. S., in our opinion, far exceeds any female writer of the present day. The work will be complete in one large duodecimo volume neatly bound in cloth, for $1.25; or in two volumes, paper cover, for $1.00.

THE EDITOR'S DRAW. We never knew so barren as at the present writing. We turned it over and over but could not find a single subject worthy of a paragraph. There were to be sure, numerous congratulatory effusions upon the returning health of the Editor; impertinent reflections upon ladies' dresses, a la hoop—suggesting alterations and improvements—and villainous articles upon the "glorious prospect of the Democracy" (which our neutral position would not allow us of course to meddle with) but nothing of a local nature which we thought would interest the reader. Not even a marriage to cheer the numerous votaries who worship at the altar of lymen.

A Democratic meeting was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening last, for the purpose of forming a "Key Stone Club." George White, Esq. was called to the Chair and Dr. William B. Duggan, acted as Secretary. It was voted to form a Club, and a Committee was chosen to nominate a list of officers. The Committee reported the following, which were accepted.

President: George White, Esq.
Vice Presidents: Henry Wood, Nathaniel White, Josiah Hayden, George Baxter, Eleazer Frederick, Charles P. Tirrell, F. A. Trask, Daniel French, John Kirk, William B. Duggan, Benjamin Curtis, Matthew M. Tappan.
Recording Secretary: Jonathan Jameson.
Corresponding Secretary: George Cahill.
Treasurer: Thompson Baxter.
Directors: Albion Dearborn, Arthur P. Hayden, John A. Green.

ENCAMPMENT. The First Brigade, First Division, of Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, under General Andrews, commenced a three days encampment at Mount Wollaston, in this town, on Wednesday morning last. The weather, with but few exceptions, has been very unfavorable, and while we are writing, on the eve of the third day of the encampment, and when thousands had flocked to the field to witness a review by his Excellency, the rain is pouring down in torrents, cooling the military ardor of the soldiery, and dampening the expectations of the populace.

In other respects, it passed off pretty much the same as all other musters have passed off with plenty of military gauds, small beer, and bad whiskey. Our town, during these three days of tribulation, has been the scene of all manner of debauchery and crime. A number of arrests have been made for various misdemeanors, and our police have had to be active and vigilant to preserve the peace of the community and the property of the citizen.

THE ELECTIONS. As we predicted are going all one way. Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, and probably Iowa, have all gone Democratic. This is too bad, considering the excellent platform we had to stand on. "Jim," our man of all work, has become quite disheartened at the prospect, and says, if there is not more union in our ranks, we may look out for a Waterloo defeat next fall. Do you hear that boys.

CONGRESS is soon to adjourn, and its members return to their respective homes. We are glad of this. The country needs repose, and the people a respite from the disgraceful scenes which were enacted at Washington during the past session.

Hon. Anson Burlingame.

MR. EDITOR: The last act of the ridiculous farce in which this gallant gentleman figures so conspicuously, has been played out; and the manner in which he has made his parting bow to the public, show that however they may look upon his acting, he is very well satisfied with himself.

When Mr. Wilson refused to recognize duelling, as a means of redressing individual injuries, many persons who differ from him in political sentiments, said that he acted right in doing so. This however, did not satisfy all of his political friends; the Southerners he thought should be brought to their knees. It was war to the knife, and the knife to the hilt. Loud were the threats of the young blood of freemen. Pistols, revolvers, and bowie knives were to be purchased, and a chance to use them on the "ruffians" sought for themselves. While the excitement was at a white heat, Mr. Burlingame appears on the stage. He was not to be bullied; he was a man with a back bone,—a dead shot with a rifle—good with a small sword, and a pugilist of no mean acquirements, just the man to deal with "Bully Brooks." Public expectation was on the rack, and the day on which he made his speech, the House was crowded. He spoke and boldly declared he was ready to defend the Old Bay State on any field. He denounced the Sumner assault, in language, which when taken in connection with his own declarations, and the boasts of his friends, plainly intimated that he was ready, and willing to fight.

When he came to the passage where "Cain smote his brother," Mr. Keitt of South Carolina told him he lied, and thus gave him an opportunity of shewing his "back-bone." He declined this however and his friends tried to make it appear that the "onus" of challenging was upon Mr. Keitt. This is a nice distinction requiring some familiarity with the "code" to settle. His friends alleged that Mr. Keitt did not challenge him because the challenged party had a right to the choice of weapons, and that he was a practiced rifleman, as if it was the custom of gentlemen to fight with rifles. Upon this reputation he strutted round for a few days, acting the Bayard of the North, in the small way peculiar to bad actors.

When Mr. Brooks had been tried for the assault on Sumner, he sent a friend to Mr. Burlingame, who stated that Mr. Brooks considered himself insulted, and asking if Mr. Burlingame would give him satisfaction. This was the time to test the backbone, but unfortunately upon trial it was not found to be bone at all, only a compound of starch and sugar, and on getting damp it oozed out of a small end of a very small horn. The man, who he said in his speech, stole into the Senate Chamber, and acted the part of Cain, which act he denounced in the name of everything generous and manly—this Assassin—this Cain, had the hardihood to seek an explanation of the practiced rifleman; and the rifleman sooner than meet him, stated that Cain was a gentleman, and a man of honor, and when next they met, accepted his hand still with his brother's blood. Bayard came down a peg.

His subsequent conduct is still more ridiculous. His apology did not satisfy some of his friends. They could not "discriminate between the man, and the act." They could hold no fellowship with Cain. Smarting under their reproaches he retracts the apology, and when challenged by Mr. Brooks, hesitates during the greater part of a day, and then leaves Washington at midnight for Canada, before hearing from Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Burlingame has had every opportunity of proving that he was the man to repress the insolence of those slaveholders, on their own ground, in their own way. Mr. Keitt insulted him, but "he would not send a challenge, he would accept one." Mr. Brooks challenged him, and he had a chance to choose the rifle at which he is so expert, but he apologized. Mr. Brooks now says that he will accept a challenge from him, but he will not send one. Is he afraid to fight with any other weapon than the rifle? Such is the only inference his conduct will bear.

And this is the man who represents Bunker Hill in Congress, the self-constituted champion of the honor of the Old Bay State. One good thing he has done; he has demonstrated the truth of the old Fable of the Ass in the Lion's skin.

When next that he goes out to fight, May we be there to see.

JUNES.

In Maine, the Black Republican crew have thrown down a sweet delicious morsel to entice and entrap the floating vote in that State, at the September election next. It is, that these Sharp Rifle followers desire "to restore the State and National Government to the system of Mr. Jefferson;" thereby admitting that old Federalism, the progenitor of all the opposing factions and isms, from the foundation of the General Government to the present day, has been and is all wrong, and that Republicanism or Democracy, of which Jefferson was the father, and the South the supporter, always right.

MAINE.

THUNDER STORM. A cloud heavily charged with electricity, passed over our town yesterday forenoon, and while discharging at random its heavy ordnance, very carelessly struck an unfinished vessel which lay on the stocks at the Point. No great injury however was sustained.

FINALE of the late disgraceful military debauch. The peace and quietness of our community has been most ruthlessly invaded by a most unprincipled gang of desperadoes. Drunkenness, and debauchery of almost every kind, has run riot in our midst for the past three days, and now we have to add that of murder. A fearful responsibility rests somewhere, which we shall take the earliest opportunity to bring to a strict accountability.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT. About 7 o'clock last evening a young man by the name of John White, son of Isaiah White, a resident of this town, while standing on the Piazza of the Hancock House, a man, whose name is supposed to be Quincy, (an Irishman, and by trade a painter), in the employ of Mr. Gibson of East Abington, shot, without provocation, Mr. White in the chest, between the eighth and ninth ribs, with a six barreled revolver. At the last account the ball had not been extracted. The remaining five barrels were found also to be loaded. He is now, (half past 9 Friday evening,) lying in a very dangerous state at the H. House, where every care and attention which his case required has been afforded. Quimby was promptly arrested by Messrs. Isaac H. Willey and Dexter Faxon, special Constables, and placed in the Lock-up, to await his trial before a Justice of the Peace.

Saturday morning, 6 o'clock. He is still alive, but in a very precarious state. He suffered considerable danger the night from his wound. The ball has not been extracted.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Nineteen steamers are advertised to leave American ports for Europe during the present month, and seventeen will leave European ports for America.

Stone bullets were used until the year 1514, when iron was adopted. It was near the close of the 16th century before leaden bullets were generally adopted. Stone cannon balls are yet used in the East.

Hon Edward Everett has made a donation of the sum of five hundred dollars for the purchase of a library for the High School in his native town of Dorchester.

One of the piles of the bridge built by the Emperor Trajan over the Danube was taken up and found to be petrified on the surface to the depth of three-fourths of an inch; beneath this the wood is preserved in its original state, though sixteen hundred years had elapsed since they were driven.

Special Notices.

PIC NIC. The time honored Spear family whose pedigree dates back to the first settlement of the town, will hold one of their social Annual Pic Nics, at Houghs Neck, Quincy, on Wednesday next, Aug. 13. Per order of the COMMITTEE.

PIC NIC. The Sunday School connected with the Universalist Society and their friends propose to go on an Excursion to the Island Grove, at Abington, on THURSDAY the 14th inst. A Band of Music will accompany the party. All necessary arrangements have been made to secure a pleasant season of social recreation.

Tickets for the members of the School, twenty-five cents; and for adults fifty cents. Tickets to be had at Mr. Abernethy's store, or at the Depot on the morning of the Excursion.

A Committee will be at the Depot at half past seven o'clock, to receive and take charge of refreshments.

The cars will leave at 8 1-2 o'clock. Quincy, Aug. 9.

FREEDOM AND FREMONT. There will be a meeting of the Quincy Fremont Club at the Lyceum Room on MONDAY EVENING, Aug. 11th, at 8 o'clock.

Friends of freedom are invited to be present and sign the constitution. E. W. MARSH, Secretary. Quincy, Aug. 9.

ATTENTION. The Hancock Light Guard hold a meeting THIS, SATURDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock.

Business of importance is come before them, and every member is requested to be present. Per order, J. B. BASS, Clerk. Quincy Aug. 9.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee. E. C. BAILEY, Chairman. EDWARD AVERY, GEO. W. BENTLEY, Secretaries. Boston, July 5.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

THE undersigned inhabitants of Stoughton, in said County, respectfully represent, that the highway in East Stoughton, near the dwelling house of Simon Leach and on land of the said Simon Leach and Charles Littlefield is crooked and inconvenient, and that the public good requires that the same be straightened. Your petitioners therefore respectfully ask your Honorable Board to view said road, and widen, straighten, new locate or make such alterations in said road, as public convenience may require. And to discontinue such parts of the present road, as are not required for public use, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

CHARLES LITTLEFIELD and twelve others. East Stoughton, July 26, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners begun and held at Dedham, within and for the County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of July, A. D. 1856, by adjournment of the June Meeting next preceding.

On the petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners meet at the House of Charles Littlefield in East Stoughton, in said County, on WEDNESDAY, the tenth day of September next, at nine o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Stoughton, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Stoughton, fourteen days at least before said view; that all persons and corporations, interested for or against said petition, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

E. W. W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition on file, and order thereon.

Attest. EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk. Aug. 9.

At Auction. IN accordance with a vote of the Town, passed at a meeting of the Town, on the 11th day of July, 1856, dissolved by mutual consent. All persons indebted to the firm will make payment to Sargent L. Stoddard, who will pay all liabilities thereof presentment of claim.

SARGENT L. STODDARD, WATERMAN T. BURRILL. Weymouth, July 19.

Selection of Quincy.

WM. W. BAXTER, 2w Quincy, Aug. 2.

Wanted. A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a North of Ireland Protestant—who can make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a Store.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring. Quincy, July 26.

Dr. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, pupil of the Royal Optician Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINGEN'S STORE.

Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and all other given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M. Quincy, July 26.

Wanted. 75 GIRLS to do kitchen and chamber work.

Apply at the Intelligence Office on Washington Street of N. B. FURNALD. Quincy, July 12.

List of Letters, Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, July 1st, 1856.

Allen John T. Kennedy John

Adams J. H. Atkinson Biney

Bricknigham Josiah Littlefield Addisonian

Blackburn William Murray Ellen

Brackett W. Carawan Magrath Edmund

Byrne Thomas—2 Murphy Garrett

Brothers John Mc Callion George

Bison Samuel Mc Kee Duncan

Beath Lydia Moiray Patrick

Banks Augustus Moore J. H.

Briggs William O. Morrill John

Bismarck Theobald Martville John

Byrne Rose Ann Nightingale Ann

Bracken Mary Neare John

Cushing S. P. Cook C. Melrose

Carr Sarah E. T. Paine Susan

Chase Moses R. Paine T. L.

Cross W. N. or any heir Read A. S. & A.

of the Estate Perkins Enoch

Chase Alexander J. Patterson Matthew Mrs

Denny James Ryan Mary

Doherty Michael Reardon J. G.

Dana Anthony Reardon J. G.

Donahoe Thomas Read A. S. & A.

Diamond James Reed W. C.

Dougherty John Read A.

Dunham George C. Reardon Dennis

Driscoll Alexander Reilly James

Emery A. F. Reynolds Patrick

Fenn William Saville Catherine M.

Flint Margaret Stevens Levi F.

French Joseph W. Smoke Henry

Fauche Theodore Sexton Jeremiah

Gallagher Charles Stephens J.

Margaret Shaw N.

Margaret Sweetey Samuel

Gale C. C. Vinson Charles

Galvin Patrick Wild Edward

Harding W. B. Wise Daniel Rev

Hee J. Smith Weston John

Hewley Richard Wiley A. L.

Wiley Lewlyn

JOHN A. GREEN, Postmaster. Quincy, July 19.

Stone Quarry to Let. THE Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Curtis. Enquire at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street. Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!! THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES of E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices. Quincy, July 19.

FOR SALE.

A SMALL House and Land, situated in the West District, near the churches, stores, and excellent schools. For terms, &c., apply to GEO. R. NIGHTINGALE. Near the Stone Temple. Quincy, Aug. 9.

Notice to Students.

WHEREAS Two Vacancies have occurred in the class of Students admitted to College in 1855, upon the foundation provided by the State, and is therefore given under that application for the vacant scholarships, will be received by the Board of Education until the 6th of September next, and that the preference will be given to the 3d section of Norfolk and the 6th section of Middlesex, said sections having originally been entitled to the Scholarships. The provisions of law concerning original appointments will be observed so far as they are applicable to the existing vacancies.

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL, Secretary of the Board of Selectmen. Boston, Aug. 2.

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. R. Edwards' celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor. Quincy, July 19.

The Misses Townsends.

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake.

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK AND SEA STREETS, where they will be prepared

O.N. AND AFTER TO-DAY.

(Sundays excepted.) to wait on those who may favor them with a call. Quincy, July 19.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE copartnership heretofore existing under the firm of W. T. Burrell & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All persons indebted to the firm will make payment to Sargent L. Stoddard, who will pay all liabilities thereof presentment of claim.

SARGENT L. STODDARD, WATERMAN T. BURRILL. Weymouth, July 19.

To Let.

A NEW HOUSE. Enquire of S. R. EDWARDS. Quincy, July 12.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insufferable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen.

Every Afternoon and Evening.

(Sundays excepted.) Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call. Quincy, June 21.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will bear them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL. Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets. Quincy, June 28.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASURE Boat, copper fastened, 15 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by A. A. MEARS. Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES.

In Quincy for sale.

SIXTEEN Acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf. There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of Dr. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises. Quincy, May 24.

To the Honorable County Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN:—

THE undersigned Citizen of Milton respectfully represent that the public convenience and necessity require that the public road and town way leading from the road known as the Quincy Road, to the depot, be straightened and widened at the corner of land of Jason and Charlotte Wadsworth, and also that a nuisance should be abated, and improvement should be made, by directing the water from one side of the way across the road to the other, as it was wont to flow as your petitioners alleges and respectfully requests immediate examination of the same.

And in duty bound will ever pray. SAMUEL ADAMS. Milton, June 23, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for the County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of June, A. D. 1856, on the Petition aforesaid, ordered that the County Commissioners meet at the Town House in said County on Thursday, the 14th day of August next, at 1 o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Milton, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and like copies be posted up in two or more public places, in said Milton fourteen days at least before said view; that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

E. W. W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original Petition on file and order thereon.

Attest. EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk. July 12.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call. The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty Sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $3.25 washing included when not exceeding four weeks. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH. Quincy, July 12.

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES.

at low prices on Washington Street by N. B. FURNALD. Quincy, July 12.

To Let.

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place—for particulars inquire at this Office of the Subscriber on the premises.

LEVI A. SLEEPER. Quincy, July 5.

Paper Hangings.

A NEW and splendid assortment of Paper Hangings, Curtains, &c., received and for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP. Quincy, May 3.

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their regular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, and subvert the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases, almost beyond belief, and more day out substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of fraud. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents of their name are pleased to furnish free to all inquirers.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to give motion, twice daily, or once daily, if the bowels are not regular.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will break up the heartburn, flatulency, and sourness of the stomach, and will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

FOR A PAINFUL, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which is a general disease, and is the cause of the spirit and health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, PAIN in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call. The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot and contains twenty elegant Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $3.25; board included, not exceeding $4.00 per week. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded on the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.
Quincy, July 12.

Cottage Bedsteads.

JUST received 75 Cottage Bedsteads and are selling at the low price of $3.50.

ALSO—A good assortment of Canton Matting and Window Shades selling very cheap.

ALSO—On hand a full assortment of TIN CAGES at low prices on Washington Street by N. R. FURNALD.

Quincy, July 12.

To Let,

A PLEASANT and convenient HOUSE on Maple Place for particulars inquire at This Office of the Publisher on the premises.

LEVI A. SLEPPER.
Quincy, July 5.

Paper Hangings.

A NEW and splendid assortment of Paper Hangings, Curtains, &c. just received and for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 2.

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their regular action to health, prevent wherever they exist, such dangerous diseases as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases, and has proved that they are not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of truth. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, each quantity as to count more or less. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a constipated body. Hence it should be, by its removal, promptly relieved.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—four to five—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, headach, and sourness of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a PLEASANT, or Morbid Infection of the Bowels, which produces a general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For NEURALGIC, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear down and their kindred diseases because your stomach is foul.

For SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to the influence, leaving the surface in perfect health. Patients' duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all of the marks of disease on the skin, because "I system wants cleansing."

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which are the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side, and the white of the eyes become greenish yellow; the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious dysentery, or cholera. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wished to suit such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effective for the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Sole Agent, Quincy, Oct. 28.

ALL who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING, Opposite the Orthodox Church, Quincy, April 26.

ALL who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING, Opposite the Orthodox Church, Quincy, April 26.

ALL who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING, Opposite the Orthodox Church, Quincy, April 26.

ALL who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING, Opposite the Orthodox Church, Quincy, April 26.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.CLOTHING! CLOTHING!!

THE Subscriber having disposed of his entire stock of Dry Goods is now prepared to offer the BEST STOCK OF

READY MADE CLOTHING!!

FOR—

Gents' and Boys' Wear,

Ever offered in this vicinity, consisting in part of

FINE CLOTH FROCKS AND SACKS,

of the Latest Styles.

BUSINESS FROCKS AND SACKS;

PANTS, in great variety.

VESTS, in Silk, Satin, Cloth, Cashmere, Marseilles, &c.

BOYS' JACKETS AND PANTS,

together with

Overalls, Frocks, Striped Shirts,

&c. &c. &c.

FURNISHING GOODS,

in great variety, viz:

Shirts, Dickies, Cravats, Socks, Ties,

Hosiery and Gloves.

—ALSO—

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UM-

BRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, BOOTS,

SHOES, ETC. ETC.

Custom Work.

The Custom Department (Joseph W. Lombard Cutter,) is now complete in Broad Cloths, Black and Fancy Dressings, Cassimeres, Coating Cloths and Vestings, which will be made into Garments, at short notice, and Style, Fit and Workmanship guaranteed.

I would most respectfully invite my Friends and

Customers to call and examine my stock of Goods, to which I am making weekly additions. All of which I shall offer at the lowest possible prices for Cash.

GEORGE SAVIL,

Goodnow's Building,

Cor. Hancock and Granite Sts.

Quincy, May 17.

GREAT BARGAINS!

CLOTHING and PIECE GOODS

FOR—

Men's and Boys' Wear

AT THE—

Town Hall Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that they have just received from the largest and best assorted Stock of

READY MADE CLOTHING

ever opened in this county. Consisting of every kind of Garment made from goods of latest importation. To those who buy for cash, this presents a rare opportunity, as he intends to dispose of his entire stock within thirty days.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods are on hand.

TERMS CASH AND CASH ONLY.

Quincy, April 19.

Important Notice to Purchasers

OF—

CLOTHING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has given up the Millinery business, and has fitted up that department for

READY MADE CLOTHING,

which will consist in

MEN'S, YOUTHS' and CHILDREN'S WEAR.

Particular attention will be paid to

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

I will assure the Public that if they will give me a call, they will find GO-DS at prices which will secure their sale.

Persons in want of CLOTHING, should lose no time in examining my Stock, which consists of a good assortment of every description.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, March 8.

New Tailoring Goods.

J. A. HOLDEN,

WOULD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has

Just Replenished his Stock,

with a choice selection of Goods, suitable for

SPRING and SUMMER

He invites the attention of such as expect punctuality and good workmanship, for cash only, such being his rule of business, and the reduced rates at which he sells, rendering any other mode of doing business impracticable.

His clothes will always be made with all his care and skill, of which he boasts not, leaving influence, leaving the surface in perfect health.

THEMSELVES. Those studios to combine elegance with economy, will do well and wisely to favor him with a call.

Remember he is not to be understood by any other establishment, style, quality and finish considered.

LOOK OUT

FOR—

Slop Clothing.

DO not buy slop work when you can get Custom

Made Clothing at about the same price;

how much more a suit of Clothes look when made to order; and what is more agreeable and becoming than

A WELL FITTING GARMENT.

The undersigned would give notice to his friends and the public that he is now ready to receive the

FASHIONS FOR GENTLEMEN'S DRESS

FOR THE—

Spring and Summer of 1856

No patron has been spared to procure the best materials in Pontiac, Vast and Coat Suits

from the most celebrated fabricators of Genie-me's Dress Goods in Europe and America.

I give me pleasure to say that the styles for the coming season are more in accordance with good taste, than any goods which have been presented for several years.

Also—A good assortment of

Youths' and Children's Garments,

a large variety of

HATS and CAPS

—AND—

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS

FOR SALE CHEAP.

Giving personal attention to the cutting department, garments will be warranted to give general satisfaction.

All who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING,

Opposite the Orthodox Church,

Quincy, April 26.

Old Stand Opened Again!!JOHN DINEGAN

WOULD respectfully return his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Quincy for the liberal patronage he has received for the last thirteen years, and at the same time most respectfully inform them that he

Has commenced business again

at the Old Stand, where he has just received a

CHOICE SELECTION OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS,

which he will make up into Garments in the

Very latest Style,

for all who may be disposed to favor him with their patronage.

Quincy, June 21.

T. Dodds,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

BEGS leave Respectfully to invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to an inspection of his

Stock of Goods,

which he will make to measure in the most approved manner and

Warrant them in Every Respect

SATISFACTORY.

Having had long experience in the Business, he feels assured of being able to suit the most fastidious.

He also keeps on hand an assortment of

READY MADE

CLOTHING,

made from the best material and in the best manner, which he will sell at a small advance over cost.

Clothing a little out of style sold very cheap, on Hancock street, opposite the Post Office.

Quincy, June 7.

Provision Store.

THE subscribers have just opened the stand,

for many years occupied by the late Samuel

Copeland, where they will endeavor to furnish customers with the best and rarest the markets afford.

The different kinds of

MEATS, POULTRY, VEGETABLES,

&c., on hand or promptly furnished to order.

Strict attention to business and a desire to merit and honesty deal with patrons will always claim our undivided attention, and we therefore respectfully solicit patronage.

C. & J. ARNOLD.

Quincy, April 12.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has established himself in business, on

Washington Street,

IN REAR OF STONE TEMPLE,

where he intends keeping a good supply of

Cook, Parlor and Office Stoves,

together with a general assortment of

TIN, BRASS and JAPANNED WARE.

All kinds of Job Work done with neatness and dispatch.

Old Iron, Copper, Brass, Lead, and Rags taken in exchange for ware.

He hopes by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage.

CHARLES F. PIERCE.

Quincy, April 19.

Removal.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public that they have removed to the—

SPACIOUS WAREHOUSE,

Nos. 283 and 285 Washington Street.

Poetry.

A Lay of Real Life

BY TOM HOOD.

"Some are born with a wooden spoon in their mouth, and some with a golden ladle."—GOLD SMITH.

"Some are born with tin rings in their noses and some with silver."—SILVERSMITH.

Who ruined me ere I was born,
Sold every acre, grass or corn,
And left the next best all forlorn?
My Grandfather.

Who said my mother was no nurse,
And physiced me and made me worse,
Till infancy became a curse?
My Grandmother.

Who left me in my seventh year,
A comfort to my mother dear,
And Mr. Pope the overseer?
My Father.

Who let me starve to buy her gin,
Till all my bones came through my skin,
Then call me "ugly little sin"?
My Mother.

Who said my mother was a Turk,
And took me home—and made me work,
But managed half my meals to shirk?
My Aunt.

Who, of all earthly things, would boast,
"He hated other's brats the most,"
And therefore made me feel my post?
My Uncle.

Who got in scrapes, an endless score,
And always laid them at my door,
Till many a bitter bang I bore?
My Cousin.

Who took me home when mother died,
Again with father to reside,
Black shoes clean knives, run far and wide?
My Stepmother.

Who married my stealthy urchin boy,
And when I played, cried "what a noise!"
Girls always hector over boys—
My Sister.

Who used to share in what was mine,
Or took it all did he incline,
"Cause I was eight and he was nine?"
My Brother.

Who stroked my head and said "good lad,"
And gave me sixpence, "all he had,"
But at the stall the coin was bad?
My Godfather.

Who, gratis, shared my social glass,
But when misfortune came to pass,
Referred me to the pump?—Alas!
My Friend.

Through all this weary world, in brief,
Whoever sympathized with grief,
Or shared my joy—my sole relief?
Myself.

Stand Firm.

There are moments when life's shadows
Fall all darkly on the soul,
Hiding stars of hope behind them
In a black impenetrable scroll.
When we walk with trembling footsteps
Scarcely knowing how or where,
The dim paths we tread are leading
In our midnight of despair.

Not a ray to cheer us onward—
Not a gleam from out the past—
While the roar of clashing waters
Comes to us upon each blast;
Aye! another step may plunge us
In the dread abyss below;
And—another step may save us
From the very depths of woe.

Stand we firm in that dread moment—
Stand we firm, nor shrink away;
Looking boldly through the darkness,
Wait the coming of the day;
Gathering strength, while we are waiting
For the conflict, yet to come;
Fear not, fail not, light will lead us
Yet in safety to the home.

Firmly stand—though Syrens lure thee;
Firmly stand—though falsehood reign;
Holding Justice, Truth and Mercy,
Die we may, but cannot fail;
Fail! 'tis the word of cowards—
Fail! 'tis the language of the slave;
Firmly stand, till duty beckons,
Onward then 'e'en to the grave!

Rub or Rust.

Idler, why lie down to die?
Better rub than rust.
Hark! the lark sings in the sky—
"Die when die thou must!"
Day is waking, leaves are shaking,
Better rub than rust.

In the grave there's sleep enough—
Better rub than rust.
Death perhaps is hunger proof,
Die when die thou must.
Men are mowing, breezes blowing,
Better rub than rust.

He who will not work shall want,
Naught for naught is just—
Won't do, must do, when he can't,
Better rub than rust.
Bees are flying, sloth is dying,
Better rub than rust.

Anecdotes.

So you are going to keep house are you?
said an elderly maiden to a young woman recently married.

Yes, was the reply.

Going to have a girl, I suppose? was queried.

The newly-made wife colored, and then quietly responded, that "she did not really know whether it would be a boy or girl."

Do you drink hail in America? asked a cockney.

Hail, no,—we drink thunder and lightning, said the Yankee.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 2 weeks, 1.00
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' 3 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 2 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " " 3 " " " " 1.50
" " " " 3 " " " " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " " " 3 " " " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " " half " " " 7.00
" " " " 3 months " " " 4.00

To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not otherwise, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & EASTERRICK, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDEBRATH, Barnstable Gazette.
JAMES THURGOOD, Old Colony Memorial.
GROUP OF PIONEER, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BISSOP, Massapog Journal.

To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Per order.
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.

Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Brads and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' AND BOYS' Ready Made Clothing, AND FURNISHING GOODS! BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE, of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS, of every style and quality; Crochery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Quincy, Dec. 3d. tf

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!

HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Frost Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Barr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 8 tf

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE, ASA FRENCH.
May 29. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,

AUCTIONEER,
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

---HAS FOR SALE---
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND and NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

---DEALER IN---
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.
Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12. ly

FOR SALE CHEAP!

AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.
1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.
1200 Window Blinds,
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.
Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass,
Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point.)

HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash EGG, STOVE AND NUT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR

---AT---
WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,
on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables him to sell Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
HOWARD VINALL,
Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Quincy, August 12. if

For the Teeth.

HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings' Premium Dentifrice; Orlis and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3. tf

Doors, Sashes, Blinds, Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAYING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also

Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORRIS LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine Insurance Company.

$50,000, CAPITAL.
ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple, or at the office of the Agency in Boston, No. 12 Broker's Building.

PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER,
VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.
DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERLIN,
LOUIS CONANT, WM. S. TUCKER,
WILLIAM P. DRAKE, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNER.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insured Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.
Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Breck,
Gideon F. Thayer, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Albert Thompson, Cohasset,
Whitcomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, North Hingham,
William B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,
Thomas Curtis, North Bridgewater,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
Apollon Randall, Barnstable,
George Marston.

References, by permission:
Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Bridgford,
Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hon. SALOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1. ly

FAIRBANKS' SCALES,

of every variety,
34 Kilby Street, --- Boston.
GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales at any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2. ly

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

FOR COSTIVENESS.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, acidity, and sourness of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

FOR A FULB STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until health and strength is restored to the system.

FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

FOR SCORFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or some of the unclean diseases of the skin, because, by system waste cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

EVERY COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DYSURIC PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
MRS. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 28. ly

Rats and Mice.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without poison.
Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINATOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

COAL! COAL!

RED ASH, STOVE, NUT AND EGG COAL for sale at $8.00 per ton.
Also—300 Cords of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Scurvy Tonic and Man-drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Cure, for Rheumatism, &c.
Just received and for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS of fine cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache

DR. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills.
HOOFLAND'S German Balm.
Dr. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE REMEDY. For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28. if

Tooth Ache!

TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an article at DR. MARDEN'S which will effect an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24. if

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Groat, cracked Wheat, Sage, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broom, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and chills, patent Nurses, Shindles, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horsehair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, which appears in this and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1. 45tf

G. W. STONE'S COUGH ELIXIR.

For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, such as Cough, Cold, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Asthma, &c. It is also an invaluable remedy for Children suffering with the Whooping Cough or Croup. For all the above complaints this Elixir stands unrivaled. It is pure, pleasant, and safe. Compound, perfectly safe, and not unpleasant to the taste. No family will be without it after having tested its merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. Stone & Co., No. 38 Cornhill Street, Lowell, Mass. Sold Wholesale and Retail by BURR & PERRY, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Quincy, Dec 13. ly

Toys and Fancy Articles.

BY calling at DR. MARDEN'S, corner of HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of
TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES,
Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, Sleighs, Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, New Toys, Toys, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Clarinets, Trumpets, Harmonicas, Hummers—Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy Baskets, Kaleidoscopes, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Trampolines, Slates, &c., &c., at reduced prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Elections.

Quincy, Nov. 18. if

DR. LARROKAH, a celebrated brutal Indian, has discovered the true cause of common Routs and Eruptions, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not mortally consumed, and sufficient left to sustain life; and every disease, of whatever name, having its seat on the lungs or in the bronchial tubes.

One to two bottles will cure the worst of colds. One to three bottles will cure Consumption. One to two bottles

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1856.

NUMBER XXXIII.

Apothecary Store.

DR. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for sale, such as Ointments, Creams, Barley, Farina, Glycerine, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Bands, Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass Metal Syringes, Bedsteads, Hair Mitts, &c. &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Prescriptions put up with care and attention. He is also receiving the new and popular mode of the day, as they appear in this and other papers. Washington street, near Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1. 454

G. W. STONE'S COUGH ELIXIR.
For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough, &c. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all the above complaints. It is purely a Vegetable Compound, perfectly safe, and will not injure the system. No family will be without it after having tested the merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. Stone & Co., No. 28 Cornhill-street, Lowell, Mass. Sold Wholesale and Retail by

DR. E. HAYDEN, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Sold to druggists generally, and in this town by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Dec. 15

Toys and Fancy Articles.

BY calling at DR. MARSH'S, corner of HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES, such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, High-top, Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, New Toys, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Clarinets, Trombones, Harmonicas, Harmoniums—Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy Lockets, Rabbit-skins, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c. &c., and at reduced prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Convention.

Quincy, Nov. 15.

DR. LAROCHE'S, a celebrated Italian, has discovered a new and reliable remedy for all kinds of common Coughs and Hoarseness, and has secured a patent to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not too much consumed, and sufficient left to sustain life; and every disease of the chest, whether acute or chronic, arising from the lungs or in the bronchial tubes. One to two bottles will cure the worst of Colds. One to three bottles will cure the Whooping Cough. One to four bottles will cure the Asthma. Four to eight bottles will cure all Bronchitis. One bottle will cure Croup. Six to eight bottles will cure Consumption. Three to five bottles will cure Catarrh. See directions on label. $1 per bottle. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Sole Agent. Quincy, Jan. 19.

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 25.

For the Complexion.

HARRISON'S Orange Flower Lotion, for the complexion. It gives softness and hue of health to the skin, radically cures freckles, pimples, tan, and all cutaneous affections. Also—Harrison's Honey Soap in neat cases for traveling, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Oct. 27.

Fruits.

FRESH Lemons, Oranges and Figs; also—Dates, Prunes, Tamarinds, &c.'s Apples, &c. for sale at DR. MARSH'S, Quincy, Dec. 10. Goodnow's Building.

Just Received.

HARRISON'S Cream of Beauty, for the complexion. It gives softness and hue of health to the skin, radically cures freckles, pimples, tan, and all cutaneous affections. Also—Harrison's Honey Soap in neat cases for traveling, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Oct. 27.

Soaps and Perfumes.

CHOICE Soaps and Perfumes, and various other articles for the Toilette. Glycerine Pearl Powder; Harrison's Magnolia Balls; Shand's Lily White; Swift's Ointment; Quinine Menn Fann, a celebrated Toilette Powder; French's Bell Powder for infants; Full Brushes; &c. &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, March 11.

House Paper.

NOW is the time for PAPERING and all those in want will do well to call at the Store corner of Hancock and Granite Streets, where they will find a good assortment of House Paper, which is selling much below the usual prices. 4540 SAVIL, Goodnow's Building. Quincy, April 26.

China Vases.

A fine assortment of new and desirable patterns of China Vases, just received by CALEB PACKARD. Quincy, March 15.

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c. for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Jan. 12. Sole Agent.

Butter! Butter!!

30 to 40 tubs of first rate DAIRY BUTTER, for sale cheap D. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Oct. 29.

Delight's Spanish Lustrate, TO prevent baldness, and to give softness, gloss, vigor and beauty to the hair. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy Sept. 29.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business. Letters and communications, postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, P. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
New York City, FREEMAN HUNT.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Dream of Caleb Edmonds.

'Christianity, indeed!' said Mr. Edmonds, as he looked over his books, in the little back parlor behind the shop; 'I am disgusted with such hypocrisy.'

There was a dark frown upon the brow of the man of business as he spoke these words, and an irritability in his manner of turning over the leaves before him, which spoke of bad debts troubling his mind, and robbing him of his good temper.

'What is the matter?' asked a cheerful little woman by the fire, at whose side a basket of stockings told of a large family, and a consequent demand for stickery.

'Matter!' echoed the husband, 'do you not know that Welsford owes me four pounds ten and sixpence?'

'Well, he will pay, I suppose?'

'Not he. The goods were purchased more than a year ago, and I have not had a penny yet!'

'What does he say when you see him?' asked Mrs. Edmonds, who evidently loved to look at the bright side.

'Say! he does not say much to me, I can tell you. I told him not to worry me with excuses, but to bring his money; and that he need not cross my door-step again until he could do so.'

'I am sorry for his wife, said the little stocking-mender, presently; she appears to be a truly pious woman.'

'Pious!' retorted her husband, yes, and so he is; 'tis that disgusts me. Religion, indeed, and he owes me four pounds ten and sixpence. I thought the Bible said, 'Owe no man anything.' Christianity forsooth!'

Mr. Caleb Edmonds was a highly respectable grocer in the town of Marly—in fact a man of substance, for business had prospered with him. He was industrious and obliging; rising early, working hard; and thus from small beginnings he had risen to the possession of considerable wealth. But although an excellent man of business, Mr. Edmonds was a very ordinary Christian. True he began the race, but he did not press toward the mark—alas, for the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches! And, as it is characteristic of a low standard of piety to be harsh and censorious in our judgment of our fellow-citizens, so Mr. Edmonds, when he heard of any defect in the character of professors around him, was always the first to exclaim, 'Christianity, indeed!'

Is not this too common to us all? Do we not, even if we give no expression to our thoughts, doubt and hesitate, regarding the reality of the religion of our 'Ready-to-halts' and 'Feeble-minds'? Do we not set up a standard of perfection for our fellows, which were too lofty, in our view, as a standard for ourselves? And are we not too ready to exclaim against the wandering of others, even while we turn aside into forbidden paths?

Perhaps such thoughts as these had passed through the mind of Mrs. Edmonds, as she sat over her work; for when she rose to leave her basket for some more active household duty, she bent over her husband for a moment, and said gently, 'Caleb, I do not like to hear you say, Christianity, indeed! as you did just now. Suppose your fellow-Christians were to judge of you as harshly as you of them? You often say it; she continued hastily, 'you doubt John Watson's religion yesterday, because he lent money to your rival, Thornton's because he opposes you in business; and you shook your head because he argued with you against total abstinence! Judge not that ye be not judged.'

Long after his wife left him, these words rang in Caleb's ears—'Judge not.'

At last, as he sat in the twilight, between sleeping and waking—for business was very dull, and he could spare half an hour for rest—a vision stole upon him, and he passed, in imagination, rapidly through the scenes that follow.

At first he found himself in the front parlor of a house in a very quiet neighborhood, and in the presence of three maiden ladies, whose names he knew very well. They had their feet upon the fender, and their knitting laid aside—were evidently discussing the affairs of their neighbors.

Such pride! said the elder lady, whose name was Rayby, what will come next, I wonder?

'The most fashionable boarding school in R—, I assure you,' said another—Miss Phillip.

Ah! said Miss Rayby, and I can remember the time—of course, I was very young then, but still I can remember—when Caleb Edmonds swept out his own shop!

Dear me! and now he has the upstart impudence to send his girl to such a school as that! exclaimed Sophia Milwood, the spinster who had not yet spoken. Oh, the pride of human nature!

And he a professor, too!

Professor! said Miss Rayby; religion does not teach a man such absurd pride as that!

Miss Phillip shook her head, and began to lament the increase of false professors.

Well, thought Caleb, I believed that in spending some of my cash upon the education of my children, I could not go very far wrong; but I find I am misunderstood, even here.

The next scene was the drawing-room of the very John Watson, of whom Mrs. Edmonds had spoken. A lady was making tea behind a silver urn, and a gentleman—her husband, sat beside her.

Poor Thornton, said Mrs. Watson—for it was she—I trust he will succeed.

He shall, if by God's blessing I can compass it!

He is a very deserving young man, continued the lady; the manner in which he bore the loss of all his property would win esteem, even if he had no other claim.

Mr. Watson did not reply, his mind had wandered to another branch of the subject. That Caleb Edmonds, he said at length, I am surprised at the ill-feeling he displays.

Towards Thornton?

Yes, he is evidently annoyed at the opening of another shop so near his own; whereas in the principal street of a town like this, he should have expected competition. Besides, he has made a little fortune, and has nothing to fear; yet he will not treat George Thornton with ordinary civility.

I thought he was a religious man,' said Mrs. Watson.

He pretends to be, replied her husband; but I have not much faith in a religion which brings forth so little fruit!

Poor Caleb! his wife's words—the Master's words—still sounded in his ears as they had never done before, meeting with a responsive echo in his heart.

Again a change, and Mr. Edmonds found himself beside a sickly looking woman, who leaning on her husband's arm, walking slowly towards the house of prayer. It was impossible to look without interest upon her pale and anxious face—a face which had once been beautiful and equally impossible to disregard the careful tenderness with which her steps were guided by the strong man at her side. Their conversation too, was worthy of remark—they were speaking of the consolations of the Gospel.

'Who knows?' exclaimed the invalid, perhaps there may be words suited to our case this morning! Words for the poor!'

Poor as regards this world only, Mary!

Her eyes brightened as she looked up cheerfully, 'Yes, yes, rich in treasures far more costly than earth's gold. God help to look up, and to trust Him for the meat that perisheth.'

They walked on for awhile, and then the wife said mournfully, I sometimes fear it is pride which makes me shrink from meeting Mr. Edmonds; I do shrink from it. Oh, if we could but pay him!

We shall be able to do so soon, I hope, said Welsford; it has been a hard struggle, Mary—starvation almost; but I think it is nearly over.

Ah, it was all for me! I am sure Mr. Edmonds would be patient, if he knew how much you have spent in medicines for me, and how little work you have!

He is patient, after a fashion; and we have reason to be thankful for that; still he has said some crushing things to me—harsh things which he may live to repent—things which have made me doubt his Christianity.

Nay, said Mrs. Welsford, gently, I would not judge him; how many inconsistent things we do!

You are right. I may not lift my voice; alas, but little likeness to my lord is found in me!

Again the echoing voice thrilled through the soul of the listener—again he heard the words, 'Judge not,'—and as he dwelt upon them the vision slowly faded, and he awoke, awoke, and behold it was a dream!

But the lesson of the dream was not quite lost upon, for he awoke to a deeper spirit of Christian charity, a nobler self-denial, a holier humility, a nearer likeness to Jesus. He had been taught in that brief twilight musing one of the old lessons of the Book of God.

The fireside morning worship was just ended, and Charles Welsford was about to go forth to his daily toil, when a gentle knock at the door spoke of a visitor. How great was the surprise of all when Caleb Edmonds entered!

You are coming, sir—

I am come, said the grocer, interrupting him, to express my hope that you are not under any concern about that little amount you owe me. Take your time, my good sir, take your time!

The poor man's eyes were filled with tears, as grasping the outstretched hand, he tried to speak his thanks.

My wife, said Mr. Edmonds, turning towards Mrs. Welsford, put something into my hand, just as I left for you ma'am. And from his pockets came tea, sugar, biscuits, from the good wife's ample store, till Mary's eyes, too, filled with grateful tears.

And now, said the visitor kindly, don't forsake the shop, get your little parcels there, and pay just when it suits you. By the way, if a sovereign would be of any service to you, I have one which will burn a hole in my pocket as the saying goes—unless I give it to somebody. And before they could reply, he had laid the coin upon the table and was gone.

Mary, said Mr. Welsford, let us thank God for this.

They knelt, and as he breathed forth his heart's gratitude his wife wept tears of joy, and even his little ones murmured the Amen!

But Mr. Edmonds did not stop at this, it was to him Charles Welsford owed a situation which soon after placed him far above the reach of want; it was to him he owed a host of kindly deeds, which came like sunshine to his inmost soul. We hasten on.

Not long in this regard was Caleb Edmonds changed, for, two days after his strange dream he walked into his rival's shop, shook hands, invited him to drink tea at his house, spoke pleasantly about their opposition and even hinted at his own retirement at some future date, when his new friend would have 'a better chance!'

And from that time the charity which 'suffereth long and is kind, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things,' held an almost undisputed sway over the heart of Caleb Edmonds; and ever was the maxim of the Bible borne in mind—'Judge not that ye be not judged.'

Catching Lobsters.

Lobsters are taken in a sort of baskets called lobster pots. These are about three feet long and two feet wide, of semi-cylindrical form, that is, the bottom is flat, and the sides and top are in the form of an arch. At each end is an opening for the ingress of the lobster; around this opening are placed short, flexible pieces of wood, projecting into the basket, so arranged that they will easily separate and allows the lobster to enter, but their points close together after them and prevent his egress. They have a door upon the top, through which the lobster is taken out. A long line is attached to these pots; a heavy stone, sufficient to sink them, is placed in them, and they are baited with the heads or offal of fresh fish, and sunk to the bottom at about low water mark; the other end of the line is made fast to a block of light wood, called a buoy. The fishermen go out with their wherries, freighted with these pots, and drop them at short intervals along the shore.

During the season of lobster fishing, which lasts from March to July, hundred of these buoys may be seen bobbing up and down like so many seals' heads. The fishermen visit them every morning, draw them up alongside of their boats, take out the lobsters, replenish the bait, and drop them again into the water.

The lobsters, when first taken, are very fierce, and seize with their pincers upon whatever may be within their reach. When thrown together into the boat, they will grapple with each other and tear off each other's feelers and legs. Without much care in handling them, the fingers of the fishermen get many a bite. To prevent them from injuring each other, the fishermen provide sharp-pointed wooden pegs, which they insert into the joint or hinge of their pincers, which prevents them from closing. When they have visited all their pots, they row to their landing place. If they now wish to preserve them for several days, they put them into a long box or kennel, made of plank and bored full of holes, which is moored in the water at a short distance from the shore. If they wish to prepare them immediately for market, they are taken ashore in hand-barrows and carried to a sort of shed, in which is fixed a large cauldron. This is filled with water. A brisk fire is kindled under this kettle, and when the water boils, the living, crawling, squirming lobsters are thrown into it and covered with a heavy plank cover. Here they are kept boiling until their color, which when taken out of the water was a dark green, becomes a bright scarlet. They are now ready for the market. In this state we see them for sale on the stalls in our cities, and hawked about the streets.

Sleeplessness.

It is the result of over bodily or mental effort. When a man works beyond his strength or thinks or studies more than rest can restore, the sooner or later comes that inability to sleep soundly, that wakefulness, which is more wearing even than bodily labor, and which feeds the debility which first gave rise to it. The result is, a man is always tired, never feels rested even when he leaves his bed in the morning; hence he wastes away, and finds repose only in the grave; if, indeed, insanity do not supervene. It is too often a malady, remedied by medical means. Avoid it as you would a viper or a murderer. All over effort of mind and body is suicidal.

Whatever you do, take enough rest to restore the used energies of each preceding twenty-four hours; if you do not you may escape for a few months, and if possessing a good constitution, years may pass away before any decided ill result forces itself upon your attention; but rest assured the time will come, when the too often baffled horse will refuse to work; it will not take prompt and sound sleep; it will not be rested by repose, and that irritating wakefulness will come upon you, which philosophy cannot cure, and wasting by slow degrees to skin and bone, rest is only found in the grave.—Dr. Hall.

The Ocean.

Who that has stood upon the shore of the great deep, viewed its vast expanse, its majestic waves, has not felt a sympathy for that matchless description, from one of nature's best poets, embracing the following lines?

'There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is a rapture on the lonely shore,
There is a society where none intrudes,
By the deep sea, and music in its roar.
I love not man the less but nature more,
From these interviews with a self I steal
From all I may be, or have been before,
To mingle with the universe, and feel
What I can ne'er express, yet cannot all conceal.'

The ocean is fitted to meditation. Whether borne upon its placid bosom, where nothing but its waste of waters is visible, or surveying it from the land, with none to intrude between the soul and Him who made the sea and the dry ground; if there is in the breast any sentiment of the noble, the sublime, the awful, such a scene may well call it into exercise. Thus may we meditate in the language of another. 'There is mystery, more-over, in the sea.' It may well be styled 'the great deep.' It has doors and bars which say, not only to its own proud waves, but to inquisitive man, 'Hither shalt thou come, but no farther.' It seems to own an allegiance to the satellite of our planet, which it refuses to the sun. Whence its saltness? Who knows its depths? Who has gone down and explored its secret caverns? Who has 'entered into the springs of the sea,' or who has 'walked in search of the depths?'

What undescribed monsters, what unimaginable shapes, may be roving in the profoundest places of the sea, never seeking, and perhaps from their nature unable to seek, the upper waters, and expose themselves to the gaze of man! Where are the bodies of those lost ones over whom the melancholy waves above chant requiem? What shrouds were wrapped round the limbs of beauty and of manhood, and of placid infancy, when they were laid on the dark floor of that secret tomb? Who shall tell the bereaved to what spot their affections may cling, and where their tears may be shed, throughout the solemn sepulchre? O mysterious sea! Without Divine revelation, the world would be another just this mystery as we see in thee; even with it, there are so many mysteries of nature, of Providence, and of grace, that all that feeble man can say is, 'I will wait.'

Yet, what is the vast ocean to God? He hath measured it in the hollow of his hand, 'weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance.' It is his mirror.

'Thou glorious mirror, where the Almighty's form
Glances itself in tempests; in all time,
Calm or convulsed—in breeze, or gale, or storm,
Lies the pole, or in torrid clime
Dark-heaving—boundless—endless, and sublime,
The image of eternity—the throne
Of the Invisible!'

Glances itself in tempests; in all time, Calm or convulsed—in breeze, or gale, or storm, Lying the pole, or in torrid clime Dark-heaving—boundless—endless, and sublime, The image of eternity—the throne Of the Invisible!'

Yet, what is the vast ocean to God? He hath measured it in the hollow of his hand, 'weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance.' It is his mirror.

'Thou glorious mirror, where the Almighty's form
Glances itself in tempests; in all time,
Calm or convulsed—in breeze, or gale, or storm,
Lies the pole, or in torrid clime
Dark-heaving—boundless—endless, and sublime,
The image of eternity—the throne
Of the Invisible!'

The ocean hath its mission, and fulfils its beneficent end. It is to no vain purpose that it separates the nations so far from each other, that it occupies three-fourths the earth's surface, and has absorbed so many of her treasures. It wafts our ships from port to port, and by its facilities for intercommunication, it spreads before us the luxuries of every clime, and tends to unite in one great brotherhood. So much for the present.

But it is not to remain forever. The period will come when 'there shall be no more sea.' Its waters shall all be dissipated, when the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Happy those who attain that world, where there shall be no more sea, no more mystery, darkness, pain or death.—Morning Star.

Manufacture of Beads.

A correspondent of the Scientific American, writing from Venice, gives the following account of the manufacture of beads, for which the city is celebrated.

'The materials are put into smaller furnaces than those used in America, but constructed for economizing fuel, for which the Italians generally are celebrated. When the mass is sufficiently used, the coloring pigment is thrown in, and mixed with the molten glass. When thoroughly amalgamated, the workman gathers a couple pounds of the melted matter upon the end of an iron rod, which he withdraws from the furnace and manipulates upon an iron slab; after this he plunges the glass into a tub of water. When it is sufficiently cooled, he sticks it into the furnace again, where it remains until once more melted, then it is taken out and fashioned into a shape resembling a bottle, with the bottom broken out. Another workman now brings on a similar lump, attached to another rod; the two are welded together; then a couple of boys take each one of the rods, and 'travel' in different directions to either end of a long shed. As these boys run away from each other, the glass is drawn out into long tubular wires, so to call them, and lies along on the ground, where it is suffered to remain until cooled; after which it is broken up in lengths or tubes, three feet long, and sold to the bead and bangle makers, (a distinct class of operatives), or sent into other rooms of the same establishment, where workmen break them into minute particles.

The operation is performed by men, women and boys—who have before them an iron range, into which, with one hand they thrust fifteen or twenty tubes, at the same time, and with an iron instrument, (resembling a hatchet head) in the other, they rapidly chop off the ends of the tubes, according to the size adjusted on the range. These cuttings are then taken below, where they are put into an iron barrel along with some sand, and placed in a furnace over a pretty hot fire. A boy gives a revolving motion to the barrel, until the rotary motion is progressively increased until the beads are properly shaped, when they are taken out of the barrel and polished, by being poured into bags and shaken from side to side by the force of two men—in the same manner that I have seen people in this country cleaning coffee and grain.

After polishing, the beads are sifted into sizes, and then some men, with light wooden trays, sort out the perfect specimens by a peculiar jerking motion, and slant, which they dexterously give to the tray. The refuse is melted over again, and the now finished beads are put upon strings by a number of girls employed for that purpose. Various sizes are produced by larger or smaller tubes, as the case may be; but in all the operation is the same; the sifting process being necessary on account of the unevenness of the original tubes.

The colors were very brilliant in some instances, but in all cases the glass seemed full of grits and blemishes, until toned down by the action of the fire in the second furnaces. Many large warehouses receive the beads, where they are packed away in boxes for exportation. In one warehouse I saw several hundred tons of them, filling barrels and boxes, or strings of them, piled away on shelves in compartments occupied by various colors. They were of all sizes, from the minutest mustard seed to the immense egg-like articles exported to Africa and the Indies for the use of the dusky beauties of those climes.'

Insect Powers.

The muscular strength of insects is immense. We were once surprised by a feat performed by a common beetle in the United States. We had put the insect, for want of any box at hand, beneath a quart bottle full of milk upon a table, the hollow at the bottom allowing him room to stand upright.—Presently, to our surprise, the bottle began slowly to move and glide along the smooth table, propelled by the muscular power of the imprisoned insect, and continued for some time to perambulate the surface to the astonishment of all who witnessed it. The weight of the bottle and its contents could not have been less than three pounds and a half; while that of the beetle was about half an ounce, so that it readily moved a weight 81.2 times exceeding its own. A better notion than figures can convey will be obtained of this feat by supposing a lad of fifteen to be imprisoned under the great bell of St. Paul's, which weighs 12,000 pounds, and to move it to and fro upon a smooth pavement by pushing within. Mr. Newport has given other instances of insect power equally remarkable. Having once fastened a small kind of Curabius, an elegantly formed ground beetle, weighing three and a half grains, by a silk thread, to a piece of paper, he laid a weight on the latter. At a distance of ten inches from its load, the insect was able to drag after it, upon an inclined plane of twenty-five degrees, nearly eighty-five grains; and when placed on a plane of five degrees inclination, it drew after it one pound and twenty-five grains, exclusive of the friction to be overcome in moving its load, as though a man were to drag up a hill of similar inclination a wagon weighing two tons and a half, having first taken the wheels off. According to the same excellent authority, the stag-beetle—Lucanus Sericus—has been known to gnaw a hole an inch in diameter through the side of an iron canister in which it was confined, and on which the marks of its jaws were distinctly visible as proved by Mr. Stephens, who exhibited the canister at one of the meetings of the Entomological Society.

Let us look at the powers of insects exercised in the act of flying. The house fly—Musca domestica—that wheel and fly beneath the ceiling for hours together, ordinarily move at the rate of about five feet per second; but if excited to speed, they can dart along through thirty-five feet in the same brief space of time. Now in this period, as Kirby and Spence observes, a race horse could clear only ninety feet, which is at the rate of more than a mile in a minute. Our little fly in her swiftest flight will go more than one-third of a mile. Now compare the immense difference of the size of the two animals—ten millions of the fly would hardly counterpoise one racer—and how wonderfully will the velocity of the minute creature appear! Did the fly equal the race horse in size and retain its powers in the ratio of its magnitude, it would traverse the globe with the rapidity of lightning. Some of the flies that haunt our gardens shoot along so rapidly that the eye cannot follow them in flight.

Nor are these tiny creatures less masters of the arts of manning and leaping. Do lelie mentions a fly so minute as almost to be invisible, which ran six inches in a second, and in that space was calculated to have taken one thousand and eighty steps! This, according to the calculation of Kirby and Spence, is as if a man whose steps measured only two feet, should run at the incredible rate of twenty miles in a minute. Every one has had occasion to observe, not always without emotion of anger, the leaping powers of the flea—Pulex irritans. A bound of two hundred times its length is a common feat, or as if a man should jump twelve hundred feet, or a quarter of a mile! What a pity that insects were not allowed to be competitors in the athletic games of old.

Proportions of the Human Figure.

Nature, in the composition of the human frame has so ordained that the face, from the chin to the highest point of the forehead where the hair begins, is a tenth part of the whole stature; the same proportion obtains in the hand, measured from the wrist to the end of the middle finger. From the top of the chest to the highest point of the forehead is a seventh. From the nipples to the top of the scalp is a fourth of the whole stature. If the length of the face, from the chin to the roots of the hair, be divided into three equal parts, the first division determines the place of the nose; the second, the point where the eyebrows meet. The foot is a seventh part of the height of the entire frame. The other members have certain affinities which were always observed by ancient sculptors, and we must look for them in

The standards according to which all measurements are to be made, are like-wise deducted from the members of the body, such as the digit, the palm, the foot, and the cubit.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, August 16th 1856.

BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

SAVAGE ATTACK. The Boston Herald thus discourses upon a brief notice of ours on the military parade which came off in this town on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. "Savage, is it, Mr. Herald to vindicate one's rights, and protest in strong terms against the invasion of our territory by a gang of 'border ruffians.' We can temper our feelings to suit most any circumstances, but when a ruthless and unprincipled mob is let loose upon us, ripe for deeds of the darkest dye,—when peaceable citizens are obliged to take shelter behind the strong arm of the law in the prosecution of their lawful business,—and feeling inebriated through our streets and thoroughfares, making the night hideous with their boisterous revelry and bacchanalian songs,—we say when such things occur, and murder is committed in broad day, that tameness of speech is not only cowardly, but criminal.

If the military would preserve the good opinion which has heretofore been extended to them, they must cut adrift from the vile associations which follow in their train.—We can cordially extend to them the right hand of fellowship, but at the same time feel it our duty to repulse their associates; for we doubt the right of any military chieftain to crowd such upon a community. With these feelings, we with all deference suggest to our neighbors the propriety, that when they may again have an occasion to give their convicts an airing, that they select another place, or see that they are accompanied with a force sufficiently large to protect the lives of the citizen from the steel of the assassin, and their property from midnight burglars.

DEATH OF YOUNG WHITE. The last so lemn rites have been performed. Seldom, we venture to say, have our citizens been called to discharge a more solemn duty than the tribute which they have just paid to the memory of this unfortunate young man. Struck down, as it were, in the spring-time of life, when hope was buoyant, and a bright future was opening before him. In this bereavement, parents have been called to mourn the loss of a son, and brothers and sisters to weep the untimely removal of one of their number. From the first moment of the accident, until its final termination, young White was conscious of the fate that awaited him; although, from the nature of his wound, suffering the most intense agony. The cowardly practice, (of which he fell a victim) of wearing, upon every trifling occasion, deadly weapons, cannot be too strongly condemned. It is becoming quite too common, and too dangerous, not only as it regards the life of the citizen, but for the peace and security of society. It should be indignantly frowned down.

The following particulars and Report of the Coroner's Inquest, was furnished us by one of the Jurors.

On Sunday morning last about 2 o'clock, John T. White, who was wounded by a pistol shot at the Hancock House, died from internal hemorrhage. Information was given to Lewis Bass, Esq., Coroner, who summoned a jury for the purpose of enquiring relative to the "how, when and by what means," John T. White came to his death.

Constable Adams summoned the following persons to serve as jurors: Francis M. Johnson, Israel W. Munroe, Eliza Turner, Henry Barker, David B. Stetson and George L. Gill. F. M. Johnson was chosen Foreman. After the examination of witnesses, and obtaining possession of all the facts and circumstances of the affair as far as was necessary, the jury rendered the following

VERDICT:

Upon their oaths say, that John T. White came to his death on the 10th of August, by the discharge of a pistol on the 8th day of August, between the hours of six and seven o'clock in the afternoon, on the piazza of the Hancock House in Quincy; and said pistol being in the hands of one James Quinoline, he at the time being in a state of intoxication; and that the pistol was discharged while said White was attempting to wrest the same from the hands of said Quinoline. The Jury further say, they are of the opinion, the discharge of the pistol was unintentional on the part of said Quinoline.

FREMONT IN BRAINTREE. The Republicans of Baintree have organized a Fremont Club, with the following officers:
President—Hon. Alva Morrison.
Vice Presidents—John Kimball, J. H. D. Blake, S. D. Hayden, J. M. Cutting, Abijah Allen, Harvey Thayer, J. G. Howard.
Recording Secretary—F. A. Hobart.
Corresponding Secretary—Daniel Howe.
Treasurer—Horace Abercrombie.
Directors and Finance Committee—D. N. Mollis, A. Mason.

NEW POST OFFICE. A new post office has been established at Dorchester Upper Mills, to be called Mattapan, in honor of the Indian name of the place. George L. Fisher, Esq., has been appointed postmaster.

THE ANNUAL PIC NIC OF THE SPEAR FAMILY was celebrated at Houghs Neck on Wednesday last, in grand style. There was a goodly number present, and every thing wore the charm of ease, comfort and pleasure.—Among the group we discovered a venerable relic of former times, of eighty-four years standing, whose feelings appeared as alive to the occasion as any of the younger members. Another of the party, Mrs.—but never mind names—particularly attracted our attention; a matron of over threescore years; whose affable manners, and motherly affection, endeared her to all present. On leaving the ground she mounted the high seat along side of the gentlemanly escort with a dexterity which would have done credit to a Miss of sixteen. If she had not been a married man, with such irresistible etc., etc.,—we must stop here. On the whole, it was a social gathering, which called forth reminiscences of the past,—blending them with the bright anticipations of the future, which we have no doubt will be long remembered by all who took a part in the ceremonies.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT. The Alexander Family will give one of their popular Concerts, at Town Hall, on Wednesday evening next, as will be seen by reference to their advertisement in another column.

The performance of this talented troupe of vocal and instrumental performers are highly spoken of wherever they have exhibited. The press is quite laudatory in their praise. We don't know that we can serve our readers better than by copying one of the many testimonials of this kind which now lie before us.

"The American Family.—The performance of this talented troupe continue to attract crowded houses, and they are well worthy of public patronage. The lovers of rare and choice music will be gratified by paying them a visit."—St. John's paper.

MRS. FRENCH'S SALOON on Washington street, under its excellent management, still continues to attract its numerous patrons. If you are in want of a delicious Ice Cream, which would make an epicure's mouth water, call at once at French's.

For the Patriot.

The Perils and Duties of the Hour.

MR. EDITOR:—When on the 7th of March 1850, Daniel Webster delivered his great speech on the compromise measures, before a crowded Senate, he declared that he acted not for his own security or safety, but for the whole. "I speak to day for the preservation of the Union." But it was received in a far different spirit in Massachusetts, from that of the Senate Chamber. Boston shut Fanueil Hall against her great Senator, declaring him an apostate from her principles, a traitor who sold himself for the Southern vote.

The three great spirits who bore themselves as leaders in that great struggle have passed from earth; the people now do justice to their patriotism; and the events that have occurred during the last six years, prove that they were right when they said that the Union was in danger.

But the spirit of disunion which was broken in 1850, was not extinguished by any means. It reeled for a moment, under the shock, but soon recovering, and gathering strength from the discontented of all parties, it springs again to the conflict, with a fury, and an energy which it has never before displayed.

The present Presidential election will be the greatest test of the capacity of the American People for self-government, which they have yet experienced.

In former struggles the issues were simple, distinct and clear. Jefferson, or Adams; Jackson, or anti Jackson; Tariff, or anti Tariff; Bank, or anti Bank; were easily understood, and each voter could easily tell which he preferred, and vote accordingly. Now things are very different, there are so many parties, and fractions of parties, that it would puzzle a philosopher to trace the nice distinction between them. Buchanan and Beckinridge stand upon a broad and wide platform, and any one can tell in a moment whether he will vote for them, or not. Fillmore and Donaldson also are fairly before the country, their views distinctly announced in the Philadelphia platform. Outside these two candidates all is doubt and uncertainty. There are the Fremont and Dayton party; and the Fremont and Johnson party; the Gardner and Fremont party; the Fremont anti Gardner party; the Know Nothing Fremont men, and the anti Know Nothing Fremont men. These sections have held their primary meetings, elected delegates, and held conventions, and each on different principles, agreeing only upon one point, the maintaining of Colonel Fremont's name at the head of their ticket; if he can stand on all their platforms at once he must have at least a dozen pair of legs.

There can be no doubt that the success of this party and the carrying out its principles would be fraught with danger to the American people. In any of the conventions which nominated Fremont only sixteen states were represented, and if he is elected the entire nation will be governed by what they are pleased to call the North.

The success of either Buchanan or Fillmore exposes the people to no such danger as this. Both of them have supporters in every section of the country. Both of them should consult the interests of the nation in the construction of their cabinet, and no measure could pass during their administration which would not affect every man alike.

Without noticing the charges which are brought against Colonel Fremont by his opponents, or the extravagant praises of his friends, and regarding him as a fair, honorable man, he must, if elected, carry out the principles to which he has pledged himself, and every one who has read the speeches of Giddings, Hale, Ward Beecher, or Theodore Parker, know what those principles are.—They are war upon slavery, war to the knife, slavery must be driven from the nation at whatever cost, if the pen fails, use the rifle; if it cannot be done by law, it must be done without law; if it cannot be done constitutionally then the constitution that upholds it, must be destroyed.

Such are the principles which are inculcated from the Pulpit, from the Rostrum, and through the Press, and Fremont must, if elected, carry them out, for no man is strong enough to stem such a torrent of popular fury, as must be created to secure his election. He must swim with the current, or be destroyed by its force.

These are some of the domestic perils of the hour.

For the Patriot.

Congress.

The long and unprofitable session of Congress is drawing to a close. And well it may. It has been but a bill of expense, a drain upon the public Treasury, without accomplishing any good object, and many of the most important measures which are before it scarcely being debated.

The Hall of Representatives has not been used for "mutual consultation and discussion," but as an arena, for the exhibition of champions, for honorable gentlemen to display their eloquence, for Southern chivalry to show its daring, and Northern Representatives their great responsibilities. Members of every party have occupied the time and attention of the House in delivering and replying to political speeches, in promulgating opinions, in creating issues, which serve only to distract, to alienate and sectionalize the country. We venture to say, that if those politicians, office seekers, hungry sycophants, who drain the people's purse and barter for their votes, should be allowed to retire, the country would be more prosperous, the national Government more vigorous, and above all, the disturbances and blood shed upon our borders, the violence of party spirit, and the cries of disunion would forever cease. For the last five weeks the record of the meeting of Congress has been about the same; striking out and substituting the different names, one day's record would serve for the next.

We might begin thus, almost any day. House called to order, the Speaker in the Chair. Mr. A. defended the Cincinnati platform and the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; eulogizes Mr. Buchanan. Mr. B. made a long speech in reply to Mr. A.—attacks the Cincinnati platform and the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; denounces the "border ruffians." Mr. C. said he could support neither Mr. Fremont or Buchanan; Mr. Fillmore was the only man who could restore the Government to its original purity, and was the only candidate who was not sectional in his views. Mr. D. calculates upon the chances of the election of President devolving upon the House, and finally said that if there was no choice by the people the election would depend upon the way Mr. E. voted, all others being decided and he commanding the vote of one state.

Thus it is through men who were sent to consult and to consider for the welfare of the country, the strife and bitter feeling that is always attendant upon a Presidential election is renewed with extraordinary violence and the isms at stake are such as should alarm every true patriot. Within the last five years with what rapid strides have we approached that state of anarchy and disorder which has destroyed all republics in both ancient and modern times, and built monarchies upon their ruins. How long will the people continue to support men who drain the life of the country, whose patriotism lasts only as long as the public money does: who cry, "I am a patriot, the Union is in danger, give me eight dollars a day and peace will be restored and harmony reign." To such we owe all excitements, all sectional issues. Instead of trying to calm and assuage the tempest, they rouse it to the utmost; cry "Freedom," "Union," and stand with a speech in one hand, and the other in the public Treasury. Here is the secret. They are patriotic when they can afford to be; when they are paid for it.

JUNIOR.

Fremont's Financial career in California.

Rich idea, aint it Mr. Editor, that the nominee of the Black Republican party for the Presidency should be a defaulter of the General Government, to the tune of between six and eight thousand dollars; and under circumstances too, which gives it a very nasty appearance, to say the least. It seems that this gentleman while in California, and during Col. Kearney's administration of the public affairs of that Territory,—did, under various aliases, as Governor, Lieut. Col. of the United States Army, &c. borrow money at various times from different individuals, on the faith of the Government, which has not yet been acknowledged, and remains unpaid to this day.

We have no particular respect for Mr. F. but we have for the office to which he aspires, and to remove the obloquy which this circumstance might attach to his name and consequently to the office, we suggest the idea to the different Keystone Clubs, the propriety of each one raising their quota of the sum, until the purse is made up, to be forwarded to Mr. Fremont, to relieve him from his present embarrassment and give him a fair chance in the great Presidential race which is to come off in November next. What say you, brother Democrats, we have put the ball in motion, to keep it a rolling?

Special Notices.

FREEDOM AND FREMONT. There will be a meeting of the Quincy Fremont Club, on MONDAY EVENING, Aug. 18th, at 8 o'clock, at the Hall over the Quincy Book Store.

E. W. MARSH, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 16.

KEY STONE CLUB STAND BY THE UNION. There will be a meeting of the Key Stone Club of Quincy, in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, August 19th, for the choice of Delegates to the Democratic State Convention; and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

Citizens of Quincy in favor of the election of Buchanan and Beckinridge are invited to attend.

JONATHAN JAMESON, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 16.

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast in the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.
E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.

EDWARD AVERY, } Secretaries.
Geo. W. BENTLEY, }
Boston, July 5.

A CARD.

D. D. RING, would take this opportunity to inform his friends and former customers, that he has re-opened his tailoring establishment on School street, opposite Dr. Patten's where he will be happy to receive them, and any orders with which they may honor him with in his line.

Deaths.

In Calais, (Vt.) on the 3d inst., Mrs. Anna E. Simpson, formerly of this town, and wife of Mr. Ira R. Kent, aged 22 years.

In Milton, on the 12th inst., Mrs. Julia, wife of Octavius T. Rodgers, Esq., aged 48 years.

In Boston, on the 10th inst., William Edward, youngest son of Mr. James S. and Mrs. Nancy Salmon, aged 1 year and 7 months.

Town Meeting.

NORFOLK, SS.—To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy; GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of said Town of Quincy, qualified by law to vote in Town Affairs, to meet at the Town Hall, in Quincy on TUESDAY, the 19th day of AUGUST, 1856, at five o'clock P. M., to act on the following Articles,—to wit:—

Article 1st.—To choose a Moderator.
Article 2d.—To know what action the Town will take relative to an order of notice served on the Town by the County Commissioners.

Article 3d.—To know if the Town will furnish a Hook and Ladder Carriage, with suitable Hooks and Ladders.

Article 4th.—To see if the Town will accept the Report of the Selectmen now on file in the office of the Town Clerk, altering Squantum Street; also to see if the Town will discontinue part of said street, as recommended in said Report.

Article 5th.—To know if the Town will put a Force in the High School House.

Article 6th.—To know if the Town will sell the old Engines that are now out of use.

Article 7th.—To choose any Committee, or hear and act on the report of any Committee when assembled.

Hereof fail not, and make due service of this Warrant and to return your doings thereon to the Town Clerk, at or before the time of holding said Meeting.

Given under our hands at Quincy, this eleventh day of August, A. D. 1856.

E. S. FELLOWS, } Selectmen
E. B. ADAMS, }
WM. W. BAXTER, } Quincy.

A true copy.—Attest,
SETH ADAMS, Constable.

Norfolk, ss. Quincy, August 11th, 1856.
Pursuant to the above Warrant, I hereby notify and warn the Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, who are qualified as therein expressed to meet at the time, place, and for the purposes therein named.

SETH ADAMS, Constable of Quincy.
Quincy, Aug. 16.

Young America among the Bells.

At Town Hall, Quincy,
WEDNESDAY EVE. AUG. 20th, 1856.

THE CELEBRATED
Alexander Family,
AS—

Swiss Bell Ringers and Vocalists:

WOULD most respectfully announce to the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity ONE of their Novel and Popular Musical Entertainments, as above announced.

ADMISSION ONLY 15 CENTS.

Doors open at 7 1/2 o'clock. Commence at 8 1/2. For full particulars, see Programmes and Circulars.

Quincy, Aug. 16.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, SS.

In Insolvency.

BEFORE W. L. WALKER, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for said County of Norfolk.

In the matter of

DANIEL A. WHITE,

of Dorchester, in said County, Insolvent Debtor.

The Third meeting of the Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Office of George White Esq., in Quincy, in said County, on SATURDAY, the 23rd of August, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which meeting Creditors may be present and prove their claims.

SAMUEL EVERETT, Assignee.
Aug. 16.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

THE undersigned inhabitants of Stoughton, in said County, respectfully represent, that the highway in East Stoughton, near the dwelling house of Simon Leach and on the road of the said Simon Leach and Charles Littlefield is crooked and inconvenient, and that the public good requires that the same be straightened.

Your petitioners therefore respectfully ask your Honorable Board to view said road, and, if thought proper, to order the same to be straightened, and to discontinue such parts of the present road, as are not required for public use, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

CHARLES LITTLEFIELD and twelve others.
East Stoughton, July 26, 1856.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners begun and held at Dedham, within and for the County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of July, A. D. 1856, by adjournment of the last meeting next preceding:

On the petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the House of Charles Littlefield in East Stoughton, in said County, on WEDNESDAY, the tenth day of September next, at nine o'clock A. M., and there proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Stoughton, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view. And also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in The Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Stoughton, fourteen days at least before said view; that all persons and corporations, interested for or against said petition, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition on file, and order thereon.

Attest,
EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
Aug. 9.

Stone Quarry to Let.

THE Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Curtis, Enquire at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street.

Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19.

Wanted.

A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a himself generally useful either on a farm or in a store.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring.

Quincy, July 26.

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.

Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, July 26.

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28.

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASURE Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by

A. A. MEARS.

Quincy, June 21.

STONE QUARRIES

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily cut out.

Inquire of Dr. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near and premises.

Quincy, May 24.

Hats and Caps.

JUST received a few cases Mole-skin and Koe with Hats of the latest styles and of superior quality and finish.

Also—Men's, Boys' and Infants' Caps in great variety, and for sale very low by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, April 26.

FOR SALE.

A SMALL House and Land, situated in the West District, near churches, stores, and excellent schools. For terms, &c., apply to

GEO. B. NIGHTINGALE,
Near the Stone Temple.

Quincy, Aug. 9.

To Let.

A NEW HOUSE.

Enquire of S. R. EDWARDS.

Quincy July 12.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street, in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty sleeping Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $3.25 washing included, not exceeding four prices. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.
Quincy, July 12.

Notice to Students.

WHEREAS Two Vacancies have occurred in the class of Students admitted to College in 1855, upon the foundation provided by the State, notice is therefore given under that application for the vacant scholarships, will be received by the Board of Education until the 6th of September next, and that the preference will be given to the 3d section of Norfolk and the 6th section of Middlesex, said sections having originally been entitled to the Scholarships. The provisions of law concerning original appointments will be observed so far as they are applicable to the existing vacancies.

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Board of Selectmen.
Boston, Aug. 2.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute something to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening,
(Sundays excepted.)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at six times, and larger ones at reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms of desirability.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

J. W. CLAPP.
Quincy, June 21.

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. S. Fitch's celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor.

Quincy, July 19.

The Misses Townsend.

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake,

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK AND SEA STREETS,

where they will be prepared

ON AND AFTER TON-DAY,
(Sundays excepted.)

to wait on those who may favor them with a call.

Quincy, July 19.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE copartnership heret

Poetry.

Agricultural Ode.

BY WILLIAM C. BYRANT.

Far back in ages past,
The plough with wreaths was crowned,
The hands of kings and sages
Entwined the chaplet round;
Till men of spoil
Disclaimed the toil
By which the world was nourished,
And blood and pillage were the soil
In which their laurels flourished;
Now the world her fault deplores—
The guilt that stains her glory,
And weeps her crimes amid the cares
That formed her earliest glory.

The thrones shall crumble,
The diadems shall wane,
The tribes of earth shall humbly
The pride of those who reign,
And war shall lay
His pomp away;
The fame that heroes cherish,
The glory earned in deadly fray,
Shall fade, decay and perish,
Honor waits e'er all the earth,
Through endless generations—
The art that calls the harvest forth,
And feeds the expectant nations.

The Drunkard's Farewell.

Farewell drink, so high and handy
Farewell rum and gin and brandy,
Farewell butts that seem all weather,
Farewell bums that have no feathers,
Farewell tubs that I've forsaken,
Farewell ways that have no bacon,
Farewell cupboards without victuals,
Farewell damaged pots and kettles,
Farewell faces red as crimson,
Farewell hats that have no rims on,
Farewell coat, more hole than stitches,
Farewell ragged vest and breeches,
Farewell broken chairs and tables,
Farewell dwelling worse than stables,
Farewell drunken song and carol,
Farewell friends who love the barrel,
Farewell drinking lads and lasses,
Farewell windows without glasses,
Farewell floors that need a swabber,
Farewell yards that have no wood pile,
Farewell bands that I have broken,
Farewell outies that I have spoken,
Farewell landlords and bar-tenders,
Farewell all blue-devil senders.

Imaginary Evils.

Let to-morrow take care of to-morrow;
Leave things of the future to fate;
What's the use to anticipate sorrow,
Life's troubles come never too late!
If to have ovens smoldering in the fire,
"The one that the wise have preferred;
And how often have hearts been in terror
Of evils that never occurred!

Have faith—and thy faith shall sustain thee—
Permit not suspicion and care
With invisible bonds to bind thee,
But bear what God gives thee to bear,
By his Spirit supported and gladdened,
Be never by "fancies" deterred,
But think of how hearts have been saddened
By fear—of what never occurred!

Let to-morrow take care of to-morrow;
Short and dark as life may appear,
We may make it still darker by sorrow,
Still shorter by folly and fear!
Half our troubles are half our invention;
And often from blissings conferred
Have we shrunk in the wild apprehension
Of evils that never occurred!

The American Union.

The North! the South! no geographic line
Can fix the boundary or the point of view,
Since each with each so closely interblends,
Where Slavery roars, and where Freedom ends,
Beneath your rocks the roots, far-reaching, hide
Of the fell T'pans on the Southern side;
The tree whose branches in your north winds
Wave
Dropped its young blossoms on Mount Vernon's grave;
The nursing growth of Monticello's crest
Is now the glory of the free North-West;
To the west maxima of her olden school
Virginia listened from thy lips, Rantoul;
Seward's words of power, and Sumner's fresh renown,
Flow from the pen that Jefferson laid down!
And when, at length, her years of madness o'er,
Like the crowned grayer on Ephraim's shore,
From her long lapse to savagery, her mouth
Bitter with baneful herbage, turns the South,
Resumes her old attire, and seeks to smooth
Her unkempt tresses at the glass of truth,
Her early faith shall find a tongue again,
New Weyha and Pinckneys swell that old refrain,
Her sons with yours renew the ancient pact,
The myth of Union prove at last a fact!
Then, if one murmur mars the wide content,
Some Northern lip will draw the lid dissent,
Some Union-saving patriot of your own
Lament to find his occupation gone.

Anecdotes.

A country girl coming from the field, was told by her cousin that she looked as fresh as a daisy kissed with dew.
Well it wasn't any feller by that name, but Joe Fogg that kissed me; confound his picture, I told him everybody would find it out!

Ma, didn't the minister say, last Sunday,
"hat the sparks flew upwards?"
Yes, my dear; how came you to be thinking of it?
Because, yesterday I saw cousin Julia's spark staggering along the street and falling downward.

Molly, I think you'll never set the river on fire, said a lady to her servant.
Indeed ma'am, I'd never be after doing any thing so wicked—I'd be burning up the little fishes.

I never complained of my condition but once, said an old gentleman, when my feet were bare and I had no money to buy shoes; but I met a man without feet and I became contented.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth
Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors
and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian,
2 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3
weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads,
&c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and
other Legal Notices not embraced above,
3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or
less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " 3 " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " " 1 " 1 " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " half " 6.00
" " " 3 months " 4.00
To be charged at the option of the Advertiser,
not shorter, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square,
one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously
for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts
to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & EASTBROOK, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PRINCEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM B. BROWN, Massachusetts Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers
published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties,
Per order.

JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.
DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS,
Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak
Trimnings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' and BOYS'
Ready Made Clothing,
AND
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES,
CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS,
HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.
Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS
of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality; Crochery, China,
Glass and Brimstone Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of Housekeeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.
Quincy, Dec. 3d.

Mc. Eckron's
CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

TRIUMPHANT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world,
and its use is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular remedies of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed
where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c.,
and in Bruises, Burns, Solar Wounds, all kinds of Aches, Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the
U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in
Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 8

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,
AUCTIONEER,
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
--- HAS FOR SALE ---
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
--- DEALER IN ---
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
--- ALSO ---
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to
call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12. if

FOR SALE CHEAP!
AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.
1200 Window Blinds.
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.
Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass.

Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too
numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.
ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point.)

HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash
EGG, STOVE AND NUT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR
--- AT ---
WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he
is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby
saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers,
which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices.
All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat,
HOWARD VINAL,
Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings,
and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.
JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAS-TERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12. if

For the Teeth.
HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings
Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and
Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale
by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3. if

Doors,
Sashes,
Blinds,
Hardware.
Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call
and examine our stock, before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY.
$50,000, CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD
FURNITURE, and other Personal Property
against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on
THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on
Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,
or at the office of the Agency in Boston,
No. 12 Brazer's Building.

PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER,
VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERRIN,
LOUIS CONGDON, WM. S. THATCHER,
WILLIAM P. DRAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSUR-ANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra
hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;

DIRECTORS,
Quincy, William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Breck,
Gideon F. Thayer, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Albert Thompson, Cohasset,
Whitcomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, South Hingham,
Thomas B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,
Thomas Curtis, North Bridgewater,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
South Braintree, Barnstable,
Apollon Randall, George Marston.

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., "

OFFICE
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1. 1y

FAIRBANKS'
CELEBRATED
SCALES,
of every variety,
24 Kilby Street, --- Boston.

GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.
A full assortment of all kinds of weighing
apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in
any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2. 1y

AYER'S
CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the
internal viscera, to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such
derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, and they were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in the Quincy Patriot
Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.
Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or
such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the result of indigestion, and Pills, and the cure of one complaint is the cure
of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it is, promptly relieved.
FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourness of dyspepsia
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.
FOR A FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, which flows from sweet
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.
FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear them and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.
FOR SCURFV, ERYTELEMA, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish, and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and
some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.
Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade your ailments before the world, and
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because! or
system wants cleansing.
TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely
and frequently, and the impurities which sow the
seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the consequence is frequently determined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow
into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails.
Feverish symptoms, languor, sleeplessness, weariness,
restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes in-
ability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness;
sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin
and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow;
the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch;
the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever,
which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove
the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer
such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effectual to
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 28. 1y

Rats and Mice.
Lyon's MAGNETIC POWDER—For the
destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without the use of Poison.
Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.
DR. SCHENCK'S Scurvy Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache
DR. HOLLAND'S Oriental Balm Pills.
Dr. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE
REMEDY. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28. if

Tooth Ache!
Treat every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold
steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24. if

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared
Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked
Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Beans, &c.
Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon
Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.
Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum
Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass
Pipes and bells, Patent Naeling Shields, Tapes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitters, Fresh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand.
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and
attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear at Co. No. 38, Cornhill-street, Lowell, Mass. Solid Wholesale and Retail States. Washington street, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, Nov. 1.

BRING RELIEF
G. W. STONE'S
COUGH ELIXIR,
For the Relief and Cure of all Affections of the Throat
and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough, &c. It is a powerful and safe remedy for Children suffering with the Whooping Cough, and for the above and other affections of the respiratory system. It is purely a Vegetable Compound, and is entirely non-toxic to the taste. No family will be without it after having tested its merits.

Price Fifty Cents per Bottle.
Manufactured by G. W. Stone & Co., No. 38, Cornhill-street, Lowell, Mass. Solid Wholesale and Retail States.

DUKE & PERRY, 1 Cornhill, Boston.
Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Dec. 15. 1y

Toys and Fancy Articles.
BY calling at DR. MARDEN'S, corner at HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of
TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES,
Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs,
Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.
Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs,
Shighies—Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, Nine Pins, Toys, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Clarinets, Trumpets, Harmoni-
cas, Harmoniums—Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy
Baskets, Kaleidoscopes, Bird Cages, Bird Bows
and Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c., &c., and at reduced prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Election.

Quincy, Nov. 18. if

DR. LAROCKAH, a celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of a few simple and common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not so much diseased as to be beyond the power to sustain life; and every disease, of whatever name, having its seat on the lungs or in the bronchial tubes.
It is a powerful and safe remedy, and will cure the most obstinate cases of Cough, Spasms, and all other affections of the lungs and throat.
One to two bottles will cure the Whooping Cough.
Two to four bottles will cure the Asthma.
Four to eight bottles will cure Bronchitis.
One bottle will cure Croup.
Six to eight bottles will cure Consumption.
Three to five bottles will cure Catarrh.
See directions on label. $4 per bottle.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Sole Agent.
Quincy, Jan. 19. if

Paper Hangings.
JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings
and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

For the Complexion.
TOMPKINS' Orange Flower Lotion, For time's Balm of a Thousand Flowers, Milk
Rose, Ammonia for Tan Stubborn Skin, &c., &c.
For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 7. if

Fruits.
FRESH Lemons, Oranges and Figs; also—Dates, Prunes, Tamarinds, Eve's Apples, etc. etc. For sale at
DR. MARDEN'S,
Quincy, Dec. 10. Goodnow's Building

Just Received.
HARRIS'S Cream of Beauty, for the complexion. It gives softness, and health to the skin, radically cures freckles, pimples, tan, sunburn and all cutaneous affections.
Also—Harrison's Honey Soap in neat cases for traveling, for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Oct. 27. if

Soaps and Perfumes.
CHOICE Soaps and Perfumes, and various other articles for the Toilette.
Glenn's Pearl Powder; Harrison's Magnolia Balm; Sland's Lily White; Swift's Ointment and Chalk Balls; Chinese Mean Fan, a celebrated Toilette Powder, French's Bell Powder for inants; Puff Boxes; etc. etc. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, March 11. if

House Paper.
NOW is the time for PAPERING and all those in want will do well to call at the Store corner of Hancock and Granite streets, where they will find a good assortment of House Paper, which is

Stone Quarry to Let.
THE Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and now owned by Mr. C. Curtis, is situated on the corner of School Street, Quincy, July 19.

Money!! Money!!!
THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their HATS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment of the latest styles are always to be found at the very lowest cash prices.
Quincy, July 18.

Wanted.
A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a husband and father of a family—to make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a store.
Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring, Quincy, July 26.

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.
W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Optician Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday.
OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.
Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.
HOURS—From 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.
Quincy, July 26.

LOST.
A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.
GEORGE SAVIL,
Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.
Quincy, Jan 25.

Boat for Sale.
A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 8 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by A. A. MEARS.
Quincy, June 21.

CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their regular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. In extensive and long-continued cases of dyspepsia, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by the most reliable position and character as to the efficacy of the Pills, their testimonials are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.
Amos we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.
For CONSTIPATION. Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.
For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Catarrh, and sometimes the cause of Catarrh, take one or two Pills, or such quantity as gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.
For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Catarrh, and sometimes the cause of Catarrh, take one or two Pills, or such quantity as gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For a FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Liver, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.
For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.
For SCORBUTIC AFFECTIONS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers, and sores, and all sorts of eruptions, leaving the sufferer in a perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, and sores, and all sorts of eruptions, leaving the sufferer in a perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, and sores, and all sorts of eruptions, leaving the sufferer in a perfect health.

TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as they do in curing it.
LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the ducts which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feversish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great derangement of the whole system, are the result of this derangement of the liver. The bile becomes a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever. In the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them so easily. RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in small doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely. As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Sole Agent,
Quincy, Oct. 28.

NEW ARRANGEMENT:

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!!

THE Subscriber having disposed of his entire stock of Dry Goods is now prepared to offer the BEST STOCK of

READY MADE CLOTHING!!

FOR

Gents' and Boys' Wear,

Ever offered in this vicinity, consisting in part of FINE CLOTH FROCKS AND SACKS, of the Latest Styles.

BUSINESS FROCKS AND SACKS;

PANTS, in great variety.

VESTS, in Silk, Satin, Cloth, Cashmere, Mar-

seilles, &c.

BOYS' JACKETS AND PANTS,

together with

Overalls, Frocks, Striped Shirts,

&c. &c. &c.

FURNISHING GOODS,

in great variety, viz:

Shirts, Dickies, Cravats, Socks, Ties,

Hosiery and Gloves.

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UM-

BRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, JOGERS,

SHOES, ETC. ETC.

Custom Work.

The Custom Department (Joseph W. Lombard Cutter) is now complete in Broad Cloth, Black and Fancy Dressing, Cassimeres, Coating Cloths and Vestings, and all the latest styles of Garments, at short notice, and Style, Fit and Workmanship guaranteed.

I would most respectfully invite my Friends and Customers to call and examine my stock of Goods, to which I am making weekly additions. All of which I shall offer at the lowest possible prices for Cash.

GEORGE SAVIL,
Goodnow's Building,
Cor. Hancock and Granite streets.
Quincy, May 17.

GREAT BARGAINS!

CLOTHING and PIECE GOODS

FOR

Men's and Boys' Wear

AT THE

Town Hall Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that they have already on hand the largest and best assorted Stock of

READY MADE CLOTH NG

ever opened in this county. Consisting of every kind of Garment made from goods of latest importation. To those who buy for cash, this presents a rare opportunity, as he is enabled to dispose of his entire stock within a ninety days.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods ever on hand.

TERMS CASH AND CASH ONLY.

Quincy, April 15.

Important Notice to Purchasers

OF

CLOTHING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has given up the Millinery business, and has fitted up that department for

READY MADE CLOTHING,

which will consist in

MEN'S YOUTHS' and CHILDREN'S WEAR,

Particular attention will be paid to

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

I will advise the Public that if they will give the benefit of their patronage to the subscriber, they will find GOODS at prices which will enable them to buy.

For a full list of CLOTHING, should lose no time in examining my Stock, which consists of a good assortment of every description.

CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, March 5.

New Tailoring Goods.

J HOLI IN,

WOULD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has

Just Replenished his Stock,

with a choice selection of Goods, suitable for

SPRING and SUMMER

He invites the attention of such as expect punctuality and good workmanship, for cash only, such being his rule of business, and the reduced rates at which he sells, rendering any other mode of doing business impracticable.

His clothes will always be made with all his care and skill, of the ROASTERS SORT, leaving the influence, leaving the sufferer in a perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, and sores, and all sorts of eruptions, leaving the sufferer in a perfect health.

Remember he is not to be understood by any other establishment, style, quality and finish.

Quincy, April 21.

LOOK OUT

FOR

Slop Clothing.

DO not buy slop work when you can get Custom Made Clothing at the same price; how much nearer a suit of Clothes look when made to order; and what is more agreeable and beautiful than

A WELL FITTING GARMENT.

The undersigned would give notice to his friends and the public that he is now ready to introduce the

FASHIONS FOR GENTLEMEN'S DRESS

FOR THE

Spring and Summer of 1856

No pains has been spared to procure the best materials in England, France and the United States, from the most celebrated fabricators of Gentlemen's Dress Goods in Europe and America.

It gives me pleasure to say that the styles for the coming season are more in accordance with good taste, than any goods which have been presented for several years.

Also—A good assortment of

Youths' and Children's Garments,

a large variety of

HATS and CAPS

and

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS

FOR SALE CHEAP.

Giving personal attention to the cutting department, garments will be warranted to give general satisfaction.

All who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere.

D. D. RING.
OPPOSITE THE ORTHODOX CHURCH.
Quincy, April 26.

Old Stand Opened Again!!

JOHN DINEGAN

WOULD respectfully return his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Quincy for the liberal patronage he has received for the last thirteen years, and at the same time would respectfully inform them that he

Has commenced business again at the Old Stand, where he has just received a

CHOICE SELECTION OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS,

which he will make up into Garments in the

Very latest Style,

for all who may be disposed to favor him with their patronage.

Quincy, June 21.

T. Dodds,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

BESS leave Respectfully to invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to an inspection of his

Stock of Goods,

which he will make to measure in the most approved manner and

Warrant them in Every Respect

SATISFACTORY.

Having had long experience in the Business, he feels assured of being able to suit the most fastidious.

He also keeps on hand an assortment of

READY MADE

CLOTHING,

made from the best material and in the best manner, which he will sell at a small advance over cost.

Clothing a little out of style sold very cheap, on Hancock street, opposite the Post Office.

Quincy, June 7.

Provision Store.

THE subscribers have just opened the stand, for many years occupied by the late Samuel Copeland, where they will endeavor to furnish customers with the best and rarest of the market affords.

The different kinds of

MEATS, POULTRY, VEGETABLES,

etc., on hand or promptly furnished to order.

Strict attention to business and a desire to merit and honestly deal with patrons will always claim our undivided attention, and we therefore respectfully solicit patronage.

C. & J. ARNOLD.
Quincy, April 12.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he has established himself in business on

Washington Street,

where he intends keeping a good supply of

Cook, Parlor and Office Stoves,

together with a general assortment of

TIN, BRITANNIA and JAPANESE WARE.

All kinds of Job Work done with neatness and dispatch.

Old Iron, Copper, Brass, Lead, and Rags taken in exchange for new.

He hopes by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage.

CHARLES F. PIERCE.
Quincy, April 19.

Removal.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public that they have removed

SPACIOUS WAREHOUSE,

Nos. 283 and 285 Washington Street.

Where they offer

A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

OF

ENGLISH CARPETING,

To which they are constantly receiving additions by Steamers and Packets:

COMPRISING:

TOURNAIS,

RICH VELVETS

and TAPESTRY.

Three-thread five and six

frame BRUSSELS &c.

Together with a large variety of

Medium and Low-Priced Goods.

ALSO

ENGLISH and AMERICAN

Painted Floor Cloths!!

In every variety of widths, patterns and qualities.

JOHN H. PRAY, SONS & CO.,

Nos. 283 & 285 WASHINGTON ST.,

A few doors south of Winter st.

Boston, March 15.

WM. P. TENNY & CO.,

Railroad Hall, Haymarket Square,

BOSTON.

HAVE now in store, and will be constantly receiving throughout the season, from the principal and best manufacturers in England and America, EVERY

DESCRIPTION OF

CARPETS,

Desirable for furnishing

HOTELS, DWELLINGS AND SHIPS,

embracing

VELVET & BRUSSELS TAPESTRY,

BRUSSELS,

Three-Ply and Kidderminster,

Painted Carpets, Bookings,

Mattings, Rugs, &c.

Comprising

A very large assortment, all of which will be sold at the lowest market prices.

Boston, April 26.

Carpetings!

NOW is the time to make your selection of Carpets, as the subscriber has just received a large assortment which he will sell at very low prices.

CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, April 5.

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE lot of Paper Hanging. ALSO—A BORDERINGS, FIRE SCREENS, and WINDOW SHADES just received by

CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy April 12.

REMOVAL

THE subscriber would respectfully inform her patrons, and the public generally, that she has removed her large assortment of

MILLINERY GOODS

from the room over John Briesler's store to

THE HOUSE OF CHARLES HALL,

ON HANCOCK STREET,

(THIRD DOOR FROM GEORGE SAVIL'S STORE,) where she will take pleasure in supplying the public with the latest styles of

SPRING AND SUMMER

GOODS

which consist in part of

COLLARS,

GLOVES, FLOWERS,

HOSIERY, LACES,

MUSLINS, CASHMERE, &c.

Also—An extensive assortment of Mourning Articles kept constantly on hand.

Bonnets bleached, colored and Altered in the best manner, by

MRS. L. CLAPP,
Quincy, April 5.

Not Removed!

BUT TAKEN

ADDITIONAL ROOMS

252 WASHINGTON ST.,

BOSTON.

MRS. A. J. KENISON,

WOULD inform her friends and the public that she still continues the

MILLINERY BUSINESS,

Next Door to Union Street No. 179,

Where she will keep constantly on hand a good selection of Millinery Goods such as

BONNETS, FLOWERS, RIBBONS, &c.

of the latest styles at reasonable prices.

Particular attention devoted to

Grave Clothes and Mourning Goods.

Grave Clothes made from Flannel, Muslin, Lawn, &c., constantly on hand.

BONNETS

Colored, Cleaned and Pressed.

Poetry.

Dedication for an Album.

Amid the shrines of flowery thought,
That Friendship's sacred hand hath wrought,
A shrine is here—say, friend of mine,
Will you another wreath entwine:
A passing thought, some wild flower lay,
Of family cheer, not sad nor gay,
But soothing to our wintry hours,
When we recall Friendship's bright flowers,
That bloomed in sunny hours long gone;
Yet, they give hope, of others dawn;
And teach the heart not to despair,
Though chilling winds are blowing there.
Times onward flight will bright hours bring,
Which as their parting knell they ring,
Will leave behind sweet memory,
To lighten our path o'er life's deep sea.

Quincy Point, June 5th, 1856.

A Home in the West.

Ho! friends in the olden world hoary,
Reposing beyond the blue deep,
And covered with battles gory,
Where Misery wakes but to weep;
Lorn exiles from realms of oppression,
And victims of Tyranny's might,
White'er be your name or profession,
We welcome you here with delight.

Away from those lands rendered dreary
By bile that allows you no rest,
Of undesired injuries weary,
Come, come to the beautiful West;
Oh! yes, while the war-clouds are looming,
Enveloping banner and crest,
And the thunders of battle are booming,
Escape to a home in the West!

Weep not, when those graves ye remember,
Where parents and cherished ones lie;
They fear not the child of December,
Nor smile when the vernal winds sigh;
For sweeter, at last will ye slumber,
And suffer your low couch shall be,
If having been ranked with their number,
Ye rest with the brave and the free.

A thousand sweet motives impel you
To follow the track of the sun;
Nor can ye—your own heart will tell you—
Live happy till this shall be done.
Then come, rear your cot in the wild-wood,
That sighs for the sound of your blows,
And there, in the prairie of childhood,
And plenty and peace find repose.

Broad prairies with herbage are waving,
To tell you how vast their soil;
Oh! speed the bright plough they are craving,
And take their warm thanks for your toil.
The bosom of earth holds a treasure
That ages would fail to impart;
In this, would ye share without measure?
Ye have but to delve for it there.

Here, show by beneficent action,
A character fair as the light;
Unwarped by the frenzy of faction,
And firm in maintaining the right.
Tend despots, that calmly submitting
To laws in which equity reigns,
Ye know how to do what is fitting,
Unaided by scourges or chains.

Then, when all those toils have ended,
That gladdened your own chosen hearth,
And ashes are with ashes blended,
And earth again mingled with earth,
Warm hearts your loved image shall treasure,
And halo the place of your rest,
While viewing, with soul thrilling pleasure,
The homes that ye formed in the West.

Grammar in Rhyme.

We advise every little grammarian just entering upon Murray, or any of the thousand grammars in use, to commit to memory the following easy lines, and then he never need mistake a part of speech:

1. Three little words you often see
Are Articles—a, an, the.
2. A Noun's the name of anything,
As school or garden, hoop or swing.
3. Adjectives tell the kind of Noun,
As great, small, pretty, white or brown.
4. Instead of Nouns the Pronouns stand,
Her head, his face, your arm, my hand.
5. Verbs tell of something to be done—
To read, count, sing, play, jump or run.
6. How things are done the Adverbs tell,
As slowly, quickly, ill or well.
7. Conjunctions join the words together,
As men and women, wind or weather.
8. The Preposition stands before
A Noun—as in or through a door.
9. The Interjection shows surprise—
As oh! how pretty; ah! how wise.

The whole are called Nine Parts of Speech,
Which Reading, Writing, Speaking, teach.

Anecdotes.

Bobby, what does your father do for a living?
He's a philanthropist sir.
A what?
A philanthropist. He collects money for Central Africa, and builds houses out of the proceeds.

A blunt, wealthy farmer had six daughters; a young man of equal frankness came to him and asked his permission to address one of them.

The farmer replied, Do you wish to marry in, or out, sir, for I have about as many now as my heart will hold.

I wish to marry out, sir, was the reply.
Then take one, said the farmer, but mind you, no picking and choosing; take them as they came into the world.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks.	$1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks.	1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks.	1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks.	1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks.	1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks.	1.25
Executors' Notices.	1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks.	2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks (per square)	1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks.	1.50
Assignees' " " " "	1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks.	5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square)	1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square)	1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square)	75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.)	1.25
" " " " " " " " " " " "	1.50
" " " " " " " " " " " "	1.00

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line)	10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.)	12.00
" " " " " " " " " " " "	7.00
" " " " " " " " " " " "	4.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than	5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & LASTERBROOK, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WATSON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDEBRAND, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE POLANSKY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM B. BAKER, Mansueto Journal.

To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties.
Per order.

JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.
DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENT'S and BOYS' Ready Made Clothing, and FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.
Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality; Crochery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.
TRIUMPHANT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars. <td></td>
---	--

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Had- dam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Barr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

Quincy, June 3.
if

Humble as I am, said a bullying spouter to a mass meeting of the unfettered, I still remember that I am a fraction of this magnificent republic.
You are indeed, said a bystander, and a vulgar one at that.

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,
AUCTIONEER,
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
---HAS FOR SALE---
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand
---ALSO---
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF. if
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
---DEALER IN---
LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
---ALSO---
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short Notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices
Quincy, June 12. if

FOR SALE CHEAP!
AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING,
1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.
1200 Window Blinds.
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.
Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass.

Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials
too numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.
ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).
HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash
HEDGE, STOVE and NUT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR
---AT---
WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he
is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,
on the same terms which they receive it, thereby
saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers,
which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices.
All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
HOWARD VINAL.
Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings,
and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.
JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAS-TERLY BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12. if

For the Teeth.
HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings
Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and Thatcher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale
by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3. if

Doors.

Sashes,
Blinds,
Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAYING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
An extensive stock of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such elevated position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents have named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
For COSTIVENESS, Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause
of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, indigestion, and sourness of dyspepsia,
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a POOR STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the
spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do.
These complaints will be swept out of the system.
Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For SCORFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will gradually subside, and the system will be purified. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and
some disgusting diseases which seemed inveterate,
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourselves around the world covered
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because! In
system wants cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely
and frequently, and the impurities which sow the
seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the consequence is a general debility
determined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach, causes the bilious colic, bilious diarrhea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated every day, will remove
the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer
such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effectual for
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 25. if

Rats and Mice.
LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and
other Vermin, without poison.
Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.
DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache
D. HOOFLAND'S German Balm Pills.
Dr. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE
REMEDY. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 28. if

Tooth Ache!
TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted
with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold
steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24. if

FAIRBANKS'
CELEBRATED
S CALES,
of every variety,
34 Kilby Street, --- Boston.
GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing
apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in
any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2. if

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS
OPERATE by their powerful influence on the
internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such
derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such elevated position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents have named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.
For COSTIVENESS, Take one or two Pills, or
such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure
of both. No person can feel well while under costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause
of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, indigestion, and sourness of dyspepsia,
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a POOR STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the
spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do.
These complaints will be swept out of the system.
Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For SCORFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will gradually subside, and the system will be purified. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and
some disgusting diseases which seemed inveterate,
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourselves around the world covered
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because! In
system wants cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely
and frequently, and the impurities which sow the
seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the consequence is a general debility
determined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach, causes the bilious colic, bilious diarrhea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated every day, will remove
the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer
such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effectual for
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 25. if

Rats and Mice.
LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and
other Vermin, without poison.
Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

COAL! COAL!
RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.
DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache
D. HOOFLAND'S German

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1856.

NUMBER XXXV.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Ground cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and shells, Patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitts, Flesh Brushes, &c. &c. Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington St., rear of State Temple, Quincy, Nov. 2.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

NEEABLE

LIQUID CATHARTIC

AND

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THE most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots which form the most powerful, safe, and agreeable physic ever offered to the public.

The necessity of such a medicine has long been felt by the heads of families and physicians.

Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being entirely agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the stomach from bilious disorders, invigorates the whole system, and removes the cause of all local pains such as Rheumatism, Neuralgia,

TIC DOULOUREUX, GOUT,

Pain in the Head, Side,

Stomach, &c. &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the

Bowels—DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, AND

CHOLERA MORBUS, and in all cases of bilious influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies without success, despair not—try this now at hand. Are you suffering from Stomachic, six bottles of our Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from bilious costiveness, three bottles will effect all this, and if you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them.

All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of one or two bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe, and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.

Principal Depot at No 38 Central St.,

Lowell, Mass.

Sold by druggists generally, and in all towns by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Dec. 15.

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

32

33

34

35

36

37

38

39

40

41

42

43

44

45

46

47

48

49

50

51

52

53

54

55

56

57

58

59

60

61

62

63

64

65

66

67

68

69

70

71

72

73

74

75

76

77

78

79

80

81

82

83

84

85

86

87

88

89

90

91

92

93

94

95

96

97

98

99

100

in a night of distress, if not actual or dangerous sickness. So it is better not to run the risk.

To derive a more decided medicinal effect, fruits should be largely eaten soon after rising in the morning, and about midway between breakfast and dinner.

An incalculable amount of sickness and suffering would be prevented every year, if the whole class of deserts were swept from our tables during summer, and fresh, ripe, perfect fruits and berries were substituted, while the amount of money that would be saved thereby, would in some families amount to many dollars.—Hall's Journal of Health.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, August 30th, 1856.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

REGATTA AT HOUGH NECK. Good sport, fine cheer, and a hearty welcome is extended to our citizens by our aquatic sportsmen, to witness a trial of speed, between our clipper boats, (and we venture to say there are but few equal) which is to come off on Tuesday next, at Mear's Beach, Hough Neck. As it is strictly a social affair, no prizes will be awarded. Boats will start from Quincy Point, on the above morning, precisely at nine o'clock. Clam Chowder will be provided for those who may wish to partake, and who will not, with plenty of room for exercise, and a fine sea breeze to brace our system. Owners of boats in Quincy and vicinity, are particularly invited to take part on the occasion, and our people generally, to improve an opportunity which is intended to be one of recreation and pleasure. If it should be stormy, next fair day.

THE MUSTER. The Fourth Regiment of Infantry, Second Brigade, M. V. M., went into camp at North Easton, on Wednesday of last week. This regiment is under the command of Col. Charles H. French, of Canton. Abner B. Packard, of this town, is Lieut. Colonel, Oliver Ames 3d, of Easton, Major, and Edward Potter, of Braintree, Adjutant.

The storm which prevailed during the first two days of the encampment nearly caused a suspension of the ordinary routine of camp duties, and it was not until the last day that a Regimental line was formed. Company drills were then the first military exercises. The several companies went through the movements in fine style. A dress parade followed. At ten o'clock the Regiment was reviewed by Brig. Gen. E. W. Pierce and staff of the Second Brigade. In the afternoon, His Excellency Gov. Gardner and staff, visited the encampment and reviewed the troops. The companies composing the Regiment though mostly new are well drilled, and the various evolutions were gone through with in a very creditable manner. At half past three o'clock a dress parade was formed, and at four o'clock the tents were struck.

The Quincy, Braintree and Hingham companies returned home by way of Boston, and on their arrival in the city formed in battalion, accompanied by the Weymouth Brass Band, and under command of Lieut. Col. Abner B. Packard, proceeded to State street, where they went through a dress parade in a very creditable manner.

Seven of the nine companies of which the Fourth Regiment is composed have been raised and organized within the past four years, the dates of their several organizations being as follows:

Co. A, Canton, Dec. 21st, 1852; Co. B, Easton, Dec. 22d, 1852; Co. C, Braintree, Sept. 20th, 1853; Co. D, Randolph, Nov. 21st, 1855; Co. G, Taunton, August 31st, 1855; Co. H, Quincy, June 19th, 1855; Co. I, Hingham, June 20th, 1855. The other two are among the oldest companies in the State, the Norton, or Co. F, having been organized October, 1776, and the Abington, or Co. E, Dec. 24th, 1784. All these companies, except the last two, appeared in neat regulation uniforms.

ANOTHER FLAG. The friends of Fremont in this town have raised a beautiful flag nearly opposite the Quincy Bookstore. "It is the glorious stars and stripes," and upon it is inscribed "Fremont and Freedom."

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in this day's paper of a great sale of Pianos, by George Hews, Esq., of Boston.

THE EMIR OF AJ. This renowned European Wizard and distinguished artist, gave one of his clever soirees on Wednesday evening last, at the Town Hall, to a large and delighted audience. The easy and attractive manner in which the Emir has introduced his marvels, makes him a favorite with every one. His feats are truly wonderful, performed with a dexterous hand, which united with his ready wit, renders him the greatest wizard of the age. It is said that he will shortly pay us another visit.

JUNES. The able article of this writer upon "The perils and duties of the hour," has been received but is unavoidably laid over until next week.

For the Patriot.

Mr. Quincy's Address.

We have waited with some impatience for the publication of Mr. Quincy's remarks at the "Summer indignation meeting" in this town, for we confess we could not easily believe he was willing to lend his aid to bring back the nation to the principles of Mr. Jefferson, which the Fremont party profess to be one of their objects, such a course by this veteran politician compared with the proclivities of the past, would be as wonderful as to see Mons. Goddard turning somersets in the clouds.

Mr. Quincy has always been a consistent politician, a Federalist of the strictest sect; he went with that party during the war of 1812, in its extreme measures of opposition; that party which erected its own tombstone at Hartford in 1814 had no abler or more zealous advocate. Southern men and Southern measures were then as now held in abhorrence; and with that ardor which is peculiar to him he enforced his views on all occasions without fear and with ability. It is a faculty inherent in strong minds to cling to prejudice as well as truth with Herculean strength, and when the mind is once furrowed by its impressions, no force of reason can efface its convictions; it deepens with age, and as the ivy clings to the dead oak, so early opinions though founded in error, gain strength and maturity in the frost of years.

Mr. Quincy has published his views in relation to the present crisis of the country, and scattered them abroad upon the mercenary wings of the press; and he can take no offence, for none is intended, that the tribunal to which he has appealed, should hear those who dissent from his doctrines and the conclusions that may be drawn from them.

In reading his Address, the question presents itself; if Mr. Quincy does not advocate a dissolution of the Union, what does he advocate? The character he has drawn of Southern men and Southern slaveholders, is such, that we, if they are truly described, ought not to live in union with them; if there be three hundred thousand tyrants, demoralized by the whole catalogue of crimes that the English language is capable of recording,—for such they have been accused of,—rules and have ruled twenty-five millions of people with a rod of iron for half a century; it is certainly time our Northern heroes should arise and shake off the burthen under which we groan—"peaceably if can, forcibly if they must."

The means by which our oppressors have obtained such a mastery over us, as assigned by Mr. Quincy, is curious: he says it is cunning; that a Southern can outwit a Northern man by cunning is a new problem in experimental duplicity. The Northern yankee has been renowned in both hemispheres for his shrewdness and his cunning; his notoriety in this department is unapproachable—the land of wooden nutmegs will never yield the pre-eminence to the land of cotton bales and tobacco.

Nor in political cunning will the North readily acknowledge the superiority of the South: in a political canvass the Southerner meets his opponent face to face and discusses the principles upon which he plants himself before the people; he appeals directly to them, and that tribunal decides upon hearing both sides of the question in issue. In the North a dozen cunning politicians get together in secret, lay their plans to deceive the people of their true designs by every artifice that ingenuity can invent; seize upon some popular measure—temperance for example—by which the public mind can be moved, and thus supplant abler and better men. So notorious is this, that the fact cannot be disputed, that our rulers are but second rate men, and that talent and integrity are in a great measure with us driven from the Halls of Legislation. For the correctness of this remark, we can safely appeal to the experience of the last two years: was there no cunning in producing such a result?

Northern cunning is sometimes exhibited on a scale that approaches corruption; at least such it would have been considered in the earlier days of the political life of Mr. Quincy. When the aspirants cannot stand upon their own strength, they seek another set of men pursuing a similar object—the accession of power, and openly trade and traffic for public office on condition that the strength of both parties shall be combined. When two men are in nomination for the highest office of the State, at a proper season, one of them withdraws and is rewarded for the act with a high office in the National councils: this cunning movement is successful and smaller politicians with more cunning than integrity, fall into the ranks of a popular party, and are lifted to the Legislature of the Union; and when hardly warm in their seats in Congress, they turn up Black Republicans, and kick away the ladder upon which they rose.

Why is it that one of our townsmen, well qualified for a seat in our Nation's councils, who sympathizes with the anti-slavery movement, is ostracized by his own party and second and third rate men are put over his head? It is because he lacks that cunning which is indispensable to political advancement, or possess too much integrity to follow the party movements of the times.

But the cunning politician of the South, Mr. Quincy tells us, is a noisy, blustering fellow, who relies more upon his bowie knife than on the working of his brain; but these characteristics are inconsistent with each other; nature never combines opposite qualities in the same individual.

"A cat in patters, is grimalin still."

The feline race are treacherous and sly; the more clamorous and loud mouthed animals are usually magnanimous and bold.

Mr. Quincy aims a shaft of invective at the Judge who tried Brooks. As he has been a judge himself, we suppose he will be willing to admit that a judge should be governed by evidence rather than by feeling; and that when a principal witness refuses to testify, the presumption is against the side he is expected to sustain. In the eye of the civil law, an assault on the floor of Congress is no greater than in a public street; public bodies are left to protect their own privileges; out of this charmed circle, they are protected no more than other members of the community. We hope the time is not far distant when insult and violence will cease to be the peculiar privileges of Congressmen.

Just half a century ago a political quarrel arose in our metropolis, and a young man, a son of Harvard, was shot dead on the pavements of State Street; and he who committed the deed was sustained by the whole Federal party, and their ablest counsel was enlisted in his behalf, and by their exertions he was acquitted and saved from a felon's fate; and strange as it is, those who could look coolly on the spouting of youthful blood, would now seem ready to rush into insurrection to avenge the uplifting of a gutta percha cane.

The Federal party was the anti-slavery party of its day; it was composed of men renowned for their talents and eloquence, and although mistaken in their views, they gave a tone and character to the State after their generation had passed away. A peddling race has succeeded them; the demagogue usurps the place of power, and artifice and cunning are substituted for patriotism. Massachusetts is dwarfed in her delegates to the National Councils; and it is not too much to say, she has not a statesman in Congress. Rampant abolition is enthroned in the Capitol, and contentation and strife are the fruits of its authority. But it is consoling to reflect that the more violent the tornado the shorter will be its duration, and that the light of reason will sooner or later dispel the clouds of error and fanaticism that surround it. The destinies of the world are bound up in the union of the American people, and they will not prove faithless to the cause which Providence has committed to their care.

WHIG MEETING. At a meeting of the Whigs held on Wednesday evening last, William G. Appleton, Francis Williams, Jeffrey R. Brackett, Daniel F. Nye, Francis G. Faxon and Noah Cummings were appointed delegates to the Whig State Convention in Boston September third.

Daniel Baxter, Ebenezer A. Shaw, Lloyd G. Horton, Paul Wild, Albert Thompson and Washington M. French, were appointed delegates to the Whig County Convention to be held in Dedham.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

In England, the heat has been greater than at any time for six years, the mercury showing eighty-six degrees (Fahrenheit) in the shade.

Hon. John C. Breckinridge, the Democratic candidate for Vice-President, has announced his intention to take the stump after the first of September. He will speak at the Tippecanoe battle ground on the third of September, and an effort will be made to get him at the meeting to be held at Cleveland on the eighth of October.

The number of voters in New York State are 631,821, of which 516,745 are native voters.

In Belgium, hedges are made by planting beech nuts in rows, and interlacing the branches of the young trees. By this mode of compression the tendency to form trees is checked, and a close live hedge is formed.

The legislature of Texas has appropriated fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of equipping and fitting out emigrants for Kansas, and to support them after their arrival there for the space of three months.

A man has been sent to the penitentiary from Monroe, (N. Y.) for stealing an umbrella. The fellow who stole our last umbrella may take the hint.

The only Northern State which has held an election since the organization of the Fremont Constitutional party, is Iowa, and that has given a Republican majority of over 5,000. This State went for Pierce in 1852, by 2,000. In September, three more Northern States will hold their annual elections, viz: Vermont on the 2d, California on the 3d, and Maine on the 8th.

Of thirty-one clock manufacturers in operation in Connecticut two years ago, four have been destroyed by fire, nine have stopped by failure, and five ceased manufacturing on account of small profits.

In the town of Hall, there are no less than ten public houses and twenty-two bowling alleys. They all do thriving business.

Special Notices.

Freedom National. Slavery Sectional. FREMONT and FREEDOM.

NOTICE. A meeting of the Quincy FREMONT CLUB will be held in the Lyceum Room, MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 1st, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

A full and punctual attendance of all the Members of the Club is requested, and all citizens of Quincy who will be voters at the election for President in November next and who desire to advance the cause of Freedom and Fremont, are invited to be present and subscribe the Constitution of the Club.

Remarks may be expected from members of the Club, upon subjects of interest at the present time.

Citizens are invited to attend.
E. W. MARSH, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 30. 1w

Stand by the Union, KEYSTONE CLUE OF QUINCY.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Key Stone Club of Quincy, in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, September 2, at 8 o'clock.

Citizens of Quincy in favor of the election of Buchanan and Breckinridge are invited to attend.
JONATHAN JAMESON, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 30. 1f

NOTICE. HOOK & LADDER COMPANY. All persons in favor of forming a Hook and Ladder Company are invited to meet at Abercrombie's Hall, this (Saturday) EVENING, at 8 o'clock.

PER ORDER. 1w

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention.

Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.
E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.
EDWARD AVERY, } Secretaries.
Geo. W. BENTLEY, }
Boston, July 5.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 21st inst., Ellen Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. Horace and Mrs. Clara Johnson, aged 13 months and 16 days.

On the 27th inst. George Henry, only son of Mr. Hanson and Mrs. Harriet Bailey, aged 1 year, 11 months and 5 days. This is the fourth time that these parents have been called to part with a darling child.

One after another of the so little ones have been called suddenly away—just as they began to manifest that brightness and beauty of character, which wins the affections and causes the hearts of the parents to expand with joy. Sadly must they realize the truth that,

"Fading, fading, all is fading,
No substantial life is here;
Loved ones leave us, we are dying,
Passing to another sphere."

In Northborough, on the 16th inst., Mrs. Abigail A. wife of Mr. Horace S. Fiske, and daughter of the late Capt. Josiah Bass of this town, aged 56 years.

In Annisquam, on the 19th inst., Mrs. Hannah Maria, wife of Caleb C. Coombs, and eldest daughter of John and Mary L. Dexter, of Quincy, aged 19 years, 7 months and 19 days.

Our sister dear has gone to rest;
In that bright land, where all are blest,
Where sin, and sorrow, never dwell,
Where all is love, where all is well.

Why is it, that we all do mourn,
And grieve, because that she is gone?
She's happy now, with God on high
While we are left, to weep and sigh.

'Tis hard to part, with one we love,
Although we know, she dwells above:
Oh God! we pray, and wish you hear
And help us bear, this blow severe;

Oh! help us here, to dwell in love,
That we may meet, with her above;
There join our circle, broken now
And let us all together bow

At Jesus' feet, in praises due
To our dear Saviour, such as You.

M. C. F.

EXTENSIVE SALE OF Rich and Valuable Piano Fortes!

BY N. A. THOMPSON, AUCTIONEER.

In consequence of closing up some of his Southern and Western Agencies, Mr. George Hews will sell at Public Auction,

ON THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11th, 1856, at 11 o'clock A. M., at his Ware-room,

No. 379 Washington Street, Boston.

A large assortment of first class Pianos, comprising some FORTY instruments of his own manufacture, finished in the best manner, and in the various modern styles. They are from 6 to 7 1-2 octaves, and in tone and finish are not surpassed by any heretofore made at his well known establishment. Mr. Hews' instruments have received NINE MEDALS and a large number of Diplomas, including one of each from the World's Fair, in London, with testimonials to their superior merit from L. M. Gottschalk, Wm. Mason, and other eminent Professors.

These Pianos are entirely new, will be fully warranted to purchasers, and in all cases, exchanged if not giving perfect satisfaction.

This is an exceedingly rare opportunity to secure a first class instrument.

The above instruments can be examined any time previous to the sale.

Boston, August 20. 2w

China Vases.

A fine assortment of new and desirable patterns of China Vases, just received by

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, March 15. 1f

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

THE regular Monthly Meeting will be held at the Lyceum Room on WEDNESDAY EVENING next (Sept. 3d) at 8 o'clock.

Shares will be redeemed as usual at this meeting.

LOUIS CONGDON, Secretary.

Quincy, Aug. 30. 1w

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the THIRD Meeting of the Creditors of

E. F. E. THAYER,

of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Trader, will be held before William L. Walker, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for the said County, at the Office of Geo. White Esq., in Quincy, in said County on the thirtieth day of September, at three in the afternoon, when and where creditors may be present and prove their claims.

CHARLES H. DOW, Assignee.

Braintree, Aug. 30. 2w

Stone Quarry to Let.

THE Stone Quarry lately worked by Mr. Samuel Newcomb, and owned by N. Curtis, Enquire at BENJAMIN CURTIS'S Shop, on School Street.

Quincy, July 19. 4w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELIHU THAYER

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Carpenter, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ALBERT THAYER, Administrator.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS.

In Insolvency.

BEFORE W. L. WALKER, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for said County of Norfolk.

In the matter of

DANIEL A. WHITE,

of Dorchester, in said County, Insolvent Debtor. The Third Meeting of the Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Office of George White Esq., in Quincy, in said County, on SATURDAY, the 23rd of August, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which meeting Creditors may be present and prove their claims.

GEORGE WHITE, Assignee.

Aug. 16. 2w

STONE QUARRIES

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of Dr. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises.

Quincy, May 24. 1f

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

For COSTUMES, which are sometimes the cause of Coughs, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses— from one to four— to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourness of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For SCROFULA, or Morbid Infection of the Blood, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't neglect these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

For SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your skin is diseased, and you should purify yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because; if your system wants cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which are the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach, causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils, such as, costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, pruritis, Fervent sickness, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eye become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid, with a tendency to fever, the whole system is troubled, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills, taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Affections are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual for the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening, (Sundays excepted.)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.
J. MARDEN.

Quincy, June 21. 1f

The Misses Townsends

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake, for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK and SEA STREETS, where they will be prepared ON AND AFTER TO-DAY, (Sundays excepted.)

to wait on those who may favor them with a call. 1f

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c. for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Quincy, Jan. 12. 1f

Musical.

ORDERS for Tuning Piano Fortes left at the Drug Store of Dr. Fettes, or the residence of the Subscriber, Quincy Place, (near the South Depot) will receive prompt attention. Perfect satisfaction in all cases guaranteed.

F. A. NOBLE.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 3w

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19. 1f

Wanted.

A SITUATION by a middle-aged man—a North of Ireland Protestant—who can make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a Store.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring.

Quincy, July 26. 1f

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE. Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, July 25. 6w

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the advertiser, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL.

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28. 1f

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASURE Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by

A. A. WEARS.

Quincy, June 21. 1f

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS

Musical.

ORDERS for Tuning Piano Fortes left at the Drug Store of Dr. Pattee, or the residence of the Subscriber, Quincy, Plain, (near the South Depot) will receive prompt attention. Perfect satisfaction in all cases guaranteed.

Quincy, Aug. 23. F. A. NOBLE, 3w

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19. if

Wanted,

A SITUATION for a middle-aged man—a North of Ireland Protestant—who can make himself generally useful either on a farm or in a Store.

Address J. E., in care of Mr. Charles Loring, Quincy, July 26. if

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, and pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.

Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 3 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, July 26. 6w

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL, Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets, Quincy, June 28. if

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 16 feet long, and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale at a low price.

Quincy, June 21. A. A. BEARS. if

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of these pills, by Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by personal knowledge and the character of the testimonials, and the fact that they are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure. For Constipation.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For Dyspepsia, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always a source of discomfort, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodiliness, and other symptoms will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a Full Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For Nervousness, Stomachic, Nausea, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take one to the next morning, and so on. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear them and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

For Scorbutic, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, and sores, when you can so easily and so cheaply be cured. Remember that the Pills are sold in every drug store.

To Purify the Blood, which is the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Fervid symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melanchole, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the urine and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system is irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, &c. &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

Practical and Analytical Chemists,

LOWELL, MASS.,

AND SOLD BY

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT,

Quincy, Oct. 25. 1y

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!!

THE Subscriber having disposed of his entire stock of Dry Goods is now prepared to offer the BEST STOCK of

READY MADE CLOTHING!!

—FOR—

Gents' and Boys' Wear.

Ever offered in this vicinity, consisting in part of FINE CLOTH PROCKS AND SACKS, of the Latest Styles.

BUSINESS PROCKS AND SACKS;

PANTS, in great variety.

VESTS, in Silk, Satin, Cloth, Cashmere, Marcellite, &c.

BOYS' JACKETS AND PANTS,

together with

Overalls, Frocks, Striped Shirts,

&c. &c. &c.

FURNISHING GOODS,

in great variety, viz:

Shirts, Dickies, Cravats, Socks, Ties,

Hosiery and Gloves.

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UM-

BRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, BOOTS,

SHOES, ETC. ETC.

Custom Work.

The Custom Department (Joseph W. Lombard Cutter) is now complete in Broad Cloths, Black and Fancy Dressings, Cashmeres, Coatings Cloths and Vestings, which will be made into Garments, at short notice, and in Style, Fit and Workmanship guaranteed.

I would most respectfully invite my Friends and Customers to call and examine my stock of Goods, to which I am making weekly additions. All of which I shall offer at the lowest possible prices for Cash.

GEORGE SAVIL,

Goodnow's Building,

Cor. Hancock and Granite streets,

Quincy, May 17. if

GREAT BARGAINS!

CLOTHING AND PIECE GOODS

—FOR—

Men's and Boys' Wear

—AT THE—

Town Hall Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that they have already on hand the largest and best assorted Stock of ever offered in this county. Consisting of every kind of Garment made from goods of latest importation. To those who buy for cash, this presents a rare opportunity, as he intends to dispose of his entire stock within ninety days.

READY MADE CLOTH NG

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods ever on hand.

TERMS CASH AND CASH ONLY.

Quincy, April 19. if

Important Notice to Purchasers

—OF—

CLOTHING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has given up the Millinery business, and has fitted up that department for

READY MADE CLOTHING,

which will consist in

MEN'S, YOUTH'S AND CHILDREN'S WEAR.

Particular attention will be paid to

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

I will assure the Public that if they will give me a call, they will find GO. DS at prices which will entice their sale.

Persons in want of CLOTHING, should lose no time in examining my Stock, which consists of a good assortment of every description.

Quincy, March 8. if

New Tailoring Goods.

J HOLDEN,

WOULD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has

Just Replenished his Stock,

with a choice selection of Goods, suitable for

SPRING and SUMMER

He invites the attention of such as expect punctuality and good workmanship, for cash only, such being his rule of business, and the reduced rates at which he sells, rendering any other mode of doing business impracticable.

His clothes will always be made with all his care and skill, which he boasts not, leaving the garments made by his hands to ADVERTISE THEMSELVES. Those students to combine elegance with economy, will do well and wisely to favor him with a call.

Remember he is not to be understood to any other establishment, style, quality and finish considered.

Quincy, April 21. if

LOOK OUT

—FOR—

Stop Clothing.

DO not buy stop work when you can get Custom Made Clothing at about the same price; how much nearer a suit of Clothes look when made to order; and what is more agreeable and healthy than

A WELL FITTING GARMENT.

The undersigned would give notice to his friends and the public that he is now ready to introduce the

FASHIONS FOR GENTLEMEN'S DRESS

FOR THE

Spring and Summer of 1856

No pains has been spared to procure the best notions in Pontabon, Vest and Coat Stuffs, from the most celebrated fabricators of Gentlemen's Dress Goods in Europe and America.

It gives me pleasure to say that the styles for the coming season are more in accordance with the taste, than any goods which have been presented for several years.

Also—A good assortment of

Youths' and Children's Garments,

a large variety of

HATS AND CAPS

—and—

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS

FOR SALE CHEAP.

Giving personal attention to the cutting department, garments will be warranted to give general satisfaction.

All who wish good garments, cheap for cash, are invited to call and examine my assortment before purchasing elsewhere. D. D. RING,

OPPOSITE THE ORTHODOX CHURCH,

Quincy, April 12. if

Old Stand Opened Again!!

JOHN DINEGAN

WOULD respectfully return his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Quincy for the liberal patronage he has received for the last thirteen years, and at the same time would respectfully inform them that he

Has commenced business again

at the Old Stand, where he has just received a

CHOICE SELECTION OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS,

which he will make up into Garments in the

Very latest style.

for all who may be disposed to favor him with their patronage.

Quincy, June 21. if

T. Dodds,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

BEGS have Respectfully to invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to an inspection of his

Stock of Goods,

which he will make to measure in the most approved manner and

Warrant them in Every Respect

SATISFACTORY.

Having had long experience in the Business, he feels assured of being able to suit the most fastidious.

He also keeps on hand an assortment of

READY MADE

CLOTHING,

made from the best material and in the best manner, which he will sell at a small advance over cost.

Having a little out of style sold very cheap, on

Hancock street, opposite the Post Office.

Quincy, June 7. if

Provision Store.

THE subscribers have just opened the Samuel Copeland, where they will endeavor to furnish customers with the best and rarest of the market.

The different kinds of

MEATS, POULTRY, VEGETABLES,

etc., on hand or promptly furnished to order.

Strict attention to business and a desire to merit and household deals with patrons will always attract our undivided attention, and we therefore respectfully solicit patronage.

C. & J. ARNOLD.

Quincy, April 12. if

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he has established himself in business, on

Washington Street,

IN REAR OF STONE TEMPLE,

where he intends keeping a good supply of

Cook, Parlor and Office Stoves,

together with a general assortment of

BRITANNIA AND JAPANESE WARE.

All kinds of Job Work done with neatness and dispatch.

Old Iron, Copper, Brass, Lead, and Rags taken in exchange for ware.

He hopes by strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage.

CHARLES F. PIERCE.

Quincy, April 19. 3m

Removal.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public that they have removed to the

SPACIOUS WAREHOUSE,

Nos. 283 and 285 Washington Street,

where they offer

A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

—OF—

ENGLISH CARPETING,

To which they are constantly receiving additions by Steamers and Packets,

COMPRISING:

MEDALLIONS

TOURNAIS,

RICH VELVETS

and TAPESTRY.

Also, a large and six

Frame BRUSSELS &c.

Together with a large variety of

Medium and Low-Priced Goods.

—ALSO—

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN

Painted Floor Cloths!!

In every variety of widths, patterns and quantities.

JOHN H. PRAY, SONS & CO.,

Nos. 283 & 285 WASHINGTON ST.,

A few doors west of Winter st.

Boston, March 15. if

WM. P. TENNY & CO.,

Railroad Hall, Haymarket Square,

BOSTON.

HAVE now in store, and will be constantly receiving throughout the season, from the principal and best manufacturers in England and America, EVERY

DESCRIPTION OF

CARPETS,

Desirable for furnishing

HOTELS, DWELLINGS AND SHIPS,

embracing

VELVET & BRUSSELS TAPESTRY,

BRUSSELS,

Three-Ply and Kidderminster,

Painted Carpets, Bookings,

Mattings, Rugs, &c.

A very large assortment, all of which will be sold at the lowest market prices.

Boston, April 26. 3m

Carpeting!

NOW is the time to make your selection of Carpets, as the subscriber has just received a large assortment which he will sell at very low prices.

Quincy, April 5. if

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE lot of Paper Hanging. Also—A BORDERINGS, FIRE SCREENS and WINDOW SHADES just received by

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy April 12. if

REMOVAL.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform her patrons, and the public generally, that she has removed her large assortment of

MILLINERY GOODS

from the room over John Briesler's store to

THE HOUSE OF CHARLES HALL,

ON HANCOCK STREET,

(THIRD DOOR FROM GEORGE SAVIL'S STORE), where she will take pleasure in supplying the public with the latest styles of

SPRING AND SUMMER

—GOODS—

which consist in part of

COLLARS,

GLOVES,

HOSIERY,

MUSLINS,

LAWNS, DRESS TRIMMINGS, &c.

Also—An extensive assortment of Mourning

Articles kept constantly on hand.

Bonnet included, colored and Altered in the best manner, by MRS. L. CAPP.

Poetry.

Mutual Forbearance.

The kindest and the happiest pair
Will find occasion to forbear,
And something every day they live,
To pity and perhaps forgive.
But if infirmities that all
In common to the lot of all—
A blemish, or a sense impaired—
Are crimes so little to be spared,
Then farewell all that must create
The comfort of the wedded state;
Instead of harmony, 'tis jar,
And tumult, and intestine war.

The love that cheers life's latest stage,
Proof against sickness and old age,
Preserved by virtue from declension
Becomes not weary by attention;
But lives, when that exterior grace
Which first inspired the flame decays.
'Tis gentle, delicate, and kind,
To faults compassionate or blind,
And will with sympathy endure
Those evils it would gladly cure;
But angry, coarse, and harsh expression
Shows love to be a mere profession;
Proves that the heart is none of his,
Or soon expels him if it is.

Nobody.

If nobody's noticed you, you must be small;
If nobody's slighted you, you must be tall;
If nobody's bowed to you, you must be low;
If nobody's wished you, you must be ugly, we know.

If nobody's envied you, you're a poor elf;
If nobody's flattered you, flatter yourself;
If nobody's cheated you, you are a knave;
If nobody's hated you, you are a slave;
If nobody's called you a "fool" to your face,
Somebody's wished for your back, in its place;
If nobody's called you a "tyrant" or "cold,"
Somebody's talked you of spiritless mould;
If nobody's clings to your purse like a fawn,
Nobody'll run like a hound when you're gone;
If nobody's eaten his bread from your store,
Nobody'll call you a miserly bore—
If nobody's slandered you—here is our pen—
Sign yourself Nobody, quick as you can.

Never Bear Malice.

Oh never bear malice, it poisons our life,
With the gall drop of hate, and the night-shade of strife;
Let us scorn where we must, and despise where we may;
But let anger, like sunlight, go down with the day.
Our spirits in clashing may bear the hot spark,
But no smouldering flame to break out in the dark.
'Tis the narrowest heart that creation can make
Where passion folds up like the coils of a snake.

Oh never bear malice it cannot be good,
For 'tis nobler to strike in the rush of hot blood,
Than to bitterly cherish the name of the foe,
To wait to sharpen the weapon or measure the blow.
The wild dog in hunger—the wolf in its spring—
The shark of the waters—the asp with its sting.
Are less to be feared than the vengeance of man,
When he lieth in secret to wound where it can.

Oh never bear malice; dislike if you will,
Yet, remember, humanity linked us as one;
We are all of us human, and all of us erring,
And mercy within us should always be stirring.
Shall we dare to look up to the father above
With petitions for pardon, or pleading for love?
Shall we dare, while we wait for revenge on another,
To ask from a God, yet deny to a brother?

My Girl.

BY R. M. M'LEURE.

Playing, playing, round me playing,
By the fireside warm and bright,
Is a little rosy cherub.
O, she is a gem of light!
Rolling o'er the carpet there,
Pulling at the rocking chair,
Running, running everywhere,
Little prattler void of care!

Now she's in the room, now out,
Now she's sitting by the stand;
Now she's scolding Pont about,
Now she puts him with her hand.
Thus she goes round the room,
Now she's got the poker—broom—
Now she's crying—now she talks—
Now she's running—now she walks.

Now she falls—now she's up,
Going, going all the time;
Never knowing when to stop,
O, she is a gem of light!
Rolling o'er the carpet there,
Pulling at the rocking chair,
Running, running everywhere,
Little prattler void of care!

She is only three years old,
Only three years old to-day;
Does she think of after time?
When black hair will turn to gray?
Ah, she never thinks, not she,
Of the days that are to be;
Of the hopes and cares and fears,
Days of toiling, joy and tears.

Little angel, may'st thou ever
Be as joyous as thou art;
Taste life's bitter cup, O, never,
Or be doomed to broken heart.
May thy hours be sunny hours,
May thy path be strewn with flowers,
And when death steals out thy spirit,
Go bright mansions to inherit.

Anecdotes.

An artist, showing his pictures to a customer received the following sharp retort.
Well, I don't think much of this, said the customer, holding up the picture before him.
Don't think much of it.
Why, that's a very rare print—a very rare print, indeed, sir!
Rare, I've no doubt it's rare—it certainly is not well done!

Is your house a warm one? asked a man in search of a tenement.
It ought to be, the painter gave it two coats recently, was the reply.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Admonitions' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, " 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignments " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " 3 " 1.50
" " 4 " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " 1 " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " 2 months " 4.00
" " " 3 months " 4.00
To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not often, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.

Blossom & Eastbrook, Hingham Journal.
L. H. & O. E. Wadsworth, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES TUCKER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE FRANKLIN, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BAKER, Massopog Journal.

To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Per order.

JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' and BOYS' Ready Made Clothing,
AND
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE,
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS,
of every style and quality: Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers to my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.
Quincy, Dec. 3d.

Mc. Eckron's

CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unbroken cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 8

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20. if

HENRY A. RANSOM,

AUCTIONEER,

RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF

Job Printing,

SUCH AS

POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,

BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,

AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY

PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office

WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

---HAS FOR SALE---

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand

---ALSO---

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of

MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-

MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE

ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.

Nov. 26. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

---DEALER IN---

LUMBER;

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

---ALSO---

Lime, Sand, Bricks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.

---Purchasers will find it for their interest to

call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.

Quincy, June 12. if

FOR SALE CHEAP!

AT THE

New Builders' Depot,

WEYMOUTH LANDING,

1,000 DOORS,

ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,

GLAZED and UNGLAZED.

1200 Window Blinds.

PAINTED and UNPAINTED.

Also, a large assortment of

NEW HARDWARE,

COPPER, WOOD, and CHAIN PUMPS,

Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,

Window Glass,

Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c.,

And a great variety of Building Materials too

numerous to mention.

FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.

JOHN O. FOYE.

Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,

GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).

HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash

EGG, STOVE and NUT COAL.

Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.

---Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store

or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.

Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR

---AT---

WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he

is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West,

through

Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &

CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby

saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers,

which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices.

All in want of Flour of first quality are inited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.

Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings,

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAST-

TERN BRICK, by

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT.

Quincy, August 12. if

For the Teeth.

HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings

Premium Dentifrice; Orris and Charcoal

Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth

Vasches; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and

Thatcher's Tooth Soap; Oriental Wash;

Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale

by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 3. if

Doors,

Sashes,

Blinds,

Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,

HAVING made arrangements for the sale of

Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as

good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or

elsewhere; Also

Window Glass and Hardware,

SUCH AS

RIM LOCKS.

MORTICE LOCKS,

THUMB LATCHES,

MORTICE LATCHES,

GLASS KNOBS,

MINERAL KNOBS,

AXLE PULLEYS,

WROUGHT HINGES,

BUTTS,

NAILS, &c.,

Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call

and examine our stock before purchasing else-

where.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.

A few rods west of the Old Stone School

House on School Street in Quincy.

Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine

INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000. CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!

INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD

FURNITURE, and other Personal Property

against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on

THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the

Office in Quincy, on

Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,

or at the office of the Agency in Boston,

No. 12 Brainerd's Building.

PRESIDENT:

GIDEON F. THAYER,

VICE PRESIDENT:

STEPHEN BATES,

SECRETARY:

FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS:

STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERRIN,

LOUIS COGDON, WM. S. THATCHER,

WILLIAM P. DRAPE, GIDEON F. THAYER,

FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,

WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.

Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE

COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure

Real and Personal Property against the hazachusetts is on the first Tuesday of November next, (being the fourth day.) Chapter 192, is an Act concerning indexing deeds. The matter is left principally with County Commissioners of each County, to have the indexes arranged in alphabetical order; an improvement in reaching the records very much needed. The new indexing to commence from January 1, 1855. The alphabetical arrangement will be similar to that of the Boston Directory, having regard to the first as well as second letter of each name. The County Commissioners whose duty it is to cause the indexing of deeds yearly, may if they see proper, cause copies of the indexes to be printed and sold at the cost of binding and printing. It would be well that every town be furnished with one copy or more, for public inspection, to be lodged with the Town clerk. (To be continued.)

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, September 6th, 1856.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

KNOW NOTHING NOMINATIONS. Amos A. Lawrence, Esq., has declined the nomination of the Fillmore or American party for Governor, and George W. Gordon, Esq. of Boston, formerly Postmaster of that city, has been selected to fill the vacancy.

William M. Cornell, M. D., formerly of this town, but now a resident of Boston, is the candidate for Secretary of State on this ticket. Aside from our political bias, we should rejoice to see Mr. C. elected, as he is in every respect qualified, and would become a very popular and efficient officer.

THE WHIG STATE CONVENTION. This body met in Boston, on Wednesday last, nearly six hundred delegates being present. Hon. Robert C. Winthrop presided. Resolutions were adopted, one of which strongly favored the nomination of Millard Fillmore for President. Several gentlemen addressed the assembly which was cordially and enthusiastically received. Hon. Luther V. Bell of Somerville, was selected as candidate for Governor, and Homer Foote of Springfield for Lieutenant Governor, who is also the nominee of the Fillmore party for the same office.

POLITICAL. The Boston Atlas publishes a letter from Hon. Josiah Quincy, written in reply to a request from Hon. J. Z. Goodrich, Chairman of the Whig State Committee, for an expression of his views and impressions of the letter of the Hon. Rufus Choate. Mr. Quincy regards the whole letter of Mr. Choate as "founded on an assumption, which has no basis in truth."

THE DORCHESTER HORSE RAILROAD.—This new road is approaching completion with great rapidity, the rails being laid in Broad street, Boston, nearly to its junction with State street. There is nothing now to prevent this road from being put into immediate operation, except the draw on the South Boston Bridge in old Sea street.

CONGRESS. The army appropriation bill, without proviso relative to Kansas affairs, passed both Houses of Congress on Saturday last, and the extra session adjourned in the afternoon of that day.

NEW PAPER. William T. Porter, Esq. of New York City, for more than twenty-five years the popular editor of the "New York Spirit of the Times," has commenced a new paper in that city, entitled "Porter's Spirit of the Times." He was the life of the old paper, and together with the brilliant circle of correspondents who then aided and who will continue with him in his new undertaking, the present enterprise must be crowned with success and sustain a distinguished position among the sporting and literary journals of the United States. The new paper will be the same size of the old one, very neatly printed, and every former patron should sustain their old friend in his new field of labor, as he is worthy of it.

It is a significant fact that physicians not only prescribe G. W. Stone's Liquid Cathartic but take it themselves, and have already declared it to be the most safe, reliable and efficacious remedy in those cases for which it is recommended that has ever been discovered. See advertisement in another column.

SPALDING'S ROSEMARY. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to an advertisement of Rosemary in this paper. J. Russell Spalding, the gentlemanly proprietor of this far-famed article for the hair, informs us that one million bottles have been sold. This fact commends the article without comment. It can be obtained of dealers almost everywhere, or at Mr. Spalding's office, 27 Tremont Street, Boston.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION. The friends of Buchanan met at Springfield in this State, on Wednesday next, for the nomination of State officers and a list of Presidential electors. Hon. E. D. Beach and Dr. Henry H. Childs are prominent candidates for Governor.

For the Patriot.
Mr. Quincy's Address.

Mr. Quincy says at the coming election he cannot doubt that the free states will take possession of the Government, reinstate the Missouri Compromise, make Kansas a free state, put an end forever to the addition of any more slave states to the Union, and adds, that these duties are to be fulfilled at every hazard, even of the dissolution of the Union itself. How the restoration of the Missouri Compromise will prevent the admission of more slave states we do not perceive; for by that compact slave states were to be admitted south of a certain line of latitude; and the act that relates to Texas authorizes four more to be admitted when their population is sufficient; the free states have already a majority in both Houses of Congress; what more is desired than is expressed we do not pretend to know. We shall not put a construction on this part of the Address which its language would seem to warrant; it certainly looks to violence which we trust its author did not mean to approve; especially upon the mere termination of a political contest in which passion and prejudice have assumed their wildest form. The nation has passed more than one threatening crisis before, and the result has proved that "error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it." For the common sense of the people is a security which the rage of party cannot easily overcome.

But the main question discussed by the Address is, that slaveholders have for a long series of years governed and controlled the country; that they have usurped the Government by cunning, or some other means, and legislated for their own interest; if we admitted this as a fact, we should be compelled to enquire what has been the result of their policy. Has not this country enjoyed a degree of prosperity unequalled in any part of the world. She has passed through two wars which have added glory to her arms, and raised her in the scale of nations to a lofty position. Her population has increased from three to twenty-five millions. Her territory has been extended from sea to sea, and the flag which once fluttered only in the breezes of the Atlantic, now waves in triumph on the shores of the Pacific. Adorn her hills, and enterprise build her palaces; cities spring up as if by enchantment along her rock-bound shores. Her rural districts expand in verdant beauty and elegance in the hills and in the valleys of the land. All this too in the space of half a century, the limit of time which seems to have been assigned to the rule of slavery. These have been the results flowing from the oppressive acts of the slaveholders, whom now we are so vehemently called upon to overthrow: a class of people, who seem to have legislated not for themselves, if we may believe Abolitionists, for their broken fences and dilapidated estates proclaim their poverty; and if the position be established, they can lay no small claim to patriotism. Such would be the inevitable deduction from Abolition logic. The slaveholders have ruled the country; the nation has grown rich and prosperous, and the planters poor and dissipated, and that too under their own rule. It is true the Abolitionists never reason but only rave, but their ravings seems to reach a conclusion they never designed. Does not this Address pursue the same kind of argument or as it should more correctly be called, assertion.

But we are hardly willing to admit that the results we have enumerated are to be credited to the operations of the slave power; the organized government has not been, at least, exclusively in their hands; a mightier power has controlled the destinies of the nation; and that power is the Democracy of the people. The two elements of all governments, the aristocratic and democratic principles, entered early into the constitutional organization of our own. For a brief period the former prevailed, but the latter soon triumphed, and held its sway with scarcely an interruption to the present time. It is not slavery, but democracy that has exalted the national fame, and given prosperity and happiness to the people. The rule of slavery in the official control of the nation is an assumption contrary to historic record; the mere watchword of party to raise the prejudices of the North; the old tune of the Federal trumpet with a louder note.

Hamilton and Jefferson were the prominent leaders of the two parties, the Democratic or Republican, as it was called, and the Federal, the origin of which dates back to the days of Washington. Eminent, as it must be conceded these statesmen were, calumny and abuse were heaped heavily upon each. Yet no reasonable mind can doubt but both acted with honesty of purpose. Hamilton spent his early years in the army, and there imbibed his ideas that the power of government should be strong and not rest on the fickleness of the multitude; on the other hand, Jefferson had seen in France the oppressions of tyranny, and his sympathies were with the people. The South generally adopted the Republican principle and the North the Federal; but there still remained in the North a considerable number who favored the Republican sentiment, which during the administration of Mr. Adams had increased, and by combining with those of the same sentiment at the South, formed the Republican or Democratic party; which has ruled the country with but a little intermission to the present time. To that party is due the praise or blame that may be attached to the administration of the General Government for half a century.

But it will be said and is assumed in this Address, that the "dough faces" of the north to use the refined language of the abolitionists have contributed to uphold the slave power—it is an assumption which bears a strong mark of arrogance, to denounce so large a portion of the people as mere tools and time servers to any class of men. The Democratic party is composed of men as independent, patriotic and intelligent as any that can be numbered among their opponents, and many of those who have lent their influence and their aid in carrying on the government while that party has been in power are not unknown to fame, and have labored in their generation for the public good as honestly and zealously, as those who impute their actions to unworthy motives.

The elder Adams was in the latter part of his life a correspondent of the Boston Patriot, a leading Republican or Democratic paper in Boston.

John Quincy Adams was instructed out of his seat in the Senate of the United States, in 1807, by a Federal Legislature, for his vote on the Embargo question. He remained in retirement until the accession of Mr. Madison to the Presidential chair, when he was appointed Minister to Russia, and afterwards a Commissioner to negotiate the treaty of peace at Ghent, and after his return he was made Secretary of State by Mr. Monroe, which post he held for eight years, thus adding and supporting two Democratic administrations by his talents and skill. Yet these were slave administrations, say the abolitionists, who owed their elevation to corrupt cunning—but the people thought otherwise and sustained them both. Mr. Monroe was chosen for his second term almost by acclamation—parties seemed to die out before it. If such was the work of "dough faces," it is to be regretted that we have not more such faces among us. And if such persons as we have named, who supported the Democratic administrations, are to be considered our country's enemies we should like know who are its friends!

* Burlingame.

MR. FRENCH'S REFRESHMENT ROOMS, offers their usual attractions. Our citizens should improve their opportunity as the season for many of the luxuries usually kept in such establishments is fast drawing to a close. But the other delicacies, oyster and clam preparations, done up in her peculiar manner is well worthy of a visit.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

The reception to be given to the Hon. N. P. Banks, Jr., by his fellow townsmen of Waltham, is to take place this day, the 5th inst.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says that the prediction of a short peach crop is fully verified. There is to probability that it will exceed one quarter of an average. Prices are consequently very high.

There are in the United States over 200,000 Welshmen, the half of whom can be set down as legal voters, and who, with few exceptions, are said to be Fremont men.

The limitation of the time of the day for marrying in England is fixed by statute. The period between eight o'clock in the morning and noon is assigned as the legal time for all marriages.

On the boat to Louisville last Sunday, was an entire family from Baltimore, whose standing, wealth and worth, made them an object of interest to all.

The head of the family was distinguished for his frank and generous bearing and fixedness of purpose. He was an Irishman by birth, but resided twenty-seven years in the city of Baltimore, had married an American lady, and reared a large family—they were with him, all but one son, who was settled in Iowa.

Being asked his reason for leaving the comforts and social advantages of a city as refined as Baltimore to settle in the wilderness.

"Gentlemen," said he "I tell you what I have before told no one—Have been thirty-two years in America—Twenty-seven of these years were spent in Baltimore, in a mercantile business—I have made a fortune, and have lost what by some could be deemed a fortune—I am yet rich, I sold my warehouse for $25,000, I sold my dwelling house that cost me $15,000 for $11,000. You ask me why I am leaving Baltimore. My reason is this: After so long residence, and being so well known, my vote was challenged at the polls, where I had a twenty years' vote, and was asked to procure my naturalization papers; I had not then been twenty years. I appealed to the judges, who knew me, and they all demanded to see my naturalization papers! From that moment my mind was irrevocably made up to leave the city of Baltimore forever! And here I am on my way to a new land of liberty; and there I hope to find rest for myself and family, and prepare myself for some Congress where I am sure they will go."

By this time the world old gentleman was surrounded by a multitude of listeners, who gave him a hearty cheer, and bid him God speed.—Cincinnati St.

VERMONT ELECTION. The Fremont party have been successful in the election held during the present week in Vermont, for choice of Governor, members of the Legislature, etc.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE. E. B. Dearborn, Grand Scribe of Sons of Temperance, organized a new division of that body at Weymouth, night of the 7th ult. Seventeen persons compose the new division, which is called "Phoenix, No. 11."

Special Notices.

LIBERTY AND UNION. A meeting of the friends of Fremont & Freedom will be held in the Town Hall, Quincy, MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 8th, 1856, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Hon. F. C. Baker, of Medford, and others, will address the meeting.

Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, of all political parties, and the Ladies especially, are respectfully invited to attend.

E. W. MARSH, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 6. 1w

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Adams Literary Association at their Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, at 7 1-2 o'clock, precisely.

Per order.

HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 6. 1w

STATE CONVENTION. The Citizens of Quincy, who are in favor of the election of Fremont and Dayton, are invited to meet at the Lyceum Room on THURSDAY EVENING, Sept. 11th, at 7 1-2 o'clock, to choose delegates to the State Convention to be held at Worcester on the 16th inst., for the nomination of candidates for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and for State Officers.

Per order of the Town Committee.

Quincy, Sept. 6. 1w

A DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION will be held at Springfield on the 10th of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention. Each city and town is entitled to send one delegate; also one additional delegate for every twenty-five democratic votes cast at the last State election.

Per order of the State Central Committee.

E. C. BAILEY, Chairman.

EDWARD AVERY, } Secretaries.

Geo. W. BENTLEY, }
Boston, July 5.

At Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction, on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 10th, at 2 o'clock P. M., a two story Dwelling House, situated on Common street in the West District, and occupied by Mr. Anderson. It is a Frame House suitable for three families, and pleasantly situated in close proximity to stores, schools, churches, and within one mile of the Old Colony Depot.

The property is in excellent repair, with a barn, out buildings, a good well of water, and about 1/2 acre of Land which is well stocked with Fruit Trees. The above offers a fine opportunity to capitalists, or those who may wish to possess a desirable homestead.

For particulars enquire on the premises, or of the owner

THOMAS DORCY.

H. A. RANSOM, Auctioneer.

Quincy Sept 6. 1w

An Address.

DELIVERED before the Members of the N. Schools and the Citizens of Quincy, July 4th, 1856, by Charles Francis Adams, is just published and for sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Sept 6. 4w

Wanted.

RIGHT or TEN Good Coat and Pant Makers—to work in the Shop—constant employment and good prices. Apply at Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite streets in Quincy, Sept 6.

GEORGE SAVIL.

1,000,000 Bottles Sold!

ENTERED ACCORDING TO

ACT OF CONGRESS,

In the year 1853, by J. Russell Spalding, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Massachusetts.

All Infringements will be dealt with according to Law.

J. RUSSELL SPALDING'S

ROSEMARY

This great and popular preparation is decidedly one of the nicest and best articles in the world

FOR THE

HAIR

IT IMPARTS A RICHNESS AND

BRILLIANCE: CLEANS, ORNAMES,

INVIGORATES, EMBELLISHES, REMOVES

DAKRUFF, RELIEVES

HEADACHE,

And has probably been used for

Restoring and Preventing

The falling off of the Hair with as much any article ever known. It has stood of time and use, and all can rely upon it.

SOLE PROPRIETOR

J. RUSSELL SPALDING,

MANUFACTURING CHEMIST.

The fac-simile of his signature is on every bottle of the genuine

PRINCIPLE DEPOT,

27 Tremont Street, Opposite Museum,

BOSTON, MASS.

Where all orders should be addressed.

Sept 6. 1w

Fremont

Letter Paper and Envelopes,
For sale at the
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Sept 6. 3w

EXTENSIVE SALE OF

Rich and Valuable Piano Fortes!

BY N. A. THOMPSON, AUCTIONEER.

IN consequence of closing up some of his Southern and Western Agencies, Mr. George Hewes will sell at Public Auction,

ON THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11th, 1856,

at 11 o'clock A. M., at his Warehouse,

No. 379 Washington Street, Boston.

A large assortment of first class Pianos, comprising some FORTY instruments of his own manufacture, finished in the best manner, and in the various modern styles. They are from 6 to 7 1-2 octaves, and in tone and finish are not surpassed by any heretofore made at his well known establishment. Mr. Hewes' instruments have received SIX MEDALS and a large number of Diplomas, including one of each from the World's Fair, in London, with testimonials to their superior merit from L. M. Goettschals, Wm. Mason, and others eminent Professors.

These Pianos are entirely new, will be fully warranted to purchasers, and in all cases exchanged if not giving perfect satisfaction.

This is an exceedingly rare opportunity to secure a first class instrument.

The above instruments can be examined any time previous to the sale.

Boston, August 30. 2w

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the THIRD Meeting of the Creditors of

E. F. E. THAYER,

of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Trader, will be held before William L. Walker, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency, in and for the said County, at the Office of Geo. White Esq., in Quincy, in said County on the thirteenth day of September, at three in the afternoon; when and where creditors may be present and prove their claims.

CHARLES H. DOW, Assignee.

Braintree, Aug. 30. 2w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELIHU THAYER

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Carpenter, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ALBERT THAYER, Administrator.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 3w

STONE QUARRIES

In Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to this estate of the late Hon. Thomas H. Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of DR. WOODWARD, near the Depot, or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises Quincy, May 24. 1w

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty Sleeps Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $23 washing included when not exceeding four weeks. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.

Quincy, July 12. 1w

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with the belief that he will be able to contribute somewhat to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insupportable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen

Every Afternoon and Evening, (Sundays excepted)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call.

Quincy, June 21. 1w

J. MARDEN.

The Misses Townsends

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake,

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK AND SEA STREETS,

where they will be prepared

ON AND AFTER TO-DAY,

(Sundays excepted.)

to wait on those who may favor them

Quincy, July 19. with a call. 1w

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c. for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Quincy, Jan. 12. 1w

SOLE AGENT.

Musical.

ORDERS for Tuning Piano Fortes left at the Drug Store of Dr. Pattee, or the residence of the Subscriber, Quincy Place, (near the South Depot) will receive prompt attention. Perfect satisfaction in all cases guaranteed.

F. A. NOBLE.

Quincy, Aug. 23. 3w

Paper Hangings.

NEW and splendid assortment of Paper Hangings, Curtains, &c. just received and for sale by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 3. 3w

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at the Quincy Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices. Quincy, July 19. 1w

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

OFFICE OVER MR. J. DINEGAN'S STORE.

Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice.

HOURS—from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, July 26. 6m

LOST.

A PACKAGE of Bills—of no value except to the owner—whoever has found the same and will leave them at the store of the subscriber, shall be suitably rewarded.

GEORGE SAVIL.

Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

Quincy, June 28. 1w

Boat for Sale.

A PLEASANT Boat, copper fastened, 18 feet long and 4 feet 9 inches wide, with sails, oars, &c., all in good order and for sale by

A. A. MEARS.

Quincy, June 21. 1w

New Appointment.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has been appointed Agent, for Dr. S. S. Fitch's celebrated medicines, and now offers them for sale directly from the Proprietor.

Quincy, July 19. 1w

Kallistion, or Orient Water.

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also allays all tendency to inflammation from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season), and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared by Dr. Joseph Burnett, whose name is sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1856.

NUMBER XXXV.

Pharmacy Store.

E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Grouts, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Meal, &c. &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.

Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells, Patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mirrors, &c. &c.

Prescriptions put up with care and in receiving the new and popular medicine, as they appear in this and other Washington, at, near of Stone Temple, Nov. 1.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

W. STONE'S VEGETABLE LIQUID CATHARTIC

AND FAMILY PHYSIC

most important discovery ever made in medical science, being a compound of Roots which form the most powerful, agreeable, and safe medicine, has long been the pride of families and physicians, and its advantages over cathartics given in pills or Powders, must be obvious to every person. It operates most gently and safely upon the system, and is the most natural and easy to administer, being pleasant to the taste. It not only produces a pure and healthy action, but restores the natural functions, leaving the bowels free. It expels all biliousness from the system, cures the piles, regulates the action, frees the stomach from biliousness, and the whole system, and removes the biliousness from the system.

Analgesic, Acne, Rheumatism, Gout, Pain in the Head, Side, Stomach, &c. &c.

When the relief upon all diseases of the system, such as Dysentery, Diarrhoea, and RA MORRIS, yield at once to its magic. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It is the only recommendation, and it is the only one that has ever been tested. If you have tried other remedies, despair not—relief is now at hand. You are suffering from Stomach, six bottles of Liquid Cathartic will cure you. World-famous from historical records, there will effect all that can be desired. If you are with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local affections, two bottles will free you from them. Biliousness will be eradicated from the blood by four to six bottles. In short, if you require relief for any purpose, this is the most reliable and agreeable to the taste that has been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR

Principal Depot at No. 38 Central St., Lowell, Mass.

For druggists generally, and in the towns by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dec 15

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

Try it! Try it! Try it!

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. RACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
New York City, FREEMAN HUNT.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERHARD DREW.

Miscellaneous.

[From the London Ladies' Companion.]

A Home Picture.

We shall soon be at home, now, said a young husband to his wife of three weeks' standing. They were returning from their wedding tour, and were just about to enter the house where they hoped to live happily for many years to come.

The door is opened to the cabman's knock, and in the hall stand the young man's parents ready to greet the newly-married pair. The husband leads in his wife, and hastily, in order to be beforehand with any one else, gives her the first kiss in her new home. And now come other greetings, and many kind inquiries and congratulations. Supper is ready, and as it is growing late in the evening, it is partaken of as soon as the travellers have changed their dresses. After the meal is ended the parents go to their own home, leaving the young couple alone.

Are you too tired, Eddy dear, to go over the house to-night, to see what sort of a place it is in which you have come to live?

Nit at all, George; I should very much like to commence my personal acquaintance with rooms and furniture which have been so minutely described in your letters, and which I have so often seen in imagination, that I feel as if they could hardly be new to me.

As they go from room to room, the husband's satisfaction is complete in witnessing the delighted approval of his wife with all the arrangements. She sees how, in all particulars, her tastes and convenience have been studied, and for all this proof of her husband's love he will receive fruit a hundred fold in his after life.

And now they return to sit for the first time alone by their own fireside. Little is said, but how much is felt! It is a deep, sober joy, that leaves them silent. Married life has its responsibilities as well as its pleasures, and now, in earnest, they must begin life together—the holiday is over; every-day duty begins.

As the husband looks in the face of his wife, he feels how entirely the happiness of her life is in his keeping, and he only resolves, God helping him, he will be faithful to the trust committed to him.

Oh, dear! says Rosina, one's new position looks rather formidable. I hope, George, I shall not be always making mistakes, and thus throwing discredit on your choice.

I have no fears on that score, my love.

But still you must be prepared for my doing wrong sometimes, and, added she in a lower tone, you must tell me when I do, for it is one of the duties of husbands and wives to be faithful to each other's faults. I do not mean that we should sit in judgement on each other's conduct, and act the censor, but endeavor by all means, to improve each other's character, so that our mutual influence may be refining and elevating.

Yes, says the husband, I hope marriage will ever be to us, what it was intended to be, a state of the highest unity, for the better fulfillment of life's noblest ends, in ourselves first, and then to those around us.

How ideal! many would exclaim, could they hear us.

Yes, but it is an ideal that we must, at all events, try to realize. I wonder how we shall succeed?—but we must not talk more to-night.

The next two or three weeks are given to "settling down," to receiving and returning visits, and forming household plans; then comes a quiet leisure time.

It is astonishing how soon one gets accustomed to one's new duties, says the wife, one evening; everything seems so natural and so easy that I feel as if I had been married all my life.

It is very pleasant to have one's own home, and to feel so at home in it.

I have been thinking, dear, that now we are settled, it would be a good plan if you could read to me while I work. The evenings are getting long, and we might accomplish a good deal in the course of the winter.

True, my love, replies the husband; and we may vary our reading with grave or lighter literature—not, of course, forgetting poetry. Books leads one from the too constant contemplation of one's own immediate sphere of action. A happy married life has a very centripetal influence, which, if yielded to, may be very detrimental to our character, narrowing us in feeling and action, and making us selfish. I am glad of your suggestion.—Books will prove one among other counterpoises to this influence. They will, too, suggest topics of conversation, and so make us more companionable.

After a little discussion, a volume from their small but choice library is fixed upon and commenced. But reading is not always practicable, and the evenings are sometimes varied by the "dropping in of a friend," or by their own going out; for they are not really so wrapped up in themselves as to forget the claims of society.

Thus the months fly swiftly on, with the usual admixture of pleasures and trials, sunshine and shadow. The husband and wife know each other better now the character of each has often been put to the proof, and many a defect and excellence in each has been brought to light. They, however remember their resolves on the night they entered their new home; and truly have they helped each other onward. Their association has deepened their mutual love and respect.

And now they enter the second year of married life; but an event is at hand which makes it of different experience from the first.

All is over at last; you have a son. As this announcement is made to the anxious husband, the latter part is scarcely heeded in his joy at the former, although in it is contained the realization of his fondest wishes.

He hastens to the bedside of his wife and fondly kisses her, as she has almost unconsciously even his presence, feeling how doubly dear she is to him for all she has suffered.

As he turns to look on the baby—his own baby—what a new world of feeling is born within him. He can never be indifferent to any child after this, for is he not a father? Little, helpless baby, how potent art thou in thy impotency; how mighty in thy influence; how thou rulest over all; what a wonder-worker art thou! "Strenuously the weak things of the world," do "confound the mighty."

And the mother, when she is at last able to notice her child, also rejoices over it, but not as does the father. Her feelings reach the line where extremes meet, and intense joy blends with agony. She knows the costliness of the treasure, and feels the immense value of its life—yes, of every life, even that of the most degraded human being, and the consequent humiliation and punishment of death. What if she should lose her babe? The thought of such a possibility is agony, and almost mars the joy of her present possession. She can hardly bear to have her baby out of her sight. But as she gains strength, her feelings become calmer, and her joy less darkened.

The little stranger thrives amazingly in the new world he has entered, and takes kindly to it, although his first experience of life is in a cold, inclement season. His growing charms are duly appreciated by his parents. People who do not know what it is to possess an own baby would say they were over-estimated; but of course, they are not in a position to pass judgment. The little events of baby-life are all subjects of rejoicing—the short-coating, the first tooth, the first attempt to walk, the first articulate sound.

There never was such a darling, says the mother, as she presses her baby to her bosom.

Never for you, my dear, replied her husband; but those are words in every mother's mouth.

How well baby looks to-night, George.—As soon as he is gone to bed, I mean to finish the frock I am braiding for him; I long to gratify my vanity by seeing how pretty he will look in it.

The mother works rather late that night to accomplish her task of love.

The morning dawns a bright winter's day. Now dear, says the young mother, dress very quietly, for baby is not yet awake. He is sleeping rather late for him; but perhaps the wise little creature thinks his warm cradle the best place this cold morning.

Still baby sleeps, and the mother feels a little fidgety, though she hardly knows why. She gently withdraws the curtain, and at once sees that all is not right. The usual calm and happy look of health is gone, and a heavy, anxious expression broods over the little sleeper's countenance. It is one of those sudden transitions from health to sickness so peculiar to infancy and childhood.

O George, George, baby is ill, run for a doctor!

One glance at the cradle, and the father needs no second bidding. In less than half an hour he has returned with assistance, the mother all the while watching the little sufferer.

This is the commencement of some illness, says the doctor; place the child in a hot bath, and give him one of the powders I shall send. In a few hours I will call again. I hope he will be, in some measure, relieved. Do not alarm yourself unnecessarily, my dear madam, he continues, as he observes the look of anguish which is settling on the mother's brow; all will, I trust, soon be right.

The doctor's directions are faithfully attended to, but, to the most unpractised eye, baby grows no better; and when, after a few hours, the doctor returns, he looks graver than before. There is no need for words to tell the sorrowing parents that their darling's life is in peril. It is with heavy hearts they watch his moaning slumbers through the night, and await the dawning of a day that breaks for them so darkly.

The contest cannot last much longer, is the verdict of the medical man, as in an early visit, he sees the ravages made by disease during the night; so prepare yourselves to bear a loss which I fear is inevitable. Still, however, there is life there is always hope with infants.

He takes leave of the grieving parents, and leaves them with hearts sadder than ever.—The hours of the day drag wearily on. It seems duration, not time, to the mother. The husband has been compelled to leave her a little while during the day, and now in the early evening, as she hears his well-known footstep ascending the staircase, her sorrow seems more bearable.

How's baby? are his first words, spoken in a scarcely audible whisper.

Much about the same as when you left. He has scarcely opened his eyes, but I think he knows me, although he is too ill to smile.

There is a slight stir in the bed; the parents are instantly at his side. They look eagerly into the infant's face; there is a change at hand—it is the change of death.

It is all over now, says the father, in a hollow, tremulous voice, which betrays how severely death's arrow has wounded his tenderest affections.

He turns to his wife, and is horror-struck at the expression of her countenance. His silent agony, its mute despair, are fearful to behold, and gently and unobtrusively he leads her from the room. It is the old, old story—the common lot. They are in mourning for their first-born.

The days pass on; baby's toys and clothes are put out of sight, wet with many tears.—The little frock is taken out of the mother's work-basket with an aching heart, as she thinks of the night when it was finished, and how fondly she had wished him to dress in it. How still was the house now! how important a personage little baby was! how marred was their web of life, now that this thread was so hastily drawn from it.

But time softens grief, and though the first-born is never forgotten, yet thought of him is a hallowed recollection, a chastened remembrance. Their "treasure is in heaven," and often are their own hearts drawn thither.

Years roll on. The husband and wife are in middle life.

How empty and poor are the gay pleasures of society, compared with the pure enjoyments of one's own home, says the father, as he looks with a beaming countenance on the family group gathered round the fire; nothing so attractive as such a scene as this.

A family man ought to think so, replies the mother, smiling; but they certainly are dear, good children.

After the children have gone to bed, the mother takes up her desk to write a note. As she opens a drawer in it, her husband, who is sitting by her side, looks up and says, What have you there, my dear?

Oh, only a mother's treasure! This crumpled-up dead flower was brought me by little Charley. One day, when out for a walk, he told the nurse-maid that he had something for mamma. She asked him to show her what it was, but he looked very grave and said—No, no. He kept his tiny hand shut tight all the way home, when he came straight to me and said—There, mamma, see what I have brought you.

The grand mystery was a little crushed daisy. That stone was a pebble picked up at the sea-side by little Sydney, who considered it the prettiest one of all their collection, so that was to be mamma's. That little strip of rag is our Mary's first attempt at needle-work. It was done secretly, to surprise me, and I assure you she thought the great ugly stitches a successful performance.

I need not ask what this is, says the husband, as he unfolds a little packet; and the tears come into his eyes, as he looks at a silky curl cut from the head of their dead child.

Ah! dear husband, I often think now how valuable that trial has been to us. Dear little Frank! but our loss has in reality proved a great gain.

I think it has, quietly returns the husband, though we could not but feel it very hard at the time.

Again, after a lapse of seven years, they are sitting alone, as they sat when they began life's journey together.

How insidious are time's changes. Really, wife, we must admit we are getting old; our boys and girls are grown up into men and women, and all our children, excepting Mary, have left us now for homes of their own. I know she is intending to follow her brothers' and sisters' example, but I think I must interpose my parental authority, and keep her with us a little longer than she expects, says the father, smiling.

Really, my dear, that would be selfish.—No one will miss Mary more than I shall. I should be glad to keep her always, did I not think her happiness would be increased in her new sphere. We must remember the time when we were young, and how we then felt.

In the silence that ensues, they each revert in busy thought to scenes long past.

George, do you remember the night we entered our new home, and our conversation on the duties of married life?

Yes, Rosina, and your groundless fears as to your ability to perform them. Dearest wife—dearer than ever for all that we have enjoyed and suffered together—it is indeed a sweet reflection, that our married life has led to such an end as this.

Fast Young Men.

The Philadelphia Ledger thus describes fast young men, a class who abound in all our large cities. Many of them will, no doubt, recognize the picture. They make their first essay in manhood, by a beautiful supply of bear's grease, and shaving frequently, so as to bring out a sickly moustache.—As soon as they show a shadow upon their aristocratic lips, cigars, "real operas," come in vogue, and they seek out acquaintance taught in the first line school, for the purpose of being initiated in all the ways of making a sensation, and letting plebeians know that they are the sons of the town.

Fashionable tailors, hatters, bootmakers, feel their influence, and grow richer as their cash diminishes, because it is a conscientious matter with fast young men to buy nothing from those who have not the conscience to charge them double for all their purchase.—Next to clothes, cigars and costly wines, the fast young men flourish with fast horses; nothing short of a 2-4 nag being considered as worth their notice. They drive with an air which is certainly refreshing to them, and greatly provoking to those who have once been fast and did the same thing, but are now compelled to patronize "high price omnibus lines."

They patronize the Italian opera, and clap their kid-gloved hands delicately whenever they think the prima donna has given the cue for such applause, or when the "basso profundo" hesitates, as if waiting for some appreciation of the last note uttered. Their opera glasses are the longest and most decorated with gold or ivory, and when the curtain falls they may be seen standing with their backs to the stage, and leisurely surveying through their glasses the gaily dressed ladies like some old tar trying to catch a glimpse of land after a long voyage. By this means, the fast young man makes himself visible to all, creating a flutter among those having marriageable daughters of an uncertain age, and exciting the envy of those who would be fast, but want the credit or means.

The happiest period of the fast young man's life is after the fatigue of the day, when a number of them get together in a fashionable restaurant and talk over their doings through the day. Their conversation never descends to politics, the arts and sciences, mathematics, agriculture, and kindred subjects, but becomes elevated to how many good runs they have made at billiards, the number of ten strikes they got, the speed of their horses, the beauty and lightness of their carriages. They chatter away, having no thought of the future except to devise plans of sport, and how they can manage to have a "fine time," and show vulgar people the way to live. Thus they live till their money is gone, or die from excesses, leaving behind no one to regret their absence, except, perhaps, some few who toadied to their weakness that "thrift might follow fawning."

Horse-shoeing.

How many horses, valuable ones in many respects, are spoiled by having defective fore-feet. The general defect in the fore-feet is called "pinched" or contracted feet. This makes the animal tender forward, liable to fall when going down hill, and consequently unsafe.

When the forward feet of a horse are defective, his usefulness on the road is very much impaired; and in fact there is no comfort or safety in using such a horse.

What causes tender feet? The most common cause is bad shoeing, with improper care of the animal. There are few good horse shoers. Not one blacksmith in fifty knows how to shoe a horse properly. How frequently do boys and apprentices, as soon as they can drive a nail, undertake to set a shoe without knowledge of the anatomy of the horse's foot, or any of that inborn philosophy which teaches a man to look at the reason of a thing. It is a shame, an outrage upon the rights of horses to have such a state of things.

It is also a lamentable fact that not one man in a hundred knows when his horse is well shod. Commonly a man leads his horse to the blacksmith's shop lets the work be done, and then goes off with his horse, satisfied, because he has shoes on his feet.

There is two very common faults in shoeing a horse. One is, the shoes are too short. How can a horse travel with ease, unless his shoes are long enough for him to set the whole feet down on the shoes? A horse suffers as much with short shoes as a man does with boots of an inefficient length.—How can a horse travel easily all day over our rough roads, with shoes half an inch too short? Have the shoe as long as the foot. The longer it is, reasonably, the better support it will give.

The second fault is, shoes are made concave instead of convex. When a horse sets down his foot, if it can, it will spread a little. This arrangement was made to save the animal from pounding a solid foot on the ground. The foot of the horse has layers of springs, as it were, in it; and the shoe should be made accordingly. If the heel of the shoe dishes in, how can the horse's heel spread when he puts his foot down? It cannot; but is bound tighter, so that it cramps the foot, and after a while it results in pinched feet.

A forward foot shoe should be made with the heel of it slightly convex, just enough convex to let the heel spread naturally when the horse puts his foot down.—Maine Farmer.

For the Patriot. Mr. Quincy's Address.

While the party who now call themselves Republicans are claiming Mr. Jefferson as an advocate for their principles, the Address of Mr. Quincy considers that the extension of territory under his administration was designed to extend the area of slavery, and it is broadly intimated by means which he considered unconstitutional.

At the commencement of the present century, Louisiana was in possession of Spain; but a belief prevailed extensively that it would be ceded to France; this was actually done by a secret treaty, Oct., 1801. Our minister at Paris was instructed to prevent if possible the contemplated transfer, and after it had become known that the measure was consummated by a formal treaty of cession, he was instructed to enter into negotiation with France for the purchase of New Orleans. Mr. Monroe was sent out on a special mission for the purpose to act in conjunction with Mr. Livingston; the result of their diplomacy was that Napoleon offered to sell the whole of Louisiana. Prior to this, New Orleans by treaty with Spain was to be a place of deposit for Western trade. The Spanish Intendant at that place had revoked that agreement, and it made much excitement among the Western States: a separation from the Union of those beyond the mountains was feared if a foreign power continued to hold that key to the Western country. Louisiana in possession of the French Emperor was looked upon with dismay. Mr. Jefferson in a letter to Mr. Livingston, says, "we have ever looked upon France as our natural friend, but there is one spot on the globe which is our natural and habitual enemy; that is New Orleans. The day that France takes possession of that, seals the union of two nations. From that moment we must marry ourselves to the British fleet and nation, and make the first cannon fired in Europe the signal for tearing up any settlement France may have made;" and Mr. Livingston informed the President that a special expedition was about sailing to take possession of New Orleans, and that the greatest oppression on the commerce of the Mississippi, and even attempts to seize Natchez, and corrupt the Western people might be expected. The prospect that the peace of Europe would be again disturbed, induced the French Emperor to offer the whole of Louisiana to the American minister. The proposition, although it exceeded their instructions, was accepted and a treaty on that basis speedily concluded.

The news of this arrangement, says the historian, "was received with great exultation by the President and his Cabinet;" it was immediately laid before the Senate and after two days discussion the ratification advised; of the Federal senators, only Dayton voted for it. Mr. Adams of this State had not taken his seat; in the House the treaty was opposed by the Federalists, who denied any authority under the Constitution for receiving a foreign territory into the Union; while on the other side, its constitutionality was zealously sustained. Mr. Jefferson had entertained some doubt, especially as regards the appropriation of money for such purpose, as he had always contended for a strict construction of the Constitution; "but," the same authority we have quoted, says, "the question as to the power to vote money for the purchase was not mooted. It did not lay in the mouths of Federalists to deny that power." The treaty was approved by a vote of ninety to twenty-five, and the necessary bills passed, nothing was said about an amendment to the Constitution: "and Jefferson's silence on that head must be considered as a recantation of the doctrine he had so zealously maintained against Hamilton; a recantation in which the whole Republican party joined, and which they reiterated by many subsequent votes."

The acquisition of Louisiana was the crowning glory of Mr. Jefferson's administration, and it is not easy to perceive how any well founded objection could be raised against it. Had the peace of Amiens proved lasting, the great European Captain might have tried his prowess on this side of the Atlantic; for it was his want of money, in prospect of a renewed war, that induced him to cede that territory to this country; he would at any rate have been a dangerous neighbor; had he held New Orleans he would sooner or later have drawn the Western States into his cis-Atlantic empire, for that is the gate through which much of their produce must pass—the only opening through which they can reach the ocean. Interest is stronger than patriotism, and will not often resist the convenient temptations of wealth.

It is not easy at this day to understand the constitutional scruples that opposed the acquisition. The Constitution provides that "New States may be admitted by Congress into the Union," with the restriction that no state shall be made out of another state without its consent; and if foreign territory cannot be purchased how can we extinguish the claims to Indian lands; if our armies had made conquests in Canada we would be bound by the Constitution to relinquish them? John Quincy Adams negotiated the Florida treaty which involved the same objections; he found no Constitutional scruples in that case, and we can with some degree of certainty imagine how he would have voted on the Louisiana treaty had he been in the Senate. The right of acquiring territory is inherent in sovereignty; all nations exercise it either by arms or treaty; this has been sustained by the American people, for in the political campaign of 1844, the leading measure proposed was the annexation of Texas; the "Lone Star" was the symbol which led the gathered host of the administration in the political battle; it prevailed and sanctioned the principle that foreign territory may be admitted into the Union; the anti-slavery party lent their aid in procuring this result; they made a diversion in New York in favor of the annexation party, while at the same time they talked loudly against slavery. The Whigs opposed the annexation, and on the vote in Congress, all the delegates but one from this state voted against the admission of Texas into the Union—and that one was a Democrat. The anti-slavery party preferred sustaining what they call the aggressions of the South, to aiding slavery less, but that they hated the Whigs more; they preferred the sacrifice of principle to the surrender of that passionate feeling which prefers enemies to friends; whose integrity they cannot corrupt, and whose independence in action they cannot control; for parties, like individuals, have passions, and it is the nature of passion to be most violent towards those who have once been their associates and held opinions in common with themselves.

Because the Federalists opposed the acquisition of Louisiana and Mr. Jefferson had doubts of the constitutionality of the measure, Mr. Quincy says, "the continuance in the Union is simply a question of expediency, and not the result of moral obligation," and from this declaration, "the Free states are bound to deduce their duties." This is strange doctrine, when political parties are the acknowledged tribunal to decide upon constitutional questions, little will be left of freedom but the name. Mr. Jefferson yielded his scruples to the combined wisdom of both Houses of Congress, and from the facts we have enumerated few will be led to believe that he acted from any other motive than a regard to the best interests of his country.

It is far better to deduce our duties from the Farewell Address of Washington, than to take instruction from the violence of political parties of the past or present times. In that memorial legacy which he bequeathed his countrymen, he says,

"In contemplating the causes which may disturb our Union, it occurs as a matter of serious concern, that any ground should be furnished for characterizing parties by geographical discriminations—Northern and Southern, Atlantic and Western, whence designing men may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interests and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence within particular districts—to misrepresent the opinions and aims of other districts; you cannot shield yourselves too much against the jealousies and heart burnings which spring from these misrepresentations; they tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection."

This is the language of our patriotic chief, honored throughout the world. Will the people disregard his counsels and listen only to the cry of faction and turn the duties we owe our country into a mere question of expediency.

FRANKLIN.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, September 13th, 1856.

"BENT: NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The democrats of the Old Bay State met in convention, at Springfield, on Wednesday last. Over one thousand delegates were present, representing nearly every town in the Commonwealth. Hon. Ansel Phelps, Jr., Mayor of Springfield, presided. Hon. E. D. Beach was nominated by acclamation as candidate for Governor, and Albert Currier of Newburyport, for Lieutenant Governor. Ezra Wilkinson of Dedham, received the nomination for Attorney General. Addresses were made, resolutions adopted, and a high degree of enthusiasm prevailed.

MAINE ELECTION. The Fremont party have carried the late election in Maine, by an overwhelming majority, choosing their Governor, securing both branches of the Legislature, and electing all the members of Congress.

"FREMONT AND FREEDOM." A meeting of the Fremont Club of this town, was held on Monday evening last, which was very fully attended, delegates being present from Weymouth and Braintree, accompanied by a band of music.

CARPETINGS. In another column will be found the advertisement and scale of the New England Carpet Company, of Boston. At this establishment may be found Carpets in all varieties, both of home and foreign manufacture. The splendid Axminster, the bright Brussels, the beautiful Kidderminster, the gorgeous Turkey, and, in fact, every kind of Carpeting, is to be found in this place—and such a variety, too, of patterns!

In the Brussels, Tapestry and Velvet department are choice designs imported directly from the manufacturers. The supply of Stair Carpetings is very great, and ranges from the simple Venetian to the costliest Velvet. Here, too, are Gown and Coir Matting, Bookings, Crumb Cloths and Feltings, as well as Floor Oil Cloths of high finish; and with regard to prices, the stock is so extensive—one of the most extensive, in fact, in New England—that every customer, whatever his means, can suit himself. The motto of the establishment is "uniform prices, small profits, quick returns, and no trust"—and acting on the principles embodied in these phrases, a great trade is carried on, on terms and with results satisfactory to all parties.

LIBERALITY OF PHYSICIANS. It has always been said that physicians would disparage any remedy, however valuable, which they did not originate themselves. This has been disproven by their liberal course towards Dr. J. C. Ayer's preparations. They have adopted them into general use in their practice, which shows a willingness to countenance articles that have intrinsic merits which deserve their attention. This does the learned professor great credit, and affectionately contradicts the prevalent erroneous notion that their opposition to proprietary remedies is based in their interest to discard them. We have always had confidence in the honorable motives of our medical men, and are glad to find it sustained by the liberal welcome they accord to such remedies as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, even though they are not ordered in the books, but are made known to the people through the newspapers.—New Orleans Delta.

ACCIDENT. Mr. Peleg F. Jones, an old and respected citizen of this town—a ship carpenter by trade, was seriously injured on Tuesday last. While attempting to raise a heavy stick of timber on board of a vessel which lay at the Point, the fastening gave way, and he received the whole force of the blow upon his leg, crushing it in a most dangerous manner.

For the Patriot.
Union or Disunion.

MA. EDITOR: The Republicans of this town have challenged the opposition to produce proof of any disunion sentiments uttered or written by the friends of Fremont. Believing that there is a great many friends of the Union in that party who have been led away by the cant of the abolition leaders, about the "extension of slavery," the "wrongs and sufferings of bleeding Kansas," I shall cite a few cases, and leave the friends of the Union to draw their own conclusions.

"The times demands, and we must have an anti-Slavery Constitution, an anti-Slavery Bible, and an anti-Slavery God."—Anson Burlingame.

"If the Republicans fail at the ballot box, we shall be forced to drive back the slave race with fire and sword."—James Watson Webb.

"It is the duty of the North, in case they fail in electing a President and Congress that will restore freedom to Kansas, to revolutionize the Government."—Wisconsin Republican.

"He should hail as the dawn of a political millennium the day when there shall be a servile insurrection in the South; when the black man, armed with British bayonets and led on by British officers, shall assert his freedom, and wage a war of extermination against his master; when the torch of the incendiary shall light up the towns and cities of the South, and blot out the last vestige of slavery."—Joshua R. Giddings.

"I have no doubt, but the Free states and Slave states, ought to be separated."—Horace Greely.

"There is merit in the Republican party, it is this; it is the first sectional party ever organized in this country."—It is not National, it is sectional, it is the North arrayed against the South. The first crack in the iceberg is visible; you will yet hear it go with a crack through the centre.—Hendall Phillips.

"To-day I renew my accusation against the American Constitution, that it is 'a covenant with death and an agreement with hell,' which ought to be annulled now and forever."—Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Next week, in Boston, it is calculated that there will be a hundred thousand strangers at least assembled to witness the inauguration of the Franklin statue and to attend the Mechanics' Fair.

There are four millions of Germans in the United States.

Two hundred and twenty-six whigs, including Messrs. Edward Everett, Robert C. Winthrop, William Appleton, George S. Hillard, and Luther V. Bell, have signed a paper, expressing a preference for the election of Millard Fillmore.

New York is defended by 1064 guns, at twelve posts.

At the last Presidential election in 1852, the vote of Massachusetts was as follows:—Scott, 56,062; Pierce, 46,800; Hale, 29,993. At that time, as now, a plurality only was necessary to the choice of electors.

Counterfeit gold coin are in circulation, resembling the quarter-eagle, but having on one side, a profile of Washington, instead of the figure of Liberty.

Peaches are said to be selling in Chicago, (Ill.) at 15 cents apiece, or only seven for a dollar.

The Boston Congregationalist and the New York Ecologist, two leading orthodox religious newspapers, have come out for Fremont.

Hon. George T. Davis of Greenfield, the candidate of the Fillmore Americans for Attorney General, declines the nomination, and expresses his intention to support Fremont for President.

The citizens of Burlington, (Mass.) recently had a picnic, and among the articles of the entertainment was a large berry pie. In the making of which two and one-half bushels of berries were used.

The degree of LL. D., has been conferred upon Hon. Charles Sumner by Amherst College.

A Washington letter says that thirty-three bills, duly passed, were lost for want of time for the President to sign them.

Joseph M. Churchill, Esq. of Milton, who was nominated at Springfield as a Fremont and Johnston elector, declines the nomination, and expresses his belief that the continuance of that ticket in the field can only be productive of harm.

A man took a load of wood to Elmhurst, (N. Y.) which he endeavored to sell for two dollars, but failing, he took it down to the River and threw it in, and complacently watched till it floated out of sight. He had previously been offered one dollar and fifty cents for the load.

Gerrit Smith has again been generous to Kansas in his own way. Three thousand dollars were sent by him lately to the National Kansas Committee in Chicago.

The State Reform School for boys at present numbers 570. Of these 140 are employed on the farm; 130 in manufacturing shoes, of which more than 500 pairs are made daily; 116 in sewing and knitting; 60 in making cane seats, while others are made useful in the laundry, coking and other departments.

New Goods. Attention is called to the advertisement of Geo. W. Warren & Co., which may be found in our columns of today. Purchasers, who go to Boston to buy goods, should give the above firm a call as they can select from a large assortment of choice articles at reasonable prices.

Special Notices.

Freedom National. Slavery Sectional.FREMONT AND FREEDOM. NOTICE. A meeting of the Quincy FREMONT CLUB will be held in the Lyceum Room, MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 15th, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

A full and punctual attendance of all the members of the Club is requested, and all citizens of Quincy who will vote at the election for President in November next and who desire to advance the cause of Freedom and Fremont, are invited to be present and subscribe the Constitution of the Club.

Remarks may be expected from members of the Club, upon subjects of interest at the present time.

Citizens are invited to attend.

E. W. MARSH, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 13

BRITISH VIEW of an interesting American question. The London Chronicle, the organ of Queen Victoria, which speaks the sentiment of the British Government, thus alludes to the subject:

"We should be sorry to see Mr. Buchanan elected, because he is in favor of preserving the obnoxious Institutions as they exist, AND THE UNITY OF THE STATES. There is no safety for European monarchial governments if the progressive spirit of the Democracy of the United States is allowed to succeed. (ELECT FREMONT AND THE FIRST BLOW TO THE SEPARATION OF THE UNITED STATES IS EFFECTED!)"

Quincy, Sept. 12.

Stand by the Union,KEYSTONE CLUB OF QUINCY. NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Key Stone Club of Quincy, in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, September 16th at 8 o'clock.

Citizens of Quincy in favor of the election of Buchanan and Breckinridge are invited to attend.

JONATHAN JAMESON, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 30.

COME ONE COME ALL, and hear the Rev. John H. W. Hawkins of Baltimore, who will deliver a lecture before The Quincy Temperance Union, at the Town Hall, TOMORROW EVENING, commencing at 7 1/2 o'clock, precisely.

Per order.
LYSANDER S. RICHARDS, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 13.

AMERICAN STATE CONVENTION. The Americans of Quincy favorable to the election of Fremont and the American State ticket nominated at Faneuil Hall are requested to meet at Abercrombie's Hall, this SATURDAY EVENING, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to elect delegates to the State Convention, to be held at Worcester, on the 16th inst., also, to choose a Town Committee.

Per Order.
HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 13.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Adams Literary Association at their Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, at 7 1/2 o'clock, precisely.

Per order.
HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 13.

Marriages.

In this town, on the 6th inst., by Rev. L. Rice, Mr. John S. Atkins to Miss Eliza Woodbridge, both of Marblehead.

On the 11th inst., by the same, Mr. Lewis H. Cain, to Miss Eliza M. Newcomb, both of this place.

We were quite generously remembered by our young friends, and may their journey through life be crowned with the choicest of life's blessings.

On the 12th inst., by Rev. N. Clark, Mr. Thomas J. Nightingale to Mrs. Charlotte Lake.

In this town, on the 8th inst., Mr. John M. Windeberg, aged 53 years.

In Yarmouth, (Me.) on the 10th inst., Mrs. Adaline Caswell, daughter of Capt. Thomas Drake of this town, aged 24 years.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 8th inst., Mr. John M. Windeberg, aged 53 years.

In Yarmouth, (Me.) on the 10th inst., Mrs. Adaline Caswell, daughter of Capt. Thomas Drake of this town, aged 24 years.

Wanted.

3 CUSTOM Pantaloons Makers, by D. D. RING, on School Street.

Shaker Flannels.

E. CLAPP has just opened another case of these superior Shaker Flannels. Please call and look at them.

Quincy, Sept. 13

Blankets.

A FULL assortment of superior Wool Blankets just received and for sale very low by

Quincy, Sept. 13

Disinfecting Agents.

VARIOUS articles for purifying the air of unhealthy apartments, viz:

Le. Day's Disinfecting Fluid,
Chloride of Soda,
Chloride Zinc,
Deodorizing Powders,
Fumigating Pastilles,
Aromatic Cones,
Stafford's celebrated Olive Tar,
for sale by E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 13

Kalliston, or Orient Water,

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also allays all tendency to inflammation from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season) and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared only by Joseph Burnett, whose name is a sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 21.

New Silks at Old Prices.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.,

ARE happy to announce to their friends and customers that having been so fortunate as to order and purchase their large importation of

SILK GOODS,

In Europe, before the late rise in value, they are able, and will continue to sell, at their

New Silks at Old Prices.

Now open, a large and varied assortment of Choice and Beautiful Silks,

In styles to please and fabrics to wear to the satisfaction of the purchaser, both in BLACK SILKS AND FANCY.ONE PRICE ONLY.*GEO. W. WARREN & Co.

Boston, Sept. 13

NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said county, held at Dedham, in and for said county, on August 28th, 1856, by an adjournment of the June meeting next preceding.

Upon the petition of Samuel Page and others, representing that the road and highway leading from Page street, near the corner of School street, in Stoughton, to Main street, in Randolph, is narrow, crooked and inconvenient, and that the public convenience and necessity require that the same be widened, straightened and located anew, &c., as set forth in said petition, and requesting the Commissioners to view and order such improvements in widening, straightening and locating anew as shall seem necessary for the public convenience, (notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested) the Commissioners for said County met at the Howard House, in Randolph, in said county, on the thirtieth day of May last, at 10 A. M., the time and place before designated, and the towns of Randolph and Stoughton were then and there represented by their officers and agents, and said Commissioners there proceeded to view and heard all parties in interest, and said case was adjourned to the June term and to the date thereof, and said Commissioners do adjudge that the public convenience and necessity require that the same be re-located and widening, straightening and specific repairs be made therein, and that in this respect the prayer of said petition should be granted.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD,
JAMES C. DOANE,
B. F. FARRINGTON,
County Commissioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners begun and held at Dedham, within and for the County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of August, A. D. 1856, by adjournment of the June Meeting next preceding.

On the petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Howard House in Randolph, in said County, on THURSDAY, the sixteenth day of October next, at nine o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to locate, widen and straighten and direct repairs in said highway.

And that an attested copy of said adjudication with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerks of the Towns of Stoughton and Randolph, thirty days at least before the day appointed for said action. And also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in The Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said 16th day of October, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in Stoughton and Randolph, fourteen days at least before said 16th day of October, that all persons and corporations, interested may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original adjudication on file, and order thereon.

Attest.
EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
Sept. 13.

Boston, Sept. 10, 1856.CARPETINGS!*CHEAPER THAN EVER!*Our Scale of Prices for Fall Sales.

17 TO 25 CENTS per yard for HEMP CARPETS

30 CENTS per yard for INGRAIN CARPETS

37 1/2 " " " UNION CARPETS

45 CENTS per yard for TWO-PLY CARPETS

50 TO 75 CENTS per yard for DUTCH CARPETS

50 CENTS per yard for EXTRA FINE CARPET

55 TO 62 CENTS per yard for SUPERFINE CARPETS

70 TO 75 CENTS per yard for MINSTER CARPETS

80 TO 90 CENTS per yard for SUPERFINE ENG. CARPETS

92 TO 112 CENTS per yard for SUPERFINE ENG. CARPETS

Three-PLY Carpets at Very Low Rates.

92 TO 125 cents per yard for BRUSSELS TAPESTRY, comprising beautiful and modern styles of English and American manufacture.

125 to 162 cents per yard for superior Velvet Carpets of superior English manufacture, which on account of their high finish and beautiful quality are seldom imported to this country, will be sold at the same price of an ordinary article. Also a large stock of

Also—Canton Matting, Crumb Cloths, Stair Carpets, Feltings, Rugs, Mats, and all articles usually found in a first class Carpet Warehouse.

A great portion of our stock which we display for Autumn sales, having been purchased at the recent autumn trade sales in New York, will be sold for much less than cost of manufacture and importation. By reference to our scale of prices it will be seen that we shall sell all the different grades for much lower prices than the same goods have usually been sold.

New England Carpet Company,

75 HANOVER STREET,
Nearly opposite the American House.
Boston, Sept. 13

Kalliston, or Orient Water,

ERADICATES freckles, tan, pimples, and all discolorations of the skin. It also allays all tendency to inflammation from the bites of mosquitoes and other insects, (which are so annoying at the present season) and renders the skin soft and beautiful. It is prepared only by Joseph Burnett, whose name is a sufficient guarantee for its merit.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 21.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

JOHN SMITH,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Sailor, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to the subscriber, at her office, Weymouth, Sept. 13.

An Address,

DELIVERED before the Members of the Schools and the Citizens of Quincy, July 4th, 1856, by Charles Francis Adams, is just published and for sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Sept. 6

Wanted,

EIGHT or TEN Good Coat and Pant Makers to work in the Shop—constant employment and good prices. Apply at Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite street of

GEORGE SAVIL.

Quincy, Sept. 6

FremontLetter Paper and Envelopes.

For sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Sept. 6

STONE QUARRIESIn Quincy for Sale.

SIXTEEN acres of valuable Granite Quarries, belonging to the estate of the late Hon. Thomas Greenleaf.

There are three ledges open. One of them has been worked for many years by Mr. James Newcomb, and is largely in operation now. The stone is of the first quality and color, and easily got out.

Inquire of DR. WOODWARD, near the Depot or of Wm. G. APPLETON, near said premises, Quincy, May 24.

Mechanic's Hotel.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public that he has opened the above House for the reception of permanent and transient Boarders, and is ready to accommodate those who will favor him with a call.

The Hotel is situated on Washington Street in Quincy—about four minutes' walk from the Depot—and contains twenty Sleepy Rooms, which are pleasant and comfortable.

There is a good Stable attached to the House for the accommodation of horses.

The undersigned pledges himself that he will keep as good a table as any hotel in Quincy.

Terms of Board—Gentlemen, steady by the week, $25 washing included when not exceeding four pieces. For transient Gentlemen or Families, by day each 75 cents.

Gentlemen's horses taken care of and boarded by the week or day.

Please don't forget to call at Mechanic's Hotel on Washington Street, Quincy.

JOHN T. GOUGH.

Quincy, July 12.

Ice Creams.

THE subscriber tenders his grateful acknowledgments to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last two years. His experience in this department inspires him with confidence that he will be able to contribute something to the comfort and enjoyment of any who may call on him during the depressing and almost insufferable heat of summer.

He will be prepared to wait on ladies and gentlemen.

Every Afternoon and Evening, (Sundays excepted.)

Small parties and families can be furnished at their residences at any time, and larger ones on reasonable notice being given.

Ladies will also be accommodated with private rooms if desirable.

Ladies and Gentlemen will please call. J. MARDEN.

Quincy, June 21.

The Misses Townsends

RESPECTFULLY give notice to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity, that they intend keeping

Ice Creams and Cake,

for sale at their house, at the corner of HANCOCK AND SEA STREETS, where they will be prepared

ON AND AFTER TO-DAY,

(Sundays excepted.)

to wait on those who may favor them with a call.

Quincy, July 19.

Great Scrofula Remedy.

DR. HALL'S Vegetable Remedy for Humors of every description, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, &c., for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Jan. 12.

Musical.

ORDERS for Tuning Piano Fortes left at the Drug Store of Dr. Pattee, or the residence of the Subscriber, Quincy Plain, (near the South Depot) will receive prompt attention. Perfect satisfaction in all cases guaranteed.

F. A. NOBLE.

Quincy, Aug. 23.

Paper Hangings.

A NEW and splendid assortment of Paper Hangings, Curtains, &c. just received and for sale by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 3.

Parasols.

SIX Cartons Parasols, of the most desirable Styles and Colors, just received and for sale at very low prices by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, May 3

Hats and Caps.

JUST received a few cases Mole skin and Koss hats of the latest styles and of superior quality and finish.

Also—Men's, Boys' and Infants' Caps in great variety, and for sale very low by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, April 26.

Poetry.

The Treaty Explained.

[By request.]
The following is from Punch. It must be pleasant to English pride, to have such things going the rounds of the papers:—

"Papa, you came up to my bed,
And called me Little Sleepy-Head,
About a month ago,
And made me wake, and hear the guns
Telling all London-town at once,
That there was Peace, you know."

My Angel Child, I did by thee
That which my father did to me,
You fancied it unkind;
But no, my love—some day you'll tell
Your children you remember well
When this new Peace was signed.

"It was very kind of you to take
The trouble, Pa, to make me wake,
Upon that Sunday night;
But, Pa, I wish you'd tell me what
To do my children when they get
By all this dreadful fight?"

My darling, yes, I'm very glad
That like a prudent little lad,
You asked such questions, dear;
We've got a Treaty—that is, mind,
A Paper which good folks have signed,
To put things straight and clear.

"A Paper—one that I can read?"
No, love, I think you'd not succeed,
Although it's a translation.
It's made in Chapters, thirty-four,
With twenty Protocols, or more,
Besides a Declaration.

"But tell me, Pa, what it's about;
Some one, you know, must make it out,
Or nobody's the better."
Well, dear, I'll try, if you'll attend,
The spirit you can comprehend,
So never mind the letter.

All that we've taken from the Czar,
From the beginning of the War,
We are to give them back;
Sebastopol, and six more towns,
And the Caucasus hills and domes,
We must surrender, which.

All the strong forts he had before,
Along the black Sea's Asian shore,
He is to have again,
That he may bring his armies there,
And make the brave Cossack bear
His long-resisted chain.

If he can raise and take away
The ships he sank, my dear, he may,
And to the Baltic steer 'em;
To have them ready there at need,
One of these days the Dane or Swede
May find him much too near him.

He's not to pay one single sou
Of all the cost he's put us to,
That forty millions, blow him;
Nor give one single guarantee
That what he promises shall be Performed—and yet we know him.

And we ourselves are so polite
That we resign the ancient Right
We had against the world,
'Twas the old Sea-King's gallant brag;
The homage paid by every flag,
When England's flag unfurled.

"But, Pa, you've only told me, yet
What these fine Russians are to get,
Tell me what they're to do:
I hoped our men, who fought so brave,
Had punished them, and they'd behave,
Much better, didn't you?"

My love, that's what we're thankful for,
We've gained the Object of the War,
Hearing from Russian lips,
The Czar will let the Turks alone,
Will not rebuild some forts of stone,
Or build big Black Sea ships.

And (years to come, though, I'm afraid)
The Danube will be free for trade—
That's all the gain we reap.
"My own Papa, mine Honored Sir,
When those Park guns began to fire,
You might have let us sleep."

Points of Merit in a Cow.

She's long in her face, she fine in her horn;
She'll quickly get fat without oil-cake or corn.
Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!
She's clean in her jaws, and full in her chine;
She's heavy in her back, and wide in her loin;
She's broad in her ribs, and long in her rump;
Has a straight and flat back, with never a hump.
Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

She's wide in her hips, and calm in her eyes;
She's neat in her shoulders, and thin in her thighs.
Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!
She's light in her neck, and small in her tail;
She's wide in her breast, and good at the pail;
She's fine in her bone, and silky in her skin;
She's a grazer without, and a butcher's within.
Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

Anecdotes.

Father, said a little boy, one of my school-mates says his brother wears mustachios.—What are mustachios, father?
Mustachios, my son, are bunches of hair, worn on the lips by certain dandies, as a substitute for brains.
Indeed, father! Then those who wear mustachios, are those who are call hair-brained people!

Sir, said a blustering little man to a religious opponent, to what sect do you think I belong?
Well, I don't exactly know, replied the other, but to judge from your style and appearance, I should think you belonged to a class called the insect.

An indolent boy being asked by his teacher, who came latest to school, replied—Indeed, sir, I cannot say, for I did not get here early enough to see.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.00
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3 weeks, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " 3 " " 1.50
" " 3 " " (per half sq.) 1.00
" " 1 " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10

YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " half " 7.00
" " 3 months " 4.00

To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not otherwise, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
BLOSSOM & EASTBROOK, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. WESTON, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDEBETH, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES THURBER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PRINSEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BENKE, Massachusetts Journal.

To be inserted in the several Newspapers published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Per order.
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.
DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS, Dress and Domestic Goods of every description. Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimps Braids and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' and BOYS' Ready Made Clothing, AND FURNISHING GOODS! BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE, of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.
Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETINGS, of every style and quality; Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of House-keeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to my present variety of Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.

Quincy, Dec. 3d. tf

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST! HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.

March 5. tf

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law, Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON. GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH. May 20. tf

HENRY A. RANSOM, AUCTIONEER, RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage. Quincy, April 8. tf

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing, SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING, Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE, HAS FOR SALE—LUMBER, Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF. July 10, 1852. tf

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law, Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK. Weymouth, Mass. Nov. 26. tf

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, DEALER IN—LUMBER; OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. ALSO—Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice. Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices. Quincy, June 12. ly

FOR SALE CHEAP! AT THE New Builders' Depot, WEYMOUTH LANDING, 1,000 DOORS, ALL SIZES. 1500 Window Sashes, GLAZED AND UNGLAZED. 1200 Window Blinds, PAINTED AND UNPAINTED. Also, a large assortment of NEW HARDWARE, COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS, Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools, Window Glass, Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c. And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention. FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES. JOHN O. FOYE. Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood. ADAMS & HERSEY, GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point). HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash HEGG, STOVE AND NUT COAL. Also—100 cords of prime EASTON WOOD. Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention. Quincy, Sept. 30. tf

FLOUR AT—WHOLESALE PRICES. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR, Direct from the South and West, through Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & CO., OF BOSTON, on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call. Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat. HOWARD VINALL, Quincy, Nov. 10. tf

Paper Hangings. JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 24. tf

Eastern Brick. JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, Brackets' Wharf. Quincy, August 12. tf

For the Teeth. HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings' Premium Dentifrice; Oris and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis' and Thacher's Tooth Pastes; Odontalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, June 3. tf

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON. GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH. May 20. tf

HENRY A. RANSOM, AUCTIONEER, RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage. Quincy, April 8. tf

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing, SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING, Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE, HAS FOR SALE—LUMBER, Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF. July 10, 1852. tf

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law, Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK. Weymouth, Mass. Nov. 26. tf

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, DEALER IN—LUMBER; OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. ALSO—Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice. Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices. Quincy, June 12. ly

FOR SALE CHEAP! AT THE New Builders' Depot, WEYMOUTH LANDING, 1,000 DOORS, ALL SIZES. 1500 Window Sashes, GLAZED AND UNGLAZED. 1200 Window Blinds, PAINTED AND UNPAINTED. Also, a large assortment of NEW HARDWARE, COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS, Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools, Window Glass, Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c., &c. And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention. FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES. JOHN O. FOYE. Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood. ADAMS & HERSEY, GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point). HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash HEGG, STOVE AND NUT COAL. Also—100 cords of prime EASTON WOOD. Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention. Quincy, Sept. 30. tf

FLOUR AT—WHOLESALE PRICES. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR, Direct from the South and West, through Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & CO., OF BOSTON, on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call. Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat. HOWARD VINALL, Quincy, Nov. 10. tf

Paper Hangings. JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 24. tf

Eastern Brick. JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, Brackets' Wharf. Quincy, August 12. tf

For the Teeth. HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls; Cummings' Premium Dentifrice; Oris and Charcoal Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis' and Thacher's Tooth Pastes; Odontalgic Wash; Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, June 3. tf

Doors, Sashes, Blinds, Hardware.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO., CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS, HAVING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish in any of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also Window Glass and Hardware, SUCH AS RIM LOCKS, MORTICE LOCKS, THUMB LATCHES, MORRICE LATCHES, GLASS KNOBS, MINERAL KNOBS, AXLE PULLEYS, WROUGHT HINGES, BUTTS, NAILS, &c., Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO., A few rods west of the Old Stone School House on School Street in Quincy. Quincy, Jan 9. tf

Quincy Fire and Marine INSURANCE COMPANY. $50,000. CAPITAL. ALL PAID IN!!!

INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on the STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, or at the office of the Agency in Boston, No. 12 Brainerd Building.

PRESIDENT: GIDEON F. THAYER, VICE PRESIDENT: STEPHEN BATES, SECRETARY: FRANKLIN GREENE, JR. DIRECTORS: STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERRIN, LOUIS CONGDON, Wm. S. TRACY, WILLIAM P. DRAPE, GIDEON F. THAYER, FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON, WILLIAM D. TICKNOR.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN. Quincy, April 19. tf

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON; TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE; SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES; DIRECTORS, Quincy, Milton, George Thompson, Charles Breck, Dorchester, H. W. Blanchard, Cohasset, Solomon J. Beal, South Hingham, Alfred Loring, North Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward, Randolph, Royal W. Turner, South Braintree, Apollon Randall.

References, by permission: Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston, Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston, Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield, Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Hingham, Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Quincy, Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy, JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., " Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, April 1. ly

FAIRBANKS' SCALES, of every variety, 34 Kilby Street, --- Boston. GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in any part of the country. Boston, Feb. 2. ly

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of imposture. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

For CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, bodyburn, and sourburn of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For A FUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

For SCORPULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally begin to diminish and disappear. Dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all the marks of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do so much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces jaundice, a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to such which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood, and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effective to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., AND SOLD BY Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT. Quincy, Oct. 28. ly

Rats and Mice. LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without poison. Parson's and Warren's RAT EXTERMINATOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Sept. 30. tf

Cider Vinegar. 300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM. Quincy, May 6. tf

COAL! COAL! RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for sale at $8 00 per ton. Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT. Quincy, Feb. 9. tf

New Medicines. DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-drake Pills. Hayes' Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup. Fitch's Heart Corrector. Just received and for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Feb. 17. tf

Dried Apples. 2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 25. tf

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills. D. HOOFLAND'S German Balm Pills. Dr. Eastman's Celebrated SICK HEADACHE REMEDY. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Jan. 28. tf

Tooth Ache! Every tooth you meet, who is afflicted with the TOOTH ACHES, which may find an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy. Quincy, Dec. 24. tf

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Grounds, cracked Wheat, Sage, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Quinine, Peppermint, Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Valves, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c. Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care, and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, 'tis they appear in this and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1. tf

Try it! Try it! Try it!!! G. W. STONE'S VEGETABLE LIQUID CATHARTIC AND FAMILY PHYSIC.

THE most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots which form the most powerful, safe, and agreeable physic ever offered to the public.

The necessity of such a medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at one time's infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely banishes constiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the stomach from biles, invigorates the whole system, and removes the cause of all local pains such as

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, TIC DOULOUREUX, GOUT, Pain in the Head, Side, Stomach, &c., &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels—DYSENTERY, DIARRHOEA and CHOLERA MORBUS, yield at once to its magical influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reassure, if you have tried other remedies without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering from Scarcity, six bottles will effect it that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe, and agreeable to the taste, that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR. Principal Depot at No. 38 Central St., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Dec. 13. ly

Toys and Fancy Articles. BY calling at Dr. MARDEN'S, corner of HAYMARKET and GRANT STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES, Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chairs, Cabs, Sleighs—

Apothecary Store.

Dr. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farin, Grouse, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broom, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Rubber Syringes, Red-rubber Sponges, Horse-hair Mitts, &c. &c. European Leeches always on hand. Medicines prescribed put up with care, and in bottles receiving the new and popular medicine, they appear in this Temple, Washington St., near Stone Temple, No. 1.

Dr. E. HAYDEN, returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC
AND
FAMILY PHYSIC

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Roots which form the most powerful, and agreeable physic ever offered to the public. It is such a medicine, that it is long known by the heads of families and physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every person. It operates more immediately and gently upon the system, and at the same time, is infinitely less difficult to administer, being agreeable to the taste. It not only produces healthy action, but it is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the stomach from biliousness, cleanses the whole system, and removes the cause of all local pains such as Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Pain in the Head, Side, Stomach, &c. &c.

It is also the best remedy in all diseases of the bowels—DYSENTERY, DIARRHOEA and LERA MORBUS, yield at once to its magic. Again we repeat, TRY IT—it is the best recommendation. No family will want it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies at success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering from Rheumatism, six bottles of Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual constipation, three will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other chronic affections, two bottles will free you from them. It will be eradicated from the blood by the use of six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the best, the safest, and agreeable to the taste, and it has been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.
Principal Depot at No 38 Central St., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

Toys and Fancy Articles.
Calling at Dr. MARDEN'S, corner of Hancock and Granite Streets, you will find a splendid assortment of TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES, such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions. Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, &c.—Villages, Military Companies, Dining Tea Sets, Nine Pins, Tops, Baitles, Whirligigues, Charomies, Trunks, Harmoniums, &c.—Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy Cakes, Kakeidosons, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes, Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c. &c., and a large variety of goods, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Fair.

Dr. LAROCKHALL, a celebrated Indian, has discovered in the combination of four kinds of common Roots and Herbs, a remedy that is warranted to cure CONSUMPTION in all cases where the lungs are not mostly consumed, and every disease, of whatever nature, having its seat on the lungs or in the bronchial tubes. Two bottles will cure the worst of colds. Three bottles will cure the hardest cough. Two bottles will cure the Whooping cough. Four bottles will cure Bronchitis. Five bottles will cure Croup. Six bottles will cure Consumption. Seven bottles will cure Catarrh. See directions on label. $1 per bottle. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Sole Agent, No. 15, Dec 15.

Fruits.
FRESH Lemons, Oranges and Figs; also—Dates, Prunes, Tamarinds, &c.; all sold at Dr. MARDEN'S, No. 38 Central St., No. 15, Dec 15.

Just Received.
HARRISON'S Cream of Beauty, for the complexion. It gives softness and bloom to the skin, radically cures freckles, pimples, sunburn and all cutaneous affections. So—Harrison's Honey Soap, for the skin, for the face, for the hair, for the hands, for the feet, for the body, for the soul. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

Soaps and Perfumes.
Choice Soaps and Perfumes, and various other articles for the Toilette. Shampoos, Lotion, Soap, &c. &c. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

Butter! Butter!!
To 40 tubs of first rate DAIRY BUTTER, for sale cheap. D. BAXTER & Co., No. 15, Dec 15.

For the Complexion.
DR. FINE'S Orange Flower Lotion, for the face, for the hands, for the feet, for the body, for the soul. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

For the Complexion.
DR. FINE'S Orange Flower Lotion, for the face, for the hands, for the feet, for the body, for the soul. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

For the Complexion.
DR. FINE'S Orange Flower Lotion, for the face, for the hands, for the feet, for the body, for the soul. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

For the Complexion.
DR. FINE'S Orange Flower Lotion, for the face, for the hands, for the feet, for the body, for the soul. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, No. 15, Dec 15.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XX.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1856.

NUMBER XXXVI.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS:

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARBOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BREEK.
Dorchester, JOHN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
New York City, FREEMAN HUNT.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Good Deed Rewarded.

Visitors! exclaimed Kate Bennett impatiently, as she laid aside the book she had been reading, and in which she had been deeply interested, and took the cards which the servant presented.

Dear me, how provoking! Just as I am in the most exciting part of the story—and that part, disagreeable Emily Archer, too, she added, reading one of the cards; who else I wonder?

Was there magic in that simple bit of pasteboard, inscribed with only two words, Richard Warren. It would almost seem so, so instantaneous did her countenance change. The frown that disfigured her beautiful brow disappeared, her eyes sparkled, and without another thought of the book, she hastily assumed herself by a glance in the mirror, that her toilet was irreproachable, and left the room.

As she entered the drawing-room, and greeted her guests with all that grace and elegance of manner for which she was distinguished, Emily Archer surveyed her with one rapid, critical glance; but dress as well as manner, was faultless.

It must be confessed that Kate Bennett enters a room like a Queen, she thought, with a pang of envy and jealousy, as in Richard Warren's face she read undisguised admiration of the lovely girl before her.

What casual observer, who had marked the meeting of these two ladies, would have dreamed that, under all their outward friendliness, each hated the other with her whole heart? Yet so it was. Kate and Emily were rival belles, and their claims of admiration were so equally balanced, that it required no little exertion on either side to gain the ascendancy, and be acknowledged the victor.

If Kate, with her classical features, queenly dignity, elegant figure and exquisite taste, at first sight threw her rival in the shade, Emily's piquant style, and sprightly conversation, were by many preferred to Kate's statueque beauty. It was impossible to decide which was the loveliest, each had her adherents and admirers, but as they were equally numerous it seemed probable that the season would draw to a close without the all important decision of the question which had been, par excellence, the belle.

Just at this time Richard Warren returned from Europe. The rival of so undeniably elegant, handsome and wealthy a gentleman, was an event—all the fashionable world was in a flutter and the rivals saw at once that the important epoch had arrived. She whose claims he advocated, whom he favored with his admiration, would at once stand upon the precarious pinnacle of belle-ships, though their tactics were entirely different.

Emily brought to bear upon him the batteries of her sprightly wit, while Kate adroitly laid the mine of apparent queenly indifference. As yet, though it was evident that Richard admired both, his preference was not known, perhaps he hardly knew himself which one he thought the most charming.

But during this exposure of the claims of the rivals, a lively conversation had been going on. The last new novel and the opera had been discussed, as well as some of their mutual friends, and in the midst of some wittily witty remarks of Emily upon a would-be fashionable lady, a loud voice was heard in the hall. It came nearer the door, and the words could be distinctly understood.

You no-brained, imprudent jackknives, I'll teach you manners; I'll make you laugh on 't'other side of your mouth.

The door was flung open, and in walked a tall, athletic young man, whose really fine form was disguised in an ill fitting suit of evidently domestic manufacture, and stood for a moment awkwardly looking around him; then hastily approaching Kate, he flung his arms around her, and gave her a loud smack on the cheek.

She withdrew herself quickly and haughtily from his embrace.

Sir! said she with freezing dignity.

Law! don't you know who I be? exclaimed the new comer, in no wise disconcerted. Wall, now, I do actually believe you've forgot me. Don't yer know yer cousin Ben? Ye see, I don't like farlin' no how you can fix it, so I quit that and come to the city. Jim Simpson was down to our place, and he's doing fast rate here. He said 'twas dreadful hard to get a start in the city, but guess I ain't a going to slump through where he gets ahead. I'll risk it any how.

Catherine, at the commencement of this speech had alternately flushed and paled, for she was deeply mortified that Richard Warren and Emily Archer should have been the witnesses of such a scene. She caught a triumphant glance from Emily. It restored her pride.

With all the grace of which she was mistress, she turned to the new-comer—

You must excuse me, Cousin Ben, she said, I had forgotten you. A few years make a change, and I can hardly retrace in your countenance a feature that reminds me of the lad who went nutting with me in the dear old woods of Hampton. Allow me, Miss Archer, she said, turning to her, to present you to my cousin, Mr. Adams—Mr. Warren, Mr. Adams, and with perfect composure she saw his awkward bow and scrape.

Emily at once commenced a conversation with Mr. Adams, and was proceeding to drag him out most ridiculously, when Kate came to the rescue.

You forget, Miss Archer, said she, that my cousin has but just arrived in town and has not yet had an opportunity to give his opinion of them in a few days, when I shall have the pleasure of acting as his cicero.

Mr. Warren, like a well-bred gentleman, as he was, addressed some remarks to Mr. Adams on subjects with which he was familiar, and shortly after he, with Miss Archer, took leave. Kate could have cried with vexation, as she thought of the sarcastic ludicrous description of the scene which Emily would delight in giving, but she controlled herself. She was a kind-hearted girl, and could not forget the visits she had paid her dear uncle and aunt Adams, or Ben's untiring efforts to make her happy, when at his father's house. She resolved to repay him now, and her graciousness of character quite fascinated poor Ben, as she made all sorts of enquiries about the old farm.

No sooner had Richard Warren, with Miss Archer, left the house, than she began, with all her powers, of sarcasm, as Kate had foreseen, to ridicule the scene they had witnessed. Mr. Warren smiled, but seemed absent. I had no idea that the Bennett's had such vulgar relations, continued Emily, knowing well that the fastidious Richard Warren would consider this serious objection to the woman of his choice. Notwithstanding all Kate Bennett's elegance there is a certain something about the family that betrays low blood.

Yes, returned Warren, hardly knowing what he said; and feeling that she had gained one point, Emily walked on, in the best possible spirits, internally triumphing over the discomfiture of her rival.

That evening at the opera, who should be at Kate's side but cousin Ben; dressed in taste, and evidently much interested in the performance, while Miss Bennett listened with polite attention to his frank and sensible criticism. At parties, too, he was her attendant; and this open acknowledgement of her relation quite blunted the point of Emily's satires. Mr. Bennett assisted the youth to a situation, and very speedily his rusticity wore off. He had both good looks and good sense. Under his cousin's judicious training, he soon did her no discredit, even among the crowd of fine gentlemen that surrounded her.

Emily Archer saw all, and bit her lips in vexation. She could not but acknowledge the superiority of Kate's strategy, and she had triumphed in the event which she hoped would humiliate her.

From that time Richard Warren was her constant attendant, and ere long he had openly acknowledged his preference by offering her his heart and hand.

Kate, he said shortly after their betrothal, I shall never cease to thank cousin Ben for giving me my bride. I admired you as a belle, but his coming and your reception of him proved that you were something better than a mere fine lady—that you were a true woman, blest with the greatest of all attractions, a heart. Confess that you owe him a debt of gratitude.

Many years had passed. In the sober matron, Mrs. Warren, one would have hardly recognized the dashing belle Kate Bennett.

Blest with wealth, a cheerful home, a fond husband and loving children, she had led a happy life, and time had but increased the attachment of the wedded pair. But cloudless as her life had been, a storm was gathering. Her husband, always cheerful, grew moody, restless and unhappy. She tried in vain to discover the cause of his gloom, but he only made evasive replies to her enquiries, and she could only guess at his troubles; that they were connected with his business she imagined. Her surmises were correct.

He entered the room one day where she was sitting, and exclaimed, flinging himself on the sofa—

Kate, we are ruined. In vain I have struggled for weeks past; it is useless to attempt it longer. To day I shall be known as a bankrupt—penniless and worse than penniless. In trying to double my fortune, I have lost all. You and the children are beggars.

Why should loss of wealth trouble you, Richard? said the wife tenderly, approaching and taking his hand. That is after all but a trifling misfortune. While we are spared to each other, blest with health and children, why should we repine at a mere loss of fortune?

The husband groaned.

Ah, to be dishonest, Kate, he said: fear to look men in the face, because I am bankrupt—unable to pay debts. Kate, the very idea of this drives me nearly mad. To avoid this, what have I not done? I have passed sleepless nights and anxious days, but all in vain.

With soothing words the wife tried to comfort him; but alas he paid little heed to her efforts.

Just then a servant entered, saying that a gentleman wished to see Mr. Warren.

Tell him that I cannot, replied his master, I will see nobody.

But you will, replied a cheerful voice, and a gentleman closely followed the servant as he entered.

How is this, my dear Dick! he said; you are in trouble, and did not apply to me; that was not right.

And of what use would it have been? returned Warren. I am weary of borrowing of one friend to repay the other, day after day. Even that has failed me at last, and I have come to hide myself from the prying gaze of those who will soon be talking of my disgrace.

I have heard rumors of this Dick, and went to your office to see you; as you were not there, I followed you here. You have two hours yet before bank hours are over—Here is a blank check; fill it up yourself, and it shall be duly honored. Repay at your convenience. No thanks; it is only a loan. I know your business well, and that in a little time, with perhaps a little assistance, I will be right again.

Totally overcome, Richard could only grasp his friend's hand, while his eyes filled with an unbidden moisture.

How can we ever thank you, dearest cousin Ben? cried Kate. How can we ever repay you?

Tut, tut, Kate; I am only discharging a part of a debt I owe you, my dear girl. I owe all I possess—all I am—to you. When I first came here, a raw, ignorant, awkward country booby, you were not ashamed of me. You took me cordially by the hand, influenced your father to assist me, and more than all, by unvarying kindness, offering me a home and innocent amusements in your society, kept me out of many temptations that beset a lonely inexperienced lad, such as without you I should have been. I thanked you for it then, even when I didn't appreciate the sacrifice it was in a fine lady to have a bumpkin like myself about her; and when I knew more of the world and understood the rarity of such conduct, I loved you the better for it, and felt the more grateful. I had no opportunity to show it before, in any substantial form. But now you see you are under no obligations. I am only getting rid of a little of the heavy load you placed me under long ago. Be off with you, Dick, and hereafter rely on me in all cases like the present. Don't get discouraged too easily—business men of all others, should have elastic temperaments. Good-bye, now, he added, as Warren disappeared, kissing the tears from Kate's cheek, and be assured that Ben Adams the millionaire, has never forgotten, and will try to repay your kindness to your poor and awkward cousin.

I am richly repaid, she muttered. How little did I dream long ago, that twice in my life I should owe my highest happiness to the trifling acts of kindness towards my good cousin.

A Creditor's Stratagem.

Some months ago, four creditors started from Boston, in the same train of cars, for the purpose of attaching the property of a certain debtor in Farmington, in the State of Maine. He owed each one separately, and they each were suspicious of the object of the other, but dared not to say a word about it. So they rode, acquaintances all, talking upon everything except that which they had most at heart.

When they arrived at the depot at Farmington, which was three miles from where the debtor did business, they found nothing to "put 'em over the road" but a solitary cab, towards which they all rushed. Three got in, and refused admittance to the fourth, and the cab started. The fourth ran after, and got upon the outside with the driver. He asked the driver if he wanted to sell his horse.

He replied that he did not want to—that he was not worth more than fifty dollars, but that he would not sell him for that.

He asked him if he would take one hundred dollars for him.

Yes, said he.

The fourth man quickly paid over the money, took the reins and backed the cab up to a bank, slipped it from the harness, and tipped it up so that the door could not be opened, and jumped upon the horse's back and rode off "like a-tyswitch," while the insiders were looking out of the window, feeling like singed cats. He rode to a lawyer's and got a writ made out and served, and got back to the hotel just as the insiders camp up puffing and blowing. The cabman soon bought back his horse for fifty dollars. The "sold" men offered to pay that sum, if the fortunate one, who found property sufficient to pay his own debt, would not tell of it in Boston.

Manufacture of Soap.

Pure white soap is composed of fatty acid, an alkali, and water. In 100 parts of soap there are 63 of fatty acid, 6.5-10 of alkali, and 30.5-10 of water. The process of making hard soap is not so simple as that of soft soap. White or curd soap is made of the finest tallow or suet only, and is boiled to a thicker consistency than other soaps upon a stronger alkaline lye, and before it is put into a frame to cool it requires crutching. This consists in stirring it about in an intermediate vessel between the boiler and the cooling frame, to break and mix the curd. Nothing but the best materials are used for this soap.

All our common brown soaps contain resin. Colophane or resin is soluble in a caustic alkali, hence its adaptability to increase the quantity of our common soaps. Its use is so common, and as it produces a lather with water it not generally held as an adulteration; still it does not produce proper saponification. The quantity of fatty matter required to make a ton of perfect soap is 1540 pounds. From eight to ten per cent. of this fatty acid is converted into glycerine and owing to the limited use made of this substance it may be called waste.

The most convenient and cheap alkali for manufacturing soap is sal soda—the carbonate of soda manufactured from common salt. It will not make soap by boiling it direct with grease, as it contains too much carbonic acid; it must be prepared for use by dissolving it in about five times its weight in water, adding its weight of fresh unslacked lime. The carbonic acid leaves the soda, unites with the lime, forms chalk, which sinks to the bottom of the vessel. The clear liquor is caustic soda lye, fit to be boiled with tallow, oil, or fat, to make soap. In soap works, the soda lye is deprived of its carbonic acid in vats prepared for the purpose; but any person may make soap from soda lye by a very simple apparatus, viz., a wash tub, and a small tin or iron boiler.

Fancy Soaps. Those small cakes of perfumed soaps used for the toilet can easily be manufactured by dissolving common bar soap of any kind, and adding perfumed ingredients and coloring matter—if the latter are desired. The bar soap is cut up into thin slices placed with a small quantity of water in a pan over a fire, and is stirred until it is reduced into a paste. The perfumes are then added, well stirred, and the soap runs off into a flat flame or dish, and set in a cool place. In the course of three days it is fit to be cut into cakes, and stamped with any ornamental figure or name. In establishments for conducting the manufacture of these soaps, the heating is performed in a steam bath, and machinery and apparatus are employed for conducting the business with facility and economy.

Almond Soap. This is perfumed with 2 pounds of the otto of almonds added to 125 pounds of dissolved bar soap. The heat should be as low as possible.

Camphor Soap. This is made by adding 1.4 pounds of otto of rosemary and the same of otto of camphor to 25 pounds of dissolved bar soap.

Brown Windsor Soap. This soap has a distinguished reputation, and sells at retail 25 cents per pound. It is made by adding half a pound each of otto of caraway, cloves, thyme, cassia and lavender to 168 pounds of dissolved bar soap. Its brown color is produced by roasted sugar—caramel.

A very fine fancy soap is thus made by adding 6 pounds of soap shavings, 8 ounces of oil of citron, half an ounce of verbenia, 4 ounces of the oil of lemons. This is an expensive, but an excellent toilet soap.

Transparent soap is made by dissolving pure tallow or oil soap in alcohol, then allowing it to dry in a warm situation. The soap is added to the alcohol in fine shavings, and after being dissolved is formed into cakes or balls, as may be desired. Any kind of perfume may also be added to transparent soaps in the alcohol.

Advice to the Girls.

But how are we to learn to be good wives, you may ask, while we are yet scarcely more than children? We answer, Begin to keep your drawers, boxes, desk, &c., in perfect order; never put on a garment with a hole in it when possible to prevent it, and never descend to family prayers and the breakfast table until your whole person, from your glossy hair to your little feet is perfectly neat and clean. We would also advise every young girl to take care of her own bedroom, for if you learn how to arrange one department well in every respect, you can at once know how to overlook a whole house, however large. You must take care to abhor with all your might, dust under your bed and bureau, as well as upon them; always hang up your dresses and skirts on hooks instead of leaving them on the back of chairs, and pray do not have a battalion of shoes kicking about under your bed, but put them in any bag or box that you can get for the purpose, properly paired, and not with "one mate, and one odd one."

Perhaps an additional inducement for taking care of your own rooms will be the fact, that to throw up the windows and make your bed, dust, sweep your apartment, will give you a lovely, healthy bloom upon your cheek, which all the cosmetics in the world could not impart. If our dear young lady readers, you will take our advice and begin at once to over come whatever disorderly habits you have, you will in the end grow to be women who have the will and ability to impart an immense deal of comfort and happiness to whoever may have the good fortune to marry you; and we are sure that you cannot imagine in this world a more gratifying destiny, unless indeed, you are horrible, gorgonized, strong-minded females, or heartless, fashionable flirts, who not knowing what real love is, spend their empty lives in making pretences of affection, and degrade the highest attribute of their natures into a foot-ball to be kicked about from one to another.

Died of Eating.

Such, very probably, would be the verdict of a coroner's jury, in but too many cases, if coroners' juries sat upon all persons, whether dying by accident or in bed. It, in less fruitful lands, people often die by famine, here we die of too much eating. In New England it is pies and sweet cake that kill; in the Middle States it is a surfeit of good beef; in the South it is another thing; in the West, still another; everywhere it is too much eating.

The evil would be less if we were more active people. It may seem strange to accuse Americans of a want of activity; but while they give the brains plenty to do, or one set of muscles, they neglect everything else. The lawyer sticks to his desk, the minister to his study, the shopkeeper to his counter, the merchant to his store. They eat and work, but take no recreation. They reduce themselves to mere money-making machines. They go on unvaried round, like horses in a mill. It is wonderful that, while living like hermits, yet gorging like fox-hunters, they gradually lay the seeds of disease, varying according to the profession they follow, yet all originating in over-feeding; combined with neglect of exercise? Is it strange that they die of too much eating?

The season comes when thousands of citizens go out of town. Their ostensible object is the benefit of their health; yet many will come back, in consequence of all their excesses, far worse than they went. Fortunately, in this age, excess in drinking is less common than formerly, especially among those classes who are in the habit of annually going out of town; but the cognate vice of excessive eating, if anything, is on the increase. Gentlemen devour incredible amount of oysters, eat lobster salad to a miracle, indulge in terrapin without stint; in a word, over-task their digestive organs in every way, and then express surprise that they have headaches, feel dull, or are laid up with positive sickness. Ladies surfeit themselves on pastry and cake; take no exercise, except a bath, and not always even that; and wonder why the sea-shore, the springs or the mountains, do not agree with them. Nothing they will find, will agree with them, while they are guilty of too much eating.

Ned Green's Mistake.

Ned Green was particularly fond of ladies' society, and especially that of a fair maiden, for whom he had formed a very strong attachment. He called frequently to see his lady-love, but could never find her alone; her mother, being one of the old school mothers, did not see the propriety of leaving Susie for one moment with her devoted Ned. Lovers will "meet by moonlight," in spite of anxious mothers, and so thought Ned and Susie; consequently, they appointed a meeting in the most romantic spot they could select—a corner of the garden were twined a luxuriant vine over a laticed arbor. Ned was so elated with the expectation of seeing his dear Susie, and folding her to his heart, that he hastened, as soon as twilight had melted into darkness, to the garden. He crept quietly along the path that led to the arbor until he reached the entrance, and there he beheld a form reposing among the vines, which with the darkness, concealed the face from his view. He stood for a moment enraptured with the scene, then rushed to the maiden, clasped her in his arms and covered her with kisses.

"Och, ye murthereen baste, to come here at night insulting a poor honest gal—out wid ye or I'll be ather disturbing those tattered locks of yez."

Mag's screams brought to the garden the anxious mamma and her lovely daughter, (whom she had detained for some cause) to see who was the disturber of the peace; when Mag told them she had gone to the garden for a little fresh air, and had fallen asleep—when the scene above related occurred.

It is needless to say that Ned did not stop for the garden gates, and he never was known to engage to meet a lady by moonlight again.

[By request.]

Spiritualism in Portland.

The following is copied from the New England Spiritualist of Aug 23.
"Late on Friday evening last, (Aug 1st) Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard, and a lady visitor of this city (a medium for spirit manifestations) were quietly seated round a common cot-table, at the residence of Mr. B., when the table began to move—with and without contact—in answer to questions. One of the party enquired how many spirits were present in the room? and the answer was 'five,' being one more than there was persons present in the flesh. The colloquy continued: 'Are you all special friends or relatives of the persons in this circle?' 'No.' 'Are you (the spirit in communication) an entire stranger to all present?' 'Yes.' These answers were all given by movements of the table when no member of the circle was touching it. Mr. Blanchard then procured writing materials, and the spirit through the medium soon wrote his name, 'Francis Douglas.' No member of the company had ever been acquainted with a person answering to that name. Mr. B. asked the spirit how they were to identify him, and the spirit answered the question in the following words, which were distinctly written by the hand of the medium: 'I was publisher and proprietor of the Eastern Argus in 1820. I died in that year.' On enquiry being made as to the mode of testing the correctness of these statements, it was written, in the manner already described—'Ask Eben Steel.' Mr. Blanchard observed that perhaps he might not recollect with certainty, never having been himself connected with the Argus nor with the newspaper press. Following this suggestion, the spirit immediately wrote, 'Ask Charles Holden.' Further interrogatories were interrupted by a refusal on the part of the spirit to write more at that time. The invisible intelligence thus terminated the interview, by saying, in substance, that what had been communicated was intended as a test, and that when they had ascertained the correctness of the preceding statements, the spirit would have more to say.

The next morning after the occurrence of the interview already described, Mr. Blanchard met Mr. Holden in the street, and enquired who was the publisher and proprietor of the Eastern Argus in 1820; to which the latter replied that there were two; and desired to know which one Mr. B. had in mind. Our friend thereupon signified that it made no difference; that he would like to obtain any reliable facts respecting either. Mr. Holden said, Francis Douglas was publisher and proprietor of the paper in the early part of 1820 but he died by accident during that year. Mr. Blanchard inquired how he could answer so promptly, and with so much precision respecting events which he transpired so many years ago. Mr. Holden remarked that perhaps there was not another man in Portland who could have answered the question with equal certainty many, he presumed, might be aware of the fact that Mr. Douglas was proprietor of the paper, and that he died about that time. But, said he, I have certain data to which I can recur; I entered that office as an apprentice in 1819, and I know that Mr. Douglas died the next year, for I lived in his family at the time.

It may be proper here to add, that Mr. Holden was associated with the Eastern Argus for many years, in the several capacities of apprentice to the printing business, journeyman compositor, publisher and editor, and that he dissolved his connection with that journal, in the latter capacity, only about two years since. It is also worthy of remark that Mr. Steel, to whom the spirit at first referred, was subsequently consulted by Mr. Blanchard. His recollection was not so clear, but he confirmed the most essential features of the spirit's statement, and said that Mr. Douglas died suddenly about the time mentioned in the communication, in consequence of an accidental injury received while on an excursion among the islands in Casco Bay.

Now, if Francis Douglas did not visit Mr. Blanchard's house on the evening of the first instant, and there make the communications herein recorded, pray who was the unseen visitor, or to what power in heaven or on earth shall we ascribe the facts?

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, September 20th, 1856.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. No nomination was made for Governor at the Republican State Convention held at Worcester, on Wednesday last. A Fremont electoral ticket, however, was selected.

THE LATE BOAT REGATTA AT HAUGH NECK. As there has been considerable interest manifested in this Regatta, which came off on Tuesday, Sept. 24, instant, and frequent enquiries made why we have not alluded to it before, we cheerfully give the subjoined facts which have been furnished us by a friend.

The trial commenced at fifty-four minutes past 12. The distance run was between eight and nine miles, with the following results:

John Q. Adams	1:13 1-2
Wave	1:21 1-2
Flying Racer	1:24
Onward	1:26 1-2
Bare Foot	1:28 1-2
Spring Bok	1:29
Eureka	1:31
Fairy Queen	1:31 1-2
Lilly Dale	1:32
Josiah Quincy	1:36
Adelaide	1:38
Witch of the Wave	1:38 1-2

The day was auspicious, with a clear atmosphere, and a fine breeze from the North-A gale day which all present appeared to enjoy.

It was a trial of skill creditable to all. The boats were under the best of management, especially the J. Q. Adams, which moved through the water like a thing of life.

THE BANISHED SON. T. B. Peterson, 102 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, has in press and will publish on the 27th inst. this novel by the popular and lamented authoress, Caroline Lee Hentz. It will be complete in one large duodecimo, neatly bound in cloth, for $1.25, or in two volumes, paper covers, for $1. Copies of either edition will be sent to any part of the country, free of postage, on remitting the above named price.

CARPETS. Purchasers of Carpeting should read the advertisement and scale of prices published by the New England Carpet Company, in another column.

DRY GOODS. Our readers will please notice the advertisement of Messrs. Chandler & Co.'s splendid stock of goods, in this day's paper. Of their disposition and ability to please their customers, their extensive sales are sufficient proof.

DRY GOODS. We would again call attention to the advertisements of G. W. Warren & Co., to be found in our columns. They have every variety of goods, selected with much care, which they sell at bargains, and buyers will find it to their advantage to call when visiting the city.

For the Patriot.

Mr Quincy's Address.

The Author of this Address says, 'the blow on the head of Sumner, was not intended for him alone. It was struck at liberty every man in the Free States that liberty of speech no longer existed in Congress; that whoever, coming from the Free States, dared to utter a word in opposition to the views or in derogation of the power of Slaveholders would speak at the peril of life.'

Now if we can show that a similar blow has been struck by Northern men, at liberty herself, in one of her most sacred temples, is it not as much a subject of condemnation as if done by a Slaveholder? If Fremont attacked Foote in the 'sacred temple of liberty,' why the action to be more lightly passed over than if done by a Slaveholder; we prefer to consider both as simply a quarrel between the parties in which liberty of speech had nothing to do, a kind of pastime which Northern as well as Southern men indulge in, for the amusement, perhaps, of their constituents.

In the second Session of the Fifth Congress, Matthew Lyon of Vermont and Griswold of Connecticut were members on one occasion, the Speaker having left the chair there being no specific business before the House, seated himself within the bar and entered into conversation with Lyon who stood outside of it. Lyon commenced in a loud tone a conversation about the course of the Connecticut members in a recent debate within hearing of Griswold; he said he knew Connecticut men and had occasion to fight them politically; 'Did you fight them with a wooden sword,' said Griswold, alluding to Lyon's having been once cashiered and drummed out of the army. Lyon at first did not notice the question; but Griswold passed outside the bar and approaching Lyon, repeated the remark about the wooden sword, at which Lyon suddenly turned and spit in his face. Griswold drew back to strike, but his friends prevented him; the Speaker resumed the Chair and a motion was made for Lyon's expulsion, which did not prevail by a two-thirds vote. For a few days Lyon kept out of the way; the first time he made his appearance, while the members were in their seats, but before the House was called to order, Griswold walked up to him, while he was reading in his seat, and commenced beating him on the head with a cane; Lyon attempted to close with him, but he retired slowly before him and continued beating him keeping him at arm's length; when they had cleared the seats, Lyons rushed to the fireplace and seized a pair of tongs, approached Griswold, who now struck him a blow in the face, which blackened his eye, closed with him, threw him, fell upon him, and continued beating him, till rescued by his friends, who seized Griswold by the legs and dragged him off. The Speaker who had looked calmly on during the fray, resumed the Chair, called the House to order, and the usual motions were made. Here was a blow at 'liberty herself,' as some will have it, not given by a Slaveholder, but by a Northern man; quite as creditable to a legislature as any that has been given since; but liberty has survived it, as we trust she will do, still harder ones; it must however be admitted that there is now and ever has been a race of men in our National councils who seem to think with the poet,

"The face of Freedom scarce has charms,
When on her cheeks no dimples shine."

It is a maxim of the civil law, that words will not justify blows; but there is a higher law, which, although it has its foundation in the infirmity of our nature, is almost universal in our race, until age has cooled the blood and chilled the energies of passion; men will not submit to insult, and however we may disguise it, the common sentiments of the world looks with contempt upon him who does, when the assailant has a standing worthy of reproof. 'No decent man,' says that veteran anti-Slavery man, Mr. Seward, 'will insult me, and no other can;' and if the world would agree that every legislator who insults another by abusive words, was unworthy of the station to which he is elevated, there would be less strife and more wisdom in our Legislative Councils, and the application of the rule be a benefit to the nation and a shield against that meanness which is brave only because it is protected by the privilege of its station.

Much blame is to be imputed to presiding officers when these disgraceful transactions occur. The President of the Senate declared that it was not his duty to 'measure the words of Senators.' Hence language was allowed which parliamentary rule would have suppressed; but the Senate wiser by the late transactions, have voted that their President should measure the language of Senators, and prevent violence of language in debate. Such was the course adopted by Mr. Fillmore when he was in that official station, and his example is worthy of imitation in that as well as in all other offices he has held.

FRANKLIN.

Quincy Stone Bank.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, for choice of Directors, and the transaction of any other business, will be held at the Banking House, on Tuesday, October 7th, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

JOHN C. RANDALL, Cashier.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

DR. W. C. B. FIFIELD.

W. C. B. FIFIELD, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, a pupil of the Royal Ophthalmic Hospital, London, will visit Quincy, on

Tuesdays, Thursdays & Saturdays

Office over Mr. J. Dinegan's Store. Specialties, Surgery and Diseases of the Eyes, and also attention given to General Practice. HOURS—from 2 o'clock, P. M. Quincy, July 25. 6m

Special Notices.

QUINCY LYCEUM. The annual meeting for the choice of Officers of this Association will be held at the Lyceum Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Sept. 24th, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

F. A. WALKER, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

FRAGMENT SOCIETY. The annual meeting of the Fragment Society will be held at the house of Mrs. Lunt, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 8th, at 3 o'clock, P. M. All those wishing to become members are requested to be present.

Honorary members are desired to send in their annual subscriptions.

A punctual attendance is requested.

A. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 3w

FILLMORE AND DONELSON. Hon. Daniel Warren will lecture before the Fillmore Club at the Town Hall, on TUESDAY EVENING next, Sept. 23d, at 7 1-2 o'clock. The Citizens of Quincy are respectfully invited to attend.

Per order.

A. B. PACKARD, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

LIBERTY AND UNION. A meeting of the friends of Fremont and Freedom will be held in the Town Hall, Quincy, on MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 22d, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Hon. E. C. Baker, of Medford, has promised to be present, and will, with others, address the meeting.

Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, of all political parties, and the Ladies especially, are invited to attend.

E. W. MARSH, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

WHO ARE THE DISUNIONISTS? The Charleston (S.C.) Mercury, says, "There is not a single public man within the limits of the South, not one of her present REPRESENTATIVES OR SENATORS in Congress who is not pledged to the tips in favor of DISUNION."

Preston S. Brooks, the representative of Southern character by the endorsement of the South itself, says, "If Fremont should be successful in November next, it is his deliberate opinion, that on the fourth of March next the people of the South should RISE IN THEIR MIGHT, march to Washington, and SEIZE the archives and the Treasury of the Government."

Millard Fillmore says, "The SOUTH will not SUBMIT FOR A MOMENT to the election of Fremont."

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

BRITISH VIEW of an interesting American question. The London Chronicle, the organ of Queen Victoria, which speaks the sentiment of the British Government, thus alludes to the subject:

"We should be sorry to see Mr. Buchanan elected, because he is in favor of preserving the obnoxious institutions as they exist, AND THE UNITY OF THE STATES. There is no safety for European monarchial governments if the progressive spirit of the Democracy of the United States is allowed to succeed. SELECT FREMONT AND THE FIRST BLOW TO THE SEPARATION OF THE UNITED STATES IS EFFECTED!"

Quincy, Sept. 12. 1w

Stand by the Union.

KEYSTONE CLUB OF QUINCY.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Key Stone Club of Quincy, in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, September 20 at 8 o'clock.

Citizens of Quincy in favor of the election of Buchanan and Breckinridge are invited to attend.

JONATHAN JAMESON, Secretary.

Quincy, Aug. 30. 1w

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Adams Literary Association at their Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, at 7 1-2 o'clock, precisely.

Per order.

HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

Town Meeting.

NORFOLK, SS.—To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy: GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby required to notify and warn the Inhabitants of said Town of Quincy, qualified by law to vote in Town Affairs, to meet at the Town Hall, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the 22d day of September, 1856, at half past five o'clock, P. M., to act on the following Articles:—to wit:—

Article 1st.—To choose a Moderator.

Article 2d.—To know what action the Town will take relative to a Suit commenced against the Town by William P. Apthorp, Administrator on the Estate of Sarah Apthorp, late of Quincy, deceased.

Article 3d.—To choose any Committee, or hear and act on the report of any Committee of the Town which may be appointed.

Hereof fail not, and make due service of this Warrant and to return your doings thereon to the Town Clerk, at or before the time of holding said Meeting.

Given under our hands, this Thirteenth day of September, A. D., 1856.

E. S. FELLOWS, EDEN ADAMS, WM. W. BAXTER, } Selectmen of Quincy.

A true copy.—Attest,

SETH ADAMS, Constable.

Norfolk, ss. Quincy, September 13th, 1856.

Pursuant to the above Warrant, I hereby notify and warn the Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, who are qualified as therein expressed to meet at the time, place, and for the purposes therein named.

SETH ADAMS, Constable of Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 1w

Hingham and Quincy

Bridge and Turnpike Corporation.

THE proprietors of this Corporation are hereby notified that their annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on TUESDAY, the 7th day of Oct. next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the choice of Officers, and the transaction of such business as may come before them.

By order of the Directors.

JEFFERY R. BRACKETT, Clerk.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 3w

Deaths.

In this town, on the 4th inst., Infant child of Trueworthy C. and Lucy F. Horn, aged 3 months and 28 days.

On the 12th inst., Mary, wife of Jeremiah Galvin, aged 47 years.

On the 17th inst., Widow Mary Daley, aged 70 years.

On the 17th inst., John, son of the late Darby Marrow, aged 11 years 9 months.

In Watertown, on the 12th inst., John L. Dimmock, Esq., for several years a resident of this town, and universally esteemed as an honest man, aged 60 years.

Norfolk Agricultural Society.

Cattle Show and Fair.

THE OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES OF THE NORFOLK AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Announce to the public that their

8th Annual Exhibition

WILL TAKE PLACE AT DEDHAM, ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, The 30th of Sept. and the 1st of Oct.

Great preparations have been made the present year to increase the attractions of the Exhibition.

Several hundred dollars have been added to the amount of premiums.

The grounds of the Society have been enlarged by additional purchase.

The Exhibition of Horses will be on an enlarged scale. Two hundred dollars extra have been added to the premiums on horses alone.

There will be several trials of speed, for which an extensive course is to be provided, accommodated with seats for spectators.

Ploughing and Spading Matches as usual.

Owing to the limited season, it is expected that the show of products will surpass the Exhibitions of former years.

Articles of premiums are to be on the ground as early as 12 o'clock, M., on Tuesday, at which time the Judges are to be at the Hall on the grounds.

Distinguished guests are expected to be present at the Exhibitions, including his Excellency the Governor, being a resident of the county.

EDWARD L. KEYES, Secretary.

Sept 20

New and Elegant Stock

— or —

DRY GOODS.

HAVE received and are now opening their Importation of

Fall & Winter Goods,

Comprising an extensive assortment of the

NEWEST AND

MOST FASHIONABLE ARTICLES.

And furnishing altogether one of the most complete Stocks of choice Goods ever exhibited in the country.

Without going into an extended enumeration of articles, we would say that, in the stock, we now submit to inspection of purchasers, may be found a most beautiful assortment of Silks, Shawls, Mantillas and Cloaks, Ladies' Cloths, Goods for boys' wear, Woven Dress Goods, Embroideries, Housekeeping Articles, Hosiery and Gloves.

We respectfully invite our regular customers and the public to an early examination of our splendid assortment, which will be offered upon the most favorable terms.

At Wholesale and Retail.

CHANDLER & CO.,

6 and 8 Summer st.

Boston, Sept 20. 6w

NEW GOODS ALL OPEN!!

The Best Goods at the Lowest Prices.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.,

(ONE PRICE ONLY.)

Have already opened their full stock of

NEW AND RICH FALL GOODS,

AND are prepared to show a large and beautiful variety of Long and Square Shawls—Cashmeres, Stel-las, Highlands, Tibets, &c. &c.

Paris Cloths, Mantillas and Talmes, from Armonville, Malnos and others, of Paris.

New Cloths for Ladies' Garments, from England, France and Germany.

Black Silks and Fancy Silks, in immense variety of styles, made from all fine silks, and warranted to wear well.

Printed Cashmeres and Mous. de laines, from England and France, and from our own unrivalled Manufacturers and Printers in this country.

Printed Flannels and Russia Robes, for Ladies and Gents' Robes de Chambre.

Mourning Goods, in all fabrics, and manufactured expressly for us to wear well.

Plaid Dress Goods—Polonais, Valenciennes, Thibets.

Merinos, Tibets and Cashmeres—Black and all colors, from the best fabricators.

Velvets for Shawls and Mantillas free from Cot-tin.

Crochet Fringes from Paris, for our own use in manufacturing, a few of which we shall sell.

Embroideries, Laces and White Goods, at much lower prices than usually retailed.

Housekeeping Articles—Blankets, Quilts, Table Cloths, Damasks, Sheetings, Napkins, Doylies, &c. &c., in large variety.

Gents' Shawls, in our own styles, from $4 to 12.

Scarfs, Mantles, Gloves, Hosiery, &c.

French and English Prints—the best styles.

American Goods,

All the best makes of Blankets, Flannels, Cottons, &c., sold at retail at the Agents' case price.

On account of our large sales we are now enabled to retail at low or lower than the same articles are sold "down town" at wholesale; and our customers may feel sure of getting from us the very best kinds of good at the very lowest possible prices.

G. W. WARREN & CO.

WASHINGTON & HAWLEY STS.

Boston, Sept 20. 6w

Mount Wollaston Bank.

THE annual meeting of the Stockholders, for the choice of Directors and the transaction of any other business which may properly come before them, will be held at the Banking Room on MONDAY, the 6th day of October next, at 3 o'clock, P. M. LOUIS CONGDON, Cashier.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

Dred,

A TALE of the Great Dismal Swamp by Mrs. H. B. Stowe, Author of Uncle Tom's Cabin. For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

Wanted,

CUSTOM Pantaloons Makers, by D. D. RING, on School Street.

Quincy, Sept 13

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.

Quincy, July 19.

Blankets.

A FULL assortment of superior Wool Blankets just received and for sale very low by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, Sept 13

Disinfecting Agents.

VARIOUS articles for purifying the air of un-healthy apartments, viz:

Le. Doyen's Disinfecting Fluid,

Chloride of Soda,

Chloride Zinc,

Deodorizing Powders,

Fumigating Pastilles,

Aromatic Cones,

Stafford's celebrated Olive Tar.

For sale by E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 13

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

JOHN SMITH,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Sator, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

COELESTINA SMITH, Administratrix.

Weymouth, Sept. 13.

An Address,

DELIVERED before the Members of the Schools and the Citizens of Quincy, July 4th, 1856, by Charles Francis Adams, is just published and for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK

Poetry.

Summer and Winter.

Ah! those were very pleasant days,
The days we spent together,
Come back through memory's golden haze,
On cloudless summer weather!
That I may deem I've saved at least
Some fragments from life's scattered feast.

We wandered past the shallow stream,
And through the new-mown hay;
Each hour was like some golden dream
From Paradise astray.
The scent of roses on the air
Seemed part of life which was so fair.

We roamed amid the thick, green wood—
Through the cool pleasant trees;
And ah! this world seemed very good
With all its memories.

I never saw the moon so bright
As through the boughs that summer night.
Sweep from the angry heaven,
As blindly against the falling leaf—
The withered leaves are driven;
Then faint and lone the moon appears,
All dim, like one who smiles through tears.

That ghostly moon's uncertain light
Flung over the giant, bare trees—
The starless snow of the falling leaf—
The waiting of the breeze:
Ah me! it was another earth
Where summer reigned in light and mirth.

And love, so pleasant, although brief,
Was made for summer days,
Departing ere the falling leaf—
And Autumn's mellow rays;
Nor does it seem so very strange
That we like all things else, should change.

Our dream has vanished as it came;
Some hours of care it costed,
Perchance we played a dangerous game,
But well the players matched,
Without reproach in either heart,
We clasp cold hands, and so we part.

"If Thou hast Lost a Friend."

If thou hast lost a friend,
By hard or hasty word,
Go call him to thy heart again;
Let pride no more be heard.
Remind him of those happy days,
Too beautiful to last;
Ask if a word should cancel years
Of truth and friendship past?

Oh! if he's not a friend,
By hard or hasty word,
Go call him to thy heart again;
Let pride no more be heard.

Oh! tell him, from thy thought
The light of joy both fled;
That, in thy soul and silent breast,
Thy lonely heart seems dead;
That mount and vale, each path ye trod,
By morn or evening dim,
Reproach you with their frowning gaze,
And ask your soul for him.

Hoe out Your Row.

One lazy day a farmer's boy
Was hoeing out the corn;
And merrily had listened long,
To hear the dinner horn.
That welcome blast was heard at last,
And down he dropped his hoe;
But the good man shouted in his ear,
My boy—How out your row!

Although "hard one," was the row,
To use a plowman's phrase,
And the lad, as sailor's have it,
Beginning well to "haze"—
"I can," said he, and manfully
He seized again his hoe;
And the good man smiled to see
The boy hoe out his row.

The lad the text remembered,
And proved the moral well,
That perseverance to the end
At last will nobly tell.
Take courage, man! Resolve you can,
And strike a vigorous blow;
In life's great field of varied toil,
Always hoe out your row.

Anecdotes.

At a party, a lady treated her company with stewed pears. A gentleman at the table put one as he supposed, into his mouth and attempted to pull out the stem; after pulling some time, he was obliged to give it up, and on putting it on his plate he found he had been tugging away at a mouse, which had probably fallen into the lady's preserve jar. With the utmost coolness he inquired of the lady if she had a cat in the house.

Yes, sir; why?
Well, I would like to have her take this mouse away—that's all.

Where have you been this week?
Fishing.
Catch anything?
Yes, a cold.
Where was you last night?
Ducking.
Get any?
Yes, one in the river.
How?
Tumbled in.

Mrs. Briggs, said a neighbor, who stepped into the house of the former, just as she was in the act of seating herself at the dinner table, have you heard of the dreadful accident? Why, no, what is it?

Mr. Briggs has fallen from his wagon, and is killed!
Is it possible! Well just wait until I finish my dinner, and then you'll hear crying.

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

PROBATE NOTICES.
Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 1.50
Administrators' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.
Messengers Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees' " 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.
County Commissioners' Notices of Roads, &c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and other Legal Notices not embraced above, 3 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.
All Transient Advertisements, 2 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.
All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " 3 " " " " " 7.00
" " 1 " " " " " 1.00
" " 1 " " " " " 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.
All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10
YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " half " " " " 7.00
" " 3 months " " " 4.00
To be changed at the option of the Advertiser, not often, however, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.
Business Cards, not exceeding half a square, one year, not less than 5.00
ADVERTISING AGENTS.
All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.
No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.
Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.
Twelve lines of Minion or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.
(Signed)
JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS,
Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.
Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Gimpes Brims and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENT'S AND BOY'S Ready Made Clothing,
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE.
of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.
Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

Mc. Eckron's CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

TRIUMPHANT

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unnumbered cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c., and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislocations, &c., &c.—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.
Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.
March 8

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20. if

HENRY A. RANSOM, AUCTIONEER,

RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8. if

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE, —HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26. if

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT, —DEALER IN—

LUMBER;
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.
Dimension Frames furnished at short Notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12. if

FOR SALE CHEAP! AT THE New Builders' Depot, WEYMOUTH LANDING, 1,000 DOORS, ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED,
1200 Window Blinds,
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.
Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, AND CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass,
Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.,
And a great variety of Building Materials too numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.
JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17. 6m

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).
HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash EGG, STOVE and NUT COAL.
Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

FLOUR —AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,
Direct from the South and West, through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & CO., OF BOSTON,
on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
HOWARD VINAL,
Quincy, Nov. 10. if

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash,
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24. if

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EASTERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12. if

Doors, Sashes, Blinds, Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,
HAVING made arrangements for the sale of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, good and as cheap as can be bought in the City elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE GULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
A few rods west of the Old Stone School House on School Street in Quincy.
Quincy, Jan 5. if

Quincy Fire and Marine INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000. CAPITAL.
ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Personal Property against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.
Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple, or at the office of the Agency in Boston, No. 12 Brainerd's Building.

GIDEON F. THAYER,
VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,
SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.,
DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERLIN,
LOUIS COSGROVE, WM. S. TRATHCHER,
WILLIAM P. DRAPEL, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,
NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.
Quincy, April 19. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants and Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.
PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Brock,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Albert Thompson, Cohasset,
Whitecomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, South Hingham,
William B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,
Thomas Curtis, North Bridgewater,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
South Braintree, Barnstable,
Apollon Randall, George Marston.

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

RED ASH COAL!

RED ASH COAL, Nut and Egg Coal for sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Scurvy Tonic and Man- drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Pills and Bitters—Sick Headache.

DR. SOULE'S Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills.
DR. EASTMAN'S Celebrated SICK HEADACHE REMEDY.
For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 23. if

Tooth Ache!

TELL every person you meet, who is afflicted with the Tooth Ache, that he may find an instant cure at DR. MARDEN'S which will effect an instantaneous and permanent cure without the cold steel or the least danger of injury from the application of the remedy.
Quincy, Dec. 24. if

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

ERATED by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for the use in the complete which they have been found to cure.
For COSTIVENESS.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, body pain, and sourness of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For A FUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is full.

For SCURF, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because if your system wants cleansing.

To PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which show the seeds of incurable diseases, and which sometimes system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces jaundice, a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is a severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of four or five Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual for the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,
AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.
Quincy, Oct. 28. 1y

Rats and Mice.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Moths, Bugs and other Vermin, without poison.
Parsons' and Warren's RAT EXTERMINATOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 30. if

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, May 6. if

RED ASH COAL!

RED ASH COAL, Nut and Egg Coal for sale at $8 00 per ton.
Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, Feb. 9. if

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Scurvy Tonic and Man- drake Pills.
Hayes's Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup.
Fitch's Heart Corrector.
Just received and for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 17. if

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25. if

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barkley's Elixir, Groggs, cracked Wheat, Soap, Turpentine, Oak-four, Corn Starch, Brown, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Glass Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Red-pan, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c. Fresh European Lectures always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they arrive in Quincy, and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1. 15m

G. W. STONE'S VEGETABLE LIQUID CATHARTIC AND FAMILY PHYSIC.

THE most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Bark and Roots which form the most powerful, safe, and agreeable physic ever offered to the public.

The necessity of such a medicine has long been felt both by the friends of families and physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for piles, regulates the action of the liver, frees the stomach from bile, invigorates the whole system, and removes the cause of all local pains such as

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, TIC DOULOUREUX, GOUT, Pain in the Head, Side, Stomach, &c. &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the bowels—DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA AND CHOLERA MORBUS, yield at once to its magical influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies without success, despite not—rely it now at hand. Are you suffering from Scrofula, itz blotches of any Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual costiveness, take three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe, and agreeable medicine that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.
Principal Depot at No. 38 Centfall St., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by druggists generally, and in this town by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Dec 15. 1y

Toys and Fancy Articles.

BY calling at DR. MARDEN'S, corner of HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS, you will find a splendid assortment of
TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES,
Such as Dolls, Horses, Lions, Elephants, Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Monkeys, and Fowls of all descriptions.

Also—Wagons, Buggies, Chaises, Cabs, Sleighs, Villages, Military Companies, Dining Sets, Tea Sets, Nine Pins, Tops, Rattles, Whistles, Flageolets, Chromes, Trumpees, Harmonicas, Harmoniums, —Fancy Glass Boxes, Fancy Baskets, Kaleidoscopes, Bird Cages, Paint Boxes and Brushes, Transparent Slates, &c., &c., and at reduced prices, as a natural result of the Massachusetts Election.

Quincy, Nov. 18. if

Fruits.

FRESH Lemons, Oranges and Figs; also—Dates, Prunes, Tamarinds, Eve's Apples, &c. &c. For sale at DR. MARDEN'S, Quincy, Dec. 10. Goodnow's Building

1,000,000 Bottles Sold!

ENTERED ACCORDING TO ACT OF CONGRESS.
In the year 1859, by J. Russell Spalding, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Massachusetts.

J. RUSSELL SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

This great and popular preparation is decidedly one of the nicest and best articles in the world FOR THE
HAIR!
IT IMPARTS A RICHNESS AND BRILLIANCY TO THE HAIR, AND INVIGORATES, EMBELLISHES, REMOVES DANDRUFF, RELIEVES HEADACHE, AND has probably been preventing the falling off of the Hair with as much success as any article ever known. It has stood the test of time and use, and all can rely upon it.

SOLE PROPRIETOR
J. RUSSELL SPALDING.
MANUFACTURING CHEMIST.
The fac-simile of his signature is on every bottle of the genuine

PRINCIPLE DEPOT,
27 Tremont Street, Opposite Museum, BOSTON, MASS.
Where all orders should be addressed.
Sept 6. 1y

DEVOTE

VOLUME XX.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, delayed until the end of the year, then Ten DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be continued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements accepted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, postage paid, receive early attention.

AGENTS:
The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK,
West District, GEORGE H. LOCH,
Milton, CHARLES BIERCK,
Dorchester, JOHN P. BACON,
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY,
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVER,
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER,
New York City, FREEMAN HENRY,
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

James Wheatley.

Mary, James Wheatley's wife, was very sick indeed, and the good old doctor told James that it was hard work and expense that had caused it.

Now, my

Poetry.

By-and-by.

By-and-by a sweet voice whispered;
Then the days of hope began;
By-and-by, my own lips murmured,
I, the boy, shall be a man;
By-and-by, Time hoarsely unnumbered,
You'll have your allotted span.

All the light is gleaming yonder;
Past time darkens on the eye.
While we sit, and think, and ponder
On the dawning day to be;
Hopes wait on vaguest wonder,
And the breast heaves a sigh,
But the soul persists to utter:
Wait you! wait you! By-and-by!

By-and-by, across life's desert
Blow the sweetest, blindest air;
By-and-by our hopes, our fears,
Come fulfilled, like doves in pairs.
By-and-by, for blessed quiet
Is exchanged a word of care.

O! the promise of that morrow
Lying under future skies!
O! the joy, without the sorrow,
That within that Eden lies;
There from we hope to borrow
Hope to meet hope poor supplies.

There lies Laz rus at the gate side—
By-and-by his day shall come;
There glows Dives, through his place—
By-and-by his race is run;
We shall draw no lines between them,
Right by God at last is done.

By-and-by, the Truth, grown older,
Shall be honored more by man;
By-and-by, the Right, grown stronger,
Shall chase Error's stubborn clan,
And the Eden-scent, wounded,
All his simple course have run.

Glances caught through Time's dark villas
Stir the immortal in the breast;
Jaws dream of night awaken
Often vague and deep unrest;
By-and-by, bright light shall quicken,
And the Day be all possessed.

Wait we then, in shadows patient;
Only let not hope go down;
Till the star forever radiant,
Set in Time's broad horizon
Wait we, then, in shadows patient,
Only let not hope go down.

Gentle Words

A young rose in summer time
Is beautiful to me,
And glorious the many stars
That glimmer on the sea;
But gentle words and loving smiles,
And hands to clasp my own,
Are better than the fairest flowers,
Or stars that ever shone.

The sun may warm the grass to life,
The dew the drooping flower
Eyes grow bright and watch the light
Of autumn's opening hour;
But, words that breathe of tenderness
And smiles we know are true,
Are warmer than the summer time,
And brighter than the dew.

It is not much the world can give,
With all its subtle art,
And gold and gems are not the things
To satisfy the heart.
But, O, if those who cluster round
The altar and the hearth
Have gentle words and loving smiles,
How beautiful is earth!

The Prize.

I heard it said there was a prize
Within the world concealed;
To those whose hearts were truly wise,
It was alone revealed.
I sought the glorious gem to find—
I toiled both night and day;
But it seemed farther from my mind
As I pursued the way.

From clime to clime—from cot to cot
I roamed—no rest nor ease;
The gem concealed, I found it not—
The prize eluded me.

When sad and weary and unblest,
With years of sorrow spent,
I hid me home, and in my breast
I found the prize—Content.

Anecdotes.

How are you, exclaimed a man on meeting an old acquaintance; is business good with you?

Why no, was the reply, I'm sorry to say that I have failed.

Oh, how happened that?
Ah, bad debts.

Why, how came you to trust out so?
Well, the fact is, they were not debts that were owed me, but some that I owed and was not able to pay.

A skunk once challenged a lion to a single combat. The lion declined accepting it.
How asked the skunk are you afraid?

Yes! replied the lion, you would only gain fame by having had the honor to fight with a lion, while every one who meets me for a month to come, would know that I had been in company with a skunk.

Doctor, said a somewhat nervous person to an eminent physician, my daughter has had a terrible fit; she continued for full half an hour without knowledge or understanding.

Oh, don't mind that, said the doctor, some people continue so all their lives.

Judge Jeffries, when on the bench, told an old fellow with a long beard that he supposed he had a conscience as long as his beard.

Does your lordship, replied the old man who had the beard, measure consciences by beards? If so, your lordship has none at all!

Rules and Rates of Advertising.

In the Newspapers in Norfolk and Plymouth
Counties, adopted at a meeting of Editors
and Publishers, in said Counties, August 21, 1854.

PROBATE NOTICES.

Citations, 3 weeks, $1.50
Allowance of Accounts, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Guardian,
3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Administrator, 3 weeks, 1.50
Application for Appointment as Executor, 3
weeks, 1.50

Administrators' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Executors' Notices, 3 weeks, 1.25
Commissioners' Notices, 6 weeks, 2.25
Petition to Judge of Probate, and Order of Notice thereon, 3 weeks, (per square) 1.25

CHANCERY NOTICES.

Messengers' Notices, 2 weeks, 1.50
Assignees, 3 " 1.25

COMMISSIONERS' AND COURT NOTICES.

County Commissioners' Notices of Roads,
&c., 3 weeks, 5.00
Legislative and Court Advertisements, and
other Legal Notices not embraced above,
2 weeks or less, (per square) 1.25

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.

All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or
less, (per square) 1.25
All Transient Advertisements, 3 weeks or less, (per half square) 75

SPECIAL NOTICES.

All Special Notices, 1 or 2 weeks, (per sq.) 1.25
" " " 3 " 1.50
" " " 3 " (per half sq.) 75

EDITORIAL NOTICES.

All Editorial Notices, (per line) 10
YEARLY ADVERTISEMENTS.
Advertisements running one year, (per sq.) 12.00
" " " half " 7.00
" " " 3 months " 4.00
To be charged at the option of the Advertiser,
not otherwise, but never, than once a month.
All Advertisements running one year without being renewed, (per square) 10.00

BUSINESS CARDS.

Business Cards, not exceeding half a square,
one year, not less than 5.00

ADVERTISING AGENTS.

All Advertising Agents to be charged at the same rates specified in the above scale.

CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.

No Advertisements to be inserted gratuitously
for Charitable or other Societies, Companies, or Public Institutions.

EXHIBITIONS AND CONCERTS.

Notices of Transient Exhibitions and Concerts to be charged at full prices.

ONE SQUARE.

Twelve lines of Mian or Nonpareil type shall constitute a square.

(Signed).

JOHN A. GREEN, Quincy Patriot.
Blossom & Easternbrook, Hingham Journal.
L. B. & O. E. Weston, Norfolk Co. Journal.
O. PUTNAM BACON, Dorchester Chronicle.
CHARLES A. S. PERKINS, Plymouth Rock.
H. O. HILDEBRAND, Dedham Gazette.
JAMES T. BARKER, Old Colony Memorial.
GEORGE PHINNEY, N. Bridgewater Gazette.
WILLIAM BENNE, Massachusetts Journal.
To be inserted in the several Newspapers
published in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties,
Per order, JOHN A. GREEN, Chairman,
O. PUTNAM BACON, Secretary.

CALEB PACKARD.

DEALER IN SILKS, SHAWLS, FURS,
Dress and Domestic Goods of every description.

Also—White Goods, Laces, Dress and Cloak
Trimnings, Gimp Bands and Embroideries, a large lot of Hosiery, and a great variety of fancy articles.

GENTS' and BOYS'

Ready Made Clothing,
AND
FURNISHING GOODS!
BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, VALISES,
CARPET BAGS, UMBRELLAS,
HATS, CAPS, &c., &c.

FURNITURE.

of every description constantly on hand, or furnished at the shortest notice.

Also—MATTRESSES and FEATHERS
of every quality. I would ask the particular attention of the public to this branch of my business.

CARPETS.

of every style and quality; Crochery, China,
Glass and Britannia Ware, Solar Lamps and Shades, and a general assortment of Housekeeping Goods. I would respectfully invite the attention of my friends and customers, to
my present varied Stock, to which I am constantly making addition, and solicit a call from all desiring Goods of any kind in my line.
Quincy, Dec. 3d.

McC. Eckron's

CELEBRATED LINIMENT.

Equally Good for MAN or BEAST!
HAS triumphed where all other external applications have failed to have any beneficial effect. It is justly acknowledged to be the greatest EXTERNAL REMEDY in the world, and its sale is unsurpassed in the annals of medicine. Unlike most other popular medicines of the day, it is used and recommended by many eminent members of the Medical Faculty; their prejudices having yielded to the many indisputable demonstrations of cures it has performed
where all other remedies have failed.

Hundreds of certificates might be given showing almost unbroken cures in cases of Rheumatism—Neuralgia—Spinal Complaints, &c.,
and in Bruises, Burns, Flesh Wounds of all kinds, old Sores, Sprains, Broken Bones, dislo-cations, &c., &c.,—but a FAIR TRIAL is all that is required to convince the most skeptical of its merits. See Circulars.

Prepared by J. S. & J. E. SELDEN, Haddam, Conn., and sold by druggists throughout the
U. S. and Canada.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN—Apothecary—Agent in
Quincy. Burr and Perry, No. 1, Cornhill, Boston, General Agents.
March 8

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.

May 20.

HENRY A. RANSOM,

AUCTIONEER.

RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public in the disposal of Real and Personal property, and hereby solicits a share of patronage.
Quincy, April 8.

ALL KINDS OF

Job Printing.

SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BELL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF
BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

--- HAS FOR SALE ---

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE
ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,

LUMBER;

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION;

--- ALSO ---
Lime, Sand, Bicks and Hair.

Dimension Frames furnished at short notice.
Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine, before purchasing elsewhere, as they will find a full assortment at the lowest prices.
Quincy, June 12.

FOR SALE CHEAP!

AT THE
New Builders' Depot,
WEYMOUTH LANDING.

1,000 DOORS,
ALL SIZES.

1500 Window Sashes,
GLAZED AND UNGLAZED.

1200 Window Blinds,
PAINTED AND UNPAINTED.

Also, a large assortment of
NEW HARDWARE,
COPPER, WOOD, and CHAIN PUMPS,
Garden Engines, Carpenters' Tools,
Window Glass,
Eddy's Patent Bee-Hives, &c. &c.

And a great variety of Building Materials too
numerous to mention,
FOR LESS THAN BOSTON PRICES.

JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth, May, 17.

Coal and Wood.

ADAMS & HERSEY,
GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).

HAVE just received two cargoes of Red Ash
EGG, STOVE and NET COAL.

Also—100 cords of prime EASTERN WOOD.
Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store
or with Geo. W. Kenison, will receive early attention.
Quincy, Sept. 30.

FLOUR

--- AT ---
WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West,
through
Messrs. Faxon, Brothers &
CO., OF BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby
saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.
Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.
HOWARD VINAL,
Quincy, Nov. 10.

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, new styles of Paper Hangings,
and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24.

Eastern Brick.

JUST landed and for sale, a cargo of EAST-ERN BRICK, by
JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.
Quincy, August 12.

For the Teeth.

HOVEY'S Powder of Pearls, Cummings
Premium Dentifrice, Orris and Charcoal
Tooth Paste; Florentine and Chlorine Tooth
Washes; Bennett's Dentifrice; Davis's and
Thacher's Tooth Soaps; Odontalgic Wash;
Swan's celebrated Enamel Tooth Powder, and various other Washes and Powders. For sale
by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 3.

Doors.

Sashes.

Blinds.

Hardware.

Bailey, Carver & Co.

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

HAVING made arrangements for the sale of
Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., are now prepared to furnish all in want of such articles, as good and as cheap as can be bought in the City or elsewhere; Also
Window Glass and Hardware,
SUCH AS
RIM LOCKS,
MORTICE LOCKS,
THUMB LATCHES,
MORTICE LATCHES,
GLASS KNOBS,
MINERAL KNOBS,
AXLE PULLEYS,
WROUGHT HINGES,
BUTTS,
NAILS, &c.,
Cheap for Cash.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call
and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.

A few rods west of the Old Stone School
House on School Street in Quincy.

Quincy Fire and Marine

INSURANCE COMPANY.

$50,000 CAPITAL.

ALL PAID IN!!!
INSURES REAL ESTATE, HOUSEHOLD
FURNITURE, and other Personal Property
against the hazards of fire, on favorable terms, on
THE STOCK PRINCIPLE.

Application for insurance may be made at the Office in Quincy, on
Washington St., rear of the Stone Temple,
or at the office of the Agency in Boston,
No. 12 Brazer's Building.

PRESIDENT:
GIDEON F. THAYER,

VICE PRESIDENT:
STEPHEN BATES,

SECRETARY:
FRANKLIN GREENE, JR.

DIRECTORS:
STEPHEN BATES, AUGUSTUS W. PERIN,
LOUIS CONGDON, WM. S. THATCHER,
WILLIAM P. DRAPER, GIDEON F. THAYER,
FRANCIS M. JOHNSON, ALBERT THOMPSON,
WILLIAM D. TICKNOR,
WILLIAM A. DICKSON.

NO MARINE RISKS TAKEN.

Quincy, April 19

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, not existing Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not existing, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON;

TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE;

SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES;

DIRECTORS,
Quincy, George Thompson,
Israel W. Munroe, Charles Breck,
Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Cohasset,
Solomon J. Beal,
South Hingham,
William B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,
North Bridgewater,
Thomas Curtis, Sumner A. Hayward,
Randolph, Barnstable,
Royal W. Turner, South Duxbury,
Apollon Randall.

References, by permission:
Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., " "

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1.

FAIRBANKS'

CELEBRATED

SCALES,

of every variety,
31 Kilby Street, --- Boston.

GREENLEAF & BROWN, Agents.

A full assortment of all kinds of weighing
apparatus and store furniture for sale at low rate. Railroad, Hay, and Coal Scales set in
any part of the country.
Boston, Feb. 2.

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the
internal viscera, to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their regular action to healthy correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease.
An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors,
Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief; were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position
and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.
Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the
complaints which they have been found to cure.

FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or
such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggregating cause of Pills, and the cure of one complaint is the cure
of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild
doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach
and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, belching, and sourness of dyspepsia
will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you. It is a sure and a safe remedy.

FOR A FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the
spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills
at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity
and strength is restored to the system.

FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA,
Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

FOR SCORPION, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases
of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purgative and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate
the whole system have completely yielded to their
influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health.

Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered
with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the numerous diseases of the skin, because, by systematic cleansing.

TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely
and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of innumerable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property
they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious
Affections arise from some derangement—either
torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver.
Torpidity and congestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of one duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow
into the blood. This produces jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails.
Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness,
restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes in-
ability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness;
sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin
and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow;
the stomach aches; the bowels are to the touch
the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever,
which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove
the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer
such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

ASTHMA, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers
are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these
and all kindred complaints they should be taken in
mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DYSPEPSIA PILLS, this is both agreeable and useful. No pill can be made more pleasant to take,
and certainly none has been made more effectual to
the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.,

AND SOLD BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, SOLE AGENT.

Quincy, Oct. 28.

Rats and Mice.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER—For the destruction of Rats, Mice, Mollus, Boge and other Vermin, without poison.

Parsons and Warren's RAT EXTERMINA-
TOR, and various other articles for the same purpose. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 30.

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,
warranted of extra quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, May 6

COAL! COAL!

RED ASH, Stove, Nut and Egg COAL for
sale at $8 00 per ton.

Also—300 Casks of ROCKLAND LIME
by JOSEPH G. BRACKETT,
Brackett's Wharf.

Quincy, Feb. 9.

New Medicines.

DR. SCHENCK'S Seaweed Tonic and Man-
drake Pills.

Hayes

ouri compromise, the Massachusetts delegation struggled hard against the repeal. The issue in the next election was made on that question, and the entire delegation was turned out, by Gardner, Baker and Co., and a set of third rate men sent to fill their places. If Mr. Baker and his party are friendly to these gentlemen now, they may well cry, "Save us from our friends."

He said that one of the great dangers from a Democratic administration, was that they controlled the appropriations of the public money. On this he attempted to be eloquent, quoting Charles I. and James II. as examples of the abuse of this power. Without going into the merits of the Army Bill, a question well worthy of attention from the people, let us see who are accountable for its passage without the "Proviso." Who but the Republicans? They had a majority in the House, yet at the last moment they quailed from the consequences of their action, and receded from the "Proviso." The New York Herald, a great Fremont organ, says, "that the Republican leaders are not fit to lead a party, that they could not govern, and their conduct on the Army Bill proves it. The New York Tribune says, "that it was owing to letters from leading Republicans through the country, and representations from the same party at Washington, that the Army Bill was allowed to pass." What then becomes of Mr. Baker's argument that the administration controls the appropriations.

His observations on Mr. Fillmore I leave to those who support that gentleman, on the old and good principle, that it is dangerous for a stranger to interfere in a family quarrel. Doubtless they will settle it among themselves.

Colonel Fremont was his favorite, and the principal reason he gave was that Mr. Fremont was not a Catholic. This he called a charge against him, and as such he denied it. He said that Colonel Fremont in conversation told him that he never was inside of a Catholic Church but four times in his life; once when he was married, and twice in Paris in the Church of Notre Dame. One of these occasions, if I did not mistake him, he said was on the coronation of Louis Napoleon. This statement is so contrary to the received opinion, that I supposed the speaker must mistake Colonel Fremont's language; for I would not suppose the gentleman would quiz a person of Mr. Baker's importance, neither would he deceive him. There is a great mystery about Colonel Fremont's opinions on this and on other questions. Mr. Baker declares himself satisfied of his Americanism, the great idea of which is the repeal of the naturalization laws; the Germans of New York declare that they will vote for Fremont, he having pledged his word of honor to them, that if elected he will not consent to any alteration in the naturalization laws. Who is deceived in this matter? Can Mr. Baker tell?

For the Patriot. The other Side

Mr. Editor: Reports have recently been circulated, detrimental to my character, I take the present opportunity to relate a few unvarnished facts in vindication of myself.

First, after the recent fire the Insurance Agent called upon Mr. Caleb Packard, my neighbor opposite, (as he had a perfect right to do) to ascertain some facts concerning my loss; thinking he might know something of the value of my goods, as he had dealt somewhat in this kind of merchandise. The agent having asked my friend, what he thought the value of my stock in trade was, he told him about three hundred dollars. This statement struck the agent with surprise as well it might, as this was only one fifth of the amount insured on my goods. When I called upon the Insurance Company to ascertain about my affairs, they asked, "How is this, Mr. Ring? you understand from reliable authority that you had only about three hundred dollars stock in trade at the time of the fire, and now you claim the whole amount insured?" I told them they had all the goods saved from the fire, which they could appraise, and with my stock account which I took the ninth of July, about a fortnight before the fire, and see the amount I had on hand at the time. Appraisers were agreed upon by both parties, and the amount saved, as brought in by them, was over five hundred dollars. This fact having been clearly proved, nailed his false accusation to the wall. He further stated that I was seen smacking upon the store door step fifteen minutes before the fire broke out; this has been proved false, by satisfactory evidence to the Insurance Company, and also proved that I was near the store for about an hour before it occurred. I know not why my neighbor should take this course towards me; I have always endeavored to treat him with proper respect and business civility; was it because some of his customers had commenced to trade with me; this I could not prevent, as individuals have the privilege of trading where they choose. The gentleman in question had better beware in future what statements he makes concerning other people's business.

This has been an unpleasant duty for me to perform—but in justice to myself and the community, I knew of no other course to take, as I had not resided long in the town, and was a stranger to many of its citizens. I could not expect the full confidence of the public, since these reports had been so currently circulated—hence the necessity of this vindication. I can refer the doubtful to Boston, where I had resided some years, and where I am better known, for a history of my character. It was through the misfortune of ill health, and the advice of my physician, that I was obliged to leave the city for the country. I thank this community for their liberal patronage, and hope by honest and upright dealing to merit the generous favors of my fellow townsmen.

D. D. RING.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, September 27th, 1856.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

THE REGATTA at the Old Squantum House on Thursday last week, came off in fine style. There was a large number of Yachts present, and quite a concourse of spectators assembled to witness the sport; but three of the boats, however, entered to contest for the prizes; the Banshee, Wave and Keoka. The distance run was about ten miles. The course selected, was round Long Island and back to the Squantum House. There was a moderate breeze from the North East, with a clear transparent atmosphere, to enliven the occasion. The Prizes awarded were as follows:

h. m.
Wave of Quincy—1st prize, Spy Glass—140
Banshee of Dorchester—2d " Compass—145 1-2
Keoka, South Boston—3d " Flag—153 1-4

The time made was considered by competent judges to be good, and fairly established the reputation of the Yachts for fast sailing. Many of the Yachts went round the course, but did not contend for the prizes; among the number, was the John Q. Adams, (her tonnage excluding her from the lists) who it will be recollected was the successful competitor at the late Regatta at Hough Neck. Her time taken by impartial judges, was 1 hour 39 minutes—one minute under that of the first prize boat—the Wave.

The whole affair was creditable, and passed off apparently to the satisfaction of all present.

Much praise is due Mr. Reed, the worthy landlord of the Old Squantum House, for the faithful manner in which he performed the various duties assigned him by the Company.

THE DEMOCRATS OF QUINCY, at a meeting held on Tuesday last, elected the following gentlemen as delegates to the Democratic Convention, held at West Newton, on the 26th, (yesterday) to nominate a candidate for Representative to Congress for District 3, and for an Elector.

Henry Wood, George White, Wm. B. Duggan, Thompson Baxter, Henry G. Wildman, John Stevenson, George Cahill, George Miller, Albion Dearborn, Jonathan Jameson.

Norfolk Agricultural Society.

The Eighth Annual Exhibition of this Society will be held at Dedham on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 30th and October 1st—the Grand Exhibition Day for visitors being on Wednesday.

We learn that another addition to the grounds has been made during the past year, which unite the old and new purchases, constituting a broad and open area large enough for the construction of a track half a mile in length, for the trial of horses, being double the length it was last year. Three hours, at least, will be allotted to the exhibition of horses on the track. It is anticipated that a large number of fine and celebrated animals will be exhibited, among which has been named the celebrated stallion, Hiram Drew.

Hon. Josiah Quincy, Jr., will deliver the Address. The fact of having been present at the Great French National Exhibition held at Paris, during the past year, would afford him an interesting text from abroad, if he had not, as he has, abundant resources at home.

There will be Plowing, Spading and Drawing Matches, as usual. It is expected that the Cattle, Vegetable, and Flower departments of the Exhibition will be superior to former years.

Dinner will be provided at Agricultural Hall on the grounds of the Society, for one thousand persons. Cars will pass between Boston and other places, and Dedham, at convenient hours, through the day; and owing to the increased facilities for a grand display, it is expected that a much larger concourse of people will be assembled than usual, including many distinguished Friends of Agriculture, whose voices will be heard at the dinner table.

CARPETINGS. The scale of prices for Carpetings fixed by the New England Carpet Company, of Boston, which will be found in another column, should be referred to by all purchasers.

QUINCY LYCEUM. The annual meeting of this Association for choice of Officers was held at the Lyceum Hall, on Wednesday evening last. The following Officers were then chosen:

President—Charles Marsh.
Vice President—Stephen Morse, Jr.
Secretary—F. A. Walker.
Treasurer—Horace B. Spear.
Curlers—Edward Brackett, Sam'l Thomas, Jr. and Louis Congdon.

Every exertion will be made to render this course as attractive and as pleasant as the last; and it is to be hoped the citizens of this Town will still feel an interest in supporting this means of popular instruction.—Notice of the lectures will be duly given.

WORTHILY BESTOWED. The honorable Human Society of Massachusetts has presented Mr. Amos A. Mears of this Town, with their certificate set in an elegant frame, for his humane efforts in rescuing Mr. David Chubbuck, when in imminent danger of drowning by the upsetting of his boat, off Pig Rocks, Hingham Bay, in April last.

This is a well merited compliment to Mr. Mears as he has many times relieved persons in distress.

ANOTHER STRIKE. The electric cloud which passed over this town on Saturday last, struck a post in front of Mr. Jewcomb's carpenter's shop, corner of Meacham and Canal streets, severing it in thirds as accurately as if done by rule and compass. It was seen to descend, and its appearance it is said was like that of a star of the first magnitude.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement, in another column, of G. W. Stone's Liquid Cathartic and Family Physic, believing it to be one of the most valuable compounds ever offered to the public, and one richly deserving the great success that has already attended the efforts of the proprietors in introducing it. Judging from the immense quantities being sold, and the testimonials in its favor by those who have used it, we feel warranted in recommending the afflicted to try it.—Lowell News.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 23d inst., Seth Adams, son of Mr. Joseph, Jr. and Mrs. Irene H. W. Aray, aged 1 year, 7 months and 20 days.

On the 18th inst., Mary Ann, daughter of Mr. Patrick and Mrs. Mary Ann Garrity, aged 11 years and 2 months.

In Dorchester, (Neposset Village), on the 20th inst., Mrs. Martha Williams, wife of O. Putnam Bacon, Esq.

In Milton, on the 25th inst., Emily Jane, daughter of Mr. Jesse and Mrs. Onissa Bunton, aged 10 months and 21 days.

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

THE regular monthly meeting, will be held at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY Evening, Oct. 1st, at 7 o'clock.
Cash on hand for the redemption of shares $1500.
LOUIS CONGDON, Sec'y.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

Boots and Shoes.

JUST received a prime lot of Men's Calf, Kip, and Cowhide (extra quality) Boots, custom work. Also—Men's Prime, first quality Rubbers. For sale by
F. G. B. NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 4w

Dissolution.

THE Partnership existing between Daniel Baxter & George L. Baxter, under the firm of Daniel Baxter & Co., was dissolved on the 19th of July last, by mutual consent.

Daniel Baxter and John A. Wood will continue business at the Store of the Subscriber, under the firm of Daniel Baxter & Co.
The Subscriber returns his sincere thanks to his friends and public for the very liberal patronage bestowed on the old firm and asks its continuance to the new, who will keep a good assortment of Domestic Goods and Groceries at the lowest market prices, for cash or credit.
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale low by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

Genesee Flour.

JUST received a lot Genesee Flour made from new wheat, in barrels and bags, of the very best brands for sale at the lowest price by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

FOR SALE.

A VALUABLE Estate in Quincy, consisting of two finished rooms, with a wood-house attached. Also—A Stable, convenient for keeping a Horse and Cow, or for a Mechanic's Shop. Also, About 25,000 feet of land covered with a great variety of Trees which yield an abundance of the choicest kinds of Fruit.

The above property is situated in the centre of Quincy, within five minutes' walk of the Railroad Depot, Churches, Schools, &c., and at the head of navigation, where there is a good Bathing Establishment. For particulars inquire adjoining the premises of
CHARLES HARDWICK JR.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

Salt Pork.

4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

Cider Vinegar.

FOR sale a few barrels of Pure Cider Vinegar by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1f

Dred.

A TALE of the Great Distal Swamp by Mrs. H. B. Stone, Author of Uncle Tom's Cabin. For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Sept. 29 1f

THE DEMOCRATS of the Third Congressional District, met at West Newton yesterday, and nominated Arthur W. Austin of West Roxbury, for Representative to Congress, and Hon. Bradford L. Wales of Randolph for Presidential Elector.

Special Notices.

FREEDOM NATIONAL, SLAVERY NOWHERE. Wm. Wells Brown formerly a slave among the border ruffians of Missouri, will lecture on American Slavery, in the Town Hall on SUNDAY EVENING, Sept. 28th, 1856, commencing at 7 o'clock, precisely.

A collection will be taken up to defray expenses.
The public are invited to attend.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

NOTICE. The subscribers, Traders in Quincy, hereby give notice that they intend to close their places of business at 8 o'clock, P. M., from October 1st, 1856, to April 1st, 1857.

Briesler & Whitney, John Holden Jr.,
Elbridge Clapp, Thomas Dods,
George Savil, John Russell,
Wm. S. Underwood, John A. Holden,
Geo. B. Nightingale, D. D. Ring,
Caleb Packard, Thomas Reed,
C. Gill & Co., J. Marden.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 3w

FREMONT AND DAYTON. The Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, of all political parties, are invited to assemble in the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Oct. 1st, at 7 1-2 o'clock, to listen to an address from Hon. Charles Francis Adams, on the questions at issue at the approaching election.

The Ladies are especially invited to be present.
E. W. MARSH, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

NOTICE. The Ladies of Quincy will hold their next meeting in aid of the Kansas sufferers at the Town Hall, on THURSDAY, Oct. 3d, at 2 o'clock, P. M., and all who feel an interest in the object, are earnestly requested to be present. A contribution in money, even if small, will be gladly received from any who are unable to give their time.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

ATTENTION!

Hancock Light Guards!
A meeting THIS EVENING to hear and act on the report of the Committee on parade. Every member is requested to be present.
Per order,
C. HOLMES, Clerk.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

Freedom National. Slavery Sectional.

FREMONT AND FREEDOM. NOTICE. A meeting of the Quincy FREMONT CLUB will be held in Johnson's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 29th, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

A full and punctual attendance of all the Members of the Club is requested, and all citizens of Quincy who will be voters at the election for President in November next and who desire to advance the cause of Freedom and Peace are invited to be present and subscribe the Constitution of the Club.

Remarks may be expected from members of the Club, upon subjects of interest at the present time.
Citizens are invited to attend.
E. W. MARSH, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

FRAGMENT SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Fragment Society will be held at the house of Mrs. Lunt, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 8th, at 3 o'clock, P. M.
All those wishing to become members are requested to be present.

Honorary members are desired to send in their annual subscriptions.
A punctual attendance is requested.
A. WHITNEY, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 20. 3w

WHO ARE THE DISUNIONISTS?

The Charleston (S.C.) Mercury, says, "There is not a single public man within the limits of the South, not one of her present REPRESENTATIVES or SENATORS in Congress who is not pledged to the lips in favor of DISUNION."

Preston S. Brooks, the representative of Southern character by the endorsement of the South itself, says, "If Fremont should be successful in November next, it is his deliberate opinion, that on the Fourth of March next the people of the South should RISE IN THEIR MIGHT, march to Washington, and SEIZE the archives and the Treasury of the Government."

Millard Fillmore says, "THE SOUTH will not SUBMIT FOR A MOMENT to the election of Fremont."
Quincy, Sept. 20. 1f

BRITISH VIEW of an interesting American question. The London Chronicle, the organ of Queen Victoria, which speaks the sentiment of the British Government, thus alludes to the subject:

"We should be sorry to see Mr. Buchanan elected, because he is in favor of preserving the obnoxious Institutions as they exist, AND THE UNITY OF THE STATES. There is no safety for European monarchical governments if the progressive spirit of the Democracy of the United States is allowed to succeed."

ELECT FREMONT AND THE FIRST BLOW TO THE SEPARATION OF THE UNITED STATES IS EFFECTED!!!
Quincy, Sept. 12. 1f

Stand by the Union.

KEYSTONE CLUB OF QUINCY. NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Key Stone Club of Quincy, in the Lyceum Room, on TUESDAY EVENING next, September 30th at 8 o'clock.
JONATHAN JAMESON, Secretary.
Quincy, Aug. 30. 1f

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the Adams Literary Association at their Room over C. Gill & Co's Bookstore, on WEDNESDAY EVENING next, at 7 1-2 o'clock, precisely.
Per order,
HENRY F. BARKER, Secretary.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1w

Norfolk Agricultural Society.

Cattle Show and Fair.

THE OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES OF THE NORFOLK AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. Announce to the public that their

8th Annual Exhibition

WILL TAKE PLACE AT DEDHAM, ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, The 30th of Sept. and the 1st of Oct.

Great preparations have been made the present year to increase the attractions of the Exhibition. Several hundred dollars have been added to the amount of premium.
The grounds of the Society have been enlarged by additional purchases.
The Exhibition of Horses will be on an enlarged scale. Two hundred dollars extra have been added to the premiums on horses alone. There will be several trials of speed, for which an extensive course is to be provided, accommodated with seats for spectators.

Ploughing and Spading Matches as usual. Owing to the limited season, it is expected that the show of products will surpass the Exhibitions of former years.
Articles of premiums are to be on the ground as early as 12 o'clock, M., on Tuesday, at which time the Judges are to be at the Hall on the grounds. Distinguished guests are expected to be present at the Exhibitions, including his Excellency the Governor, being a resident of the county.

EDWARD L. KEYES, Secretary.
Sept 20 2w

NEW GOODS ALL OPEN!!

The Best Goods at the Lowest Prices.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.

(ONE PRICE ONLY.)

Have already opened their full stock of NEW AND RICH FALL GOODS, AND are prepared to show a large and beautiful variety of

Long and Square Shawls—Cashmere, Stel-lis, Hosiery, &c. &c.

Paris Cloths, Mantillas and Talmas, from

Amoyville, Mauds and others, of Paris.

New Cloths for Ladies' Garments, from England, France and Germany.

Black Silks and Fancy Silks, in immense variety of styles, made from all fine silk, and warranted to wear well.

Printed Cashmeres and Mous. de laines, from England and France, and from our own unrivalled Manufactures and Printers in this country.

Printed Flannels and Russia Robes, for Ladies and Gents' Robes de Chambre.

Mourning Goods, in all fabrics, and manufactures; ready for us to wear well.

Printed Dress Goods—Palmas, Velours, Tailors, Merinos, Tibets and Cashmeres—Black and all colors, from the best materials.

Velvets for Shawls and Mantillas free from Cut-ton.

Crochet Fringes from Paris, for our own use in manufacturing, a few of which we shall sell.

Embroideries, Laces and White Goods,

at much lower prices than usually retailed.

Housekeeping Articles—Blankets, Quilts,

Table Cloths, Drawers, Sheets, Napkins, Doylies, &c. &c., in large variety.

Gents' Shawls, in our own styles, from $4 to 12.

Scarfs, Mantles, Gloves, Hosiery, &c.

French and English Prints—the best styles.

American Goods.

All the best makes of Blankets, Flannels, Cottons, &c., sold at retail at the Agents' care price.

On account of our large sales we are now enabled to retail at low or lower than the same articles are sold "down town" at wholesale; and our customers will be sure of getting from us the very best kinds of goods at the very lowest possible prices.

G. W. WARREN & CO.

WASHINGTON & HAWLEY STS.

Boston, Sept. 20 6s

Quincy Stone Bank.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, for the purpose of getting from us the very best kinds of goods at the very lowest possible prices.

Transaction of any other business, will be held at the Banking House, on Tuesday, October 7th, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

JOHN C. RANDALL, Cashier.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

Mount Wollaston Bank.

THE annual meeting of the Stockholders, for the choice of Directors and the transaction of any other business, which may properly come before them, will be held at the Banking Room on MONDAY, the 6th day of October next, at 3 o'clock, P. M. A dividend will be payable on the above day. LOUIS CONGDON, Cashier.

Quincy, Sept. 20. 3w

Hingham and Quincy

Bridge and Turnpike Corporation.

THE proprietors of this Corporation are hereby notified that their annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on TUESDAY, the 7th day of Oct. next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the choice of Officers, and the transaction of such business as may come before them.

By order of the Directors,
JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, Clerk
Quincy, Sept. 20 2w

Wanted.

CUSTOM Pantalon Makers,
by D. D. RING,
on School Street.
Quincy, Sept. 13 1f

Money!! Money!!!

THE Ladies can save Money by purchasing their BOOTS and SHOES at E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock Street, where a good assortment suitable for the season can always be found at the very lowest cash prices.
Quincy, July 19. 1f

Blankets.

A FULL assortment of superior Wool Blankets just received and for sale very low by
ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 13 1f

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

JOHN SMITH.

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Sailor, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

COELESTINA SMITH, Administratrix.
Weymouth, Sept. 13. 3w

An Address.

DELIVERED before the Members of the Schools and the Citizens of Quincy, by Charles Francis Adams, is just published and for sale at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Sept. 6 4w

Wanted.

EIGHT or TEN Good Coat and Pant Makers—to work in the Shop—constant employment and good prices. Apply at Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite streets of Quincy, Sept. 6

GEORGE SAVIL.

NORFOLK, SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said county, held at Dedham, in and for said county, on August 28th, 1856, by the adjournment of the June meeting next preceding.

Upon the petition of Samuel Page and others, representing that the road and highway leading from Page street, near the house of Samuel Page, in Stoughton, to Main street, in Randolph, is narrow, crooked and inconvenient, and that the public convenience and necessity require that the same be widened, straightened and located anew, &c., as set forth in said petition, and requesting the Commissioners to view and order such improvements in widening, straightening and locating anew as shall seem necessary for the public convenience, (notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested) the County Commissioners for said County met at the Howard House, in Randolph, in said county, on the thirtieth day of May last, at 10 A. M., the day appointed in the petition designated, and the town of Randolph and Stoughton were then and there represented by their officers and agents, and said Commissioners there proceeded to view and heard all parties in interest, and said case was adjourned to the June term and to the date thereof, and said Commissioners do adjudge that the public convenience and necessity require that the road be widened and straightened, and that in this respect the prayer of said petition be granted.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD,
JAMES C. DYANE,
B. F. FARRINGTON,
County Commissioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

</

